

THE BOLT TO COX FORMS LANDSLIDE

Kentucky Republican Ranks Deserted Daily By Citizens Who See the Light

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 25.—The swing of the Republicans in Louisville and the state of Kentucky who cannot abide by the wiggle and wobble of Senator Harding on such vital moral issues as the League of Nations has assumed the proportions of a landslide. Each day dozens of independent thinking, forward looking citizens announce that they cannot support the Republican ticket any longer.

The majority of them are swayed in this action by the belief that the only hope of the League of Nations is through the Democratic party.

Here are a few prominent Republicans who have recently announced intention of voting for Cox:

Theodore B. Blakey, Beattyville, former assistant attorney general under a Republican governor, Augustus Willson, and a brother of Clayton B. Blakey, former Republican city attorney of Louisville; Rev. George H. Given, who is visiting Elizabethtown, and formerly a citizen of Louisville; Samuel McDowell Anderson, former Republican alderman of Louisville; George R. Washburne, life long Republican of Louisville; Harry B. Driver, a Republican organization worker; Charles G. Tachan, winner of congressional citation in the war, and an independent Republican; Miss Katherine E. Gladfelter, whose father is the business manager of the Republican Louisville Herald; Misses Catherine and Lydia Burke, daughters of the president of the Louisville board of trade, and treasurer of the Pease Gaubert company, who has been a life long Republican; Rev. Hunt, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, who has always aided the Republicans in their campaign in Louisville; Mrs. George Evans Davis, a granddaughter of General William Henry Harrison, famous as "Tippecanoe," and president of the United States, and niece of Benjamin Harrison, Republican president from 1892 to 1896; Prof. I. Thurston Ballard, Republican lieutenant governor of Kentucky; James G. Kirwin, prominent Louisville business man, who has always voted Republican; Burton Vance Roosevelt, followers and candidate for United States senator on progressive ticket in 1914; Thomas Bohannon, president of the Bohannon Realty company, who voted the straight Republican ticket in 1916.

His opinion regarding the situation, and tendency to come to Richmond at a time when he felt assured Mr. Swope would be in the vicinity, is best explained in his reply to Mr. Noland's letter, in which he accepts the invitation, setting the date for Saturday, which is as follows:

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 25. Hon. John Noland, Chairman Speakers' Bureau, Democratic Campaign Committee, Richmond, Ky.

My Dear and Valued Friend: I have received your letter of October 23, and hasten to give you a reply.

I note that you want me to come to my old home county and speak in behalf of the Democratic candidates on the evening of October 30. This very kind invitation I very gladly accept. It will be a personal pleasure to me to discuss the issues of this campaign before an audience of Madison county people, men and women, regardless of their faith politically.

I understand that the Hon. King Swope, Republican candidate for congress, will be in the county on that day and, therefore, I suggest that he be invited to answer my address on that occasion. Should he be unable to make this arrangement, I will be glad to divide time with any local Republican or with any man whom the Republican state committee might select to meet me there on the occasion. This is a time for straight thinking and I very sincerely hope that many Republican men and women might attend the meeting at that time.

With every expression of personal esteem and friendly regard, I am, Cordially and sincerely yours,

R. C. OLDHAM.

London, Oct. 25.—McSwiney, who was unconscious several days did not recover his faculties before he died in prison here today. His private chaplain and brother, John McSwiney, were with him when the end came. McSwiney's wife and two sisters arrived at the prison several hours later.

It is understood arrangements have been made to take the body to Ireland. It is probable an inquest will be held today, after which the body will be turned over to relatives. As soon as the news of McSwiney's death spread through the city, small knots of people began moving toward Brixton Prison. The police, however, did not allow any one to move into the streets leading to the prison.

COL. R. C. OLDHAM COMES SATURDAY

Noted Democrat To Be Here In Interest of Democracy—Among "Home Folks"

Saturday Democrats of Madison county will hear a genuine talk from a genuine Democrat, well known here, where he was born and reared, and who is one that likes a challenge when it comes to politics, whether it is coming or going. He is well versed upon the political situation and is ready to deliver some oratory that will appeal to all who hear him, and has accepted an invitation from John C. Noland, chairman of the speakers' bureau of this city. The invitation was extended recently and Mr. Oldham learned that King Swope would be in the vicinity, and set his date for Saturday night. He will speak at the court house in the evening and the discourse promises some surprises in the way of cold facts being presented in hot style.

FINAL DRIVE IS ON BY BURLEY GROWERS

Madison One of Few Counties Not Yet Represented In Big Organization

The organizers of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association began on Monday morning on their last drive and this week all burley growing counties with three exceptions in this state are expected to be brought into the fold, after which the workers will go into Ohio and Indiana. Madison is one of the counties not yet organized, although the organizers were here recently.

John W. Newman, of Versailles; E. M. Mansfield, of Carrollton; T. B. Hill, of Mt. Sterling; A. F. Shouse, of Lexington, and C. M. Dean, of Carrollton, will be in the attacking force the final week of the drive and in the work in Ohio and Indiana.

Kansas and Missouri will be entered by the organizers about November 10. Temporary headquarters will be in Kansas City during the drive there, but Lexington will remain the national headquarters.

Representatives of the association are now hard at work in Lexington seeking enlarged quarters. The organization has outgrown its present offices. The office staff as soon as the association is established in new quarters will be enlarged. Furniture and equipment have already been purchased.

Practically every burley section of this and surrounding states is represented in the list of men who signed the articles of incorporation filed by the association Thursday.

A. F. Shouse and E. M. Mansfield visited Frankfort Saturday in the interest of the organization. John W. Newman visited Stanford to speak at a meeting of the association Saturday.

All of the present organizers and temporary officials of the organization are serving without salary. No salaried officials will be installed until after directors have been elected and a charter granted the association.

FIREMEN BATTLE A STUBBORN BLAZE

Flames At Main Street Garage Threaten Entire Block Sunday Night for Short Time

Sunday night at 10:30 the fire department was called to the Dixie garage, East Main street, where fire of unknown origin was discovered beneath a stairway leading to the supply room. The firemen found the fire a stubborn one to fight, owing to the oiled floors resulting from the handling of oil, gasoline, etc. More than 500 feet of hose was laid and the firemen worked until an early hour Monday morning before further danger from fire was past.

During the fire L. R. Blanton, who made many trips to the smoke-filled chamber, was overcome and had to be carried to the open where he was revived only after more than half an hour's work. Many of the city firemen took chances in entering the fire quarters, since there were gasoline and wood alcohol stored there in large quantities, it is said. The firemen kept the water playing about the inflammable liquid casks, with the result that they were found intact after the fight was over. The nature of the material ignited being oil-soaked to a degree caused the fire to be difficult to handle, but every member of the department was on hand, and it is well that they were. The result was that the damage to the building was small, covered by insurance, and the flames, which had gained considerable headway before being discovered, would have communicated to adjacent buildings and endangered the entire block. The battle of the firemen was both arduous and dangerous.

HARVARD WINNER WILL VOTE FOR COX

Man Who Wrote Part of Republican Platform Believes In the League of Nations

Washington, Oct. 25 — Carl Smith Joslyn, Harvard undergraduate, who won the $6,000 prize offered last spring by the Republican National Committee, for the best suggested national platform, is out for Gov. Cox and the League of Nations.

Young Joslyn, whose proposed declaration of principles for the republicans attracted country-wide attention, announced his repudiation of Senator Harding's attitude on the League of Nations and his adherents to the stand taken by Gov. Cox in a letter recently sent to the Springfield, Mass., Republican.

In response to a telegram sent him by the Democratic National Committee, Mr. Joslyn wired from Cambridge the reasons that caused him to desert the republican standard for the democratic nominee.

His statement said: "I regard the League of Nations as the supreme issue of the campaign. It transcends in importance all question of domestic policy, all controversies of partisan advantages. It and its work will endure for generations. The control of a party may pass within a few years.

"The League of Nations is the one constructive effort toward the realization of world peace. It is closely interwoven with the treaty of Versailles. Should the one fall the other never could hope to succeed or long sustain itself. Not only for the peace of the world, but for the peace and well being of America herself, the covenant of the League must in some form be approved.

KEETON MURDER TRIAL UNDER WAY

Commonwealth Presents Strong Case and Defense Has Big Array of Witnesses

In the Madison circuit court Monday morning, John Keeton was placed on trial for the murder of the night of September 23 of Robert Powell at the carnival grounds in the northern part of the city, and at noon the evidence for the commonwealth was concluded. It was assumed that the entire afternoon would be required to hear the testimony for the defense, and all other jurors and witnesses were excused by Judge W. R. Shackelford until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The trial of Thomas Gentry, colored, for the murder of Dave Campbell, also colored, at the L. & N. depot on the evening of October 5, will be called immediately upon the conclusion of the evidence in the Keeton case. It is believed this case will be of short duration, owing to the fact that there are said to be few witnesses, and this, according to the docket, will be followed by the calling of the murder case of Constable Andy Poff, who shot and killed Jasper Kirby at the Berea fair on the evening of August 6.

Three of the witnesses in the case of Keeton stated they saw the shooting, and that Powell was walking away from Keeton, when the latter fired the fatal shot. Embalmer Richards, who took charge of the body of the murdered man, stated that he found but one bullet hole, and that entered from the back. There were a number of witnesses whose testimony was shaken somewhat by the attorneys for the defense on cross examination. The state's attorney endeavored to prove that the shooting was premeditated, and the fact that Powell was shot in the back, while, according to one witness, Powell was running from the enraged husband, proved this assertion. There were many witnesses whose testimony was merely to the effect that they were in the vicinity at the time of the shooting and that they could give no definite evidence as to the position or exact location of Powell at the time of the shooting, their attention having been attracted by the shots.

County Attorney O. P. Jackson, assisted by B. A. Crutcher, had much evidence tending to show that the victim of Keeton's gun was endeavoring to escape when the shots one of which ended his life were fired. It is said Keeton fired three shots. Powell had been in company with Mrs. Keeton previous to the shooting.

It is understood that Attorneys A. R. Burnam and C. C. Wallace for the defense have a mass of testimony which will be strongly in favor of their client. A part of this will be, it is said, to the effect that Keeton charged Powell with breaking up his home, and had gone to the extent of having a peace warrant issued for the man as a result of his alleged persistent attentions to Mrs. Keeton. It is known that there is a big array of witnesses for the defense. Keeton, who is a well known resident, has a reputation as a steady worker, and there will be a number of character witnesses brought in, it is claimed even from Red Lick, the old home of Keeton. A number of witnesses who came in from there did so voluntarily, in an effort to prove the character of their old-time friend.

The personnel of the jury having the fate of Keeton in hand is comprised of the following: G. B. Moores, Burton Roberts, A. W. Pritchett, Ben Shearer, W. A. Todd, Ralph Parks, Holman Todd, Eugene Barnes, John A. Hamm, D. T. Bogie, Arch Kidd and R. E. Dozier.

Jury For Week Jurors for the week in circuit court are as follows: G. B. Moores, H. B. Hanger, Princeton Roberts, A. W. Pritchett, R. E. Maupin, J. J. Neal, J. S. Collins, Ben Shearer, W. A. Todd, Ralph Park, J. S. Garsen, S. A. Deatherage, Holman Todd, John Johnson, Eugene Barnes, John A. Hamm, Leslie Turpin, S. I. Taylor, Shelby Burgin, D. L. Bogie, Crutcher West, Arch Kidd, Sam Mason, W. D. Durham, T. G. Perkins, R. C. White, Paul Burnam, R. E. Dozier, J. W. Wagers and B. J. Broadus.

And Still They Come The Hon. Henry S. Stone, general counsel for the L. & N. railway, together with nine other prominent residents of Louisville, have announced their intention of turning their political views and voting for Cox, to support the League of Nations.
