Fortnightly Club.
Mrs. Mills entertained the Fortnightly Literary Club, Monday afternoon.

"Tea Drinking."
Mrs. Matt Adams entertained informally Saturday afternoon with a most delightful tea, in honor of her attractive guest, Madame Hiddings, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Ethel Garner, who leave Tuesday evening for the East. Mrs. Adams received and entertained her guests in a simple yet most enjoyable manner, so characteristic of the Southern hostess. There was not even a receiving line, which made everyone feel very much at home. The tea table was presided over by Madame Hiddings, gowned in blue messaline, with rare lace trimmings, and Miss Ethel Garner, in white chiffon, with lace garnitures, while Mrs. Adams, gowned in blue silk, and Mrs. John Garner, in green, served English muffins with this delicious beverage. This "tea" was a beautiful compliment to Madame Hiddings and Miss Garner.

Among those present were: Mesdames John Garner, Thos. Robinson, Hart Robinson, Baford Tracy, F. B. Wentworth, J. W. Ishmael, Charlie Parrish, J. W. Poynter, Wiley Poynter, J. C. Vanght, Lizzy Dudley, Jeff Sutherland, Mary V. Miller, Sam Willis, Will Garner, Ed Mitchell, Ed Clark, John Worth, Maurice Miller, P. B. Winn, Strauder Goff, Carrie Buckner, John Reese, Womack, Tucker, Gippie Simpson, Gay, Kohlhas, Rufus Lisle, Misses Julia Graves, Carrie Lee Hathaway, Mary Belle Field Miller, Anne Dudley, Sara Buckner, Theo Nelson and Stanley Jackson.

Eleanor Robson to Play at Lexington.

At the Lexington Opera House, on Thursday, Nov. 26, Thanksgiving Day, matinee and night, theatre-goers will have the opportunity of seeing Miss Eleanor Robson in a new play by Richard Harding Davis, entitled "Vera, the Medium."

which is described as a vigorous, absorbing and full of startling situations blended with romance and pathos and well suited to Miss Robson's artistic temperament. This Davis offering has proved a companion play to that masterpiece, "Merely Mary Ann," in which Miss Robson achieved a dramatic triumph some years ago. Eleanor Robson is one of America's younger and most noted stars. She is equally at home in comedy or plays calling for intense dramatic feeling and so easily and so naturally does she depict these conflicting emotions as to stamp her as the one of all our younger actresses to be called in time America's greatest actress. She will be supported by a cast of players of exceptional ability including H. B. Warner, Claude Brooks, William Redmond, Roy Fairchild, Brandon Hurst, Lucille Watson, Carolyn Kenyon and others.

Those of Winchester's play lovers who can possibly attend should do so as this is considered by some as the best of the many good shows which Manager Scott booked for his Opera House, this season.

OPERA HOUSE

The production of Mary J. Holmes' delightful novel, "Tempest and Sunshine," dramatized by Lem B. Parker, is an event that should be looked forward to with interest by our theatre-goers. The scenery is beautiful, everything used in the representation being carried by the company. The costumes are quaint and pretty, the gowns being of airy summery stuffs, the period of the play. Beautiful Southern melodies are introduced throughout the play with great effect.

The story is both strong and interesting, and is relieved with much comedy which is contributed by the darky servants as a special entertainment for their masters and mistresses, who are of the Southern aristocracy.

"Tempest and Sunshine" is one of the big successes of recent years and no one who enjoys a first-class play, presented in a first-class manner, should fail to see "Tempest and Sunshine" to be seen at the Opera House on Friday matinee and night.

LAW SUIT OVER A FEW INCHES OF GROUND

Stubblefield and Taylor Heirs Litigating Over Property on North Main.

Many years ago, Mr. John Stubblefield and Dr. Hubbard Taylor owned adjoining lots, where they each lived, on the west side of North Main street, between Broadway and Washington street.

Both of these gentlemen have been dead for a number of years, Mr. Stubblefield dying first. During the lifetime of both, Dr. Taylor built an office on the south side of his lot. The property at that time was of little value, probably not worth more than five dollars per front foot. It is now worth about one hundred and fifty dollars a front foot.

The heirs of Mr. Stubblefield claim that the Taylor office encroaches on their property from seven to fifteen inches. The heirs of Dr. Taylor deny the encroachment and a suit is pending.

The section of the Stubblefield lot adjoining the Taylor property was sold to Mr. J. D. Jones. The other two sections were bought by Mr. Vic Bloomfield and Mr. T. C. Piersall, respectively.

It was the purpose of the purchasers to erect a block of three stores. Messrs. Bloomfield and Piersall have their stores about completed, but Mr. Jones is delayed by the litigation. The buildings were to be joint structures as to walls, etc. It leaves the building in bad shape and Mr. Jones will lose the rent of his store until the matter is settled. The sum involved is so small that the rent of the store for but a short time would cover it. It is to be hoped that a compromise or settlement of some kind will be made so that this block of buildings that will be an ornament to the north end may be completed.

Tr. Howard & Humphries; corner Main and Broadway, for groceries, fruits and vegetables. We place them at your door. 11-23-3t.
