Direct connections with Louisville, Cincinnati and other important points can then be had, and up to date improvements will shortly be added. Mr. J. M. Baldwin, under whose efficient charge our line has made such progress, will remain in control here and act as the representative of the new company. Our city is daily making new strides to greatness. As the franchise granted by the City Council fixes the charges for service, these cannot be exceeded for the new company.

Rally Day. Sunday School "Rally Day" for America, was fittingly observed by the local Sunday school of the Christian church, with appropriate exercises and services last Sabbath evening. The spacious upper room of the church was tastefully decorated with pine, cedar, palms and hot-house plants, and the lecture platform gracefully festooned with floral emblems, took on the appearance of a veritable green house. An exquisite hand-painted coat of arms, the bible, cross and crown, the work of Miss Martin, Madison Institute's accomplished teacher of art formed the background of the platform and furnished inspiration alike to audience and participants. A beautiful vocal triad opened the evening's worship, after which the address of greeting was delivered by Mr. Thos. H. Pickels. Other music followed and then Mr. Newton L. Shoptice spoke effectively of missions and our duty in this line. A number of short talks were successively made by various of the Sunday school pupils, and other exercises were made enjoyable by the participation of the young ladies of Madison Institute. Music was supplied by the Christian Education choir, supplemented by additions from the Hill, and several choice readings resulted. The entertainment was thoroughly successful, thanks to the able management of Miss Alices Lloyd, who was in-charge promoter. A neat sum was collected for the benefit of Home Missions.

A man's accusations of himself are always believed; his praises, never.

A Rare Treat. Dr. John P. D. John, one of the foremost lecturers of the country, will deliver his great lecture, "The Worth of a Man," at the Court House, Friday night, November 30.

Don't fail to hear him. Price of admission only 50 cents. He is the equal of any man on the American platform.

McKinley to Become an Elk. President McKinley is preparing to take a decisive step in life and join the Elks. He has been marked as a victim by the Canton Lodge B. P. O. E., and the Hon. Zack Phelps, of Louisville, has been asked to officiate as Exalted Ruler on the occasion of the President's initiation. We would our chief Executive the path to Elkdom is rough and full of tribulations, and there will be no Hanna to lean on. When he comes out from the tent, redolent of goat hairs and with sprouting antlers may he be a better and wiser man.

A Corn Thimble. Henry Burgin, of color, was loaded with a charge of bird shot Thursday night by Ezekiel Forbes, Jr. It appears from the evidence that Burgin had become habituated to late to the continual theft of corn, belonging to Mr. Ike Forbes. Being caught red-handed in the act of appropriation on the occasion mentioned, he caught a load of shot in his hip and leg, at the hands of Mr. Forbes' son, Ezekiel, who executed justice on the sinner. The wound was not serious and on Burgin's promise to make restitution, he was not prosecuted by Mr. Forbes.

Wallace Muir's Father Hurt. Fire Chief George Muir, of Lexington, father of Mr. Wallace Muir, who is a favorite and well-known here, was seriously and probably fatally injured Sunday night. Mr. Muir was seated on the hook and ladder wagon, returning from a fire, when the wagon was crossing the C. O. railroad, a freight train backed rapidly into it and threw it some twenty feet distant, of course emptying its occupants. Chief Muir had an arm and leg broken and was injured internally. It is feared he can not recover. A blinding snow storm, which completely covered the approaching car, was responsible for the accident.

Cream and Crimson Staff. The Cream and Crimson, Central University's annual, is an assured fact for this collegiate year. Last week a mass meeting of students was held and the following ladies and gentlemen were chosen to serve on the editorial staff: Editor-in-chief, S. R. Crockett; managing editor, N. K. Toy; business manager, L. B. Harrington; assistant business manager, J. L. Scott; associate editors, Misses Martha Smith and Louise Kaufman, Messrs. C. T. Galbraith, R. D. Squibbs and David Bell.

It is necessary to state that under this capable management the Cream and Crimson of 1901, will be a glowing success.

Bible Students having Trouble. Students in the Bible College of the Kentucky University are much incensed at the organization of a Hebrew secret society among the student body. They say that the purpose of the society is to secure for its members the best of the appointments to preach in the various small churches of the State. It is the custom to assign students to these churches during the summer and the pay at some of them is very remunerative. The purpose of the society will be investigated by the faculty.

This is the first Hebrew letter fraternity ever established in the United States. Its three Hebrew initials signify "star, cross and crown."

OUT FLOWERS AND FLORAL DESIGNS.

Orders for flowers should be entrusted to reliable florists of known name.

Taste and Ability. In these regards our standing is unquestioned.

Dr. J. M. Bell, "The Florist," LEXINGTON, KY. HENRY L. PERRY, Agt. Bell's Flowers go Everywhere.

Our Sick. Mrs. Mat S. Cohen is improving. Miss Myne Wagers is out again to the delight of her large circle of friends. Barnett and Josephine, children of Mr. Dan M. Chenault, who have been seriously ill with typhoid fever, are now out of danger and recovering.

Thanks to the skilled nursing of Miss Spicie Hayden, of Valley View, who attended them during their seige.

A Card of Thanks. Though defeated in my race for Assessor, I desire to thank my friends for their hearty support, and to express my intention to sturdily support the nominees of my party as selected by last Thursday's primary. Being a loyal and true friend of Democracy, I am equally true to its principles of justice, equity, and therefore I will do all in my power to help elect its victorious opponent and our regular ticket. Again testifying my appreciation of the vote accorded me, and assuring my supporters of my unflinching Democracy, I am, Sincerely, JOHN S. LONG.

A RETROSPECTIVE VIEW OF THE LATE PRIMARY.

Away with Primaries in connection with money and whisky. Such a combination is ruinous to the Democratic party and to our country—our late experience has clearly proven our mistake. In so far as the officers of election and the general management is concerned there could not be any objection—the officers were carefully chosen, none but reputable citizens were selected. Every other duty of the managers was equally guarded. Each candidate saw the list of officers and no objection from any of them was offered. All was run in perfect glee and was satisfactory until vote was counted, then it was that the cry of combines, tricks and robbery came, and then it was that the depth of their Democracy had been touched. I do not say that all the candidates were not good Democrats, but I believe them to be, but some are a little deeper and more interested in the success of the coming ticket than others. The mistake made by the officers at Tipton in turning the ballots over to the candidates was purely unintentional as to fraud and does not change a vote or the result in any way. The ballots that were brought here locked up cannot by any officer be opened, unless a contest should arise, and there is no ground whatever for a contest, and I hope never will be in one of our Democratic struggles.

I think well of all the candidates, would have cheerfully supported any of them, and I hope for harmony and desire to see all unpleasant differences settled, by each fellow doing what the principles on which he ran advocates. Stop sneaking yourself and then stop your friend from grabbing. Let us all be Republicans, or are glad and telling you that you have been robbed; turn your head in time, be loyal, be true to your victor, let us all come together and do away with immorals connected with our election. This of the empty meal barrels and smoke houses, children crying for bread, and wives praying for their drunken husbands; do away with all such sinful principles, get your friends in line in a creditable way, unite on all nominees alike and you will have our party backed up with such moral and fighting forces that a Republican would choose dying a natural death to that of being politically killed at each succeeding election.

Respectfully, H. H. COLYER.
