THERE was an alleged interview with Mr. Emmet Dickson, of Paris, published in the Cincinnati Enquirer some days ago, in which it was said that Mr. Dickson told the reporter that the National Democratic party in Kentucky was made up of "old-time Whigs, home-guards during the war and Shylocks." We do not believe that Mr. Dickson ever made that statement withholding comment until Mr. Dickson has an opportunity to confirm or deny the accuracy of the report, says the Lexington Herald.

"Why a newspaper could never live in Lewis county," is the heading of a long article in the Vanceburg Sun, the point being that the county officers don't comply with law in advertising. A suggestion though is to go ahead and make the Sun shine brightly as it is now doing, and all will naturally be drawn to the sun. A paper never could live in Lincoln county until Walton made such good of that helped him, says Col. Craddock in the Paris Kentuckian Citizen.

Twenty years ago it was not considered respectable to be a Republican in Kentucky. Now it isn't really respectable to be a Republican of the kind that is running party affairs here and at Washington. They used to call it the "bigger party," now the negroes are about the only decent ones left who affiliate with the gang headed by Hunter, Deboe, Todd, Taylor, Franks, Sapp, Erdman and their tribe. And the negro suffers in reputation by the association.—Frankfort Capital.

If the "National" Democrats expect to elect Hindman clerk of the Court of Appeals, as Waterson valiantly predicts, it is more than the candidate himself believes or anybody else for or against him. The Lebanon Falcon says: "Hindman, the yellow jacket candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals was in Lebanon Saturday and frankly confessed that he had not the slightest hope of being elected. Just so! Brother Hindman's sole mission is to try and secure enough Democrats from their party allegiance to enable the Republicans to win, but his efforts will prove a dismal failure."

The Louisville Post, one of the shining lights of the so-called National Democratic party, concedes the election of S. J. Shackelford, the Democratic nominee for the Clerk of the Court of Appeals, by a plurality of 25,000, and all unbiased people who make any claim to a knowledge of the situation agree with it. In a recent interview Hon. Z. F. Smith, ex-Superintendent of Public Instruction says:

"I have recently been through the western part of the state, and I believe Shackelford, the Democratic nominee for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, is safe for a majority of not less than 20,000 or 30,000. The Republicans will not make anything like the effort to carry the state that they did last year. They are disheartened, disappointed and divided. The action of the Gold Democrats will help the regular ticket. If the Populist candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals persists in running he may possibly draw off 8,000 or 10,000 votes not more, but even then Shackelford will get fully 20,000 majority."

Given power under a pledge to reform the currency in the interests of the people the Republican party has reformed the tariff in the interests of the state.

The tariff law already in effect has been heralded as having been made in opposition to the sugar trust. The lie is given to this claim by the rapid and enormous rise in sugar certificates as soon as the conference report is presented to the Senate. The increased value of these certificates could have had no other cause than the contemplated tariff law. The pretense that the law was formed against the wishes and desire of the sugar trust is shown to be false.

The absurdity of the claim that republican victory would bring prosperity is shown by the condition of the country. Times are better today than a year ago for nobody except the monopolists. Yet the McKinley administration has been in power over five months and the election was nine months ago.

The Republican party is now on trial. It will be convicted of obtaining power under false pretenses and sentenced to retire from office at the first election.

THE CONSUMER PAYS IT. The Dispatch still thinks that the consumers pay the protective tariff. We invite the Dispatch to specify some article, the product of an established American industry, which does not sell for less now than when the protective tariff was imposed upon it.—Louisville Commercial.

This is easy to answer. Before the Dingley bill was passed the merchants of Louisville were selling 20 pounds of sugar to the dollar. They are now selling sixteen to seventeen pounds of sugar to the dollar. Sugar has advanced about one cent per pound on account of the protective tariff imposed on refined sugar. Will the Commercial please tell the people who consume sugar what foreigner pays that extra cent per pound for them?—[Louisville Dispatch].

THE Pantagraph will accept assurances of our distinguished consideration for avowing its authority of an editorial which the Climax charged the Ashland News with having first perpetrated upon the public. The article may be found in the Courier Journal of July 29, editorial page, fifth column, entitled to the Ashland Sun. Hence our charge that the Pantagraph appropriated it.

Now, will the Ashland News confess up, like the Pantagraph tacitly did when the Stanford Journal accused it of using ready-made editorials on prosperity, etc?

In all the walks of life this young gentleman stands in the front ranks, and it is no partial estimate which outlines a brilliant future for him. His departure from Richmond is sincerely regretted.
The Lebanon Falcon had this last week: "J. Robert Biggs, assistant secretary of the Madison county fair association, will become assistant in the Campbellsville academy. Good! Many who can edit magazines, paintings, bulletins and prize bibliographies ought to be able to teach the county fair Campbellvillians with impunity or anything else."

Mrs. Rice was a belle of Stanford some five years ago and met her husband when he was a dispatcher for the L. & N. R. R. His popularity and efficiency were long since recognized by the company and he stands high in the estimation of his superior officers. It is not too much to hope for this excellent young gentleman, whom we have known for fifteen years, to see him some day Superintendent of a division.

MARRIED.

SCHUYLER-McCORD.—A closed carriage whirled down Main street on Wednesday afternoon last which, though no uncommon sight here, elicited remarks of surprise as the occupants looked suspiciously like a bride and groom. And so it was. The bride was none other than Mrs. Mamie Miller, nee Rachel McCORD, who were the day before united in marriage at New Albany, Ind. The young couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Rayburn. The bride, who is a pretty and attractive young lady of nineteen years, is quite wealthy, being a daughter of the late Andy McCORD. The groom is an excellent young gentleman, industrious, sober and upright, and will make a good husband.

A Mexican Veteran in Luck.
The New Market correspondent of the Lebanon Falcon says: "One of our old Mexican Veterans of the community—Uncle Filson Harris—met with good fortune last week. He received a check to the amount of $2,300 of back pension, with 42¢ every month as long as he lives.
A Big Pear Tree.
In our last issue we mentioned a pear tree three feet in diameter as one of the wonders of a county in the Southern part of the State. There is one near this city on the farm of J. N. Wynn that is seven feet through and was that large seventy-five years ago. Although much decayed it still bears a respectable crop of pears.—Weber's Democrat.

Fell From His Horse.
Master John Foster fell from a horse on Thursday and broke his right forearm. The horse was standing still, but the first time he started he threw the boy, who fell off and struck his arm on a stone trough. The accident happened at Mrs. White's on the Big Hill pike and Dr. Foster was then at Ford. He returned and with Dr. Jessup, attended to his son's injury and he is now doing nicely.

A Bad Bet.
The negroes who were arrested at Richmond charged with complicity in the cattle stealing cases for which Richard Lakes and Curtis Coyle were arrested here, will be tried today at Richmond. Lakes is still in jail here serving out a sentence for carrying concealed weapons. Coyle appealed and gave bond and it is said has left the country.—Winchester Democrat.
They waived examination and were held over.

Mr. Bates' Big Purchases.
Joe Bates, representing Welnesday of Joe L. Brown of Clark, about 200 cattle and Ike and Prewitt Vanmeter about 160. They will be delivered in October and will weigh about 1,000 pounds. Price paid 41¢.

Joe Bates, representing Schwartzchild & Co., of Chicago, bought in this county yesterday of Joe Brown, 204 head of cattle; of L. C. Vanmeter, 110 head, and of Prewitt Vanmeter, 50 head. Each lot averaged about 1500 pounds in weight, and brought the sellers 44¢ per pound.—Winchester Sun.

Land For Sale.
I have 175 acres of good land situated on the Richmond and Otter Creek pike, two miles from Red House. I wish to sell either as a whole or in two separate tracts, 75 acres in one tract and 100 acres in the other. It is all in cultivation under good fence, and improvements with plenty of water. The 75 acre tract has a new house on it. For further information apply to J. Tevis Cobb or myself.

New Meat Market.
One of the newest meat markets we have seen for many a day is that of W. H. Douglas & Co. in the Mackey building on Main street. Their large refrigerator and cold storage is now and will henceforth be filled with the choicest of meats. The name of Mr. Douglas being attached to the firm is sufficient to say that it will be a first-class market. Alfred Douglas, undoubtedly the best cutter in Madison county, will ever be ready to wait on their customers. Give them a call. Telephone 103.

"Chiny" Goes to Housekeeping.
If well wishes were convertible into cash, and cash could purchase happiness, Mr. and Mrs. Chenault Willis would be the happiest young couple in town. They have rented the cozy little home on West Main Street at the R. N. I. & B. bridge crossing, and are house-keeping in the most appropriate manner. The sun shines as brightly, the birds sing as sweetly, and the grass grows as green as in a King's domain. May they as monarchs of this little realm be blessed with earth's choicest gifts.

Wheat continues to go up; silver continues to go down.—Gold-egg exchange.
True enough, and the reason is very plain. There is no surplus in the raising of wheat or its use as the staff of life. Restore to silver its rightful use as primary money and pass a law prohibiting the use of wheat for bread, and the conditions will be reversed. Let gold be legislated against, as silver has been, and the commercial value of gold will rapidly decline.—B. J. Newton, in Oventon Herald.

Cap. Prince Succumbs at Last.
After a heroic struggle, Capt. Prince, the gentleman who fell from the horse here during the Fair, died on Monday night, after lingering since July 29. His body was shipped to Wheeling, W. Va., after services at the Henderson House, accompanied by Mrs. Prince and daughter, who have been here since the accident. We were the first to reach the Captain when he fell, and heard him utter his last words, "I am not afraid to die, but I am afraid to leave my wife and children." The accident caused widespread regret, and his stricken family are assured of the sympathy of this community. Deceased was 55 years old, a stalwart man, and leaves a large fortune.

A Horrible Accident.
Milton Kimbrell, a farmer of Brookston, aged 35, met with a peculiar and terrible accident on Monday which may cost him his life. He was enroute home with a two-horse wagon-load of shingles, and when going down a rough road two miles from town the horses took fright. The lurching Kimbrell astride the lines which were tied to a bunch of shingles. He dangled helplessly and the wheel ran upon his leg above the knee, and with his limb under the wheel the team dragged him twenty yards, his leg serving as a "chock" to the wheel. The team left the wheel upon Kimbrell's leg, despite which he was able to tell a little boy accompanying him to run to town for a doctor. Some time after two negro men came along and pulled the wagon off the man, and he was laid in the shade to await the arrival of Dr. Gibson. The latter found the poor man's leg mangled to a pulp, and thinks its amputation will be necessary to save his life.

William A. Owsley Dies in Chicago.
Mr. William A. Owsley, who in the early '70s was a well-known Louisville newspaper man, being engaged on the morning Ledger and other journals, died in Chicago recently. During his career in the newspaper field Mr. Owsley was very active and was always on the alert for something that would interest the reading public. He was sixty years old, and related to the families of his name in Boyle and Garrard counties. His wife who survives him, was formerly a Miss Towle, of Frankfort.

Masonry to be Dissected.
Some weeks ago Rev. Simpson Ky, a minister at Kirksville, Mo., made an attack on Masonry through the columns of the Christian Standard, published at Cincinnati, in which the order was arraigned on twenty six specific charges. He sent a marked copy of the paper to President John Aug. Williams, of Harrodsburg, throwing down the gauntlet to him. A correspondence ensued and a discussion of the question was decided upon between the two. The discussion was a dignified one, setting forth the conflicting views on a subject which concerns a great many people, and a two column article from each disputant will appear weekly for eight issues in the Christian Standard and the Chicago Cynosure, a paper devoted to anti-sectarian societies.

Editor of The Dispatch in Town.
Hon. B. F. Enloe, editor of the Louisville Dispatch, enroute to Eastern Kentucky, paid a visit to Richmond last Friday and stopped with Hon. J. B. McCree, who served in Congress with Mr. Enloe when the latter represented a Tennessee district. Gov. McCree's office was thronged with callers who came to meet the distinguished visitor, and in the evening Mr. Enloe took tea at Gov. McCree's home, when a number of gentlemen called. Col. Enloe is a tall, handsome man, in the prime of life, and is as agreeable in conversation as he is entertaining and instructive in the columns of the Dispatch. He made a fine impression upon all who met him and impressed them as one eminently fitted to mould public opinion upon all the vital questions of the day. He, like Waterson, is a native of Tennessee, and like him has served with distinction in the Congress of the United States, and daily combats and confutes the arguments of the "Star Eyed" impostor, numerous open denials of rare wild beasts, legends of magic herbs of elephants and the finest imported horses ever seen with a treated amusement expectancy. The coming of this, the world's biggest amusement, is cause for a "regal" holiday in every city it visits. It is worth coming a day's travel to see.

Carbuncles
Appeared Each Season Until Hood's Sarsaparilla Was Purified With Hood's Sarsaparilla—An Indolent Ulcer.
"For several years I was troubled with carbuncles on my left side and my back. They would disappear in winter and return the next summer. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have never had any carbuncles since. My little son had a fever and an indolent ulcer appear on his left limb and spread half way around it. Our physician recommended a blood purifier and I gave the boy Hood's Sarsaparilla with gratifying results." A. G. B. JAMES, Polkville, Miss.
"I have been a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism and in October began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I continued its use until January when I could go about as well as any one and I have had no acute pains since." I. W. MERRICK, Grand Isle, Louisiana.

A Show Truly Merit.
"The Great John Robinson and Franklin Bros. Enormous Shows Combined" are announced to appear at Richmond in all their vast entirety, on Friday, August 27, and for one day only, giving two complete performances, afternoon and evening. All of our exchanges speak in the highest terms of this great amusement enterprise, and the many tough "hangers-on" so frequently found with large shows, are quashed conspicuously by their absence. There is not a game of chance of any kind permitted on or around the grounds. All the attacks are gentlemanly, and there is not a loud or profane word spoken.
It is a wonderful sight to see the wonderful "horseless carriage" in trial tests of speed at every performance and in the great double parade. The three rings and elevated stages are all going at one time, with entirely different acts. Performances picked from the best of the world afford, and there is more than four score of them, whose combined salaries would more than equal twice over the entire expense of the every day circus. The daily free street parade is one mass of glittering magnificence, containing "scenes from all nations," numerous open denials of rare wild beasts, legends of magic herbs of elephants and the finest imported horses ever seen with a treated amusement expectancy. The coming of this, the world's biggest amusement, is cause for a "regal" holiday in every city it visits. It is worth coming a day's travel to see.
