

Practical Winter Suit of Wool Velours

Designed by Franklin Simon & Co., New York.

This suit is a distinctly smart and becoming model of imported wool velours. No skirt that falls below the ankle may be considered chic, and this full skirt is an appropriate length, as it comes just to the top of the trim laced boot. The high collar of Hudson seal makes the suit very dressy as well as warm, but the collar may also be worn open if that style is preferred. The belt, which is a dominating feature, does not extend to the back, but simply fastens in front and is trimmed with a touch of seal. Plain bone buttons sewn through the center are used as fastenings. A small hat of a bright shade of velvet is worn with this suit. ANNA MAY.

Catarrh and Colds To Be Rid of Relieved Catarrh

Is a great achievement. Most people would be well and happy were it not for catarrh. It is worth ten years of any one's life to learn how to get rid of catarrh.

PERU-NA

will show you, much quicker than any one could tell you, how to get rid of catarrh. THE PERUNA CO., Columbus, Ohio

Mrs. Emma Gannon, 107 E. South St., Kewanna, Wis., writes: "For fifteen years I had catarrh of the head and stomach. I could hardly walk. My attention was called to 'The Life' and I read it through. Then bought a bottle of Peru-NA. I am entirely well now."

Lesson X.—Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 5, 1915.

Text of the Lesson, 11 Chron. xxvi, 8-21—Memory Verse, 16—Golden Text, Prov. xxix, 23—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Our studies thus far have made us acquainted with many people, good and bad, some better than others and some worse than others, but none without failure, and no rest for our souls but in the God of Israel, who often appeared as a man and in the fullness of time became man for us, God manifest in the flesh. Our study today concerns a king whose reign was the longest of any, being fifty-two years, but he became proud and self-willed and died a leper. The study of these lives is helpful only as, by analogy or contrast, we learn to know the Living God, the God of Israel, for the whole Bible is intended to make us acquainted with God that we may love and trust and serve Him and make Him known. Let us give a few minutes to Amaziab, the son of Jehoiachin, the father of Uzziah, whose record is in chapter xxv. He died right in the sight of the Lord in a measure and for a time (verse 29), but his record on the whole is bad. He turned away from following the Lord, bowed down to idols and burned incense to them, and when the Lord sent a prophet to reprove him he compelled him to forbear (verses 14-16, 27).

There was one incident in his life the record of which contains a saying which has often helped me and which I have often passed on to others. He hired 100,000 mighty men of valor out of Israel to help him in battle, and he paid them 100 talents of silver. A man of God was sent to him to say that he would not use these men, for the Lord was not with them and that God had power to help and to cast down. In reply to "his question," "What shall we do for the 100 talents paid to Israel?" he was told, "The Lord is able to give thee much more than this" (verses 6-9). We need to remember that God Himself has power to help, and if we make an unwise investment or lose anything we may find comfort in the fact that the Lord is able to give us much more. As to Uzziah, although his reign is the longest of any, his record is one of the shortest, for there seems to be but little to record. In some lives much is accomplished in a few years, while in others a long life is comparatively fruitless because God is not in it. It is said that he did right in the sight of the Lord, and as long as he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper (xxvi, 4, 5). God helped him against the Philistines and Arabians; he built towers in Jerusalem and in the land, and he was a man of peace and much clemency and loved husbandry. His name spread far abroad, and he was marvellously helped till he was strong (verses 7-10). His works seem to be the record of a man who was true to the Lord and nothing coming and all the time he seemed to be growing more self-important, growing away from the Lord, seeing himself and those who praised him.

What a contrast to Saul of Tarsus, who from the day that he saw the Lord Jesus on the way to Damascus could see no one else unless he might draw them to Him, for whose excellence he counted all things but himself as loss and as dung, and he gloried in the whole story of the day. He is either self or Christ. The true life is denying self and magnifying the Lord. What an utter failure man is apart from God, for when this man's name is spoken his heart was lifted up against God, and he transgressed against the Lord his God and even dared to burn incense in the holy place in the temple of the Lord, a thing which only the priests were authorized to do. The priests ordered him out because he was angry, and then the Lord smote him in his forehead with leprosy, and he himself hastened to go out. He dwelt in a separate house and died a leper (verses 10-21). In Gehazi the sin was covetousness and lying, but in this man it was pride, self conceit, self will. All consumption of sin, as in these and similar cases, points us onward to the man of sin, the greatest representative of the devil that ever was or will be, who will oppose and exalt himself above all that is called God or that is worshiped, * * * showing himself that he is God (II Thess. ii, 3-12; Dan. xi, 36; Rev. xix, 11). But he shall be overcome and cast into the lake of fire at the coming of the Lord (Rev. xx).

Many who have died lepers have gone home to heaven because redeemed with the precious blood of Christ, and we may meet Gehazi and Uzziah there, too, for the suggestion in their sin need not imply the loss of the soul, but, rather, the loss of service, as in I Cor. iii, 9-11. It is our privilege to walk with God all the way, to serve Him without turning aside and to receive a full reward at the coming of our Lord (II John viii; I John ii, 28). When I think of Uzziah I feel led to pray that I may never be so except in the Lord and always remember that His strength is made perfect in weakness. I also think of the record of Uzziah's death in Isa. vi, 1, and hear the prophet say what amounts to this, "I saw a king that never dies."

ANOTHER WOMAN TELLS

How Vinol Made Her Strong. Beallville, Ohio.—"I wish all nervous, weak, run-down women could have Vinol. I was so run-down, weak and nervous I could not sleep. Everything I ate hurt me, and the medicine I had taken did me no good. I decided to try Vinol, and before long I could eat anything I wanted and could sleep all night. Now I am well and strong, and in better health than I have been for years." —Mrs. ANNA MILLISON, Beallville, Ohio. We guarantee Vinol for all run-down, weak and debilitated conditions. B. L. Mission, Druggist, Richmond, Ky.

Human Life Cheap.

A fellow named Maroum was fined $10 for killing another named Rosh in Wayne county, the weapon used to exterminate the poor devil being a club. Life seems to be cheaper in Wayne than in Boy's, where a woman was fined $400 some months ago for shooting a neighbor to death.
