The 1910 Pledge.

The officers of the Burley Society at Lexington have directed the proper officials to prepare and have printed a form of pledge for the crop of 1910 and on this matter will begin at an early date.

In answer to our "fish problem" of last week, a friend sends in the correct solution—111. If you doubt this, take your bible, or (perhaps we'd better say) borrow your neighbor's, and figure it out.

Get The Shotgun.

It is reported that a fellow was seen peeping into several residences on Broadway one night last week. If you detect anyone prowling about your premises, take your shotgun and give him a dose of bird shot. This remedy is never known to fail, so waste no time calling the police but apply this medicine.

More New Equipment.

The Climax job printing department has been so crowded that we were forced to buy another large press, and it will arrive and be installed today. Its a Chandler & Price Gordon, the very best made. This, added to our already splendid equipment, gives us the best job printing office in Central Kentucky. We are now prepared to turn out work on the shortest notice, and are determined that our customers have the best.

Will Manage The Team.

Maloney, the star center fielder of the Richmond team last year, has been elected and accepted the position of manager of the team this year. Mr. Maloney was one of the best-balanced men on the team and the directors were wise in securing his services for the important position. The Climax is also glad to state that Whittaker has accepted his signature to a Richmond contract and will play with our boys this season. The prospects for even a better team than that of last year are very flattering.

Basket Ball.

The Eastern Kentucky State Normal School team has been playing fine basket ball, and the work is attracting much attention. Last week they bested Versailles to the tune of 17 to 2, and only a short time before took here into camp by the score of 14 to 12. They have met with defeat only at the hands of Kentucky Wesleyan. They have a number of good games scheduled, announcement of which will be given, and the public is cordially invited to attend. Only 25 cts. admission, which goes to defray expenses.

Our Piano Contest At White Heat, With Leaders Only Few Votes Apart.

Much Fun.

The management of the Opera House has set apart Friday night as "Amateur Night," and much fun is had watching the stunts by local talent. If you want a good laugh, see this feature.

A Joured to 26th.

The board of county supervisors, who were in session for several days, adjourned today, the 26th, in order that notice may be served on a number of parties to appear. The board is doing its work faithfully and every list is gone over carefully.

Should Be A Warning.

A fake by the name of Dr. Gray, has been in Jessamine county recently claiming to be an expert oculist, and the possessor of a great many pair of spectacles to the unsuspecting and honest people. It seems as though the citizens of this country have had enough experience with the average peddlers to know that they misrepresent and that they specially sell goods that can be purchased from your home merchants at much lower figures, and then you may know what you are getting.

Mind Unbalanced.

Charley Williams, a well-known young man, created much excitement at his home on Walnut street Sunday by ordering his family from his house and defying anyone to enter. It was seen that his mind was unbalanced and the officers were telephoned for. As he was heavily armed and threatened to kill the one who entered, it was decided to watch the house and wait until Monday. The next morning the policemen went to the house, and peering in, saw that he was asleep. Entering by a window, they carefully approached, seized and bound him. He was taken to jail where he still raves under the belief that enemies are trying to kill him. He likely will be taken before Judge Shackelford for trial today, Tuesday.

An Error.

In last issue of The Climax, we made an error in advertisement of farm for sale by J. T. Ferrell. It's o. k. now, however. Read it if you want a good farm.

To Pull Together.

The Irvine Commercial Club has adopted the motto, "United Effort." That's what it takes to do things, and from the way in which our neighboring boys are whooping it up, old Estill will soon be at the head of the list of progressive counties.

Good, Siff Fine.

It is impossible for blind tigers to flourish in Richmond as for water to run up hill. Sam Pinkston, a negro, concluded to embark in the liquor business last week, but only disposed of one little half pint when he was gathered in by our splendid policemen. Judge Greenleaf soaked Samuel with a $100 fine and the latter now ornaments the rock pile.

Best Band In State.

It is gratifying to music lovers to know that the two veteran Lexington musicians, Henry Saxton and Herman Frost, have again formed a partnership and the band has been reorganized under the old, familiar name Saxton & Frost. The old band drifted apart for some time, and the public will be glad to know that it is again under the sole management of Messrs. Saxton & Frost. There's no disputing the fact that when these men are together they have the best brass band in the South, while no one can touch them on dance music.

Installation Services.

On next Sabbath morning Dr. D. H. Scanlon will be installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, at which time Dr. J. Gray McAllister, of Louisville Theological Seminary will preach the sermon, Rev. J. E. Ballou, of Middleboro, will charge the pastor, and Rev. J. V. Logan, of Somerset, will charge the congregation. At night Dr. McAllister will preach a sermon to the students of the schools located at this place. Mrs. H. B. Hangar and Rev. J. V. Logan will render special music at these services.

Residence Sold

Mr. Henry Perry has sold his residence, on the Summit to Mr. Joe Chenault. The consideration was $5,000 and possession will be given April 1st.

Prospects Good.

A press dispatch from Washington says: "Representative Langley believes he has assurance that $1,000,000 will be in Rivers and Harbors bill for an additional dam in the Kentucky River. The work would cost $120,000, and $100,000 is all that can be expended in the next fiscal year. The dam would complete the improvement to Beattyville."

A Narrow Escape.

Sunday, as Miss Bettie Shearer was returning from Sunday school to her home near Red House, the horse became frightened at a passing load of tobacco and plunged down an embankment. The buggy was overturned and the three occupants, Miss Shearer, a sister and little brother were thrown out. The younger persons escaped all right, but Miss Shearer was pinned beneath the buggy and against a barbed wire fence. Her face was against the barbs, and had the horse moved a few inches she would have been terribly disfigured by the wires, one barb being directly before her eyes. The boy managed to hold the animal until assistance arrived. The buggy was demolished and the horse badly scratched by the accident.

The Hustlers Hustling.

Winchester Democrat.—The management of the Hustlers have not been making as much fuss as some of the other teams in the Blue Grass League, but they have not been idle and the indications are that "Daddy" Horn will have an aggregation of winners again when the 1910 season opens. Charlie Harden the best all round pitcher in the league last year, and the star fielder, Ed Goetscher, who were drafted by Louisville last fall have been again secured for the Hustlers, Ellis, outfielder, and "Daddy" Horn, manager and catcher, all members of the old team here have been secured. Among the new men signed are V. C. McDonald, pitcher; J. R. Humphreys, infielder; Clyde Brown, pitcher, and Schultz, pitcher and utility player.

Circuit Court Next Month.

The Madison Circuit Court will convene next month, the first Monday, and the sheriff and deputies have been busy summoning the juries. There are few people who do not object to serving on juries. Mostly the plea is stress of business. Sometimes, of course, this excuse is really a good one, but if the country were in danger and men were needed to go to war, the pressure of business would not be deemed a sufficient excuse for one's remaining at home. Recently, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., son of the richest man in the world, was drafted upon a grand jury in New York that had as its special object the probing of the "white slave" traffic there. Mr. Rockefeller put up the usual plea of too much business, but it is to his credit that when the judge told him it was a duty the young man owed to the community and insisted upon Rockefeller's being made foreman, the latter no longer objected but accepted the foremanship and expressed his intention of doing the best he could to assist in the effort now being made to wipe out the hateful traffic. It is difficult to impress the average man with the idea that, sometimes, he must sacrifice private gain or pleasure to public good, and the first inclination almost invariably is to get out of the disagreeable duty, but it generally happens that a new light dawns upon the objector when his excuse is found by the court to be insufficient.

Smith-Doty.

While their many friends were expecting the event, yet the marriage of Mr. E. B. Smith and Miss Hattie Doty came as a surprise Saturday evening. So well did they guard their intentions that their closest friends did not know of the arrangements. Shortly after supper they drove to the Methodist parsonage where the ceremony was said by the Rev. Mr. Crutchfield. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. Jesse Doty of Lancaster, and has resided in Richmond for several years. By her sweet disposition and manners she has become a great favorite with our people who wish her well in her new station. She is a young woman of great industry and many noble traits which insure for the fortunate groom an ideal helpmeet. Mr. Smith has resided in Richmond for some years, and is editor of the Pantagraph. He has won many friends. He is a man of ability and energy, and is worthy of the noble woman who has entrusted her welfare to him. The couple have rooms at Mrs. Miller's on West Main street. The Climax joins in every good wish for a life of happiness.

It's Bound to Come.

The Cynthia Democrat says the trusts contend that they must charge extortionate prices for their products because the farmers charge such high prices for food stuff. The farmers contend they must get high prices for their stuff because the trusts charge such extortionate prices for theirs. Between the two, the man who works on a salary is being ground to a pulp and there is nothing at all coming to him who is called "the laboring man." Some day there will be a revolution.

End Not in Sight

Announcement has been made that the House Committee on Religion and Morals will hold an open meeting this afternoon, when there will be a discussion of the Wagoner county unit bill. It is evident therefore, that the last of temperance legislation this session has not been heard of.

Arthur Goebel Dead

His many friends in the State were profoundly shocked Friday afternoon when the news was received here of the death in Arizona of Arthur Goebel, brother of William Goebel, who was murdered in front of the State House. Even Republicans who were hostile to Arthur Goebel, expressed their sorrow at the death of Arthur Goebel, who was so gentle and so devoted a brother. News of the death of Mr. Goebel was received in a telegram to Robert B. Franklin, intimate friend of the dead man and his murdered brother, and who prosecuted the cases against the men charged with the murder of William Goebel.

Closes Saturday Afternoon.

Some time ago, the Climax Printing Co., offered to give absolutely free, a fine piano to the most popular girl in Madison county. Votes were offered with subscriptions paid on the paper. The contest opened lively and for a time many were striving to get the handsome instrument. However, the race narrowed down between Misses Sallie B. Parrish and Zenah Oliver, and for the past two weeks the fight has been between these excellent young ladies. We have decided to close the voting Saturday next, at four o'clock, p. m., and the young ladies are bending every energy in their effort to win. The piano is valued at $400, and is a very handsome one. The deeds of the young ladies are working hard for their favorite candidate and vote will be a very large one. As has been stated above, the race is a very close one, and it is impossible to forecast the winner, consequently everything done for either girl will be of great assistance to her. Get out and help your favorite.

Wool-Growers, Attention.

The Climax is glad to note that the wool growers of Madison county have decided to organize for the purpose of pooling the crop and getting more money therefor. A meeting will be held at the court house next county court day, at one o'clock, for this purpose, and we feel that it is not at all necessary to urge the wool growers of Madison to attend, as they will readily recognize the importance of getting together. The Climax wishes to state emphatically that it is not the purpose of this organization to demand exorbitant prices, but merely to sell the wool in a lump direct to the manufacturer, thus knocking out the middle man and getting much more money for the crop. There is more than half a million pounds of wool grown in Madison county, and with the "middle man's" profits going to the grower it can be quickly seen what it would mean to the farmer who raises sheep. The proposed organization will have two high-salaried officers, the only expense being attached to the plan being that of paying an expert to sort and grade the wool. This is one of the most important moves ever made by our farmers, and it is a safe prediction that all the wool-growers will attend the meeting.

With The New Firm

Mr. Charlie Sharp, who met with an accident in a runaway last year, losing the sight of his eyes, a short time ago made an arrangement with B. H. Luxon & Bro., whereby he obtained a small commission on every load of coal he sold for this firm. On the purchase of Mr. Luxon's business by Broadus & Vaughn, he made the same arrangement with them, and takes this method of notifying the public that he is endeavoring to make an honest living in this manner, and solicits your orders. Call on or telephone No. 97. J-19-11.

One More Week of Loom End Sale Bargains

Owing to the extreme cold and bad weather during our sale, quite a number of our customers and friends were unable to attend our sale and in order to give them and anybody else who could not come during our two weeks sale, we have decided to continue the sale one week longer. Many of the very best Loom End remnants are still to be had and our Loom End Sale prices will be given on every article of any kind in the great store for one week longer. W. D. Oldham & Co. Very Respectfully, W. D. OLDBAM & CO.

Married.

John C. Marcum and Miss Christine Hicks were married by Rev. Cullton, at his residence, at 10 o'clock last Saturday morning. HOLLAND-WARNER. Winchester Democrat.—Leonard Holland and Miss Nettie Warner, both of Madison county, were married in this city Friday, Jan. 21st. Daniels—Baker. Mr. Glenmore Daniels and Miss Pearl Baker were married at the Hotel Glyndon in this city, Monday morning, Rev. Hugh McLellan officiating. Davis—Gay. Mr. M. F. Davis and Mrs. Rachel Gay, of Crab Orchard, were married in this city, at the residence of Mr. N. P. Jones, Thursday, Rev. Hugh McLellan performing the ceremony. DAVIS-WICKER. Mr. Aults "Doc" Whicker and Miss Pansy Davis were married Saturday evening by Rev. Cullton. The ceremony took place at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Marcum on Hillside avenue. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Davis and is a very beautiful and attractive young lady. The Climax joins with many friends in extending congratulations. Blanton—Gilbert. The marriage of Miss Daisy Gilbert to Mr. Lindsay Blanton will take place at the home of the bride on Jan. 27. Owing to recent death of a relative the ceremony will be witnessed only by the members of the immediate families. Miss Gilbert is a daughter of Mr. H. P. Gilbert, one of Madison county's most popular farmers, and is a young lady of rare beauty. Mr. Blanton is a son of the late L. R. Blanton and is exceedingly popular young man.
