The Prayer of the Horse.
 To thee, my master, I offer my prayer:
 Feed me and care for me, and when the day's work is done, please provide me with shelter, a clean, dry bed, and a stall wide enough for one to lie down in comfort.

Put me sometimes that I may serve you the more gladly and learn to love you. Do not jerk the reins and do not whip me when going up the hill.

Never strike, beat or kick me when I do not understand what you want, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me, and if I fall to do your bidding, see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet.

Do not check me so that I cannot have the free use of my head. If you insist that I wear blinkers that I cannot see behind me, as it was intended I should, I pray you be careful that the blinkers stand well out from my eyes.

Do not overload me or hitch me where water will drop on me. Keep me well shod. Examine my teeth when I do not eat; I may have an ulcerated tooth, and that, you know, is very, very painful. Do not tie my head in an unnatural position or take away my best defense against the flies and the mosquitoes by cutting off my tail. I cannot tell you when I am thirsty so give me clean, cool water often. Save me by means of your power from that fatal disease glanders. I cannot tell you in words when I am sick so watch me that by signs you may know my condition. Give me all possible shelter from the hot sun and put a blanket on me when I am cold; not when I am working, but when I am standing in the cold. Never put a frosty bit in my mouth, first warm it by holding it a moment in your hands. I try to carry you and your burdens faithfully without a murmur and wait patiently for you long hours of the day.

Without the power to choose my shoes or my path, I sometimes fall on hard pavements, which I often prayed might be of wood or some such nature as to give me a safe and sure footing. Remember I must be ready at any moment to lose my life in your service. And finally, my master, when my useful strength is gone, do not turn me out to starve, freeze, or sell me to some cruel owner to be slowly tortured to death, but do thou, my master, take my life in the kindest way, and your God will reward you hereafter. You will not consider me irreverent when I ask this in the name of Him who was born in a stable. Amen!

Be Game.
 There are years when even farming, which is as dependable an occupation as we can find, does not give a fair return for labor. This past year, large sections have been stricken with drought. A man who has seen his full Summer's toil spent for practically no returns can't not be blamed for discouragement. It takes sand to stick and energy to come back and try again. We farmers need to cultivate a little of that unconquerable spirit which was shown by a man who, last month, went on the operating table for a serious surgical operation. He did not rally from the anesthetic, and, after a consultation of wise physicians, they all pronounced him dead. His body was removed to the morgue and left there for the night. At about 2 o'clock in the morning the attendant in the corridor looked through the glass doors and was astonished to see a movement of the white clothes that draped the dead man's form. Almost frightened to death, he called the doctors, firemen and police. They entered the death chamber as the lately deceased slowly arose and rubbed his eyes.

"Gimme my pants," said he, "I want to go to work."

That man came back. He was game. Even the doctors could not kill him. There is another year coming. One swallow doesn't make a Summer and one drought need not spell disaster. Go to it, brave men, the earth is yours and the fullness thereof.

Helping With Home Lessons.
 Parental interest in the educational progress of a child could not go much farther than in the case of Mr. Jones, whose method of solving mathematic problems would have been appreciated at Itohebeys Hall. The Miami News tells the tale. This was the note which was handed to one of the grade teachers the other day:

"DAD MAM—Please excuse Johnny today. He will not be at school. He is acting as timekeeper for his father. Last night you gave him this example: If a field is four miles square how long would it take a man walking three miles an hour to walk two and one-half times around it? John ain't no man, so we had to send his daddy. They left early this morning; and my husband said they ought to be back late tonight, though it would be hard going. Dear Mam, please make the next problem about ladies, as my husband can't afford to lose the day's work. I don't have no time to loaf, but I can spare a day off occasionally better than my husband can.

Respectfully yours,
 MRS. JONES."

The Mule Is Monarch.
 Do you know, my reader, that the American mule is about the best moneymaker for the farmer that boards on his place? Of all our domestic animals, he commands the highest market price. The average value of a hog, big or little, is $8.35. The average for a sheep is $3.50; for a best "cristal" $17.30; for a milch cow $32.50; for a sheep is $3.43; for a horse $38.64. But a long-eared, rat-tail, American mule, gaunt and ungainly though he be, $107.84 is his price, big and little, up and down the land. A team of mules weighing 2,500 to 3,000 pounds is worth $500 hitched to any wagon. Compared with the horse, the mule is easier to raise and it has the powerful nine lives of the cat. Swap your mule, and you have a right to ask in exchange thirty sheep, seventeen pigs, six steers, or three cows. There is money in mules, but only about one farmer in fifty is acting upon this bunch.

For Sale.
 I have for sale a splendid horse and jack that I will sell; worth the money; or will sell either of them and farm the other one. Come and see my address.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH.
 This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of one million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is commonly caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices, or by lack of tone in the walls of the stomach. The result is that the stomach loses its power to digest food.

We are now able to supply certain missing elements—to help to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to aid in making the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a most dependable remedy for disordered stomachs, indigestion and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Perry's drug store.
