

EVENING BULLETIN.

"HEW TO THE LINE, LET THE CHIPS FALL WHERE THEY MAY."

VOLUME 1.

MAYSVILLE, SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 4, 1882.

NUMBER 297.

Down They Go.

Meaning the prices of job printing. The following low rates will hereafter rule at the BULLETIN Job Printing Rooms. They are the lowest ever offered in this city by any printing establishment. The reduction does not mean careless printing and inferior stock, but on the contrary first-class press-work and composition and the best quality of paper:

Bill Heads per ream.....	$5 00
Two Reams.....	9 00
Letter Heads per ream.....	4 50
Packet Note Heads per ream.....	3 00
Commercial Note Heads per ream.....	2 75
Envelopes per thousand.....	3 00
Visiting Cards fifty.....	25c

And other printing at proportionately low prices. Rosser & McCarthy.

SCHOOL BOOKS!

SLATES, PENCILS, PENS, INKS, EXERCISE, AND COPY BOOKS, SATCHELS.

SCHOOL SUPPLIES!

A PRESENT Given to every child at J. C. PECOR & CO.'S.

BRIDAL PRESENTS

HERMANN LANGE'S Jewelry Store,

No. 43, Second Street, 8 doors West of Market. aug31dly

NEW DOMESTIC PATTERNS —AT— Hunt & Doyle's.

BURDETT ORGANS!

45,000 NOW IN USE.

Organists and Musicians pronounce it unequalled; of pure tone, great compass and power, improving by age, and the most durable Organ made.

We can endorse all the wonderful things that are said about its tone-variety, tone-power and tone-variety.—The Church Union.

It has more sweetness and power than any other.—C. F. FEINE, Organist.

St. PETERS CATHEDRAL, CINCINNATI, O.

Call and examine, or send for catalogue L. F. METZGER.

018d&w1m Maysville, Ky.

PIANOS and ORGANS.

THE agency of the Johnson & Co., organs and pianos, is now represented by J. T. BRADDEN, 77 East Second Street, L. F. Metzger, their former agent, having resigned.

I will supply these celebrated instruments at the manufacturers' prices. They are noted for their exquisite tone, durability and finish, and wherever used have never failed to give entire satisfaction. All who need good instruments at moderate cost are invited to call. I will take pleasure in exhibiting the instruments and in furnishing all information desired. Address, J. T. BRADDEN, Sole Agent, 011-1md&w 77, East Second St., Maysville, Ky.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine. mar23ly

JAS. H. SALLEE. CLARENCE L. SALLEE.

SALLEE & SALLEE,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

And Real Estate Agents.

OFFICE ON COURT STREET

sepl8dly MAYSVILLE, KY.

WINDHORST & BLUM,

FASHIONABLE MERCHANT TAILORS.

LARGE stock of Imported and Domestic Piece goods and Trimmings on hand. All orders executed promptly and satisfactorily. 837 Cooper's Building, second story, at head of stairs. audly

Established 1865.

EQUITY GROCERY.

G. W. GEISEL,

No. 9, W. Second St., Opp. Opera House,

MAYSVILLE, KY.

Fruits and Vegetables in season. Your patronage respectfully solicited. Jldly

THE

WEBER PIANO.

For power, purity of tone, brilliancy of touch, beauty of finish and durability it has no equal. The most eminent pianists pronounce it

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

L. F. METZGER.

MANAGER, Branch office, Maysville, Ky

—Also, The Matchless:—

BURDETT ORGAN.

A full supply of pianos and organs constantly on hand. Correspondents promptly answered. Payments easy. sep26d&wly

LANE & BODLEY CO.

AWARDED

GOLD MEDAL

BY THE

ATLANTA COTTON EXPOSITION,

ON THEIR

Steam Engine and Saw Mill

Exhibited at Atlanta in 1881.

Manufacturers of Steam Engines, Boilers, Saw Mills, Gang Edgers, Lath Machines, Hub and Spoke Machinery, Shafting, Hangers, Pulleys, Couplings, Gearing, Grist and Flour Mills. Send for Special Circular of our No. 1 Plantation Saw Mill, which we sell for $200.

Special attention given to Plantation Machinery. Illustrated Circulars Free.

LANE & BODLEY CO.,

John & Water Sts., Cincinnati, O.

aug8d&w1m

BULL-DOG

CIGARS.

THE BEST FIVE CENT CIGAR IN THE MARKET.

—FOR SALE AT—

J. C. Pecor & Co.'s

Drug Store. sep27d&w6m

ENGLISH GIRLS OF THE DAY.

The way in Which Maidens Grow up and Get Views of Life.

A letter to the San Francisco Argonaut says: "People do say it is this constant companionship with men, and mixing with them in their field sports, that give the fashionable English girl of the day all her love for 'manish' ways and make her the slangy, horsey, rapid creature we so often find her. Perhaps people are right. Yet what real harm, after all, if girls do wear stand-up collars and scarf-pins, and hunt, fish, shoot, play billiards and smoke? None, certainly, if their hearts are all right. Besides, look at the models they have. The Empress of Austria seems only happy in the saddle, and no less personages than the Princesses Louise and Beatrice smoke cigarettes. Such actions are of course, likely to shock the sensibilities, not alone of our grandmothers, but of a certain type of young ladies whose conversational powers are limited to under-toned replies of 'yes' and 'no' and whose proper bringing up, is exhibited in a painfully studious avoidance of either showing her feet or separating her knees while sitting down. But a woman nowadays does not care to please her own sex as much as the other, and it is only too clear which sort of young lady is the most attractive to men and which kind of girls get the dances at balls and the most attention everywhere. Men are pretty good judges of women, and if they don't object and are willing to make their wives out of girls who know more of horse-flesh than they do of botany, and prefer a whiff of tobacco smoke to ylang ylang or Atkinson's white rose, it is their own look-out and no one else's business.

I know a young lady who lives down in one of the southern counties. She is one of the prettiest girls in England, has five thousand a year in her own right, is just three-and-twenty and the daughter of a peer whose pedigree goes back to the Conquest and whose country house is the show-place of the county. To look at her you would think her the quietest of the quiet and that she had not an idea beyond crochet and weak tea. But she hunts, has her own stable, keeps four hunters, now and then rides a steeple-chase, buys and sells her own horse without help from anyone; has her own wine merchant, wine cellar and tobaccoist; fences, boxes, skates and rows; has her boudoir decorated with foils, gloves, whips, horseshoes, and hunting trophies; smokes cigarettes during the day and cigars after dinner; is a capital judge of claret and port and can tell Amontillado from Marsala with her eyes shut; is a first-rate shot with shot gun or rook-rifle; draws her own charges and pays her own bills; and last, though not least, has a delightful way of letting you see her foot and ankle when she puts one leg over the other on sitting down, that would make a prim old dowager faint and get her sat upon directly by the sly ones. Yet she has never been known to flirt, has refused more offers than the quiet ones dreamed of receiving, and once, it is related, taught the prince of Wales a lesson by stopping in the middle of a yalse with him at a state ball at Buckingham Palace, and refusing to go on because he held her tighter than she considered proper. You can't call a girl like that fast. But she knows enough to take care of herself, and if companionship with the young swells of the day and here imitation of their talk and ways has taught her to prefer their friendship to their love it is not unlikely she is nearer right in her estimate of fellow-beings than are the dragonesses of propriety who regard her with abhorrence, but are willing to sell their bashful maidens to the first libertine or titled scapegrace whose establishment and rent-roll make him in their eyes a desirable parti.

The wife of Senator Lamar, who has lain at the point of death for several months, is now reported to be on the road to convalescence. She and Senator Lamar are in St. Louis at the home of their niece.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The schools of Burmah are almost entirely monastic.

Wood pavement is growing in favor with the authorities of London.

Silver veins have been found in the Palo Pinto mountains of Texas.

The railroads carried a million persons into Philadelphia during the week of the Penn celebration.

The Harvard faculty have forbidden any student after this year to row in any crew unless able to swim.

Theodore F. Walton, the "Plunger," lost $7,500 on his first horse race wager during his present visit to England.

Two thousand dollars' worth of jewelry brought from the States was seized at the Montreal depot by custom officers.

Henry Clark, stage carpenter at Abbey's Park theater, New York, burned at the fire Monday night, died Tuesday.

A wicked Texan tied tin cans to the tails of eight of his neighbor's horses. One of the animals was so badly scared that he ran himself to death.

The largest grizzly bear ever killed in Idaho was slain last week. It weighed 1,400 pounds, its claws were seven inches long, and its skin was simply immense.

In the high school of Dedham, Mass., the experiment is being made of using daily newspapers instead of text books in the reading class. The principal thinks that the plan is successful.

Watchers were with the shrouded and supposed dead body of Mrs. Petit, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, when an unmistakable sigh frightened them, and it was found that she was alive. She will probably recover.

The latest official statistics of the Japanese statistical bureau show that the total number of porcelain and pottery factories in Japan is 322, and that they give employment to 3,004 persons, of whom 330 are women.

The Philadelphia Street Railroad Companies, roused by the complaints of passengers, have undertaken to prohibit smoking on the cars. Smokers are not tolerated even on the front platforms. A similar reform is being forced in Chicago.

According to the newspapers of Rio Janeiro, writing on the eleventh anniversary of the passing of the law of emancipation of 1871, the effect of that measure has been singularly beneficial to the material and moral development of the country.

The journalists and authors of Germany are united by a stronger bond of good fellowship than those of any other country. Every year they meet in convention, coming together from all parts of the country, and have banquets, excursions and other enjoyments.

A Chicago man gave bail for the woman who had shot him in order that she might be free to nurse him while he was recovering from the dangerous wound. She had intended to kill him, but he believed that she was sorry, and would take the best care of him as a matter of self-interest.

Dragon Castle is the name of a private residence which Baron von Sarter is building above the Rhine on the northern slope of the Drachenfels. It is fast approaching completion. The material is hewn stone the length of the structure being 375 feet and the height of the largest tower 155.

Of the Viennese it is said by an Englishman, that they are the most easy going people in the world, that they enjoy life, eat well, sleep well, dance well and enjoy the moment, but that they are not always exact in keeping appointments, because time goes without much reckoning among them.