A Ghastly Enoch Arden.

The night of Halloween was dark With many a windy cloud:

The withered leaves were white with frost
He shivered in his shroud
And left the mossy slab unturned,
The churchyard gate ajar,
And crept towards a cottage pane
That glimmered like a star.

"She mourns me by a lonely hearth,"
In words of woe, he sighed,
And stooping, pushed with bony hands
The twisted vines aside,
The crimson curtains, draped apart
Revealed the ruddy glow
Of amber grate and ruby globes
And candles burning low.

But in his place, a figure tall
Above her beauty bent
So low that curls of chestnut gold
With raven locks were bent.
The spirit from another world
Beheld the joy of this
When on her lips the stranger pressed
A long betrothal kiss.

A strange, unearthly moaning swelled
Along the chilly breeze;
A wavering shape was seen to pass,
Like mist, between the trees;
The moon among the scudding clouds
Unveiled her silver face,
And saw the mossy churchyard slab
Fall softly into place.

Must Have Harmony.

"Now," said the architect, who was putting the finishing touches upon Mr. Nurich's new residence, "what color do you prefer for the parlor decorations?" "Oh! they've got to be red," replied Nurich. "My wife's got a red plush photograph album that always set on the parlor table."—The Catholic Standard and Times.

REACHING THE TOP

In any calling of life, demands a vigorous body and a keen brain. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bitters is the greatest Health Builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver kidneys, bowels purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. "After months of suffering from Kidney Trouble," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." 50c at all druggists.

Carriage Makes for Beauty.

A graceful, dignified carriage undoubtedly sets off beautiful clothes. There is little use in having them if we cannot set them off in that way. But the old clothes, the simple, plain, everyday clothes—why not give them that same benefit? Better the simplest clothes with a fine carriage than the most elaborate clothes with an awkward carriage. One forgets that the clothes are plain if the figure inside them is carried with grace, dignity and poise. One can even forget a figure that is far from perfect in proportion and a face that has no claim to beauty. To carry oneself well morning, noon and night, indoors and outdoors, is to make the most of all the beauty one possesses, to make others forget the beauty that does not exist, and to make the best impression possible everywhere. That is surely worth while.

KILLS A MURDERER.

A merciless murderer is Appendicitis with many victims. But Dr. King's New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Chills. 25c at all druggists.

Similarity in Proverbs.

The well-known old proverb, "One swallow does not make a spring," is indigenous to England, Germany and Russia, but in the sunny South it takes the form, "One flower does not make a garland." In Italy we find "He who grasps all gets less;" in France, "He who embraces too much binds badly," and in Northern Europe, "Grasp all, lose all."

A Hoosier's Home Grown Opinion.
"There's no man that's quite so cocky and self-concocted," said the sand dune philosopher, "as the chap who is always patting himself on the back because he doesn't like paw-paws."—Chicago Tribune.

Going in for Fruit.
The fad of running fruit farms is daily gaining popularity among English women, says the Daily Mail, and many prominent women are taking up the study and setting out orchards and groves of fruit.
