The Democratic Convention at Columbus, Ohio, last week, was the most memorable in the State's history. The party was a unit for the Chicago platform and every nominee for a State office stands squarely upon the issues of last fall. The Republican party has a tremendous free silver which will not support Bushnell nor Hanna, so the Democrats will elect Chapman for Governor and sweep the State. The Democrats of Ohio put none but Democrats on guard this year.

Among the last acts of Lincoln's life was a message for the miners of the far West. This was embodied in a letter addressed to Mr. Colfax, and dated April 14, 1865, in which he said: "Tell the miners for me that I intend to promote their interest to the utmost of my ability because their prosperity is the prosperity of the nation, and we shall prove in a few years that we are the treasury of the world."

Less than eight years afterward this wise policy was reversed by a wicked conspiracy between the bankers of Europe and America, by which the act of February 12, 1873, was passed, and one of the great industries of the country, which Lincoln declared to be "the prosperity of the nation," was stricken down, crippled, and destroyed.

The Pentagraph made a strange but honorable admission in a late issue concerning the growth of bimetalism. While those who read newspapers generally do not need such assurances of the increasing popularity of the bimetallic idea, still it is significant when the opponents of the cause admit its importance as a political issue. Is bimetallic ideal, as its enemies would have you believe? Says our esteemed Republican contemporary in its issue of June 26: "BEARING FRUIT."

"The visit of the bimetallic commission from the United States to the European countries is evidently bearing fruit. When a bimetallic conference held in England can receive letters from such prominent government officials as Hon. J. A. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury; Henry Chapman, President of Local Government Boards; Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India; Walter Long, president of the board of agriculture; Sir Matthew Ridley, secretary of state for home affairs, and Alfred Rothschild, it is quite apparent that the sentiment in favor of bimetallic is increasing, and that the people in that part of the world generally, with those of the United States, concur in the belief that international action is the only practicable method of obtaining it."

Says the Pentagraph, the organ of the Green-back party: "It is no doubt a pleasure to the Climax to cry calamity, but being itself stock in trade, this is rapidly diminishing and will only be a temporary and partial prostration the calamity has brought upon the people. It is plainly seen that as cotton and tobacco, wheat and wheat, hogs, cattle and stocks continue to go up, louder is the wail of the calamity howler."

The Climax gladly takes up the case of battle here thrown down, and acknowledges that it is a calamity howler to the extent of telling the truth about the deplorable conditions existing, which the Pentagraph and other such organs of the Administration wish us to grin and bear. If the Pentagraph likes falling prices, stagnation, want, bankruptcy and ruin, it may confine an eye to its own facts, but as for us, we must and will tell the truth about "calamity." For the special delectation of our esteemed contemporary we publish on our first page a column of truth from McKinley's own state. Read it, then read your own Commercial-Tribune of yesterday, and find these "calamity howlers."

75,000 wheat struck for more bread. The miners of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, the number of 35,000, are out on strike. The following circular has been issued by the United Mine Workers of America: "The signs of the times, as pointed out by the press and by testimony of men versed in public affairs, are that business is reviving, that an upward tendency in prices of all commodities is apparent, that the general business revival and industrial improvement which is earnestly proclaimed, we ought to share, and if we do not attempt to share, we shall be left behind and only a dependent upon us. Let the watchword be, 'mine workers are entitled to a fair day's pay for a fair day's work.'"

The Democratic promises and pledges of the Republican party last fall are doing the work. Thousands of idle men all over the country, and those whose wages have been reduced, although promised an increase, are dissatisfied with present conditions and will unite to correct them at the polls.

A LEADING Republican newspaper of Chicago, in an attack on the silver conference, pitched in a quotable key, takes occasion to remark: "There was a time when 371 grains of silver would pay off as much indebtedness as 23 grains of gold. It takes now 780 grains of silver. The purchasing power of silver cannot be increased by law; the debt paying power can be increased dishonestly as far as existing contracts are concerned."

Tous, in plain terms, is admitted the fact that the man who borrowed 371 grains of silver must now pay the lender 780 grains of silver in payment of the debt. This strikes our contemporary as just and right, and it is a system that has more than doubled the indebtedness of this nation since it has been put in force.

The rights of the creditor are sacred in the eyes of the goldites, and so far as the debtor is concerned there is nothing but reviling for his position.

tion are wanting, and the new administration has had a clear, smooth track to run on, with a "God speed" from every citizen of this republic on their road to promised prosperity.

But there is no doubt in the minds of Democrats and unbiased Republicans as to the failure of the party, from present indications, but the Republican doctors have the patient, and as he is growing worse instead of better we cannot be blamed for issuing bulletins as to his increasingly alarming condition.

To longer held the plea of the gold bug to keep quiet, is to cry "Peace, peace" when there is no peace. It is our privilege to hold aloft the banner of the party which set on foot last year at Chicago a crusade against the money power that is ruling and ruining our country, and as long as we have the courage of our convictions and the type and press to employ, we shall go on with the fight.

Most of the great dailies, with the aid of the news agents and the Associated Press, are in the service of the gold combination. The annual money clubs of New York, Chicago and other large cities, backed by unlimited capital, are flooding the country with gold-standard literature. The people want an opportunity to read the other side and arm themselves with the truth to relate the fallacies of the emissaries of the gold monopoly. As a humble agent of the cause of plain humanity, the CLIMAX will neither let up nor shut up.

LOCAL.

Immense Tan Bark Trade. Tan bark has become one of the principal sources of revenue for many of our upper counties. We passed through the thriving little village of Rice last week and was told by Mr. Rice, of the firm of Wagers & Rice, that they had bought and shipped from that point during the present season more than $5,000 worth of tan bark and that most of it had been exchanged for merchandise at their store.

Mr. Yerkes Named. As all agreed expected Hon. Jno. W. Yerkes has been named by the President to succeed Mr. C. H. Rodes, both of Danville, as Collector of Internal Revenue in the Eighth District. No better selection could have been made, if we are to judge by the high character, ability and popularity of the gentleman, and both men walked away, mutually agreeing that the matter was too trivial to jeopardize their long standing friendship.

A Shooting at Boone's Gap Trench. Leonard Garrett, who was released from jail here a short while ago, after serving out a fine for unlawfully selling whisky at Berea, had some trouble with his bar tender at Boone's Gap Tunnel, who goes by the name of "Happy Jack," one day last week, which it is said originated over his bar tender making way with some of Garrett's money. Garrett drew a revolver and "Happy Jack" jumped behind a shield himself. Garrett fired and accidentally struck the railroad man in the arm, which ended the difficulty.

Douglas Bros. Succeed Arbuckle & Douglas. Zena Douglas, young man with Mr. Strong, an excellent young man and a good salesman, has entered into partnership with his brother, Cyrus, junior member of the late firm of Arbuckle & Douglas. They will continue in the shoe and gent's furnishing business at the old stand.

Mr. Arbuckle will devote himself hereafter to agriculture and the horse industry, for which he is well fitted. He is one of our steady, upright, conservative citizens, highly respected by all classes, and his career as a farmer will be marked by the same lofty dealings that characterized his citizenship in Richmond.

Welch's Furniture Store at Berea. Mr. S. E. Welch, whom the CLIMAX appointed Director of the Mexican Mint, has declined the appointment in order that he may open another store at Welchburg, the suburb of Berea, which his enterprise has built up. He has already the following: drug store, dry goods, grocery, hardware, agricultural implements, furniture, six different stores, and in addition Mr. Welch handles on the side coal, salt, builder's materials, etc., etc. Incidentally he operates in politics and is a red hot Republican of the McKinley-Sherman stripe. He is a hustler spelled with a big B, and when you go to Welchburg look around and see the suburb Berea!

Mr. Barnes of Madison Outfits a Whole Circus. Samuel Barnes, a farmer, attended the circus here on Saturday, and was bunched out of 800 by two confidence men who persuaded him into paying them the money as a guarantee in order to prepare the agency for a large tailoring concern which, they said, would pay him a large sum of money in advance. Mr. Barnes discovered that he had been bunched and told his work of woe to Chief Terrill, who took a bill to perfection and made the circus manager refund the money. Mr. Terrill said he would attach the whole circus if the money was not paid back, and this was done forthwith and the circus moved on, and Mr. Barnes went home a wiser man.

Fourth of July Celebration. Pursuant to call upon the citizens, a tremendous celebration of Independence Day occurred at the bridge on the Barnes Hill pike southwest of Richmond on Saturday. Two thousand men, women and children were on the grounds, and besides abundance of eat and drink (spring water), the Richmond Band gave an all-day concert, interspersed with speeches by Hon. J. W. Caperton, W. B. Smith and Rev. John G. Pond. The speech by Mr. Smith was said to be the finest ever delivered on this or any other occasion, and charmed the listening multitude. Col. Caperton never fails to hold the audience enchained by his matchless humor and pathos. Dr. Pond added his quota to the dignity and significance of the day we celebrate by a good speech.

Niagara Falls. The excursion season to the North opens this year with a great deal of promise. The Niagara Falls season will be inaugurated with rates lower than ever before made, from all points on the Q. & C. route, Thursday, July 8. This excursion will be run via Cincinnati, C. H. & D. Ry to Toledo and Mehl. Cent. via Detroit to Niagara Falls, the week's excursion is a month. Special trains of the first class coaches and Pullman sleepers will leave Cincinnati at noon July 8, and tickets from Q. & C. points will be on sale for trains that make the connection, good to return until July 14. This is one of the most completely popular trips known to the American public, and Niagara is visited by thousands of Americans every year.

An Abscess

In the Stomach Caused Great Suffering—Was Confined to the Bed But Now Able to Work. "In October, 1885, I had an abscess in my stomach. I was also taken with pleurisy and coughed very badly. I was treated by physicians but did not improve. I gave up all hope of ever getting well. My right side was swollen so I was not able to walk across a field. I was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and began taking it. In three days I could see a change for the better. I kept on taking Hood's Sarsaparilla until I had taken four bottles and continued to improve. I am now able to do a good day's work on the farm." M. E. MANN, Demossee, Kentucky.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. It is the best alterative and purifier of the blood. Hood's Pills are the best for constipation, biliousness, etc.

Second Street Stays the Tide of Business. The removal of the postoffice and the revenue department to the new government building was believed to be a crusher to that section which now enjoys the trade drawn thither largely by the presence of the above named offices. But we are glad to note the fact that there is not a vacant store on Second street, and that quite recently several valued additions have been made which insure to that locality a continuation of the major portion of the travel and trade which have gravitated that way.

The latest additions to Second St. are the Western Union telegraph office, Richmond telephone exchange, and the New Garnett House, all of which draw their quota of patronage from all parts of the city, and so emphasize the loss which will be sustained by the removal of the offices.

Judge A. R. Burnam and Mr. N. B. Deatherage Exchange Blows on the Street. Bystanders in front of the court house were treated to a slight sensation on Friday about noon, when Judge A. R. Burnam of the Court of Appeals, was observed to strike ex-Sheriff N. B. Deatherage in the face, the latter returning the blow with interest.

Both deny that the trouble arose over the alleged $500 contribution of the Madison National Bank to assist Mr. Burnam in his race for judge last fall when he was the bank's president. The misunderstanding as stated by Deatherage arose over a fee charged by Mr. Burnam in the Moberly estate settlement.

Both gentlemen regret the occurrence, and are today perfectly friendly. Both deny that the trouble arose over the alleged $500 contribution of the Madison National Bank to assist Mr. Burnam in his race for judge last fall when he was the bank's president.

A Tragedy Just on the Jackson Line—Sensational Arrest. At noon, on Saturday, Simpson's store at the top of Big Hill, this county was treated to a genuine sensation in the shape of a killing, wherein Joe Gatfill, aged 10, was shot and killed by Henry G. Jiles, aged 37 years.

The trouble originated by Gatfill coming into the store intoxicated and abusing old man Jiles so it is alleged. Gatfill, it seems, drew a gun but was quelled, although Jiles had armed himself. The latter put his weapon in his saddle pocket, preparatory to departing, when Gatfill ran up behind him and sought to tear his clothes off. The old man, seeing his pistol around under his left arm and fired, the ball, a 4, piercing Gatfill near the heart, killing him almost instantly. Jiles mounted his horse and proceeded about three miles over in Jackson county, when he was overtaken by Henry Roney, a half brother of the dead man, who called to Jiles to halt. Some say that Jiles turned in his saddle and was preparing to reply with a bullet, when a shot from Roney's Winchester rifle killed his horse which fell upon Jiles who lost his pistol in the fall. Before Jiles could arise Roney captured him, and about nine o'clock Saturday night the old man was lodged in jail here.

Mr. Jiles draws a pension of $30 per month, being a veteran of the Federal army. He waived an examination and was held over to the Grand Jury without bail.
