FOR COUNTY JAILER:

An Independent Newspaper
 The New York Evening Post, New York's most independent newspaper, has come out for Cox and Roosevelt. It offers a reason for its action that should appeal to every independent voter. It says:

"The paramount issue in the presidential campaign is the 'treaty of peace and the League of Nations with safeguarding reservations. Shall the United States keep faith with her partners in the war? Shall America join with them in the only honorable and effective way of making peace with Germany? Shall America enter heart and soul upon the work of maintaining the peace of the world as she did upon the task of winning the war?"

"To these questions Governor Cox has answered 'yes' and Senator Harding has answered 'no.'"

"If the Evening Post, during the week that has elapsed since Governor Cox's speech of acceptance, has held in abeyance its declaration of choice between the two candidates, the reason was not that we were in doubt concerning Governor Cox's affirmative stand on the treaty and league. We waited to see whether or not Senator Harding would hold fast to his policy of negotiation."

"Senator Harding has maintained his 'no' to the question of America's honor, duty and ultimate best interests. The issue is thus joined closely."

"The Evening Post, believing that it speaks for a great mass of independent American citizenship, pledges its hearty support to the democratic nominees, in whom it sees embodied the highest aims and ideals of the American citizens."

INVESTIGATION ON IN CALDWELL CASE

Since his return to Mt. Sterling the man giving his name as R. C. Westfall, arrested in Richmond where he was arrested after some peculiar transactions in Mt. Sterling, has been making some very conflicting statements and the police there, as well as those in Richmond, believe they have a very shrewd and experienced criminal to deal with. After having bought a drove of cattle in the vicinity of Mt. Sterling, for which he presented what is said to be a "cold" check for more than $5,000 in a bank there he disposed of some of the cattle to Eldridge Wagers, of Richmond; then proceeded to this city, presumably to secure cash on the check, when apprehended. He had not turned over any real money and it developed that he had no money in the bank at Portsmouth, Ohio, upon which the check tendered at Mt. Sterling had been cashed. He is awaiting a hearing pending further investigation of the case, which is now being made.

WALTER WILLIAMS CLEVER CRIMINAL

There are new checks, alleged to be of the bogus variety, turning up with the name of William Burnside and others attached to them, and the police are continuing the investigation of Walter Williams, the colored man who has been sailing here under a number of aliases and who has managed to secure considerable money, police say, through the passing of the checks while posing as a laborer. It is the belief of the authorities here that they are dealing with one of the cleverest colored criminals turned up in this part of the state for some time. Williams is said to possess a good education. However, this is not in evidence when "working" his checks, for he does very ordinary working clothes and, usually carrying a basket, visits a grocery or clothing store and after buying a quantity of goods tenders the checks, receiving the merchandise and the remainder in cash. He is said to have given a quantity of clothing to other colored men after having purchased it at local stores in order to realize cash on the checks. He has made no statement since his incarceration.

EXPOSITION NEXT WEEK

Preparation for the visit of Miller Brothers' circus exposition in Richmond next week were made at meeting Tuesday night of the officers and many members of the American Legion, under whose auspices the entertainments will be given. The Elmer Deatherage lot on Second street, just at the edge of the city limits, has been leased for the occasion. The entertainments are said to be among the foremost visiting this section of the country for some time. The various committees appointed to look after the business of bringing the exposition here were named, and many young men connected with the legion will be on duty Monday morning—the date of the opening. Special officers have been secured and will patrol the grounds. There will be a list of 12 shows, together with three riding devices, and the performers come well recommended. There will be two bands with the aggregation of performers, and there will be no lack of music.

Wins Distinction By Its Better Qualities

The Cleveland Six has won a place of distinction among light cars because of its better qualities. Designed for every-day service on every kind of roadway, it is sturdily built for endurance. It seeks no glory in speed contests, but earns praise for its performance in doing well all that its thousands of owners expect of a good car.

The exclusive Cleveland Six motor, of the overhead valve type, quiet and responsive in an unusual degree, is alive with power. Power sufficient to give all the speed that any thoughtful driver would ever want to use and to take the loaded car on high up long climbing roadways.

Bodies of dignity and beauty are mounted on the Cleveland chassis. All are splendidly finished and upholstered.

Come see the Cleveland. Ride in it. Drive it. Then you will know.
