

MAXIMUM PRICE FOR COAL TO BE FIXED

President's Cabinet Meets To Consider Situation, After Miners Decide To Strike

(By Associated Press) Washington, Oct. 31—Federal government agencies moved swiftly today to meet Saturday's strike of soft coal miners. The developments included: Orders to the railroads to confiscate all coal in transit, if necessary, to build up a reserve for operation of the roads; Re-establishment of priorities list of the Fuel Administration so that railroads, public utilities and essential industries will have first call on whatever coal is mined and on that in storage. Preparations of an executive order establishing a maximum price for coal and completion of Department of Justice plans for punishment of those guilty of profiteering and hoarding; An announcement by Secretary Lane that the government would not hesitate to curtail the consumption of coal in industries 50 per cent so that essential industries might be kept in operation; The working out of plans by which those miners who wish to continue at work will be afforded every possible protection including Federal troops should that become necessary. A general discussion by President Wilson's Cabinet which met in special session at the call of Secretary Lansing. Dr. Harry Garfield addressing the Cabinet asserted a revival of the Fuel Administration is not necessary to deal with conditions growing out of the strike, holding that the war time powers of that body are now vested in the Railroad Administration with full authority to distribute coal to essential industries. Wilson's cabinet met today to consider the coal strike. An executive order restoring maximum coal prices will be issued by the President probably today. Officials would not say what maximum was determined upon.

MRS. B. F. GABBY GOES TO HER FINAL REWARD

Friends were deeply shocked and grieved Thursday morning when the news came that Mrs. B. F. Gabby had passed away, at a local hospital. She had been in declining health the past years, having undergone a serious operation at the Norton Infirmary in Louisville, about eight months ago, for the removal of gall stones, from which she never fully recovered. Tuesday morning she was suddenly attacked with a uraemic convulsion, and was removed from her home on Lancaster avenue, to the Pattie Clay Infirmary, where a special nurse and physicians used every means known to science to fight the disease, but she never regained consciousness and death came to her relief at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Gabby was a devoted member of the Baptist church, a true Christian wife, and mother. She is survived by her husband, Prof. B. F. Gabby, of the Caldwell School, one daughter, Mrs. Joe B. Arnold, of Louisville, and one son, Harold Gabby, to whom the loving sympathy of many friends is extended in their hour of deepest sorrow. Funeral services at the home on Lancaster avenue at 5 o'clock Friday morning, by her pastor, Rev. O. Olin Green. Remains will be taken to Maysville on the 5:43 train.

MINERS' PRESIDENT HITS AT WILSON

(By Associated Press) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31—A direct attack upon President Wilson's course in the coal strike situation as a "climax of a long series of attempted usurpations of the executive power," was made today by John J. Lewis, Acting President of the United Mine Workers of America. The attack was made in a long telegram to Secretary of Labor Wilson replying to a message from him delivered to the conference here yesterday of officials and leaders of the union. The telegrams constituted the first exchange of views between the administration and the union. Union headquarters here refused to give out Secretary Wilson's communication if made public he should do it.

JACKSON WANTS PIKE TO MADISON

Neighbor Mountain County To Vote Road Bonds and Writes To Find Out What Madison

One of the great benefits that Madison county can obtain through the voting of the special 20-cent road tax will be to obtain a thru highway to Jackson county. Such a road will open up a vast trading district to Richmond and Madison county business men and farmers. With an outlet from Jackson county through Madison, the major portion of the trade of that rich mountain county would pass directly through Richmond. Mayor L. P. Evans, of Richmond, has just received a letter from the Agricultural Agent of Jackson county which sets forth the matter. He says that Jackson county is going to vote road bonds, and that the people want a pike leading through the county. He says it will carry by a large majority. Such an example ought to shame those in Madison county who are trying to defeat the road issue in Madison. The mountain counties realize what good roads mean and they are going to have them. Here's the letter that Mayor Evans received, and shows what an avenue of business is in prospect for Madison. A pike built to Big Hill will open up unlimited prospects. Is Madison county to be found lagging behind, with her sister county of the mountains setting forth such an example? The letter says: Tyner, Ky., Oct. 21, 1919 Mr. L. P. Evans Richmond, Ky. My dear Mr. Evans: We will hold an election Dec. 23rd to vote road bonds in Jackson county and as the people are anxious for a pike leading thru the county, I am sure it will carry by large majority. Clay county has already voted bonds and are anxious to connect with Jackson county. If Madison county desires to be connected to these mountain counties, (which would mean much to Madison), now is the time to act. I believe we can get Federal aid for this prospect if you Madison people will help out. I will be in Richmond Monday evening, October 27th and would like to have a conference with you and your County Judge regarding this matter. Respt. Yours, W. R. REYNOLDS Agricultural Agent

"The Shepherd of the Hills"

The photo-play made from the novel of the same name by Harold Bell Wright, will be seen in this city Friday. The picturization of this story has taken a year and more to complete. The author at the head of the Harold Bell Wright Story-Picture Corporation of which Elsberry W. Reynolds, is publisher, is president, has worked constantly with a large staff of assistants. The exteriors have been taken in the Ozark mountains, and the interiors in California. The work has been long and arduous—no expense has been spared, no detail overlooked. All of the people engaged in this great work have had enough thrilling experiences to last them the rest of their natural lives. The actress engaged for the part of "Sammy Lane" is an expert horse woman. In this particular, Mr. Wright has very exact—there can be no tricks of the camera—no illusions. It was not easy to meet the author's requirements. The young woman finally selected was born in Arizona, practically raised in the saddle. In the picture the scenes of "Sammy's" wild night ride down the mountain side when he rides through the lightning and rain to save the good old Shepherd from the lawless Wash Gibbs gang, the spectator is shown, very clearly, why Mr. Wright emphasized to point that this actress must know how to ride horse back. This scene is one of the most thrilling ever seen upon the screen.

Madison Democrats Come Out By Hundreds To Hear Texan Speak For Black

A man who thinks the Democrats of old Madison are not aroused, and are taking little interest in the present campaign should have taken a peep into the court house Wednesday night when Congressman Rufus Hardy, of Texas, spoke in the interest of the Democratic ticket. Every seat was taken, the windows were all occupied, and the aisles crowded. It was a magnificent assemblage, and representative of the very best citizenship of the community. The Democrats of Madison are going to be on the job next Tuesday—there isn't a doubt of it. The appearance here next Monday of Senator Beckham and Will Shanks, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, will undoubtedly bring to town a bigger crowd than the court room can hold. Senator Beckham went to school at old Central University when a young man and Will Shanks is from Madison's neighbor county of Lincoln, his mother came from Madison and he married here, so that Madison feels an interest in him. Those who want seats on Monday afternoon, had better get in early. The speaking begins at half past one o'clock. Congressman Hardy's train was late, but the big crowd was well entertained and edified by a rattling speech by County Attorney O. P. Jackson, and another by Judge J. C. Chenault. Hardy was very hoarse, and it was some time before he got his voice in trim but when he did, he poured forth the old-fashioned democratic doctrine in a way that made the hearts of every democrat who heard him glad. He discussed principally national issues and the League of Nations, which he declared the greatest issue of the age, and in the determination of which the election in Kentucky will have a direct bearing for the reason that a smaller than normal Democratic majority will be construed as a repudiation of the covenant for which President Wilson, the leader of the Democratic party in the nation, stands. In conclusion he made an appeal for the election of the Democratic State ticket, on its own merits and as an indorsement of the policies for which President Wilson and the Democrats in Congress stand. He was introduced by Campaign Chairman J. P. Chenault.

Steamer Burns On River

The steamer Sea Lion which plies the Kentucky river to Valley View and other points above, was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday while en route to Frankfort with three barges of coal. The steamer was valued at $20,000, with $10,000 insurance. The United States snag boat Gregory, which was at lock No. 11 was rushed to the scene, but arrived too late to be of assistance to the members of the crew, all of whom escaped with out injury. The barges were cut loose from the steamer and saved.
