WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1897.

The United States will never have an export trade so large as it will have if it will only give up its tariff on raw materials.

Last Thursday Governor Bradley was fifty years of age, having been born in Garrard county March 18, 1847.

If it is necessary to pass a protective tariff in order to administer the government economically, we should not have any tariff on raw materials.

Protection to a country encompasses the field of its operation and preys on its own fields.

The more the Union shuts itself up by selfish exclusion the more must it see that it is the world's enemy.

There has been some scattering of the pupils of Pulitzer's Academy of Crime, and we notice with interest that one of its graduates has found lodgment in an alleged paper of Louisville, Ky., called the Post.

J. ALEXANDER CHILES, L.L.E., an earnest, honest and truthful lawyer. That is the caption of an article in the Standard, the official organ of the colored race in Kentucky, and refers to a colored lawyer of Lexington.

Are we to understand that lawyers are usually dishonest and untruthful or that colored attorneys as a rule do not possess those lofty principles of morality and rectitude which maternal benevolence often endeavors to instill into their compunctious? or words to that effect.

The hide and leather manufacturers in Chicago made a combine and agreed to lengthen the day from eight to ten hours and to cut the wages from ten to twenty per cent.

JOHN S. RHEA contributes to the Congressional Directory an exceedingly unique paragraph. After stating that he was born in Russellville, Ky., in 1855, educated in the law at Washington and Lee University, practiced his profession, Prosecuting Attorney, presidential elector in 1881 and 1888, he concluded as follows:

As a delegate from the Third Congressional district to the National Democratic Convention in 1881 and with Hon. Henry Watterson, a delegate who was then of the same mind and faith, voted against the nomination of Grover Cleveland; was a delegate from the State-at-large to the National Democratic Convention of 1896, and put the name of Senator J. C. S. Blackburn in nomination for President. Mr. Watterson was not a delegate to this convention.

DESIGNATION OF BRYAN and Bryanism will not cause the tax payers to forget the scandal in connection with the Government purchase of armor plate, the closing of factories to compel men to accept lower wages after promising higher pay, or the countless frauds perpetrated to deceive, cheat and bulldoze voters into line for sound money and protection.

FOR THE GOOD OF THE COUNTRY. Chairman Johnson, of the Democratic State Central Committee, says the doors will be left wide open for those who want Democratic success to join with us. This is the right spirit.

W. C. OWENS ON HARMONY. The war between the white and yellow metals has no legitimate place in our local context. In our last gubernatorial race I did the little that I could to eliminate the financial question from the fight, believing that it was not involved and fearing the defeat that followed its introduction.

There are many persons who think with Mr. Hotchkiss, who, though he did not vote for Bryan, "confesses to a belief that the glorious victory was due in large measure to the influence of millions of dollars contributed by corporations to Mr. McKinley's campaign."

The following interview of the Harrodsburg Democrat with the late Democratic candidate for Congress in this district is interesting reading.

From Hon. B. Thompson returned from Washington yesterday. He says there was a small crowd at the inauguration, and they all looked depressed and dejected—no joy or brightness and lack of buoyancy, and the parade down Pennsylvania avenue had the appearance of a funeral procession. Every body looked as if he had pawned his old clothes to get there, with the hope and expectation of getting an office and being disappointed in advance. They were a cheap lot, hunting out cheap lodgings and eating houses, many of them patronizing the sidewalk stands. Their disappointment was caused by declarations of the new administration that no one would be distributed until after the passage of the tariff bill. Such a bill, he says, "can hardly be passed except through the treasury and aid of so-called sound money 'converts, whose sincerity can be measured by the fact that their lives have been spent in the advocacy of a tariff for revenue only." It was concluded that without the aid of a republican senator from Kentucky it would be impossible to pass a high tariff measure, which is expected to be forthcoming after Mark Hanna uses his persuasive argument on certain so-called sound money Democrats, as they are expected under his argument to support it. Mr. Thompson says that the meeting of Wood, Governor Bradley's appointee will not be passed upon until it is seen whether a republican senator can be elected from this state. He says all prominent republicans here concede that the promised wave of prosperity is a long way off.

Restless and weary of waiting, the colored voters of Madison county, which number 1670—nearly two-thirds of the Republican strength of this county—have organized to demand recognition at the hands of the party by which they have been steadily used as a vote since the war. This evening the colored Baptist church, near Berea, an open meeting of the dissatisfied colored people will be held to formulate a policy that will compel a division of the offices and to declare they will no longer support men or measures in whose choice and formulation they have no recognition.

It was unworthy of even an enemy to seek to engender strife in the ranks of the foe, and the attempt of the Republicans to array the Democratic forces against each other—that Republicanism may reap the benefit thereof—warrants the sound argument in favor of the negro race compelling their so-called friends to prove their faith by their works. The time has long since arrived for the free negroes to break the shackles of political slavery which bind them to a party whose willing tool they have so long been, and on whose bentled backs-called friends have ridden into office.

APPEAL TO CITIZENS. Knowing the citizenship of Madison county as we do, we hardly think it necessary to appeal to you to observe and respect the law and the property rights of citizens. However, the spirit of violence and destruction, and a disregard for law and the property rights of citizens are being manifested so close to us by persons in other counties that we feel it proper to appeal to our countrymen to refrain from and condemn the practice of destroying toll-gates everywhere.

Remember the reading and recital on Thursday night by Miss Elvira Snyder Miller, who will be assisted by Mrs. Cecelia Eppingerhausen Baly or Mrs. Kate Elliott, vocalists.

The popularity contest for a lady's gold watch at Crutcher & Co.'s, which attracted so much interest in Nicholasville, ended last Saturday week. The count resulted: Miss Dot Embury 275; Miss Cecelia Fish 263, and Miss Edna Bronaugh 819. The firm very generously gave silver watches to the last named young ladies.

On last Saturday Mrs. Sallie Russell was called by an illness to the bedside of her daughter, Miss Bora Russell, who was dangerously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. T. Willis, in Lexington. Mrs. Russell was accompanied by Mr. D. R. Tevis and Miss Sallie Taylor. Miss Russell is reported to be recovering.

Mr. A. H. Harrodsburg Democrat says: Hon. Harvey Helm, of Stanford, was here Sunday, the attraction being one of our handsome roads. He was accompanied by Mr. E. L. Huddleston, who is the proprietor of the Cumberland Gap in order to be with her husband and her mother, Mrs. E. M. Harrodsburg, and is now taking charge of her house in Darstown—Stanford Journal.

Mrs. A. Wilkes Smith expects her sister, Mrs. Elvira Snyder Miller, today, accompanied by Mrs. Cecelia Bailey, the noted vocalist. On Thursday night they will give readings at the court house. The county of Miss Miller, who is the wife of the Louisville Times, should call out a large crowd at the entertainment. As for us and ours—we will be there.

The society editor, in describing the belle of the Thanksgiving ball, concluded, saying: "And her daintiness was evidenced in shoes that resembled fairy boots." But he was borror-stricken the next morning on glancing over the columns of his paper to see that his slandering printer had set it up in this manner: "And her dirty feet were evidenced in shoes that resembled fairy boots."

The gentleman spoken of below by the Jessamine Journal is well known in Madison where he has numerous relatives. After a two months' stay on the Belmonts of Tennessee in southern Mexico, Mr. J. B. Embury returned home Friday. The purpose of his visit was to look after the large tract of land owned by himself and two brothers, Messrs. Tilton and Henry Embury. They began preparations toward planting an orange grove of 1000 trees. The land is being cleared up for other productions also, among which are tobacco and Indian corn. Mr. Embury is very much encouraged with his prospects in Mexico. He brought home many souvenirs of the trip among which was a $250 opal bracelet to his wife. His many friends here gladly welcome him home and will congratulate him on the success of his investments in Mexico.

MARRIED. BIGGERSTAFF-BAUM.—This is from the Winchester Democrat: "A pretty wedding was had Wednesday afternoon in the handsome parlors of Mrs. J. N. Neale, on North Main street. The contracting parties were Robert Biggerstaff, of Richmond, and Miss Maecia Baum, of Mt. Sterling, the officiating minister being Eld. H. D. Clark, pastor of the Christian church of Mt. Sterling. It was not an elopement for the parents of the bride were not opposed to the marriage, but as the groom is a near friend of the bride, the marriage was celebrated here. The groom is a member of a prominent furniture and undertaking establishment at Richmond and is a very popular young man. He is the only daughter of Mayor Adam Baum, of Mt. Sterling, and is a young lady of rare grace of mind and person. Immediately after the ceremony the bride party left in a hack for Richmond where they will reside. Those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Todd and Dr. Hooker, of Richmond, Miss Sallie Anderson, Mr. Wm. C. Moore and Rev. H. D. Clark, of Mt. Sterling."

BIRTHS. GRIGGS.—To the wife of Clinton Griggs, at KATHON, a daughter.

DEATHS. TURNER.—The death of Squire Turner near Kirksville on Sunday removes a familiar figure from the county and a highly respected citizen. He was over 70 years of age and had been suffering from liver trouble for some time. His burial occurred yesterday in the family cemetery with Masonic honors. Deceased was a prominent Mason, an ex-Magistrate and a good citizen. He leaves a large family.

—Mr. T. C. Curry is announced for Assessor, subject to the action of the Democratic party. He is a son of John Curry—a fine old true-blue Democrat—honest and capable, and the party would make no mistake in supporting him.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Grant E. Lilly is attending Circuit Court at Irvine. Miss Pearl Gentry is visiting Miss Hallie Dozier, near Foxtown. Mr. Wood Ballard, of Lexington, was in Richmond on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Perry and children spent Sunday in Jessamine.

Hos. John D. White, of Manchester, was here on business yesterday. Mr. Zack Taylor, of Lexington, was the guest this week of relatives here. Mr. J. M. Fisher of Bourbon, was the guest of Mrs. H. B. Hogg yesterday.

The Musical-Literary Club met last Friday evening with Mrs. Henry Wyatt. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rowland had for their guest this week Mr. Jerry Conins, of Jessamine.

Mrs. Mary B. Clay left on Saturday for a three weeks' visit to Mrs. M. J. W. Clay, at Lexington. Mr. Milo Stanks, of the Pentagraph, left this morning for Frankfort to be present at the election of a Senator.

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is continually feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the abundant strength which vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves, enriches the blood, gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

Returned From The West. Prof. J. D. Clark is back from a six weeks trip to California. It will be recalled that when he left here was undecided whether he would visit Atlanta or go direct to the Pacific slope. However, he chose the latter and set out on his 3,000-mile journey to Los Angeles and back, at Covina, his brother-in-law, Mr. J. W. Utter, resides.

The first exclamation of Prof. Clark was: "You have seen pictures, read poetry, and heard tell of the glorious climate of California. Well, said he, the tongue is pale with man's credulity overtaxed, the painter paralyzed, and the orator's tongue cleaves to the roof of his mouth whenever he attempts to describe the stories of his travels in the land of the setting sun."

Not when Prof. Clark went, saw, and returned, and all his gesticulation and unintelligible jargon when he goes to describe the wonders of the Golden State. It may be inferred from the above that the Professor is rather in need of a dose of his own medicine. Fits Cure for Inebriety. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine that will cure the effects of alcohol.

Met Rev. P. B. Hall at Santa Ana, Cal., where he is pastor of the Christian Church. He was formerly pastor of that denomination in this city, and is well remembered. He is in perfect health and doing a good work. He is saying devoted respects to a very rich and charming widow, and we are sure his Richmond friends join in wishing him all the success and happiness that his temporary and spiritual welfare.

Mr. Kuper Hood, of this city, has a brother, Mr. George Hood, known here, who is in the railroad business at San Francisco. His line, the great Southern Pacific, is planning to construct a road from Los Angeles to Chicago which will shorten by 60 hours the time between those places. In that event it will be possible to get from Los Angeles to Chicago in 48 hours. Mr. Hood is a very successful business man, and is noted for the superiority of his fruit. Here Prof. Clark met Mr. E. L. Huddleston, formerly of Nicholasville, Ky., general agent of the Southern Pacific Railway. He has shipped over his road from Covina alone 200 car loads of those delicious oranges. For the most distinguished courtesies at his hands, Prof. Clark is deeply indebted to the excellent Kentucky gentleman.

been confined to his room with la grippe. His many friends hope to see him out soon. Nathan Fain, of Falmville, has rented his farm to Dr. L. H. Wilson and he will move his stock of goods to Madison county. Miss Louie Finney, of Shilohville, who has been conducting a winter school at Hays Fork, closed last week and returned to her home. Capt. J. H. Amey, who is taking a corresponding course with Danville College, of Danville, New York, will close his course April 1st. James W. Park, one of Estill county's noted Democrats, has been spoken of for School Superintendent against W. S. Witt, Republican. He will make a strong race.

It is reported that Alex Underwood, who ran against W. S. Winkler for the Republican nomination for Coroner of Estill county and was defeated, will now make the race against Tom Winkler on the Democratic ticket this fall, but some older Democrat may want to make the race, if so Underwood is young enough Democrat to wait for another time.

PAVOLA. Rev. Ambrose preached here yesterday. Speed Hendrix killed a five-foot black snake Thursday. D. F. Sharp returned from Hot Springs last week minus some rheumatic pain. Bro. George of Kirksville, will preach at Speedwell church Saturday night and Sunday at H' o'clock. Uncle Tom Elliott fell and bruised himself considerably, but will soon be out again. He is in his 84th year. D. F. Sharp brought on so many straw hats that Tom Mize has engaged a few to feel his cow on during the Easter cold snap. Mrs. Broadus mother of J. B. and Pleasant Broadus, died Sunday night from the effects of a fall received several weeks ago. She was in the 85th year of her age and a good woman.

NEW SPRING DRESS GOODS!

Last week we merely called your attention to our line of NEW SPRING DRESS GOODS!

Those beautiful sunny days the Ladies fall in love and march to the City Store to inspect the varied stock of Novelties.

It is useless to tell the Ladies that checks, large and small are all the rage. Every one can have a check suit or at least a check skirt, or at least a check dress, as the material ranges in price from 30c a yard to $6 a suit.
