

RED CROSS MAN BROUGHT TREATY

Elihu Root Tells Senate He Read Copy Henry Davison Showed Him—Others Testify

(By Associated Press) Washington, June 11—Elihu Root, former Secretary of State, appearing today at his own suggestion before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee...

When Root was excused Davison was called. He said he brought a copy of the treaty to America but that it had never been read by any man except Root and himself.

Davison in his testimony, aid the International Red Cross, of which he is the head, is incorporated in the League and that was the primary reason he came in possession of a copy of the treaty.

STANLEY CALLS HAND OF THE BLUFFERS

A dispatch from Washington to the Cincinnati Enquirer to-day said that Senator A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, called on Senator Boies Penrose and demanded that an investigation be made of his conduct as Governor by the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections.

It was the first time, so far as the oldest Senators are aware, when a man who had been elected to the Senate demanded that an investigation be made of reports which, if found to be true, would affect his eligibility to serve as a Senator.

No charges have been filed against Senator Stanley, either in the Senate or with the Committee on Privileges and Elections, but statements have been published in the Kentucky newspapers that affidavits have been secured, and that the whole matter was to be gone into.

Foremost among the accusations in the charge that Stanley, as Governor, and by reason of his control over the Exemption Boards, had secured immunity from military service for Kentuckians on a basis of votes delivered into the Democratic column.

Senator Stanley submitted the following proposition: He agreed to furnish a list of Kentucky officeholders whom he had appointed when Governor and submit his face to this testimony, the list to be composed of Republicans exclusively and entirely.

He agreed that if the Committee on Privileges and Elections find that he prostituted his office as Governor to manipulate the draft boards by exempting from service rich and influential young men who would have been sent to fight under a normal operation of the draft law he would resign his seat in the Senate.

LAD SHOTS FATHER TO SAVE MOTHER

(By Associated Press) Harrodsburg, Ky., June 11—While protecting his mother from an assault by his father, Robert Curd, aged 13, last night seized a shotgun and shot and killed his father, Owen Curd, aged 47, at their home near here. The Curds quarreled over property rights. Sheriff Coleman today paroled the boy in the custody of his mother.

HUNS WON'T GET HANDS ON COLONIES

(By Associated Press) Paris, June 11—The reply to the German counter proposals agreed upon by the peace conference heads refuses the German request for a mandate for the former German colonies, it was learned today. The reparations portion of the reply does not fix the total sum which the Germans must pay. The text of the treaty itself is not changed but the reply contains assurances to Germany regarding methods of the reparations process, explaining it in workable agreements.

President Wilson fought strenuously to include a fixed sum in the reparations clause and still believes that the best plan. It is understood, however, the President said inasmuch as Clemenceau insisted to the contrary and also that he had signed the original draft, he would sign the reply as formulated.

Well, It Is Too Bad, Now

(By Associated Press) Paris, Tuesday, June 10—Karl Renner, head of the Austrian peace mission, has sent a letter to the peace conference asserting the hard conditions imposed on Austria have overwhelmed them with despair. He complains strongly against the dismemberment of Austria, particularly the separation of Bohemia and Tyrol, and asserts that Austria cannot survive the loss of her industries.

EDITOR CHARGED WITH CRIMINAL LIBEL

Grand Jury Brings Indictment At Russellville Following Serious Charge Against Courts

Russellville, Ky., June 11—A. M. Herndon, editor of the Russellville Messenger, his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Chandler Herndon, associate editor, were arrested late yesterday on a warrant charging them with criminal libel. They were both placed in jail. Capt. Frank M. Logan, also an editor of the Messenger, was indicted jointly with the Herndons, but was not arrested for the reason he is now in Lexington. The arrest caused a sensation.

The Herndons refused to give bond, were taken to jail, but soon afterwards were admitted to bail. On being released from jail Mrs. Herndon fainted and was taken to a room in the hotel which she was passing at the time. A physician was called and in a short time she had recovered sufficiently to be at her desk in the Messenger office. The indictment was based on an editorial which appeared in the Messenger May 1, in which the paper announced its purpose to oppose Tom Rhea as a candidate for governor.

The editorial which brought about the indictment, said in part: "We may be asked that if it be true that the law has been violated why don't we go into court and ask that those guilty of the violation of the law be punished. Our answer is that under the conditions heretofore stated, we consider the fact that the court which tries the case and the sheriff who selects the jury have been elected to office by the same machine and therefore we do not think there would be much chance of conviction—in fact, about the same chance as a worsted dog would have chasing an asbestos cat thru hell."

Circuit Judge John S. Rhea called the grand jury together and charged its members especially with reference to the publication mentioned, stating that the jury must either indict the officers of the court or the editors of the paper. It is said also that when the indictment was not immediately forthcoming he went before the grand jury in person and insisted upon the return of an indictment.

French Find A "Bluebeard"

(By Associated Press) Paris, June 10—Landru called by some French newspapers the "Bluebeard of Gambais," might take rank among the most celebrated of French criminals, if only a few of the suspicions against him were established. He was arrested a few weeks ago.

The disappearance of a round dozen of his "fiancées" is alleged. He is suspected in more than a hundred other cases by husbands whose spouses have deserted their firesides or by families that have lost track of relatives. The police consider most of the hundred additional cases as instances of disappearance that are common in Paris. A few of them present features similar to those of the dozen fiancées and detectives are investigating them.

More than 3,000 women have been lost to sight in Paris during the war. This number is not regarded as extraordinary considering that such disappearances are common in Paris in normal times and that they have been particularly favored by conditions that have prevailed since mobilization in 1914. A great many families have been broken up or scattered.

Soldiers are returning from long absences sometimes have found their homes deserted and in several cases have discovered their wives believing them dead, have married again in good faith. In cases of deliberate desertion the unfaithful have, naturally, omitted to give their new addresses.

STEALING CARS IN BERLIN

(By Associated Press) Berlin, June 10—Large amounts of war material, chiefly automobiles, have been stolen in Germany and shipped over the borders for a sale, according to a statement of Herr Goethen, Minister of the Treasury. The bona fide sale of war material had realized only 275,000,000 marks and the majority of that was paid in war loan certificates he added.

TELEGRAPH STRIKE BIG FAILURE

Western Union's Loyal Employees Stick To Posts and Business Goes On As Usual

(By Associated Press) New York, June 11—Reports from seven divisions of the Western Union throughout the country showed a full force of operators on duty two hours after the Commercial Telegraphers' Union strike had gone into effect today, President Carlton announced.

At noon Carlton said only 166 persons out of a total of 40,000 employees of the Western Union throughout the country were absent from duty. It is stated the strike is a complete failure.

Wire Strike Looks Like a Flivver

Chicago, June 11—Conflicting claims of the union leaders and officers of the Commercial Telegraphers' Company made uncertain at noon today the extent of the nation-wide call for a strike of telegraph operators. Representatives of the workers maintained the number of strikers would reach 60,000 by night fall. "We are operating 100 per cent," declared the Western Union officials, after receiving reports from Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. First reports to the Associated Press from a score of central west cities failed show the strike had brought serious results. Both sides admitted the central west and Chicago is the storm center of the strike.

Ask To Keep Phone Rates Up

Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and F. B. Mackenzie, vice president of the United States Independent Telephone Association, have sent a request to the State Railroad Commission at Frankfort, to permit the present telephone rates to remain in force in the event the bill now pending in Congress returning the companies to their owners passes. The commission, however, is asked to permit these rates to remain only until they can be investigated and changed without doing an injustice to the companies.

NORMAL PLAY A DECIDED SUCCESS

The most remarkable amateur production ever staged in Eastern Kentucky State Normal School chapel auditorium, the well-known play "Mice and Men", was presented last evening to a large audience by members of the student body under the direction of Miss Mary Ann McMillan.

The play was splendidly cast. Miss Lora Mae Harlow, who was "Peggy", the leading character, made a decided hit. Appearing at first as an orphan she was bewitching, and was adopted by a scientist whose part was taken by Mr. W. H. Wood and who planned to educate her to become his wife. Under the care of his housekeeper, who was Miss Linnie McDonald, she improved very rapidly and soon came to be loved by Captain George Lovell, nephew of the scientist—in real life—Mr. Lovel H. Liles. She had a rival in the person of Joanna Goodlake played by Miss Minnie Burchett, who was the wife of Rogers Goodlake, Mr. T. E. Fouch, the friend and neighbor of the scientist. Peggy overcame the wiles of her rival; her guardian recognized and yielded to her affection for his nephew; and the scene closed with Peggy and Lovell inspecting their new home together.

Other parts were played by Miss Lucy Ballinger and Messrs. Otto Mills, N. M. Hill, Clieff Ping and Paul Gregory. Music was furnished by Miss Elliott, Miss Sudie Warren, and Miss Brown E. Telford. The scenery was beautiful and furniture was loaned by Mr. W. F. Higgins, local furniture dealer. The entertainment was from every point of view a huge success. Each member of the class played his or her part so well that the audience completely lost sight of the fact that this was an amateur production. Much credit is due the director, Miss McMillan, who came to the school little more than two weeks ago. She has already become a favorite among the faculty and students and has by this achievement demonstrated to the friends of the school her splendid ability.

Big Birthday Dinner

The Stanford Journal had the following of interest to friends here: Mrs. W. S. Grinstead gave her son, Mr. Gilbert C. Grinstead, of Winchester, a big birthday dinner last week in celebration of his reaching the 41st milestone in life. Those present were: Mr. Gilbert C. Grinstead, wife and daughter, Miss Dorothy Grinstead Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Truner, of Nicholasville, Mrs. Frank Hardesty, of Princeton, Mrs. J. R. Harris, of Lancaster, Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Walter, Mrs. W. S. Grinstead and Miss Antonette Grinstead, of this city. It was a four course dinner, with everything imaginable good to eat, prepared in a way that would have tempted the appetite of any epicurean. There were two big birthday cakes, which were quite as good to eat as they were to look upon, and many other things that appeal to the inner man. It was an occasion long to be remembered by all whose good fortune it was to be present.
