

ABOUT HALF OF COAL MINERS GO ON STRIKE

Workers Violate Injunction But Reports Are Not In Yet—Leaders Are Quiet.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 1—Upwards of 394,000 bituminous coal miners throughout the nation out of a total of 615,000 men in that industry, are on strike today in response to the general strike call effective last midnight.

According to reports in some instances, estimated receipts by union leaders of the exact strength of the walk-out probably will not be known until Monday.

The mine operators early today had not announced plans to continue mining, despite steps for protection of workers. Neither had they given out any estimate of the number of men on strike.

Miners' Leaders Seem To Be Obeying Injunction

Indianapolis, Nov. 1—From a scene of utmost activity in connection with the nation-wide soft coal strike, headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America have been transferred in the last 24 hours to a most lethargic lack of activity. However, this is not due to disinterest in the strike, but the result of the sweeping Federal Court restraining order issued yesterday. The miners' leaders at headquarters thus far apparently are obeying the restraining order to the letter declining to give out statements and even refusing to discuss plans. The Executive Board of the union wound up the last of its routine business this morning and the members started at once for their homes.

Many Miners Remain At Work In Kentucky

Louisville, Nov. 1—The Post today says reports from all Kentucky mines show practically all men obeyed the strike order except in Christian, Hopkins, Webster and McLean counties in the western end of the state, where the miners were ordered to remain at work under the anti-strike clause in their contracts, and in the Hazard section of Perry county.

West Virginia Miners Threaten Trouble Again

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 1—Four hundred miners left Cabin Creek in defiance of union orders, to march on Charleston today. Four hundred federal troops came in during the night from Huntington and are quartered in the armory here, preparatory to leaving for a permanent camp at Kanawha City.

Union leaders asserted all of the state's 42,500 soft coal miners joined the strike with one or two exceptions where the organized miners are working under contracts.

Now Up To The Miners

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 1—The miners must make the next move in the coal strike, was the opinion today of government officials. Meanwhile officials awaited reports as to the extent of the walk-out for upon this information rested the future course of the government. Should they show any considerable number of miners desire to return to work the government is prepared to protect them and if disorders occur, it is ready with all the police power at its command to put them down.

Reports giving an approximate number of men on strike were carefully scrutinized along with confidential advices from federal agents showing apparent willingness of large numbers to stay at work.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church will have prayer service every afternoon next week, beginning Monday. Hours 2 to 10.

MRS. CHENAULT HONORED BY D. A. R.

Mrs. C. D. Chenault, of Lexington, who is a member here, was nominated for the office of vice president general for Kentucky having no opposition. Her nomination must be acted upon by the national convention of the organization for confirmation.

Mrs. George Baker of Frankfort, was elected vice regent, succeeding Mrs. Chenault. Miss Anna Page of Ashland, was the opposing candidate for the vice regency.

For the position of recording secretary Mrs. William Rodes, of Lexington, was elected. She succeeds Mrs. Charles B. Nelson, of Winchester.

Miss Mary Moore Davis, of Covington, was elected corresponding secretary, and succeeds Mrs. William Cromwell, of Frankfort.

Miss Elizabeth Grimes, of Paris, and Mrs. George Ensminger, of Harrodsburg, were nominees for the office of treasurer to succeed Miss Nannie Lee Lewis, of Bardstown, and Miss Grimes was elected.

Mrs. Meredith Johnson, of Lexington, withdrew from the race for historian, and Mrs. John Herring, of Georgetown, was elected, succeeding Mrs. Andrew Sea, of Louisville.

The election of Miss Emily Morrow of Paducah, to be librarian, a newly created position, was uncontested, due to the withdrawal of Miss Caroline Knight, of Nicholasville.

The State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Lexington this week was notable in that it nominated for Vice President-general, a National office, a former resident of Richmond, and one who is greatly admired here, Mrs. Christopher D. Chenault—the address nominating Mrs. Chenault was made by Mrs. James W. Caperton, Regent of the Boonesborough Chapter. This was appropriate since Mrs. Chenault some twenty-three years ago in the parlors of her grand old home in Richmond drew about her the relatives and friends of her self and her husband and organized the Boonesborough Chapter and served as its regent for ten years. The Lexington Herald stated that Mrs. Caperton's address, nominating Mrs. Chenault was the most notable one of this conference. Mrs. J. G. Bosley as delegate from the chapter read the annual reports at the Wednesday evening session which was received in a most complimentary manner. Mrs. Bosley also cast the votes for the Chapter.

The delegates from the Boonesborough Chapter present at the Conference and at the beautiful luncheon given by the Lexington and Bryan Station Chapters on Thursday were—besides Mrs. Caperton and Mrs. Bosley—Mrs. E. Tutt Burnam, Mrs. M. C. Kellogg, Mrs. Homer Carpenter, Mrs. C. F. Chenault, Miss Anne V. DeJarnette, Miss Emma DeJarnette, Mrs. Jennings Greenleaf, Mrs. Charles Jett, Mrs. Charles Keith, Mrs. Mary Bates Miller, Mrs. James J. Neale, Mrs. George W. Phelps, Mrs. Shelton M. Sauley, Mrs. Mary Neale Thompson, Miss Mattie Tribble, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith.

Here, There, Everywhere

Tom Sudduh, bought the Judy farm on the Mt. Sterling pike in Clark county at $304 an acre.
Grover C. Anderson, sold his Montgomery county farm to J. R. Triplett, at $286.25 an acre. It contains 80 acres.

The 95-acre J. W. Stevenson farm, 5 miles from Lexington, was bought by Tyler Hampton of Jessamine county for $25,460.

The average man's religion is elastic enough to approve any activity that will get a profit without losing the respect of the neighbors. $810,607.

Another reason for high prices is that too many of us have Packard appetites and 4d incomes.

We may hope to discourage this growing indulgence in mob violence when coroners are no longer willing to stand for that convenient phrase "by parties unknown to the jury."

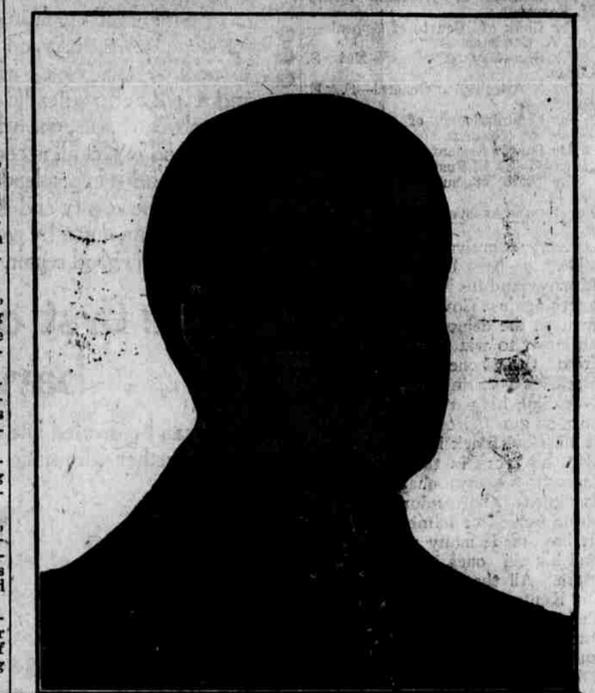

Men call d'Annunzio a patriot because he took Fiume. When an American citizen uses similar methods to annex a set of silver, to call him a thief.

No doubt, the old fashioned European statesman thinks of a republic in terms of rag-chewing.

A government by conference might do as well as any other if the conferees had any way to force their opinions on the public.

AUTOIST PLOWS THROUGH DROVE OF FAT HOGS

Sheriff Pete Whitlock tried mightily to find a machine with only one light on and with marks showing that it had run into and mangled a bunch of hogs which Eugene Todd was driving to town for shipment to market. Mr. Todd had men with lanterns out but the car smashed through his drove on the Lexington pike, killed two and crippled three porkers, and went on towards town without stopping. The Sheriff was notified but was unable to catch any car bearing the description of the one that caused Mr. Todd so much damage.

THE THIRD RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Board of Directors of the Madison County Chapter, American Red Cross, Mr. Neale Bennett, chairman, Mrs. W. H. Gridder vice chairman, met Friday at headquarters to perfect arrangements for the third membership drive which begins November 3d and continues for one week.

Mr. McCreary Simmons, one of five brothers who were in the service during the war, is the chairman of the drive.

A brief statement of the reasons for this drive seems to be in order.

While the War of Nations has come to an end, the war against sickness and poverty and need of every kind continues.

It is to provide soldiers and ammunition for this war that the drive of next week will be made.

The American Red Cross is the greatest organization for good except the Church of God, that the world has ever seen.

To know what it stood for during the four dreadful years of war you have only to ask any returned soldier or sailor.

It sent them letters, books, papers and boxes to cheer their lonely and homesick hearts. It fed them in German prison camps and there it clothed their freezing bodies. It carried them torn and bleeding from the battle field to shelter and warmth, to be nursed back to health and strength. And alas—it buried them and placed a marker over their graves in a far-off land.

The "after war work" program has for its object to combat, disease, poverty and crime; to teach sanitation; to build up the community health; to be ready for every emergency, local or otherwise when it arises. A work whose importance cannot be minimized.

The Madison county chapter has in its treasury a sum of which it wishes to hold for the needs of Madison county.

If we can hold our organization we can keep the money. If we let the organization lapse, it must be turned over to the National Society.

The memberships are for one year and all expire with this month. The money belongs to the Red Cross and if there is no Red Cross chapter in Madison county of course the county has no right to the money.

Last year we had about three thousand members. We should have as many this year.

You saw the wonderful procession on Friday of our future citizens, the school children of Madison county, but wards of the Red Cross. Any one of those children may some day need the help of the Red Cross.

Aside from these local considerations it should mean something to us to belong to a society to which the King and Queen of Belgium, of Italy, of England gladly pay homage, of which the President of the United States is the head; something to feel that we are sending helpers throughout the world to give food and comfort and nurses to the poor and wretched wherever they are.

We are not asking for sums of money. We are asking only to keep alive in this county which has made so splendid a record, this splendid force for good.

Pay your dollar and wear your button showing that you are a member for 1920.

Headquarters will be kept open all of next week. Don't wait to be asked but go up and join these.

Former Madison Man Dies In Jessamine

Funeral services were held Friday.

REPUBLICAN SIGNED ARMSTRONG WARRANT

Prominent Louisville G. O. P. Worker Endorsed Paper By Which State Paid For Cloth

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1—That Thomas F. Ryans, brother of Dr. Lewis Ryans, Republican nominee for the legislature in one of the city districts whose nomination was contested by a negro who proved that many votes were stolen from him in the Republican primary, endorsed the warrant for A. S. J. Armstrong in payment of the bill for cloth sold to the Houses of Reform at Greendale, developed as a result of the investigation set on foot by the Louisville Evening Post.

Ryans says he does not remember signing the warrant.

Governor Black gave out a statement in which he repeated his pledge to the people to remove any official who might be proven to be guilty of any improper action in connection with the case and said he would leave the investigation in the hands of the Attorney General. Some of the Governor's friends in Louisville regretted that he had dignified the lying misrepresentation of the Republicans by returning to Louisville to aid in the investigation. He will continue to fill the remainder of his speaking dates to the close of the campaign.

In a statement given out at Democratic headquarters it is shown that the action of Mat S. Cohen in refusing to permit the political workers of the Republican machine to get their hands on the State Fair books had been approved by the Board of Agriculture unanimously, four members of that Board being Republicans.
