

I. W. W. KILL FOUR LEGION MEMBERS

During Celebration of Armistice in Washington Town and I. W. W. Officer Is Hanged

Centralia, Washington, Nov. 12—State troops today patrolled this city where during the Armistice Day celebration yesterday four members of the American Legion were shot and killed and five others wounded by men said to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Britt Smith, secretary of the local I. W. W. was hanged by a mob. The reason for the attack is not fully developed. Citizens today planned to drive all radicals from the city.

There is no disorder here today. National guardsmen are guarding all approaches to the city and posted in the Main streets. Nineteen alleged I. W. W.'s are in jail.

Peace Council About Through

Paris, Nov. 12—The American delegation to the peace conference has informed the Supreme Council it will leave France early in December.

The British delegation also expressed the same desire and the general impression is the council will conclude its work by the end of this month.

To Limit Treaty Debate

Washington, Nov. 12—A movement to limit Senate debate on peace treaty by invoking a cloture rule, was inaugurated today. The necessary petition has been signed and presented and will be voted on Friday. Some republican leaders said they would support it.

We Know a Boy Who'd Like This

Vienna, Nov. 12—To economize in fuel and light the ministry of education has ordered that the public schools be limited to three hours sessions daily.

Negro Tobacco Hands Kill Montgomery Farmer

English S. Anderson, one of the most prominent farmers and land owners in Montgomery county, was murdered near his farm about 5 o'clock Monday. Two negro tenants, John P. Evans and his son Johnny, are accused of killing him.

The murder followed an altercation earlier in the afternoon caused by Anderson's remonstrance with the negroes against their smoking in his tobacco barn, where they were engaged in stripping.

His body with the skull crushed, was found at 6:30 o'clock in a dirt road near the tenant house occupied by the two negroes. Nearby was a damaged gun the instrument used in the killing.

The two negroes, who were arrested later by Sheriff Roberts, Deputy Jim Seabee, and Chief of Police J. C. Tipton confessed their guilt but their stories are incoherent. They were brought to Mt. Sterling and lodged in the county jail.

The body after being found by Henry Gaitskill and Dave Gaitskill. The skull was found crushed, the left arm broken and many bruises were found.

THE WEATHER

Fair and colder tonight and Thursday, with a cold wave.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS DON'T RETURN TO WORK

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 12—Deputy sheriffs acting on a governor's warrant today seized nine rifles and 1,000 rounds of ammunition at the express office in Dawes, a mining village in the Cabin Creek district of the Kanawha coal fields. The miners did not obey orders of their leaders and return to work today. Only four of 200 mines in the district are operating.

Operators Agree To Meeting

Washington, Nov. 12—Chairman Brewster, of the coal operators' scale committee, today announced that the mine owners have accepted Secretary Wilson's invitation to meet representatives of the miners here Friday to negotiate a wage agreement.

Miners To Make Same Demands

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 12—Their original demands for a 60 cent increase in wages, a six hour day, and a five-day week, will be presented to the operators by the mine workers in the joint scale conference called for Friday in Washington at the instance of Secretary of Labor Wilson, according to Frank Farrington, chairman of the miners' scale committee, who came here today en route to the national capital.

Asked whether the miners would obey the strike rescinding order, Farrington said "in my judgment they will not." He added, however, he spoke only for the Illinois district, of which he is President. He asserted the miners will insist that any new agreement be effective immediately and not next March as the operators formerly contended.

123 QUARTS OF BOOZE

Bootlegging and moonshining cases occupied the attention largely of Federal Court Wednesday. Jim Singleton, of Crab Orchard, Lincoln county, was convicted of bootlegging. Deputy Sheriff Bob Lewis told of a raid on Singleton's place and discovery of 123 quarts of whisky after the prohibition law had gone into effect. Singleton was defended by Attorney W. B. Hansford. Crab Orchard Judge Cochran will pass sentence on those convicted before adjournment of court.

R. B. and J. M. Nichols, of Danville, were over today on business in federal court.

F. F. Fitzpatrick, of Hubble, was here today to see about getting "his" negro off a bootlegging charge in federal court.

Mrs. Robert Lanter Dies

At College Hill
Mrs. Robert Lanter, of Henry county, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Woolsey, at Union City, having been in bad health for some time. She was 35 years old, and is survived by her husband and several children. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. T. Brookshire, of Charleston, West Virginia. Burial was at Union City. Friends here extend sympathy to the deeply bereft family.

Bolivar Bond & Sons and C. E. Buckley sold at auction for Dr. J. P. Holt and George Dunlap to F. A. Haydon, of Franklin county, 5 miles from Frankfort, for $246.27 an acre. Holt and Dunlap paid $200 for the farm a few months ago.

THANKSGIVING TURKEYS

We find it impracticable to name a price ahead that we will pay for turkeys, but the cars will certainly be in Richmond the 10th and 12th, as previously advertised and we expect to pay the top of the market.

EXTENSIVE PLANS TO ENFORCE DRY LAWS

Washington, Nov. 12—John W. Kramer, Attorney of Mansfield, Ohio, has been appointed Federal Prohibition Commissioner in direct charge of the enforcement of war time and constitutional prohibition. Kramer is a former member of the Ohio legislature. He will work under the bureau of internal revenue and have charge of the field force.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Roper today made public his plans for enforcement of prohibition. Kramer will have an executive field force of nine supervising federal prohibition agents and a prohibition director in each state. The supervising federal agents will have jurisdiction over nine territorial units into which the country has been divided. Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia are placed in what is known as the Southern unit. Roper asserted all state and county or city officers will be charged with full responsibility in enforcing the law. The federal agents will co-operate with them.

Combs May Enforce Dry Laws

It is understood at Lexington, after a conference between United States Senator A. O. Stanley and former State Senator Thomas A. Combs, that Senator Stanley will not oppose the appointment of Combs' brother, James H. Combs, as prohibition enforcement officer for Kentucky.

James H. Combs has been tipped for several days for the State dry enforcement law's chief officer. It is understood that Joust Shouse, a former Lexingtonian and now Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has been given the authority to name the new official. It was first hinted that Stanley and Beckham might stand on their prerogative to name a selection for the place and, while it is said Stanley will not object to Combs, Beckham's attitude is unknown here so far. James H. Combs is in Florida now.

Galvani Here Friday

Galvani, the noted hypnotist, who is probably known to as many if not more theatre goers than any other performer now before the public, has been engaged to fill an engagement at the Grand Opera House commencing Friday, November 14th. On Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, he will place a man in dreamland in the display window at Muncy Bros. Furniture Store to sleep until awakened Friday evening on the stage at the Opera House.

It will be remembered that Galvani is the man who gained much notoriety in this section, when he hypnotized Wm. M. O. Dawson who was at that time Governor of West Virginia.

Galvani has been before the public for 23 years, and is considered a wonder. He has directed that ladies be admitted absolutely free Friday night.

8th District A Bright Spot
Exactly three months after electing King Swope, Republican, to Congress, the Eighth district swung back into the Democratic column with a majority of nearly 600 for Gov. Black, despite the Republican landslide in the rest of the State. This is regarded as a fine showing under the circumstances and to assure the election to Congress of a Democratic Congressman next year, meanwhile several aspirants are being groomed for the nomination, says the Louisville Times.

Among those spoken of in connection with the Eighth district congressional nomination, Lieut. Col. Frank L. Ripy, of Lawrenceburg, is regarded as the most likely starter on the Democratic side. While in Louisville the other day he stated that he was carefully considering the matter, and had been assured of strong support in the event he made the race. He had intended becoming a candidate for the vacant seat but was not discharged from the military service in time. As a soldier candidate, Col. Ripy would have the advantage of Capt. Swope, as he has his service on the Mexican border, he was on the fighting lines in France.

Governor-elect Morrow has accepted the invitation of Dr. W. A. Ganfield to be present at the State-Centre football game at Danville next Saturday.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER IN SENATE DEAD

Charlottesville, Virginia, Nov. 12—Senator Thomas C. Martin, Democratic leader in the Senate, died here today, after an extended illness. He was 72.

Thomas Staples Martin, United States Senator from Virginia, until his election in 1894 had been a railroad attorney from a small town, who had never sought a public office. When it was found that the State legislature had chosen him in preference to one of Virginia's most popular and able citizens, the Major General Fitzhugh Lee, there was a storm of protest among the Democrats of the "Old Dominion."

Martin braved the opposition, however, and on March 4, 1895 took his seat. His ability was soon discovered and from the date of his advent into national politics he served continuously in the Senate, rising to the floor leadership of his party and chairmanship of the important Appropriations Committee. He served in that capacity during the war Congress, where he was regarded as one of the leading figures in the Senate. Senator Martin's father, John Samuel Martin, and his mother, Martha Ann Staples, were descendants of the early settlers of the Colony of Virginia. His father was a merchant and manufacturer of Scottsville, Albemarle county, Va., where on July 29, 1847, young Martin was born.

After a primary education in the Scottsville school, Martin entered the Virginia Military Institute in March, 1864. When the cadet battalion of the Institute was mustered into the Confederate Army for the battle of New Market, Cadet Martin was ill in a hospital and missed the encounter, but upon his recovery he rejoined his battalion and served until the end of the war.

In October, 1865, he entered the academic school of the University of Virginia, but after two years he was forced to leave college by the death of his father and assume the responsibilities of a large family.

His interest in politics was aroused by his association with John S. Barbour, chairman of the State general committee of the Democratic party, who made him a member of the committee. At that time the Democratic party was threatened with disruption over the question of the State debt to the Federal government, and a "Readjuster Faction," headed by General Mahone and including negroes, sprang up. Senator Martin came into the political limelight of the state by meeting the challenge of the new organization, and under his leadership it was overthrown and the Democratic party predominated.

In 1898 he was persuaded by his associates to enter the senatorial race and after a bitter fight, was elected by the Assembly over General Lee. For re-election in 1901 Senator Martin defeated Governor T. Hoge Tyler, another strong opponent. In 1904 the Democratic organization adopted the "primary plan" for election of governor and senators. This developed an eloquent and popular opponent in Governor A. J. Montague and even Senator Martin's friends were doubtful of the outcome as his ability as a debater and public speaker were unknown. Senator Martin "stumped" the state and achieved his third victory.

On October 10, 1894, he married Lucy Chambliss Day, daughter of Colonel C. Fenton Day, of Smithfield, Va. Two children were born to them.

Mrs. O. O. Green Undergoes Tonsilectomy Operation

Mrs. O. Olin Green, who has been at Hot Springs for the past week for rheumatic treatment, submitted to a tonsilectomy operation Monday as stated in a telegram sent Dr. Green by his brother, in whose home Mrs. Green is visiting. Her numerous friends here hope that she will rapidly regain her health and be able to return home soon.

OLDHAM URGED FOR CONGRESS IN 7TH

A Frankfort correspondent says that if Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, of Georgetown makes the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator next year, Mat Cohen, Commissioner of Agriculture, will make the race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the seventh district. Reports have also been heard that in the event Cantrill tries for the senate, that Col. Ronald C. Oldham, of Winchester, might try for the congressional nomination. Col. Oldham made a close finish in the race for lieutenant governor and is already well known over the seventh district. It is understood that many friends are urging him to let it known over the seventh district above mentioned, that he would be a candidate.
