

COX REFUSES "TAINTED" MONEY

In His Campaign For Presidency—Huge Sums Being Spent By G. O. P. Candidates

(By Associated Press) Washington, May 25—Walter Vick, manager of the presidential campaign of Governor Edwards, of New Jersey, denied before the Senate investigating committee today, that any liquor interests were "under writing" the Governor's campaign. Vick said the total sum raised for Edwards was $12,900. He asserted the Edwards campaign is "not a wet campaign in any sense of the word, and that he is running solely on the platform of his personal convictions." He declared the liquor interests had not undertaken to finance the campaign.

John F. Lucy, manager for Herbert Hoover, told the committee $66,332 were Hoover's campaign expenses for the republican nomination, exclusive of the California primary expense, he said, the total receipts were $62,185.

J. W. Bullock, Senator Owen's campaign manager, told the committee that approximately $10,000 were raised for the Owens' campaign. Samuel Untermyer of New York, gave $1,000. He was the largest contributor.

Disclosures of finances, interwoven with the candidacies, came fast and furious, with the following high spots in the day of confession of the campaign managers:

1. Frank Harris Hitchcock, former Postmaster General and "generalissimo" of Major General Leonard Wood's forces, said to be supported by a committee of multimillionaires, "dodged" the production of actual figures on Wood expenditures, which, he admitted, were "too extensive."

2. Gov. Frank O. Lwiden's manager, L. L. Emmerson, of Illinois, Secretary of State, "confessed" the use of $104,000 in their part of the republican contest, $38,000 going into Missouri alone for the capture of 36 delegates named by the state convention.

3. Senator Miles Poindexter, of Washington, republican, admitted having collected $75,000 from shipyard owners and New York bankers, to finance his fight for the republican nomination, $50,000 being spent for publicity.

4. Senator Hiram W. Johnson, of California, was shown to have spent near $72,000 in addition to what California friends spent in his behalf.

5. Edmund H. Moore, national committeeman and manager for Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, democrat, reported country-wide expenditures of but $22,000, and challenged the republicans to look into the Wood fund in the Ohio primaries, which, he said, would "make the Newberry extravagance in Michigan look like 'piker' play."

"We have no pledges on cabinet positions nor anything else," testified Mr. Moore. "We say that if our candidate is elected he will be a democratic President, that is all."

"What about the republican expenditures in the Ohio primary election?" asked Senator Wm. S. Kenyon, of Iowa, chairman of the subcommittee.

"I have been in politics for almost forty years," Mr. Moore replied, "and if I know a chicken hawk from a hand saw, there was more money expended by the republicans in the pre-primary election campaign in Ohio than I ever saw used in any general election," he replied.

When asked whether or not he could name some persons involved in the use of the money he said he knew 20 from whom the committee could learn much. He said that it constituted a "public scandal."

"Can you tell us who is treasurer of the Wood campaign?" asked Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, democrat.

"I know who the angel was," he answered. "William Cooper Proctor, of Cincinnati."

With reference to the Cox candidacy, Mr. Moore submitted figures showing approximately $22,000 had been subscribed to finance the pre-convention presidential campaign of the Ohio governor. Of this amount, $19,600, including a contribution of $2,500 from Governor Cox, was obtained from personal friends of the governor and $3,000 was pledged ed in Kentucky. A list of contributors mainly from Ohio, with contributions ranging from $200 to $2,500, also was submitted by Mr. Moore.

The witness testified that between $8,000 and $10,000 had been spent in building up an organization in Kentucky, while the aggregate of all other expenditures, principally for publicity, was in the neighborhood of $7,500 leaving a surplus of approximately $2,500. "Unfortunately," he said, "there were no 'eminent reformers' eager to contribute to the Cox campaign, and we did not care for any tainted money."

SECOND JUMP IN COAL PRICE HINTED

The second increase in coal prices is expected at any time. The unofficial report from the Hazard fields shows the mines operated only two days during the last week, a falling off in car supply from the previous seven days of approximately ten per cent or only 35 per cent of the number needed being furnished by the railroad. Coal prices are due for another jump, in the opinion of several local operators and dealers. The big manufacturers have again run short and are offering premiums that are boosting price of run of mine coal to $7.50 and $8 a ton. Under these conditions an increase from $1 to $1.50 is predicted in retail prices.

BRYAN TAKES ISSIE WITH PRESIDENT

(By Associated Press) Washington, May 25—Wm. J. Bryan took issue today with President Wilson on the question of American mandate over Armenia. Declaring in his statement "any mandate would be impossible." The United States, Mr. Bryan said, could do more to ward making the world safe for democracy, "even for democracy in Armenia," by recognizing the League of Nations as the friend of all the little countries.

He said that any mandate over Armenia would involve us in an enormous expenditure at a time when war taxation is still a grievous burden, and would involve us in the politics of Europe and compel us to deal with implacable race hatreds. It would involve us in a fierce commercial rivalry with the big nations and, worst of all, compel us to surrender the vital principle of democracy, namely, that all people are capable of self-government.

T. K. LISLE DIES AT MISSOURI HOME

Passing Of Former Resident And Well Known Madison County Citizen

The death of T. K. Lisle, a former resident of Richmond and Madison county at Butler, Mo., is announced from the west, the following accurate and detailed facts concerning his early life appearing in the Butler, Mo., Daily Times: T. K. Lisle, one of Butler's best known and highly respected citizens, died at his home in the north part of town Tuesday morning, May 4, after a long illness of a complication of diseases.

Theodore K. Lisle was born in Madison county, Kentucky, July 13, 1842. He grew to manhood in that county, where November 2, 1875, he was united in marriage to Miss Nannie Harris, who survives him. To this union were born five children, three of whom are still living. They are: H. C. Lisle, Richard Lisle and Mrs. C. H. Letton, all of this city. In the fall of 1879 they came to Missouri and located on a farm in Summit township where he engaged in farming and live stock dealing until 1885, when they removed to this city where they have since made their home.

T. K. Lisle was of that type, now fast passing away, the old time southern gentleman. Chivalrous and hospitable, no stranger was turned from his doors empty handed. He was strong in his beliefs and convictions and possessed the courage to at all times express and stand by those convictions. More than a half century ago he was made a Mason at Richmond, Kentucky, and soon after he was made Master of that lodge. In political belief he was a Democrat and was always active in the councils of his party, serving at one time as chairman of the Bates county Democratic committee. In 1902 he was elected recorder of deeds and made an enviable record in that office for the next four years. At the expiration of his term of office he retired from active business life and has enjoyed a well earned rest after an active and useful life of many years.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. J. Baxter Clyde, were held at the home Wednesday afternoon. The services at Oak Hill cemetery were in charge of the Masons, of which order he was for many years an honored member.

SCORES SUMMONED BEFORE GRAND JURY

There was one of the largest array of witnesses for some time in Richmond and many are said to be breathing easy, since they are here at the request of the sheriff, having been summoned before the grand jury. The session began Tuesday morning and it is not known when the work will be closed, since there were more than 50 witnesses called from Berea and vicinity alone.

There are a number from the city of Richmond and immediate vicinity who have been called upon to give testimony as well as other parts of the county and the hearing is to be the most extensive recorded for some time. There are men and women, both white and colored, some asserting that they "have no idea" what the grand jurors intend quizzing them about.

There have been many trains of this character pass thru recently however this is the most extensive one in evidence. One of the drivers said he had been making trips out of Detroit with new machines for more than three months, and that this was now recognized as the "only sure" way of delivering cars. When nights will permit of it, he said that many of the drivers stayed at their posts until a late hour, and were up early and going the next morning. Hundreds of young men are employed in delivering machines throughout the country, from the factories, he commented.

WEST VIRGINIA PRIMARY TODAY

Double Election Law In Evidence and Returns Will Be Expected Soon

(By Associated Press) Charleston, W. Va., May 25—Names of four candidates for President and complete state and county tickets were presented to West Virginia voters when they went to the polls today for the state-wide primary. The election was conducted under the double election law, and it was expected that results would be known soon after the polls closed, except in those mountain counties with which communication is difficult.

The presidential candidates on the ticket were all in the Republican column. They were, Louis Adam Baird, of Parkersburg, W. Va., United States Senator Howard Sutherland, of Elkins, W. Va.; William Grant Webster, of New York, and Major Leonard Wood. No candidates were listed on the Democratic ticket, but it was expected that many Democrats would indicate their preference by writing in the names of their favorites.

All candidates for delegates to the National conventions are required under the law to say whether they will support the popular choice of the primary election. Of the 25 candidates for delegate-at-large all but one have declared they will obey the mandate of the voters of his party. Nineteen candidates for delegate-at-large are Republicans.

Three Republicans are seeking the nomination for governor—Fred Grosscup, of Charleston, Ephraim F. Morgan, of Fairmont, and Samuel B. Montgomery, of Kingwood. The Democratic candidates are Arthur B. Kooz and Adam B. Littlepage, both of Charleston.

KENTUCKY BREAKING MOONSHINE RECORDS

Washington, May 25—More moonshine whisky is being made in Kentucky since the advent of national prohibition than ever before in history, according to letters received here and turned over to prohibition enforcement officers, it was learned today.

Most of the information concerning illicit stills in Kentucky comes from mountainous sections of the eastern part of the state.

Greater demand for the moonshiner's product since the clamping down of the prohibition lid is given as the cause of the increased business being done by the illegal stills. Information received here is to the effect that white liquor is being sent by many ingenious devices to adjoining states. Officials of the enforcement division of the Internal Revenue Bureau, are planning to cope with the situation in Eastern Kentucky.

The Court of Appeals in an opinion by Chief Justice Carroll yesterday affirmed the judgment of the Knox circuit court, to which Middleton's case was taken on a change of venue. Middleton and other policemen were armed, searching for bootleggers, when they saw a man running with a pistol in his hand.
