

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 1906.

—Dr. Goldstein continues in town.
—County court day next Monday.
—Daughter of Wiley Embry died last week.
—Newspapers from Kirksville and Berea.
—Post-office, banks and revenue office will be closed Saturday.
—Those who delight to grumble about hot weather, had a chance last week.
—The whole country is filled with agents of all kinds for all sorts of things.
—Blackberries at 5 and 6 cents a gallon are cheaper than sunshine in summer.
—A dwelling house is building at Neal's shop, three miles out on Lexington pike.
—F. Cornelius, trustee of Miss Hartman, Milliner, offers her stock for sale. See ad.

—Joe Patterson, aged probably 85 years, died near Wallacetown, Monday of last week.
—Read the Declaration of Independence published on first page of to-day's CLIMAX.
—Ponds and springs that usually do not dry until September are, many of them, dry now.
—Jack Miller has retired from the butcher firm of Miller & Francis and goes to his farm.
—John W. Harris, Union City, has bought the farm of his uncle, the late Col. Wm. Harris, near Waco.
—Go to the court house, Saturday evening, and hear a polished 4th of July oration by W. B. Shackelford.

—The Register reports a "11-year-old" girl sent to the insane asylum, which indicates that the kindergarten schools are in danger.
—Fourth quarterly meeting of the Richmond and Providence district will be held at Providence church, Saturday and Sunday.
—Miss Bruce, of Vancouver, guest of Miss Belle Bennett, addressed a woman's mission meeting at the Methodist church, Monday afternoon.
—Prof. C. A. Leonard, Cynthia, former of Richmond, elected Vice President of State Educational Association at Covington meeting.

—Dr. Vandy Taylor, who graduated from the Hospital College of Medicine, Louisville, and won the Grant gold medal, will practice at Waco.
—Over in Lexington they have a horse trainer named Driver, while here at Richmond we have a horse driver named Traynor.
—Infant of Col. John Hoo Russell, Huntington, W. Va., whose wife was Miss Nettie Phelps, this county, died recently at Hot Springs, Ark., of rheumatism.
—At the last examination of colored teachers, there were 15 applicants, of whom 12 passed, and of these I got a first-class certificate, 6 second class, and 5 third class.
—Bill Steers, recently employed at the Steam Laundry, but went to Paris a month ago and killed Jack Alexander, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for 20 years.

—Rev. Dr. Young, of the Methodist church, will go to Harrodsburg and open up the local option fight in Mercer county by a speech at the court house, county court day.
—Miss Annie McKee, daughter of Owen McKee, Esq., this place, was prominent in her classes at Nazareth commencement in literature, painted flowers, fancy needlework and point lace, taking several prizes.
—Messrs. Miller & Haselton, of Lancaster, are here representing St. Louis firm introducing a combination of 10 useful kitchen articles needed in every house. Housekeepers in Richmond should secure one of these, as the cost is only 25 cents.

—Chantanooga Reduced R. Rates.
L. & N. will sell round trip tickets, Lexington, account of Chantanooga, at low rates. See agent hood.
—Making Hood.
Corvinton & Mitchell offer their entire stock of spring goods at half price for 30 days. They offer bargains. Read their ad and go for yourself.
—Hullery.
Capt. Ben Ballard, with six horses and his "great Eastern" bus, took thirty people to Mallory Springs Sunday, including the Silver Band. A hundred more people were present.

—Polled Angus.
W. W. Pigg bought in Scott county last week a thoroughbred Aberdeen Polled Angus bull, pedigree and registered. This is probably the only one in the county. Weighs 1400 and is 2 years old past. Bought of J. W. Brooks, years ago a C. U. student this place.
—Perfectly Safe.
Alfred Douglas, the well known architect and builder, certifies, after thorough examination, that the amphitheater at the fair grounds, is entirely safe. It is as strong as a stump puller and loud as thunder.
—Land Bought.
Commissioner Scott on yesterday sold 1194 acres of Silas Cobb lands at Calcut to the highest bidder. Major John D. Harris was the purchaser at $45 an acre, or $5,288.75. It corners at Allen's store and includes the residence back from the store.

—Letter from Sir Knight Phil T. Allen, Louisville, notified Squire D. P. Arner that "at a stated conference a resolution prevailed extending a vote of thanks to him for courtesies and attentions extended to the ladies of the commandery." The Squire bows profusely to De Molay.
—Questions.
The Richmond CLIMAX got out an extra and gave full particulars of the St. Louis Republican convention. Tipton is a hustler, and in blackberry time he is hard to down. He is Jan full of enterprise.—Nicholasville Journal.
—Can't there some relation between blackberries and Jan?
—L. O. F. Election.
Regular election of officers took place at Odd Fellows lodge, Monday night, in Richmond: A. T. Douglas, Noble Grand; F. Weckesser, V. G.; L. J. Frazer, Secretary; H. J. Strong, Treasurer; L. Z. Taylor, Asst. Committee and Widows fund; A. J. Strong, N. B. Turpin, C. C. Wallace.

Cattle.
Embry, the cattle buyer, of Jessamine, was in Boyle and Lincoln this week looking over the feeding lots, but did very little business, says the Danville Advocate. He reports that he will do more than enough stock in the country to supply the demand. Agents are offering about $3.75 for fat steers, but the owners want $4.25.—Nicholasville Journal.
—Winchester Game Day.
At the local option election in Winchester Saturday, the weather was dry but about 150 gathered. The quality of "licker" had got so bad that the most confirmed old toper voted for local option, hoping that the drug stores may introduce a less vile article. Clark county also went 600 dry.
—Union Services.
Beginning with Sunday, the churches of Richmond will have union services, starting off with the first Presbyterian church. Dr. McCown had announced services at the Baptist church before the union arrangement was agreed upon, and there will be preaching at the Baptist church Sunday morning.
—Closing Out to Quit Business.
In another column, H. J. Strong announced his determination to quit his business. He therefore offered for sale his entire stock of goods at your own price. Will also sell his fixtures.
On all unpaid accounts he will bring suit at once. He evidently proposes leaving Richmond which a large number of people will regret.
—Colored Examination for Public Schools.
26 applicants of whom 14 passed, 12 failed, 3 first class, 7 second, 4 third. Names of those passed: Georgia L. Walker, Sallie F. Miller, James A. White, Amelia L. Harris, Ella J. Clark, Stephen Haynes, Robert Post, Nicholasville, and at its commencement last week took the honors of his class, receiving two gold medals, one of which was for the highest average in all studies. Mr. Avery was only 20 years old when he came to Richmond and very unassuming in his manner. His work recognized not only as a great athlete, but also as one of the brainiest young men ever connected with the University.
—A Winner.
Prof. C. L. Avery, Jr., for two years physical director in Central University, entered the Yale law school last fall, and at its commencement last week took the honors of his class, receiving two gold medals, one of which was for the highest average in all studies. Mr. Avery was only 20 years old when he came to Richmond and very unassuming in his manner. His work recognized not only as a great athlete, but also as one of the brainiest young men ever connected with the University.
—July Fourth.
The Madison county chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution invites the Sons of the Revolution and all other patriotic citizens to unite with them in celebrating the Fourth of July, at court house at 7:30 p. m.
The program will comprise an oration by Mr. W. B. Shackelford, music, consisting of national airs, and fire works.

—Local option at Winchester warned up the boys. A small wet-weather paper, called the Local Optionist, charges that Capt. J. D. Feeny, of Richmond, operated a "blind tiger" here in local option days. This charge was made to offset the statement of Capt. Feeny who testified to facts taken from the records of his office which show that there were no offices, more whiskey drunk, and denser drinking local option in Richmond than for any similar period before or after the time in question.
The managers of the Local Optionist say that the information was given to them, but refuse to make their informant's name known. To make a long story short, the statement in question is a falsehood—just a "plain, common ordinary every day" lie. Capt. Feeny has been in office for about sixteen years, except a few weeks, during a part of which he was absent on a trial to the Court. We know that his conduct was above question. We know also that he could have said much more in his affidavit than he did say and still told the truth.
—The Fourth at Lexington.

A Lasting Question.
It is a question asked almost every time anybody goes to anybody "what's the news?" There are, of course, numerous variations, such as "what's the news with you?" "what do you know?" &c., &c. But did anybody ever see or hear of anybody who had any news or knew anything in answer to these questions? We had two no answers, but extreme examples, last week. Meeting of Benjamin and Hannah Blescoe, married Col. William Johnson, grand-father of Richard M. Johnson, Robert Johnson the father of Col. Richard M. Johnson, married in Virginia to Miss Jimmah Suggitt, who was the daughter of a Welsh Baptist immigrant, James Suggitt, who served bravely in the Revolutionary war, and was elected chaplain of Benjamin and Hannah Blescoe, married Col. William Johnson, grand-father of Richard M. Johnson, Robert Johnson the father of Col. Richard M.
