

WORK STARTS WHEN MONEY IS PAID IN

Federal Highway Construction to Be Pushed By State Road Department

Work on building the Federal Highway from here to Lancaster and on westward will begin just as soon as all private subscriptions have been paid in and certified to the State Road Department at Frankfort.

This was announced at the meeting of road boosters from seven of the counties concerned, held at Danville late last week. In Madison none of the money raised by private subscription or otherwise is to be handled by the Fiscal Court or the County Road Department. The State Bank and Trust Company has been appointed depository for the fund. It will certify all amounts received directly to the State Road Department, which will apportion the half of the cost of construction to be paid by the Federal government and the state, just as soon as the private subscriptions are in and just as quick as they are paid in, the work will start. This will be good news to everyone who is interested in seeing this model highway constructed this year if possible, or at least, work started in vigorous fashion.

A sort of Highway Association was organized at the meeting in Danville. Its purpose will be to push matters and see to it that no one "goes to sleep on the job" at any time. The members from Madison county are Messrs. M. C. Covington, W. K. Price and J. G. Baxter. Three men were named from each county along the route. Joseph E. Robinson, of Garrard, was appointed chairman of the association. Those from Madison who attended the meeting at Danville were Judge W. K. Price, County Engineer J. G. Baxter, County Attorney O. P. Jackson, Messrs. Speed Taylor and Phil Moynahan.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

The most remarkable suit to be heard in the Laurel county court in the recollection of officials was an action for $6 damages filed against a young man of Lily for the wrecking of a rocking chair in which he and the daughter of the house attempted to sit at the same time. The father brought the suit, employing three lawyers, and he recovered the amount sued for in the court of Squire Miller. This finding was reversed at the hearing before Judge Luker. The paramount issue was how strong should a rocking chair be, and the court held this one had not been strong enough.

ELMER PARK WANTED TO WORK IN OHIO

Elmer Park, who went off with an employment agent to work in a factory at Springfield, Ohio, and didn't tell his foster mother, Mrs. Bettie Park where he was going, caused her and local officials a lot of trouble Monday. The man who had young Park and 27 other youths in tow, was caught at Cincinnati when Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush phoned to officers there. Park was put on the night train and returned home. He is large for his age of 14 years, and this may have deceived the immigration agent into thinking he had a right to employ him. Of the 27 youths who went with him 25 were colored and the other two white boys.

Strike Conditions Some Better

Chicago, April 13—The main strength of the striking railroad workers today was exerted east of Pittsburg and the Pacific Northwest. Conditions in the rest of the country, Railroad Brotherhood leaders and railway officials said, are pointing to a return to normal. Around New York passenger service was hard hit when three divisions of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company shut down and more firemen quit on the Long Island railroad, all to the inconvenience of 10,000 additional commuters, with the aid of citizens, who helped to man trains, are increasing the amount of food moved into the city.

However, in Chicago conditions are sufficiently improved to permit lifting of several railroad embargoes.

MANY FROM HERE GO TO "DIVINE HEALER"

Several car loads of folks from this city and county have been going to Lexington to attend the missions held by James Moore Hickson, the "divine healer" at Christ Church Cathedral. A number of afflicted from this section have gone over in hopes that his intercession and prayer at the Throne may be an instrument in restoring them to complete health or else improve their condition. Several remarkable cures are reported as having been obtained, some of those affected being well known or related here.

The first healing mission was held by Dr. Hickson Monday. The church was crowded. The Lexington leader said that there was nothing spectacular to be seen or heard. If one expected to be borne in helpless and to leave the sanctuary whole, they would have been disappointed. Before opening his ministrations, Dr. Hickson said:

"This is your mission not mine. To Christ and to Him alone, you come. Don't be discouraged. Instantaneous cures do happen, but as we are fit to receive we may expect to receive. Conversion is gradual. It is natural to expect gradual healing. We dare put no limitations on God, but it is proper we regard our limitations to receive. The issue is in the hands of God—source of all healing. "God is here. You will not go away empty. Our souls as much as our bodies may need healing. Barriers to communion with Him must be removed before we can feel His healing. "Look to Him alone," he said. "The attitude in which you approach God must control what you get out of this mission—your faith, your selfishness, your sympathy. "I bring nothing new. Divine healing is as old as Christianity. Christ gave the divine commands—Preach the gospel—heal the sick. He asks obedience not opinions. There is nothing dramatic in what Dr. Hickson says or does. There is little appealing to the curious there before the altar. After those whose infirmities and decay were too great for them to leave chairs had been visited, row succeeded row kneeling along the chancel rail. The intercessor laid his hands on the head of each one, varying in verbiage always was the plea in substance "May God's love heal."

S. S. SUPERINTENDENTS CALLED TO MEET

Will Make Plans For Record Attendance At All Churches On May 2nd

John Howard Payne, of the county Sunday School Association, has called a meeting of all the superintendents of Sunday Schools in Madison county for Friday afternoon, April 16th at one o'clock at the First Christian church in Richmond. The purpose of the meeting is to organize the county into districts, arrange for the district conventions and especially to organize the work for the go-to-Sunday-school campaign.

Sunday, May 2nd is go-to-Sunday-school day. The collections in all Sunday schools on that day is supposed to go toward the state work. Madison county's quota is $200. Last year Madison only paid one third of its quota. It is hoped this year that the county will go over the top. The number in Sunday school in the county on Sunday, May 2nd is expected to be larger than ever before.

The county superintendents are requested to regard this article as a notification to attend the very important business meeting at the First Christian church Friday.

The meeting at the First Christian church at 2 o'clock in connection with the Interchurch World Movement will be the means of bringing many superintendents to town. They are asked to come one hour earlier to attend the Sunday school meeting.

Business is at a standstill in west and south Ireland, however.

When informed at the jail that the prisoners are very weak, the Lord Mayor telegraphed the Chief Secretary for Ireland asking him to intervene and asserting, "I fear a dreadful tragedy is impending."

Hert, national committeeman from Kentucky, who is attending a meeting of the G. O. P. leaders here which has the chairmanship matter under consideration. He was also looking for some coal for his patrons, as he is having a hard time locating any of that necessary commodity. He "ran into" Prewitt Willoughby, who probably took care of him.

MADISON SEEMS STRONG FOR COX

Little Sentiment Apparent Here For Any Other Candidate For Democracy In Nation

Judge H. C. Rice got a telegram to go to Louisville this afternoon to attend a meeting of democrats who are in favor of the nomination of Gov. Cox of Ohio for the presidency at headquarters established there by former Senator Johnson N. Camden of Woodford county. On account of the illness of Mrs. Rice, he was unable to attend. The telegram to Judge Rice was sent by Senator Charles M. Harris, of Versailles. Although Judge Rice was not able to attend the meeting, it is understood that he notified the Cox headquarters that Cox sentiment in Madison county is largely in the ascendency. In fact, there seems to be little sentiment for any of the other men mentioned as prospective democratic candidates outside of Hoover and it is generally conceded that he has wholly eliminated himself from consideration by democrats by his statement that he desires the republican nomination and not honors from the democratic party. It seems to be probable that a strong sentiment is going to develop in Kentucky for a delegation to the San Francisco convention instructed for Cox, although some strong elements of the party are urging for an uninstructed delegation. Many democrats undoubtedly believe that Gov. Cox is the only democrat who has any possible chance to win this year and his friends believe that he is a sure winner if he is nominated.

Lining Up Strong For Cox

Lexington, Ky., April 13—Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill who is working in Kentucky in behalf of the candidacy of Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, for the democratic nomination for Louisville to have a conference with Col. P. H. Calahan, Chairman of the Democratic Advisory Committee.

John Skain, former mayor of Lexington, who is a close friend of General Percy Haly, and an ardent supporter of Senator J. C. W. Beckham, declared himself to be in favor of instructing the Kentucky delegation to San Francisco for Gov. Cox.

Former State Senator Thos. Combs is another influential democrat who favors an instructed delegation for Gov. Cox.

Monte Fox, of Danville, who was here Monday, says he has talked with hundreds of farmers throughout Central Kentucky, and that they are practically a unit in advocating the nomination of Gov. Cox on the democratic ticket.

Charles C. McDonald and James R. Magowan, two Montgomery county leaders, declared their preference for Governor Cox.

Robert Friend, of Estill county, who has been identified with the "dry wing" of the Kentucky democracy, is for Cox, and he is one of several who is being spoken of as likely to be selected as delegate from the Seventh district to the National Convention. Senator Charles M. Harris, of Woodford county, and former Congressman June Gayle, of Owen county, are others who aspire to be delegates.

Desha Breckinridge, editor of a Lexington newspaper, aspires to be one of the four delegates from the state-at-large. He says "Hoover and Cox are the only men in the United States who should be considered as possibilities for the presidency."
