

MRS. D. L. PENDLETON HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Horse Runs Away and Throws Her Against Pole—No Bones Broken.

Mrs. D. L. Pendleton had a narrow escape from serious injury Saturday about noon by being thrown from a buggy against a telephone pole at the corner of Boone and College streets.

Mrs. Pendleton was returning to her home in the southern part of town from down town and was driving a high spirited animal. The horse became frightened at something at the corner of Boone and Maple streets and began running and got from under the control of Miss Helen Nelson who was doing the driving.

At the corner of Boone and College, the horse made a quick turn and threw the buggy against a telephone pole. Mrs. Pendleton was thrown from the buggy and was given a severe shaken up, but fortunately there was no bones broken. She was taken into the home of Mr. D. T. McCormack in front of where the accident occurred where medical aid was given her by Dr. Johnson.

Mrs. Pendleton is reported to be resting comfortably and no serious results are expected. Those who witnessed the accident say that it was almost a miracle how she escaped without any broken bones or serious injury.

JUDGE HAYS TALKS TO CLARK CO. VOTERS

Has Asked Committee to Postpone Primary in 25th Judicial District.

Judge J. Smith Hays delivered an address Saturday afternoon at the court house to a large crowd of voters in the interest of his candidacy for Circuit Judge of this the twenty-fifth Judicial District. Judge Hays address was along the same lines as was his card in which he announced.

He assured the people that would be fair, dealing justice to everyone, both rich and poor and he outlined what he thought it took to make an ideal Judge. He assured the people that he would endeavor to carry out the principles of an ideal Judge.

He also said that an effort had been made a number of times to have the salary for Circuit Judges raised but that he would not directly or indirectly be elected aid in having this done. He further said that he did not think that the present salary which is $3,000 a year was enough but that he would not aid in having it increased if elected.

Judge Hays has addressed a letter to the Committee of the district asking them to reconsider their action in fixing the primary for December 31, and requesting that it be fixed for a later date.

MEETINGS AT THE FIRST BAPTIST

The meetings at the First Baptist church still continue with the usual interest. The day attendance packs the house. Chairs are put in the aisles to accommodate the people. At the evening service the house will not hold those that attend. There were three conversions and additions Friday.

The probabilities are that the meeting will go on through next week. The ordinance of baptism will be administered during next week. Dr. Porter preaches to the people Sunday night. Preaching Saturday night at 7:30.

It is thought two hundred are lost.

C. B. FOX MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE

Says He Will Run Against Judge Evans if His Friends Insist.

From the present outlook, Judge Evans will have some opposition for the office of County Judge. It has been rumored on the streets for the past few days that Mr. C. B. Fox, deputy circuit clerk, would be a candidate for the office.

When asked by a News reporter Saturday morning if he intended running, he said that a number of his friends had been to him asking him to make the race but he had not decided yet whether he would enter or not. But if his friends insisted and wanted him to make the race he said he would; and that if he decided to enter he would announce it Saturday afternoon.

FARMER TRIES TO KILL HIS DAUGHTER

Charles Starrett Snaps His Revolver Four Times at His Child.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 28.—Charles Starrett, a prominent farmer of near Sherburne, was found dead at the home of his brother-in-law, Jacob McClure, with a bullet wound through his head and a revolver was found by his side.

Starrett, it is declared, attempted to kill his young daughter Thursday evening by snapping his revolver at her four times, which failed to go off. Despondency over family trouble is thought to have been the cause of the tragedy.

Starrett's wife, who was a daughter of Joseph McClure, died about six years ago. After the death of his wife he left his daughter, who was his only child, with her grandmother and went West.

Last fall Mr. McClure and son came to Owingsville and made arrangements to have her sent to the Reform School, claiming they could not control her. This caused quite a sensation in that community and Mr. McClure became alarmed and left the country.

Starrett returned from the West and, with the aid of the people in the community, succeeded in securing his daughter's release from the Reform School. Then followed the incendiary burning of Jacob McClure's general merchandise store and shortly afterward, the burning of Dr. McClure's office, following which Thomas G. Daugherty was wounded by Harry Morgan.

Starrett's daughter testified at the coroner's inquest today that her father caught her in the company of her sweetheart, snapped his revolver four times at her and then shot himself with the same revolver. The verdict of the jury was suicide.

TROOPS WITHDRAWAL IS BEGUN AT HICKMAN.

About 200 Men on Active Duty For Several Months Will Be Sent Home.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 28.—The withdrawal of troops from the night rider region of Western Kentucky began yesterday. The first camp abandoned was at Hickman, where the family of a negro were murdered. The soldiers yesterday afternoon left Trigg county, and those at Princeton, Gracey, Cobb, Dawson and various other places will break camp tomorrow.

About 200 men who have been on actual duty several months will return to their homes by next Monday night. The guards will be left at Murray and Eddyville, where conditions are still feared to be critical.

Many protests have been sent to Governor Willson against the removal of the troops by the citizens all over the district who fear that night rider activity will be resumed.

WHERE ARE THE VOTERS?

Sam Powell gets off this one: There were at one time Saturday morning in the County Clerk's office, twelve gentlemen candidates to be voted for in the coming Democratic primary and only three voters. And Sam it is not sure that all three of the voters are Democrats.

MAILS LETTERS ABOUT SUICIDE

Actress Then Sends Bullet Into Her Brain—Friend Rushes To Hotel.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—The tragic details of the murder by Filipino hillmen of D. H. Everett of the government forestry service and Tilden R. Wakely, a schoolteacher, were made public by Ebenezer Wakely, father of one of the slain men. The elder Wakely received reports completing the record of the crime and of the expedition which resulted in recovering the skeletons of the two Americans and three Filipinos who accompanied them.

Everett was engaged in forestry investigations in a sparsely settled and wild section of the island of Negros, and was accompanied into the hills by Wakely, who wished to spend his vacation in the open. Their failure to return from what had been planned as a trip of only four days was followed by rumors of the murders, and Major Ahern and Lieutenant Ford, with 39 men, took the trail.

The trail led into a jungle of the Bayaual mountains, and to a hamlet known as Sto Datig. Here the bodies of the five slain men—or rather their skeletons, for the bones had been picked clean by insects and the suns of many months—were found. A shoe, part of a poncho, a hatchet, a note book and a number of coins established the identity of the skeletons. From hillmen captured and interviewed it was learned that the murder probably occurred on May 11, and that the deed was accomplished under the leadership of a chief of the name Ayhao.

Ayhao, in the guise of friendship, became the guide of the Everett party, and one night, just because "he felt like killing some one," drugged the party with the fumes of the tuyuguyug plant. He and his followers then fell upon their victims and slew them.

Major Ahern found that upon his approach most of the hillmen fled, among them the archmurderer, who was reported in the fastnesses of the hills. As the rations had become nearly exhausted, much of the rice having been spoiled by rain, Major Ahern followed the trail no longer, but, gathering the skeletons and such effects as were found, returned to his base.

RECEIVERS ARE NAMED

Cincinnati Liquor Firm Embarrassed by Slow Collections.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 28.—Upon the application of the Mellwood Distilling company, which claims to be a creditor in excess of $1,000, Judge Spiegel appointed Alfred Stoehr and Joseph L. Gerson receivers for the Co-operative Wine and Distilling company, refiners and blenders, of this city. Because of the recent stringency in the money market and inability to collect promptly many of its book accounts, the firm has been unable to meet all its obligations, it is claimed, and had been embarrassed by several suits in court. By agreement, the receivership was applied for, and it is believed that by this means the company will be able to pay out and continue in business.

GOOD SPEAKERS AT THE COURT HOUSE

Prof. E. C. McDougle and Prof. Claxton to Speak on Sunday Afternoon and Evening.

The whirlwind campaign in the interests of education will open in Winchester, Sunday, November 29. Prof. E. C. McDougle of the Eastern Kentucky Normal School will speak at the court house at 3 in the afternoon and at Ford at 7 in the evening.

Prof. Claxton of the University of the South will speak at the court house Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Music for the afternoon will be furnished by the High School, for the evening by the students of Kentucky Wesleyan College.

Prof. Crabbe in referring to this educational campaign says: "I am inaugurating a series of campaigns for Education in Kentucky. This is the first of the series. It is to be a mere beginning. Next year I hope that it will assume great proportions—a real educational whirlwind."

This whirlwind will reach every county in Kentucky. I have secured speakers, both at home and abroad, to spread a contagious gospel. Twenty-five men have made a sacrifice for the cause we love in order to go into the field for this purpose. They do it without money and without fee. A hundred more men and women in our State are ready to assist the great work, for the schools have a wealth of unselfish laborers. These friends, able and staunch, will be asked to join the speakers in future campaigns.

These speakers will be talking education for these nine days: the teachers, the business men, the housewives and the folks all will be hearing and thinking and talking education for these nine days. It is a great opportunity to help the schools and the cause of education in our own Commonwealth.

Are you interested in the schools—the boys and girls? Then come out in great numbers, bring your friends and neighbors, think closely and quickly, decide wisely, work diligently in your own locality. I invite you, one and all, to hear these excellent speakers."
