WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—namely their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator know that customers are often deceived by buying a bad taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes, or ever has made, Simmons Liver Regulator or anything called Simmons Liver Regulator, but J. H. Zellan & Co., and no medicine made by anyone else is the same. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear the fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Deseased Liver.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

CHAIRMAN JOHNSTON'S RINGING SPEECH.

The Democratic State Convention which met at Frankfort June 2, was called to order by Major P. P. Johnston, Chairman of the State Democratic Committee.

The following is the full text of his speech, calling the Convention to order: It may be proper in surrendering to the executive authority of the party the trust you delegated to me a year ago to make a few observations suggested by experience.

The organization has not been as efficient and harmonious in all its details as the great interest at stake demanded, owing to the fact that it was composed largely of discordant elements and crude material. I have, however, done what we could to make it representative of the whole Democracy. Many difficulties have been overcome. But the main trouble that besets our party, alienates its best friends, and endangers its success, confronts us still with fair speech and the ultimate purpose to betray and plunder.

Machine methods, the curse of modern politics, reach the most odious extremes in the cities, but are often offensive and conspicuous in the smaller communities. Shrewd politicians practice them, betray cities and States and it is not too much to say that they cost us the Presidency in the late election. These big rascals work for plunder and power, are the open enemies of society, and all honest men should unite to strike them down. They are not, however, more hurtful to the party than their feeble imitators, found wherever men gather together for a political purpose, who persistently poison the source of party strength. The most clamorous of these are brought forward to preside over local conventions, where they openly ignore the independent partizan and proceed to carry out a pre-arranged program, regardless of the rights of all except the crooked ones who put them there and gave them orders. These conspirators cheat and disgust associates when there is no difference of opinion on public questions, no dividing issue, solely from a habit of trickery and distrust of honest methods. They are so common that instead of being denounced they are tolerated as necessary political evils, while in truth they are execrations that should sink to oblivion under the weight of untrammeled party judgment.

The smart fellow who schemes for the corrupt control of interests by which he can gorge himself with plunder, is almost respectable by the side of the little politician who schemes to rob his fellow voter of his voice in local politics, out of a habit of wrong doing, without reasonable hope of advantage, when even he has sense to know that only injury to the party can result from his conduct. We must make war on these corrupt practices. Voters are now independent. They have the secret ballot, they cannot be expected to support the party or its candidates unless we do what may be done to secure them a fair and equal voice in fixing the policies, and naming the candidates of the party.

Individual rights, are the basis of party rights, and it is folly to talk to men about the great rights of the people of this land while the best elements are stifled by the noisy ruffian and his slyness and unscrupulous ally who it is the abuse of respectability thinks he can commit crimes without standing before the country a criminal.

It is difficult to organize voters to do little for and dried measures and for candidates that neither use and combine to disfranchise them. Your party officers, if they are to offer a victorious party, must see that the votes of every voter is recorded free expression, and it is for you to provide that those who fail to perform this duty are unmercifully removed from places they hold by your authority. Majorities look with blind indulgence on malfeasance however high handed that result in the triumph of the men they favor, or they refuse to see or condemn wrongs of which they or their friends are the beneficiaries. Yet when the contest with the enemy comes later, how powerless they are without the loyal support of an outraged minority.

Our people are bold, manly and fair minded, and until the late election I would have stated it as an unqualified proposition that in any fair contest the minority would stand loyally by the majority in a battle with common enemy. Even now I assert that there are few exceptions to the rule, and that with fair consideration and equal votes the humblest member of the party is entitled to, secured to them, there would not be one in a hundred.

The movement now on foot, and growing in strength every day, is emphatically a movement of the people; their convictions and conclusions shaped the last campaign, swept aside all who failed to agree and co-operate with them. Trouble will be averted in the future if this fact is kept in mind and a fair expression of the will of every voter secured in the minor as well as the greater affairs of the party.

The majority fairly ascertained should govern. Let us trust the people and force the abandonment of the machine methods by which they have been defrauded and betrayed; then the Demo-

For the CLIMAX. A CHURCHMAN'S PROTEST.

Allow me to call public attention to what seems to me a very important subject. It is the impropriety of allowing women to partake of the Lord's Supper, now generally called the sacrament, in all the churches. It is only necessary to read the account of the institution of this sacred memorial by the founder of the Christian religion to see that only men were present at that occasion. It is not worth while here to consider whether the omission of women was intentional or only because according to the custom of that age and country, the master and his disciples, after engaging in public ministry, met in the "upper chamber" to partake of their last meal together. Suffice it for us to note the great evils that have resulted from the presence of women at the sacrament.

Step by step, since this pernicious practice was permitted, women have been leaving the seclusion proper for that sex. What do we see to-day? Women teaching in Sunday and secular schools, women forming societies under every sort of title to usurp the functions of man and do the work of the world. Do we see women acting as home and foreign missionaries for the spread of the gospel to every land and every creature? We might have been expected, these irresponsible apostles of progress are now even attempting to become members of the vestry, as in some organizations they have invaded the pulpit. What position will be left to preserve the dignity and power of man if this thing goes on.

I protest against such perversion of the place of sexes. As a radical change is needed, I propose to return to first principles and prevent women henceforth from appearing at the sacramental table. The misguided females sometimes mistake the biblical phrase, "male and female created he them and gave them dominion," and claim that it was the divine design that men and women should work together in every department of human interest. It has been urged that as men and women were placed together in families, so they should jointly strive for larger family, the church. Some of the advocates of female assistants say that woman was "last at the cross and earliest at the tomb," and should therefore be her laborer to labor everywhere for her Lord. Away with such sophistry! Let us not listen to it for an instant, but go at once back to the fact that no women were present at the first sacrament. It was a fatal mistake ever to admit them to it. Yours faithfully,

Excursion to Niagara Falls. The annual excursion of the C. & O. D. Railway to Niagara Falls will occur this year on July 28th. The rate from Cincinnati, O., will be $7.00. Tickets will be good five days. Trains will leave Cincinnati about 12:00 noon. The accommodations will be first-class in every particular. Elegant day coaches, Pullman and Wagner sleeping cars. The route is the most interesting of any. Going via Toledo, Detroit and the Michigan Central Railway through the best part of Southern Canada, direct to the Falls. This is the only line, that passes close to the brink, from which a full and complete view of both the American and Canadian Falls can be seen to advantage. Niagara is one of the greatest wonders on the globe—everybody knows of Niagara, and everybody wants to go there. The C. & O. D. R. was the first to inaugurate these cheap excursions, and always has the best accommodations provided for its patrons. Persons desiring full information about this excursion, should address the undersigned and a descriptive circular will be mailed you. D. G. EDWARDS, Pass'r Traffic Mgr. C. & O. D. Schooler's Press Shipped An Eccentric in The Right-hand Box. Mr. W. F. Schooler, editor of the Morehead Advance, and who married Miss Grace Hacker, of this city, this evening the late appearance of his good paper recently. The truth is he was out one night celebrating his nomination as Republican candidate for the Legislature, although he deplores this in the following characteristic style: "Our paper is two days late this week, owing to an accident to our press. When we started to run the edition on Wednesday night, as usual, one of the gey ropes gave away, allowing the forward gliderfluke to fall and break as it struck the flunker-flopper. This, of course, as anyone who knows anything about a press will readily understand, left the gang-plank with only the flip-flap to support it, which also dropped and broke off the wapper-choke. This loosened the fluking between the ramrod and the fluber-snatcher, which also caused trouble. The report that the trouble was caused by over-indulgence in intoxicating stimulants by myself is a tissue of falsehoods; the pecked appearance of our right eye being caused by our going into the highway of the press in our anxiety to start it, and pulling the coupling-pin after the alphanb was broken, which caused the digrus to rise up and well in the optic. We expect a brand new gliderfluke on this afternoon's train."

COMING SOUTH. The famous Boston School of Expression of which Dr. S. S. Child is President will come to Monticello for a Summer Session next July. This move means more than the coming of a cotton mill from New England to the South; a great school is actually bringing its thought, the experience of a great past, into our very midst. The results on Southern education will be immediate and widespread.

By gathering together these great schools and by providing a summer home abounding in wholesome things for everybody, Monticello is doing a mighty and blessed work for our sunny land. We feel that we are rendering you and our community a service when we ask you to write to A. P. Bourland, Monticello, Tenn., for full programs of the Assembly's work.

CHESEAPEAKE & OHIO RAILWAY'S NEW ENTRANCE TO NEW YORK. One of the great improvements ever made for the convenience of passengers to and from New York City has just been completed. A new high speed Ferry service has been established from the New Jersey City depot to the foot of 23d street in New York City, where a handsome Ferry House has been erected, with commodious waiting rooms, baggage room and all conveniences of a modern Union Depot. The Ferry used between Jersey City and 23d street is just from the ship builder, and are all that can be embodied in modern up-to-date passenger steamers. They are large "double deckers," and the landings on both sides of the river are so constructed that passengers can go aboard or ashore from both decks at once, thus saving the trouble and annoyance of going up or down a crowded stairway.

In connection with the 23d street station a line of hack cabs and carriages has been established that will take passengers to or from any part of New York City; a charge of 25 cents per passenger for a mile and a half or under, and 15 cents for each additional mile or fraction is made. Trunks will be taken with passengers in four wheel carriages at 10 cents each. The charge for passenger in four wheel carriages is 10 cents on same distance as taxis. Valises are taken charge of by driver in either harness or carriage at 5 cents each; no charge for valises carried in hand. This new station is in addition to the Courtland and DeWolfe street stations; these are still in use for going direct to the lower, or business end of New York City, but for persons desiring to go first to the hotel district the 23d street station is the best. The new station is only a few blocks from Fifth Avenue and Broadway. Every prominent hotel is within easy reach. Passengers leaving Lexington on the Chesapeake & Ohio Limited Vestibuled trains have the comfort of riding in through sleepers to New York without change, making from three to five hours quicker time than any other line.

Arrive Lexington 11:25 a. m. and 8:50 p. m. daily. Leave 23d street, New York City, 7:55 a. m. and 4:55 p. m. daily. Arrive Lexington 8:00 a. m. and 5:20 p. m. daily. Write for new surface map of New York City. GEORGE W. BARNES, Division Passenger Agent, Lexington, Ky.

A new school house near Wright's Chapel, six miles west of Mayfield, will be erected soon. The Protestant meeting at the Mayfield Church is attracting large audiences. HON. C. T. CALDWELL, of Parkersburg, W. Va., recommends Wright's Celery Capsules.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., January 20, 1895. THE WRIGHT MED. CO., Columbus, Ohio.
