FRED PELTER'S RAPID RISE IN RAILROADING

Former Baggage Master Here, Just Named General Manager of Norfolk Southern

Friends here have received news of the gratifying promotion of a former Richmond boy to be General Manager of the Norfolk Southern Railroad Company. He is Fred Pelter, who left Richmond about 25 years ago, after serving in various capacities at the local depot and L. & N. service here.

The rise of Mr. Pelter in the railway world is said to have been quite meteoric. He was baggage master at Richmond 25 years ago, about the time J. W. Hamilton was connected with the road. He was a son of George Pelter and resided in the eastern part of the city. From here the young man moved with his family to Texas, continuing his railroad work, until now he is boss over 900 miles of one of the biggest coast railroads. His headquarters are at Norfolk, Va.

ANOTHER CONVICT DRIVES OFF FROM PEN

Trusty, Sent Up From Fayette, For Robbery, Fails To Return With Prison Automobile

Frankfort, Ky., June 29—Atwell Young, trusty at the state reformatory here, last night failed to appear at the close of his day's work as driver of one of the prison automobiles. Police of Louisville, Lexington and other cities were notified, but at a late hour last night the convict was still missing.

Young, who has been a trusty for about three months, left the reformatory in a small touring car rented by the state for use at the prison to take lunch to the convicts who were working on the grounds at the new Capitol. He told authorities that he would be delayed in returning as he had to take the car to a garage for repairs. His absence was not noted, however, until the prisoners were checked up about 5 o'clock.

The missing convict's wife has been in Frankfort, leaving Monday for Louisville. Superintendent H. V. Bastin said that he believes Young may have driven to Louisville to see her.

The car in which Young made his getaway belonged to the Nicol garage, the reformatory having rented it while the prison car was being repaired.

Young walked with a limp. After delivering the dinner which he carried from the reformatory to prisoners at work on the Capitol grounds Young went to the Nicol garage and had his car filled with oil and gasoline.

Young had served about one-half of a three year sentence for robbery and would have been eligible for parole. He was sentenced from Fayette county.

FAREWELL SERVICE FOR MISS HANAWALT

The farewell service for Miss Ella Hanawalt at the Methodist church Sunday morning brought out a full house. The talks on China by Prof. Booth, Prof. Smith and Mrs. John Howard Payne gave some information about that vast country. Humorous, so full of tears and laughter, was played on the violin and piano by the Smith sisters, was very sweet. Miss Hanawalt gave an enthusiastic address on the Gilling School at Nanking, to which she has been appointed. At the close, the Sunday School presented her with a handsome check, and wished her Godspeed in her courageous undertaking.

She left Richmond Tuesday morning for French Lick where she will join Miss Belle Bennett for a few days. Then she will visit her home in Illinois for a month and on the 18th of August will take passage on the ship, "The Empress of Asia," at Vancouver, British Columbia. ASKS HOW CONGRESS STANDS ON DISARMING

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 29—It is "wholly desirable to have an expression of opinion on the part of Congress relating to world disarmament and it would seem to me ample if it should be expressed in the most general terms," President Harding wrote today to Representative Mondell, the House republican leader. "I am vastly more concerned with the favorable attitude of Congress on this question than I am as to the form of expressing that attitude," the President wrote, adding "you may be sure that the executive will be ready to give every consideration to such expression as the members of the two Houses of Congress find themselves disposed to make."

EASTERN NORMAL'S BIG EXTENSION WORK

Six Weeks' Summer Schools Are Being Conducted In 39 of Her 69 Counties

The Summer School at Eastern opened Tuesday with several hundred students in attendance, but with a slight decrease, probably fifty from last year's high mark. This slight decrease is due entirely to the extension schools that Eastern and other schools are running.

Eastern has promoted six-weeks' Summer Schools, and they are now in session, or will be within two weeks in the following counties: Bath, Bell, Boyd, Carroll, Carter, Clay, Clinton, Fleming, Greenup, Lewis, Mason, McCreary, Nicholas, Owen, Pike, Pulaski, Trimble, Whitley, Wolfe, Harrison, Jessamine, Martin, Bracken, Lawrence, Kenton, Letcher, Campbell and Floyd.

In addition to the foregoing, Berea is running a Summer School; Sue Bennett, one in Laurel county; Union College in Knox county; the State University, one in Bourbon; and one in Magoffin county. In all 32 of the 69 counties.

The attendance in these schools ranges from 40 to 100 students, and the faculties from two to five teachers. The combined attendance in the counties under the control of Richmond will approximate 1,500 students. Each one of these schools is a local branch of Eastern; the subjects being taught in them are the subjects the teachers must teach.

To bring these schools into being, it was necessary to get the Boards of Education to guarantee about $20,000 for the salaries of approximately one hundred instructors. It was necessary to secure and approve these instructors—quite a job. It is gratifying to know that some of the strongest men in the state, and women, too, are practically giving their services. Such men as Hill, of Somerset, now in Boyd county, and Donovan, of Catlettsburg, now in Pike county, and many others. To meet these Boards of Education and County Superintendents, to secure the money to carry on the work, to find and approve and place teachers, to keep in touch with the schools, to answer the numerous questions arising concerning their administration and to perform other duties too numerous to mention, so far as Eastern has had a part and is having a part in them, has been the work of Prof. W. L. Jayne, the Field Representative of Eastern, who has labored most of his time during the past four months to this movement.

About half of these schools will close next week which has been designated "Institute Week" because the institute will be held in connection with them and all the teachers will be required to attend. A big movement has been started which will probably result in substituting for the costly and inefficient one week's teachers' institute, a six weeks' Summer School, which all teachers will be required to attend.

There is no way to improve the schools of Kentucky except to improve the teachers.

The deal was made Saturday with R. E. and R. L. Wheeler, of Knoxville, Tenn., who will get possession of the farm the same date.

The mine, Mr. Congleton said, is valued at approximately $150,000. Claude Congleton, his son, has gone to take charge. One of the Wheeler brothers will move to Lexington and open an office as superintendent of the operation of two other properties in Knox county and the farm in Fayette.

BIG DIXIE HIGHWAY CONVENTION IN CINCINNATI

Good Roads Boosters From North and South To Meet There September 9 and 10

A caravan of 200 or more automobiles from the South, with a thousand persons aboard, will roll into Cincinnati, September 8, for the fall meeting of the Dixie Highway Association, to be held in that city September 9 and 10. A similar caravan from the North will be due to arrive at the same time for the same occasion.

The Southern caravan will be from more than 100 counties along the Southern divisions of the Dixie Highway in the states of Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky. The one from the North will be made up from the counties on the Northern divisions in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan.

The Chattanooga Automobile Club, which inaugurated the Dixie Highway movement six years ago and brought about the formation of the Dixie Highway Association, has taken the initiative in organizing this tour of highway advocates from the South. Letters outlining the plan are going to all of the 113 counties in the six Southern states on the designated Dixie Highway routes. The organization of the tour is being started well in advance, so that every interested community may have ample time to arrange for its representation.

It is proposed that there be at least one car from every county, each with a full complement of passengers. From the larger cities it is desired that each have several cars. Chattanooga expects to send at least ten cars and the other cities, it is hoped, will be represented proportionately.

This tour will mark the opening of the Chattanooga-Knoxville-Lexington-Cincinnati route of the Eastern division of the Dixie Highway. Construction work in progress this summer will be available for this tour and for the fall and winter tourists movement between the North and the South, opening up an entire new avenue for the tourists travel to the Southeast.

Adams suffered an injury to the spine and his body is completely paralyzed.

His spine is said to be fractured. His body has been paralyzed from the neck down since the accident, but now he can move his right arm.

Slight hope is entertained for his recovery as X-ray pictures reveal that the front vertebrae is fractured and the traverse process displaced upwards. Physicians say that he has a fighting chance for recovery.
