PRESIDENT MAY HAVE CONTROL OF MINES

Bil Introduced To Give President Full Control of Coal Situation in Emergency

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 8—That President Harding be authorized to take over and operate all coal properties in a national fuel emergency, was proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Kenyon, republican, of Iowa, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee. It will be a substitute for the general coal control bill in effect defeated by the Senate last summer, and would give the Federal Trade Commission broad powers in supervising the coal industry.

Under the bill the President would have power to fix miners wages. A maximum profit proposed for operators would be fifty cents a ton and forty cents for distributors.

Louisville Police Recover Loot

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Oct. 8—Chief of Detectives DeForester returned today from Indianapolis with several thousand dollars worth of property which was turned over to him by the police as part of the loot obtained from Louisville homes by Frank Francis, held in jail here as a burglar. Included in the list is 300 pieces of silverware, a diamond brooch, and furs. He said a thousand dollars worth of additional loot is being shipped by express. Persons whose homes were looted have been asked to come to police station and identify their property. Most of the articles were recovered from the home of a prominent Indianapolis politician and his relatives.

SPENCE TELLS FARMERS ABOUT RYE AS CROP

County Agent R. F. Spence, of Berea, who is doing so much for the benefit of the farmers, especially of the southern section of Madison, sends in some worthwhile suggestions about the sowing and handling of rye as a crop. He writes as follows:

As a crop rye may be used in many sections. It can be used as a winter cover crop, a winter grazing crop, or as a seed crop. The straw is also valuable for several purposes. Rye is adapted to larger areas than wheat, being better suited to sandy soils. It stands cold weather better than oats. The grain of rye can usually be sold at the larger markets, but unless the grower produces a carload, or rye is produced in the community sufficient for carload shipments, it usually can not be sent to these markets with profit. Rye grain can be used for stock feeding, but it is not very satisfactory for this purpose except as feed for hogs.

The machinery used for oats, barley or wheat is suitable for handling rye, but if these crops also are not grown, the proper machinery will have to be provided either by the grower or by some one in the community. A few persons in each community may find it profitable to grow rye with the object of supplying seed to their neighbors, should the general sowing of rye the following year appear probable.

As a feed for hogs, rye grain fed in combination with skimmed milk has about the same value as barley grain so fed. Neither is as good for fattening hogs as corn, but the quality of pork produced is better. Rye shorts is not a satisfactory hog feed. Rye may be fed to work horses, from 2 to 4 pounds daily in addition to other grain. Ground rye or rye bran may be fed to milk cows, not more than 3 pounds being used daily.

Rye can be grown on almost any of the well drained soils. It is better adapted to the lighter loams and sandy soils than to the heavier clay soils. It is much better adapted to the sandy and poorer soils than is wheat. It will also endure a greater amount of acidity in the soil than will wheat, oats or barley. Because of these characteristics rye may often be grown in the sandy soils, where other cereals would not succeed. The growing of rye should not be attempted on lands subject to overflow or on which water stands after rains.

Although, as already stated, rye may grow on poor soils, large yields of forage or grain may be expected only on soil that is naturally rich or well fertilized. Stable manure is the best fertilizer for general use with rye. When commercial fertilizers only are available, acid phosphate at the minimum rate of 200 to 300 pounds per acre is generally advisable, this to be applied when the crop is sown.

While rye generally does better than any other cereal on a poorly prepared seed bed, this is not sufficient reason for neglecting the proper preparation of the soil. The extra expense incurred in preparing a good seed bed will be more than repaid by the additional yield obtained. If rye is to follow an uncultivated crop, the land should be plowed 5 to 7 inches deep at least four weeks before seeding, or earlier if practicable. Immediately after plowing, the land should be gone over with a harrow or other implement suitable for breaking clods and reducing the topsoil to a fine mellow condition. After this it should be so handled as to prevent the growth of weeds and to provide a seed bed firm and compact beneath, but loose and mellow in the upper 2 or 3 inches. The exact method for securing these results must be varied for individual conditions. When rye is to follow a cultivated crop that has been removed, the land may be plowed 3 or 4 inches deep and harrowed if there are many weeds present, or it may be disked and furrowed, as conditions seem to require.

BABE RUTH BREAKS THREE RECORDS

Hornsby Leads National Sluggers While Heilmann and Cobb Are Close In American

Chicago, Oct. 8—The baseball season just ended was productive of a number of new records, according to the unofficial averages released today and which include games of October 2. "Babe" Ruth was responsible for at least three new records.

The home run slugger of the pennant winning Yankees broke his own record for circuit drives, by pulling up with 59 four ply blows and in doing so smashed the mark of Gavy Cravath for total circuit drives during his major league career. Ruth since coming into the major leagues has slammed out 162 circuit drives, while Cravath had a mark of 117. Ruth also boosted the American League record as a run getter by registering 178 times, exceeding his mark of a year ago by 20 runs. The total base record of the American League, established last year by Sisler, of St. Louis, also was exceeded by the heavy hitting Yankee star, who in making 204 hits, rolled up a total of 455 bases. The former league record was 309.

There is much doubt as to who was the best hitter in the American League. Some statisticians in their unofficial figures have given the honors to Larry Heilmann, hard hitting Detroit outfielder, while others, among them statisticians of the American League, say that Heilmann's boss, Ty Cobb, is the champion. Figures available here show Cobb finished with an average of .391, while Heilmann's mark is .387. According to these records Cobb played in 128 games, was at bat 505 times and cracked out 197 hits. Heilmann's record shows he played in 149 games and made 235 hits in 602 times at bat. Other statisticians have figured that the Detroit slugger were practically tied at the wire with 390, but when carried to four figures Heilmann was given the edge by a margin of .0003. Cobb's mark in this case was .3901 while that of Heilmann was .3904. According to these figures Heilmann is credited with 235 hits while the figures which give the Georgia peach the honors, credit Heilmann with only 233 hits.

Hornsby, of the St. Louis Nationals, put up a merry chase to enter the select "400" hitters, who attained fame in the National League, but missed the coveted goal by one point.

Jay Kirke, of Louisville, established a new world's record for hits in one season by breaking the record made by L. A. Miller, of Oakland last season. Kirke made his 282nd hit as the curtain went down and beat Miller's mark by two hits. Miller played in 199 games, Kirke in only 168 games.

Base stealing honors of the American League were captured by Sisler, of St. Louis, who swiped 32, while Frank Frisch, of the Giants, with 47 thefts, carried off the prize in the National League. George Kelly, of the Giants, carried off the home run honors of the senior major league with 23 circuit drives under his belt.

Leading batters of the National League, playing 95 or more games: Hornsby, St. Louis, .399; Roush, Cincinnati, .353; McHenry, St. Louis, .350; Cruise, Boston, .349; E. Menzel, New York, .343; Fournier, St. Louis, .343; Frisch, New York, .340; Cutchaw, Pittsburgh, .340; J. Smith, St. Louis, .332; Groh, Cincinnati, .330; American League: Cobb, Detroit, .390; Heilmann, Detroit, .387; Ruth, New York, .377; Sisler, St. Louis, .371; Speaker, Cleveland, .359; Jacobson, St. Louis, .354; Tobin, St. Louis, .351; Williams, St. Louis, .345; E. Collins, Chicago, .337; Veach, Detroit, .335.

LOUISVILLE DEMOCRATS AFTER REPEATERS

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 8—First steps in the registration purgation proceedings instituted by the democratic campaign committee were taken at Democratic headquarters last night when members of the committee interviewed precinct workers and party election officers regarding instances of alleged repeating upon the part of negroes. The meeting was executive.

"We are not going to rest," said chairman Allen P. Dodd, "until we have had stricken from the poll books the names of those illegally registered."

Summones to appear before the county court Tuesday to show reason why their names should not be taken from the registration records, have been served, it was said, on several hundred alleged repeaters.

ANOTHER WONDER FOOT BALL TEAM

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 8—Another "wonder team" is being whipped into form at the University of California, according to Andy Smith, former University of Pennsylvania player and now head coach at the local institution. Smith expects the 1921 California Varsity to be even better than the 1920 team, which piled up big scores on nearly every western eleven it met, won the Pacific Coast Conference championship without being pressed and defeated Ohio State University's team Big Ten Champion, at Pasadena New Year's Day.

"Prospects are so good I'm scared," Smith said recently. "I've started seasons like this before, only to have everything go wrong as the season continued. We were lucky in the matter of injuries last year and cannot hope to be so fortunate again."

Of the first twenty California men who won their block letters for foot ball last year, sixteen are on this year's team. Of the four missing, three, "Cort" Majors, 1920 captain, Kard Deeds, half, and "Pesky" Sprott, half, were on the regular team which played in all games last year.

"Brick" Muller, who gained fame when he threw a 50-yard forward pass in the Ohio State game, will be back at end this year, as will "Brodie" Stephens, who caught the pass, and who was a substitute end last year, and Bob Berkey, regular end of a year ago, is again in uniform. For the balance of the line, the following veterans are reported: Guards Lee Crammer and "Pat" Clark; tackles, Charles Toney, Dan McEllan, "Stoop" Barnes and Charles Dean; centers, George Latham. In the back field the following veterans are back: Charles Erb, quarter; "Dutch" Ellis, "Chip" Toomey, A. Van Sant, half backs, and J. B. Morrison and Archie Nisbet, fullbacks.

Goosetree on Third for Hustlers

Goosetree, well remembered in the old Blue Grass League, will occupy the third sack in the two baseball games played between Winchester and Maysville at Winchester Saturday and Sunday. It is rumored that two major league hurlers have been hired by the fast Maysville team which has already defeated the Hustlers once. These games will possibly decide the state amateur championship and will be hotly contested.

FOX HUNTERS CAN GO TO CHURCH

President Woods Walker Places Ban On Sunday Hunting at National Meet

When the National Fox Hunters' Association meets at Crab Orchard on Thursday, November 10th, it will be the first time in the history of this association that its first day meeting was not on Monday. President Woods Walker, of Paint Lick, has issued an edict opposing Sunday hunting and in order that all dogs may be on the grounds in time, without having to ship them on Sunday, he has called the meeting for Thursday instead of Monday as heretofore. The meeting is usually attended by two hundred or more members. An entertainment in keeping with the day will be provided for the Sunday intervening during the meet. President Walker has arranged to have Dr. E. L. Powell, of Louisville, to address the members on this day. It will be a great innovation and President Walker is being congratulated upon his splendid movement.

BRUTAL MURDER OF 12-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Attacked and Stabbed 25 Times—Youth Suspected of Crime Asserts Innocence

(By Associated Press)
Madison, N. J., Oct. 8—Francis Kluxen, 14, is being held by police today on the charge of committing the most brutal murder in history of New Jersey—the murder of Janet Larence, 12-years-old. The girl's body was found in bushes owned by the boy's father, yesterday. She had been strangled up with a rope and attacked and stabbed twenty-five times. The boy asserts his innocence.

Suspicion centered last night on the boy after the police had spent the day investigating the murder. A schoolgirl playmate of the dead girl told the police that the youth had invited her to enter the woods with him yesterday afternoon. She refused because of the reputation he bore in the neighborhood of having a vicious character.

Two men, questioned in connection with the murder, were freed after satisfying the police they knew nothing of the crime. The town council offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the girl's assailant. A law and order committee of citizens was organized to assist the police in running down the murderer.

RAIN HALTS FOURTH GAME OF SERIES

New York, Oct. 8—Rain when started falling one hour before the players took their places for the fourth game, continued to fall hard and the game will be played tomorrow with the Yankees being the home club.

Model Loses to Winchester Hi

Winchester Hi football eleven defeated the Normal Hi eleven of this city on the Normal gridiron Friday by a score of 21 to 7. The Winchester team held the strong Louisville Manual Training team to 21 to 14 score last Friday and came here expecting to down the locals, but were greeted by an eleven that forced them to fight to win the game. The locals have shown great improvement over last Friday's work and should show up well against Middleboro next Friday on the enemy's gridiron. This is the first game the Normal Hi has looked on a foreign field.

Mt. Sterling Beat Madison

The Mt. Sterling football team downed the Madison Hi team on the Normal field in the second game of a double header Friday by a score of 21 to 12. Madison fought hard and had the Mt. Sterling team fighting every inch of the way. Davis led the Mt. Sterling team in the offense by scoring 15 of their points and making two 40 yard runs. Madison scored in the first few minutes of play on their swift formation which carried them across the goal line with ease. The enemy was so puzzled that they did not know how to stop the steady march of Madison. But when they got going right they piled up enough to win the game by a score of 21 to 12. Madison is looking better every time and much is expected of them in the next game.

Two Bunches Cattle Delivered

Two bunches of large cattle were delivered through the local market today. John Parrish delivered to Monte Fox his bunch of steers, all black, averaging 1,350 pounds, for which he was paid $7.85 per hundred. This bunch of cattle is said to be one of the best lots delivered on the market this season. Warfield Bennett delivered to Simon Weil his bunch of 99 fat cattle, averaging 1,547 1-2 pounds, for which he received $7.15.

Oil Advance Another 25 Cents

Findlay, O., Oct. 8—The Ohio Oil Company, one of the largest distributing companies of the United States, today announced a further advance of 25 cents a barrel in all central west grades of crude oil, as well as a 15 to 20 cent per barrel advance in the
