

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

SATURDAY EVE., MARCH 24, 1883.

ROSSER & McCARTHY, PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

ON Monday next, we're pleased to say, The DAILY BULLETIN, A new departure's going to take, And it is going to win. The price the very same will be, And advertising low, And as regards the current news, You bet, it won't be slow.

FLEMINGSBURG is moving to organize a building association.

MR. W. H. OVERLEY'S house near Flemingsburg, was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

OTHER important business changes may be looked for in Maysville in the next two or three weeks.

MR. STERLING proposes to give $20,000 as an inducement toward the establishment of the Episcopal High School there.

THE late Moses Dimmitt, of this county, at the time of his death had a life policy for $2,000 in the New York Life Company. A check for that amount has been received by his widow.

ARRANGEMENTS for the right of way over the Mt. Carmel turnpike in Chester, for the street railway, we are reliably informed, will be made on satisfactory terms, an item of information the people of Maysville will be glad to learn.

WITH the coming of spring the winter's accumulation of garbage and impurities generally should be removed in season. Disinfect cellars and other places. The neglect of such cleansing and disinfecting may breed sickness.

TILMAN CRAFT, a brother of Ellis Craft and a lawyer named Burns, have arrested in West Virginia, a negro who is charged with having committed the murder of the Gibbons children. The evidence the arresting party claim to have against the negro has not been made public as yet.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the ball to be given next Monday evening at Washington Hall by the German Relief Society of this city. This association is doing a great deal of good in the community and is seldom before the public for favors. This time we trust a generous people will give their entertainment a liberal patronage.

THE stock subscription of $20,000, necessary to be raised in Maysville, for the street railway, we are pleased to learn will be no impediment to the success of the enterprise, as the company have assurances that the amount will be promptly subscribed at the proper time. There seems now to be nothing whatever in the way of the successful inauguration of the enterprise.

Scandal at Quincy.

The neighborhood of Quincy, Lewis county, is rocked from center to circumference by a scandal which involves some of the best people of the community. John Evans, who lives near Quincy, has brought suit for divorce against his wife Louisa Evans, and also against Dr. J. W. Berry, a prominent and wealthy physician of Quincy, for $10,000, alleging that Berry had alienated the wife's affection and had maintained improper relations with her. Mrs. Evans is the daughter of one of the wealthiest farmers in that section, and is young and handsome. Dr. Berry is fifty years of age and has a family. Both cases will be vigorously defended.

To the Public.

The DAILY BULLETIN, beginning on Monday, will be enlarged to a five column paper. In addition to this the publishers have arranged to receive telegraphic reports of all occurrences of interest transpiring in any part of the country, which will be laid before the public several hours in advance of the Cincinnati papers. There will be a full telegraphic market report from all the leading business centers of the United States which will be prepared by an experienced and able reporter and may be relied upon as absolutely correct. While this enterprise will require the expenditure of many hundreds of dollars there will be no increase of the subscription price, and no advance in our present low rates for advertising, which we take this opportunity to say are less than the rates of any other journal in the city. It is the desire of the publishers to furnish a daily newspaper that will be a credit to the city, and to do this they ask, and may reasonably expect, the liberal co-operation of all who have public spirit enough to appreciate the benefit a live, enterprising daily journal will be to the business and private interests of Maysville.

Religious.

The usual Easter services will be held at St. Patrick's Church to-morrow.

Rev. J. K. Pace will preach at the Baptist Church to-morrow at the usual hours.

The Methodist meeting at Stone church on Lawrence Creek will likely continue through the week.

Sunday School in the Chester M. E. Church, South, to-morrow at 3 p. m., and preaching by Rev. L. S. Pollitt at 7 p. m.

Services will be held at the Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning and evening by Rev. S. B. Alderson, the pastor.

Rev. John Barbour will preach at the Presbyterian Church to-morrow. Those persons who united with the Presbyterian Church during the week will be publicly received at the evening service.

Services will be held as usual at the M. E. Church, South, to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. After the service candidates for membership will be received into the church. Subject for evening: "The Parable of the Prodigal Son."

Rev. A. N. Gilbert will begin a series of popular lectures at the Christian Church on next Sunday night, to young men and women. The first will be a repetition of the lecture to young men entitled, "Purpose the True Test of Noble Manhood," given here last December. The second, to be given the first Sunday in April, will be to young ladies, entitled, "What can a Young Lady do?" Seats all free and the public, especially the young, are cordially invited: Mr. Gilbert will also preach every Sunday morning until further notice.

This week children will be thinking about preparing what in old times used to be called paas eggs. To dye eggs, onion skins put in water in which they are boiled will make them a bright yellow; or, if left longer in the solution, a rich brown. Logwood or violet ink gives a royal purple. Cochineal, and crimson, and many pieces of chintz or bright calico that fade easily, if sewed tighly around the eggs, will color them nicely in figures, stripes or dots.

No light has yet been thrown upon the Royalton double murder near Indianapolis. The reward that has been offered has caused the whole neighborhood to become detectives, and is hindering rather than hastening the apprehension of the murderers.

SINCE Representative Ochiltree cannot get his salary for his services in Congress, because he is short $12,000 on account of his former official relations with the Government, the fact has been developed that a large number of prominent Republican statesmen are in the same fix. Among these is the President, who is behind $8,436.88 as Collector of the port of New York, the office from which Hayes and John Sherman removed him "in order that it might be honestly administered." But as Mr. A. has, notwithstanding, drawn his salary regularly, Ochiltree insists that the line should not be drawn on him.

Boston was threatened with rival fairs, but the two are to be given with more amity than was expected. The one under the auspices of the New England Manufacturers' and Mechanics' Institute will be specially devoted to the products of the arts and the soil in the Southern States and Mexico. The other, promoted by the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics' Association, will be restricted to foreign things. The managers have so far secured the countenance of the National Government that our diplomatic representatives abroad have been instructed to call attention to the matter and to furnish intending exhibitors with all needed information. Goods will be admitted to remain in bond free of duty while on exhibition, and at the close they may be sold upon payment of tariff charges.
