

BEFORE BRAKFAST SPEECHES BY COX

Addresses Crowds At Toledo and Other Cities On Start of His Swing Around Circle

(By Associated Press) En Route With Governor Cox, Sept. 3.—The "western swing" of Governor Cox opened today with before-breakfast rear-platform addresses to a railroad station crowd at Toledo, while Cox was en route to Michigan.

Concerning the labor issue he asserted the republicans are receiving contributions from persons who would substitute the bayonet for the Golden Rule under a reactionary national administration.

G. O. P. TO POUR MONEY INTO KENTUCKY

Chicago, Sept. 3.—H. G. Garrett, of Winchester, Ky., chairman of the Kentucky Ways and Means committee of the National committee, has been subpoenaed to appear before the senate committee, it became known here late last night.

Senator Miles C. Poindexter, chairman of the Republican National Senatorial Campaign committee, yesterday testified before the Kenyon senate investigating committee that Kentucky was regarded as one of the battle grounds in the fall campaign, and that the efforts of his committee would be directed toward the success of the republican program in that state.

The four days of investigation here have shown in regard to the Kentucky campaign the following facts: First—That the National committee has received in contributions from the state $13,000.

Second—That the senatorial committee will contribute to the state fight at least $9,000.

Third—That the National Young Men's Republican League will contribute $5,000.

Fourth—That three other organizations are at work in the state endeavoring to collect funds for the G. O. P. program.

Fifth—That all of the above sources are merely arms of national organizations supplementing the main local campaign drives from which the bulk of receipts must come, especially in the case of state contests.

Sixth—That the figures cited are the minimums given under sworn testimony which admitted the possibility of greater amounts in every case.

SUPREME COURT ON EMPLOYER'S RIGHTS

(By Associated Press) Washington, Sept. 3.—Justice Sissons, in the District of Columbia Supreme Court today in effect held that employers had a right to dismiss employees, who joined a labor union. The right of labor was an individual right, the Court held, and carried with it the right not to work, adding also the Supreme Court upheld the right of employers to "impose conditions upon those who seek employment."

Bond Vote In Letcher Whitesburg, Ky., Sept. 3.—An election in Letcher county has been called to vote on a $400,000 bond issue for good roads. Public sentiment seems to be overwhelmingly in favor of the bond issue. With federal and state aid nearly $1,000,000 would then be available for highways in this county.

JUDGE HUNT DEAD

(By Associated Press) Lexington, Ky., Sept. 3.—Judge Joseph D. Hunt, 82 years old, nestor of the Fayette county Bar and former Circuit Court Judge of this district, and one of the most prominent lawyers in Central Kentucky, died at his home here today after an illness of six weeks.

ALGORN WAIVES PRELIMINARY HEARING

Wife Refused To Recognize Him In Court Room and Sticks To Her Wounded Brother

Thomas Algorn, of near Big Hill, who is charged with shooting his brother-in-law, Mount Pursivall, with murderous intent, who was to have had his examining trial Friday morning in county court, waived preliminary examination, and the case will be heard together with the list already made up for the October term of court.

Pursivall, who has been in the P. A. C. hospital for some time, was able to be out and made his way to the court room, as did a large number of other witnesses, summoned for the hearing. The latter were greatly surprised at the turn of affairs and bewailed their luck of losing a day's work in coming to Richmond, then being sent home without giving testimony.

Pursivall, who is but a boy, presents a pitiable appearance, and evinces almost constant pain as a result of the effects of the shot which penetrated his shoulder and left arm. He claims he was shot by Algorn while passing the latter's house and denies much of the story as related by Algorn some time ago. Pursivall claims his sister, Algorn's wife, will have nothing to do with her husband, alleging he treated her in an unmerciful manner. The young woman would not recognize her husband nor converse with him in the court room. It is said she will be one of the main witnesses against her husband when the trial is at hand. Young Pursivall states he has been making his home near Big Hill with a relative and presumed his brother-in-law blamed him for their marital troubles. The lad is minus his right foot as a result of a reaper accident several years ago, and with his left arm and hand practically useless his physical strength is said to be lacking. He returned to the hospital, where he has been for some time, and will doubtless remain there until the October trial. There were many shot taken from his arm while at the Berea hospital, but additional operations are necessary, it is said, and these will in all probability be performed by Dr. O. F. Hume.

Harding Tells How To Shut Out The Profiteer

(By Associated Press) Marion, O., Sept. 3.—Co-operative farmers associations for the distribution of farm products are advocated by Senator Harding in a speech today, as a necessity in reducing food prices. "Unless the producers and consumers organize and get together," he said, "organized profiteering will squeeze in between."

Gerard Is Chairman

(By Associated Press) New York, Sept. 3.—James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, accepted the chairmanship of the finance committee of the Democratic National Committee, it was announced at Democratic National headquarters here today. Gerard will have general supervision of the collection of Democratic campaign funds.

That Terrible Backache

from which so many women suffer is significant of organic trouble. It tells, with other symptoms, such as headaches, nervousness, and depression, that nature requires assistance. For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a simple remedy made from roots and herbs, has been the one effective remedy in such cases. It speedily removes the cause and restores the system to a healthy, normal condition.

COAL SELLS AT $4 IN NEIGHBOR COUNTY

Completion of Pike From Madison Into Jackson Would Prove Boon To Both Communities

Although Richmond coal consumers are paying around $15 a ton for coal, in an adjoining county—Jackson—coal is being delivered to wagons at $4 per ton. What possibilities lie in the completion of the proposed pike over Big Hill and into Jackson county. A Daily Register reporter at McKee this week on business was told that Jackson county people are deeply anxious for the building of this road. They have voted their $250,000 in road bonds some time ago, and have loaned this sum to the state with the assurance from State Commissioner of Roads Joe S. Boggs that the highway from Richmond thru to McKee will be one of the early state highway projects to be built through. From a Madison county standpoint, the pretty thing about it is that Madison need build only about two miles of real pike to connect with the Jackson county road. The construction of this pike and opportunity to haul coal into Madison from the many producing mines of Jackson, would very quickly save the taxpayers of Madison in cost of coal alone far more than the pike would cost to build and maintain.

In addition to the possibility of buying coal at something like former normal prices, the incentive to increase business with Madison's neighbor county would be tremendous. As it is now thousands of head of stock are driven through from Jackson, Clay and even counties farther back in the mountains, to Richmond court day sales. With a good pike available, Richmond and Madison county would easily become the natural outlet for the rich territory which lies in the hinterland.

Madison should let no opportunity escape to secure the construction of that road as quickly as possible. There are several hundred citizens of Jackson already in Madison, and all feel kindly toward the county of their adoption. Others back home are sending their children to Madison schools, at Berea or the Eastern Normal. Young Mr. Llewellyn, son of Attorney Llewellyn, one of the most prominent and able lawyers at any mountain bar, was in Richmond Thursday making arrangements to send his sister to the Normal.

Alleged Slayer Who Made Escape, Gives Up

Word was received from the sheriff of Estill county by Sheriff Waller Rodes, of Lexington, that John Embury, alleged slayer of Luther Young, who escaped from the St. Joseph Hospital Tuesday morning while his special guard, Newton Stout, slept, had given himself up to Estill county officials. No details were included in the communication.

COURT DAY MONDAY

Regular session of county court will be held Monday at the usual time, County Judge W. K. Price announcing there would be a goodly number of cases to be heard. There are a few left over from the last session to be given consideration.

In City Police Court

Friday night in city police court promises to be devoid of sensational features, since the grist of misdemeanors is small and uninteresting thus far. Indications are that the session will be short since the past week has not been productive of the development of much wrong doing, according to the police court docket.

MRS. JOE BENDER LOSES HER FATHER

Mrs. Joseph Bender is in Winchester, where she was called by the death of her father, Mr. W. E. Singleton, a prominent contractor of that place. Mr. Singleton died Wednesday night after a very brief illness. He was seized with a fit of coughing and died soon after a physician arrived. He was the senior member of the firm of Singleton and Sons, and is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. T. E. Warnoey, of Detroit, Mich.; Fred Singleton, Akron, O.; Edgar Singleton, Youngstown, O.; Mrs. Joe Bender, Richmond, Ky.; Mrs. Marietta Lyman, Percy Singleton, John Singleton, Miss Ruth Singleton, all of Winchester.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT SUMMER "FLU"

The malady classed as summer "flu" is not that disease at all, according to local physicians, many many of whom have been rendered very busy as a result of the spread of the disease. They state it is a bronchial affliction that is making the rounds, and very successfully, too, for some are confined to their homes as a result.

Physicians state that when this is accompanied by a cough, a doctor should be consulted, since there are dangers of serious results. One city physician stated that in one family he had five patients, two of whom had a tubercular affection, resulting from this affliction, where the cough had been allowed to go unchecked. It is very probable there are many more. The danger lies in neglecting to check the cough, physicians state, and they find that where this has been the case, more serious results are suffered.

BUMPER CORN CROP

Reports from the four corners of the county are to the effect that the corn crop will be the biggest in years and preparations are being made for the gathering later, since the prevailing weather is said to be conducive to the development of an unusual quantity and quality as well. Farmers are especially jubilant over the prospects.

Much of the crop was put out late, owing to the tobacco situation at the time, however, the grain after gaining a start, developed rapidly and has been continuing in such a manner as to produce a record crop. It is believed, since the acreage is also large, that the greatest crop will be gathered in Madison county this year that has been recorded for a period of ten years.

DOVE SEASON AND SHOOTING MATCHES

Big shooting matches are being held almost daily in Madison county, the occasion being the open dove season, and the sport is being enjoyed by many. At the farm of Thompson S. Burnam in the vicinity of Silver Creek, Friday, there were about thirty participated in one of the most extensive and successful matches of the season. Most of the men got the limit—15 birds. The birds are said to be plentiful, but very scattered.

Game Warden W. H. Grider was in attendance and saw to it that every participant had a license. He has not been called upon in this county to investigate any violations of either the game or fish law, and reports both laws as being adhered to the letter. Big matches were also held on the Harry Hanger and Morgan Evans farms. There is a big demand for ammunition, and the sport seems to be enjoyed as never before and especially by a number of the older residents who have spent little time hunting in recent years.

SHORT AND BUSY COUNCIL SESSION

Street, Light and Sewer Matters Given Attention By City Dads At Semi-Monthly Meeting

Thursday night's session of the city council was short, but a busy one, there being a few bills presented for payment, owing to the meeting coming so close to the first of the month that few being presented. All members were present, the first time for three meetings. One of the reports was from Chief of Police Devore, who stated that the amount of fines collected during the month amounted to $166. This was followed by a report of City Civil Engineer Crecelius to the effect that the work on the streets had progressed slowly, having been repeatedly interrupted by rain. The total cost of work by the city for the month for the work done was $2,424.67, and after the acceptance of the report it was ordered that an order be drawn for the amount in favor of Lampton & Burks.

Councilman Golden spoke of the manner in which valuable stone and brick had been removed from street crossings and curbing and literally thrown away. He felt that this material should be preserved for crossings that are being asked for by residents of various parts of the city. This information brought about an explanation upon the part of Mayor Evans to the effect that the contracting company was given this material in the contract, and that its value about represented the cost of removing it. This seemed to be news to Mr. Golden, who was informed he was present at the meeting of the paving company when the contract with the paving company had been made.

Residents of Hill street want new brick or stone crossings and they want them badly, and at once. They claim the crossings are in bad shape, and it is desired they be remedied before rough weather sets in. There was no action taken regarding this. Councilman Golden stated also there was much material being taken from the uptown streets that would go a long way towards raising Water street. This thoroughfare, he said, should be raised at least one foot or more, an dthat it would be a very much improved street.

At this juncture Mr. Golden was informed that while the brick of the crossings and other material had been given the paving company, the latter had turned around and given more than 3,000 brick to the city of Richmond, besides other material for which it had paid. "Judge Shackelford says it's a pretty good thing to have something which you have sold given back to you," quoth the councilman. "and I guess his judgment is very good."

A communication from the Pattie A. Clay infirmary was received to the effect that there was a landing desired in front of the institution for loading and unloading the ambulance, and Mr. Terrill made a motion to have the improvement provided. This was seconded by Councilman O'Neill and carried. It is stated that the curb is low and there should be a more convenient manner in which to handle the patients.

B street residents presented a claim to the effect that while there had been broken sidewalks ordered repaired some time ago, no work had been done by some of the property owners, and the petition asked that they be ordered to improve the sidewalks before the advent of cold weather. It developed that this order was a feature of a meeting of the city council before the reign of Mayor Evans, who admitted it was news to him, and he asked the street committee to look after the matter and report back to the council at the next meeting. Some of the residents said they had placed new cement walks in front of their homes at their own expense, and felt that the others should be made to do likewise. The present condition is said to render the sidewalks very dangerous in places. The street committee will, according to the order, draw up an ordinance covering this phase of sidewalk improvement and it will be applicable in various instances.

Representing the grievance committee, Councilman Mershon reported a desire upon the part of residents of Collins street for a sewer for a distance of 1,010 feet. While it was reported there was no pipe for a sewer nor money with which to get it, the sewerage committee was instructed to investigate the condition of affairs and act accordingly. Mr. Golden, who is a member of that committee, stated he would make the investigation and make a report, also ascertain the cost of purchasing a quantity of pipe, as well as the cost of placing it, and tender his report at the next meeting. This statement, being made 45 minutes after Mayor Evans called the council to order, marked the close of the business and the seconding of a motion to adjourn.

FIRST STEP TAKEN FOR BIG MEMBERSHIP

Madison Burley Growers Invited To Affiliate With New Association of Four States

Information regarding membership to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association is being received in circulars being issued to producers in this and other counties as the result of plans of the association for a mail drive for members which is said to be very extensive. The letters are being sent to all parts with the view of soliciting membership in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia. The organization is expected to be one of the biggest of the kind representing any growers in the country and its formation, which was recently completed at Lexington, is reported as having been very successful.

Madison county growers favor the organization in the majority, it is claimed, although there is no direct affiliation with the association as yet. Directors of the organization will be elected at the ratification meeting on September 30. The directors will elect officers who will serve until the first Monday in March, 1921, when the executives for the ensuing year will be chosen. The organization committee's arrangements are only tentative and must be passed upon and approved before the organization can be perfected and a charter applied for. It is for the purpose of considering the plans formulated by the organization committee appointed at the burley convention held at Lexington several weeks ago that the coming ratification meeting was called.

SUBMARINE CREW SAVED AFTER DIVE

(By Associated Press) Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—The officers of the United States submarine S-5, which was partially flooded while making a dive, 35 miles southeast of Cape Helopen, were rescued and taken on board the steamer Aiantus, according to a radio message early today. It said the crew was in bad shape but recovering. None of the crew were injured and the submarine was taken in town by the Aiantus.

A small buoy with a buzzer and a bell, a development of the world war, that gave the men a chance for their life after being submerged nearly two days. The lookout on the transport, General Goethals, said the buoy, which was cast loose when the submarine went down, caused a small boat to be sent to the buoy. Telephone communication was established with the submerged men and the rescue work began.

TWO KENTUCKIANS ABOARD SUBMARINE

(By Associated Press) Washington, Sept. 3.—Among the crew of the submarine S-5, are two Kentuckians, Clarence Dye, of Louisville, and Henry C. Hoskins, of Brodhead. Both are firemen. The radio message to the Navy Department says the submarine became partially flooded while making a "crash dive." The submarine is being towed to the Delaware breakwater. All on board were saved.

Louisville Mayor Addresses Legionnaires

(By Associated Press) Louisville, Ky., Sept. 3.—The report of Department Adjutant Sachs to the second annual convention of the Kentucky Legion here today, showed 140 Legions in the state with a membership of 13,381. Mayor Smith welcomed the Legionnaires, and Adjutant made a report, also ascertain the cost of purchasing a quantity of pipe, as well as the cost of placing it, and

MOONSHINERS SING MOUNTAIN MELODIES

In Jail At McKee and Make Their Concert a Real Treat—Jackson Circuit Court

McKee, Ky., Sept. 3.—The September term of the Jackson circuit court came to an end this week. Judge W. L. Lewis keeps his court moving and doesn't lose any time. He has the respect and esteem of all who have business before him for his universal fairness and business-like methods. The principal business before court was the trial of a large number of moonshining cases. Here in Jackson county the need of federal prohibition officers to hunt down the festive 'shiner is slight. Local officials, acting under the state law, and ably backed by Commonwealth's Attorney Godfrey I. Rader, and County Attorney Clay Baldwin, are making it hard for those who like to make a little moonshine liquor in the quiet of the hills.

It was surprising to note the number of bright looking, intelligent young men who came forward and confessed guilty when arraigned on moonshining charges. "$100 and 10 days" was the usual sentence, and then the prisoner would be taken to Jackson county's brand new jail to begin serving his sentence.

The jail was well filled before the term of court was over. The boys are allowed their banjos and guitars. Those who think they have heard the real mountain songs—the "folk songs" of Kentucky—as rendered by imitators on the stage and platform, would find that they had received only a cheap imitation if they could sit in the dusk on the porch of Mrs. Hawkins' good little hotel and hear the Jackson county boys singing their melodies. "Sourwood Mountain," "Buck Creek Girls," "Liza Jane," and other famous mountain songs take on new meaning. The concerts which the mountain boys temporarily in jail for making a little moonshine, give each evening, is decidedly a feature of the quiet life at the little mountain village, about this time of the season when circuit court has rounded up those who just couldn't help from making a little white liquor, as their fathers have done for ages past. As under the state law, the arresting officer receives a reward of $50 for each conviction, it is apparent why federal officials are finding so little to do in Jackson county and many other mountain counties.

Look Out For This Guy

Harry Baldwin, of Illinois, is in Kentucky looking for a wife and says they all want to know how much money he has before they get serious. He surely struck a sensible section, as he realizes, and says he is going to go back to "Illinoi."
