HOST OF PRISONERS ARE SENTENCED

Jail Jammed With Violators of Liquor Laws—Judge Passes Out Penalties.

With the exception of one case which was set for hearing next Tuesday, Judge A. M. J. Cochran concluded the criminal docket of U. S. Court here Friday morning and adjourned court over to Monday. The trial set for Tuesday is that of Jailer Wm. Reynolds of Letcher county. He is accused in a four-count indictment brought in by the grand jury at this term of court of permitting prisoners to escape and run at large. The four prisoners named are Crit C. Morgan, James Clair, Keenon Adams and J. B. Christy. District Attorney Sawyer A. Smith told the court that his information was that the offense was so flagrant that he wanted a trial immediately if possible.

With but one exception, every criminal trial at the present term of federal court here has been for violating of the national prohibition law. It used to be in the old days that the docket of federal court here was negligible as far as the criminal branch was concerned, but the local jail now will hardly hold the vast number of prisoners who are often confined awaiting trial or sentence. The one exception so far was the trial of a negro boy named White, for opening a letter belonging to another.

Just prior to adjournment of court at noon Judge Cochran passed sentence on the large number who had not had their punishment fixed during the term. It required several deputy marshals and Marshal Roy Williams and Deputy Jailer George Rogers to escort the long line from the jail to the court room. A total of 53 were sentenced Friday morning the heaviest penalty being awarded to C. B. Garriott, of Trimble county who was convicted of shooting Prohibition Agent Solomon Israel, when officers sought to apprehend him some month ago. Garriott was sentenced to serve five years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. The list of fines and imprisonments assessed by the judges were as follows:

For manufacturing or possessing apparatus to manufacture alcoholic drinks—six months in jail each for June Powell, Green Powell, of Jackson county; Bob Arvine, of Estill; Charley Collins, north, Stanley Richardson and Buford Richardson, of Jackson county; Ellis Yeom, of Lincoln county; Elijah Stewart, of Lincoln county; Fred Goetz, of Lincoln county; Fleming Kirby, of Jackson; Ed Herron, of Paris; Ade Powell, John Powell and Will Turner, sixty days each, for Bant Collins, Wilson Settle of Madison county; Anton Moes, of Lincoln county; Burton Rogers, of Madison county; August Brender, of Lincoln; J. J. Falconberry, of Lincoln and W. H. Harrison of Jackson county.

Rollie Settle, of Madison, was given five days because of his youth.

On conviction of possessing property with which to make liquor and upon their declaration that they had made none Arthur Webb and Ed Lakes, of Madison, were let off with $50 fines. Also Abner was given 60 days on the moonshining charge as was Harvey Landy, Willie Reece and Ed Brandenburg, while Willie Wingate, of Boyle county, was let off with 30 days in view of the long time he has spent in county jail. Judge Cochran said the penalties many of the prisoners have served in the state courts influenced him in mitigating the sentences of some of the convicted men.

On conviction or confession of possessing property with which to make liquor, R. L. Thacker, A. H. Feldman and Joe Kelly were given fines of $50 each. On possession of liquor charges fines of $50 each were imposed on Geo. Roach, G. Peyton, D. Hise and Homer Wallace. The last named said he had three years yet to serve in county jail on conviction in the state courts. In this connection Judge Cochran pointed out that the state prohibition law is much more effective than the national law. He said that with the two working together, however, he felt that the country is "getting somewhere," as he expressed it.

On charges of possessing and selling liquor Judge Cochran said that he had taken into consideration their state sentences, in some instances, in handing down the following sentences: Eva Bicknell, of Richmond, three months in jail; Bruce Neal a lad of Menifee county, five months in jail; Sam Young, 60 days in jail; Charles Canter, of Estill, three months in jail; Jones Simpson, of Madison, three months in jail; Frank Simpson, young son of the latter, a $5 fine; Mount Pursival, of Madison, and George Alcorn, now of Cincinnati, 10 days in jail, each; Herbert Falconberry, of Lincoln county, three months in jail; Luther Templeton, 10 days; Tom Roberts, possession only, $50 fine; Bill Johnson, of Jackson county $25 fine; George Hopper, of Richmond; 6 months in jail; Owen Kelly $100 fine for possession; same offense Monroe Sams $100 fine.

Other penalties either for possession or for possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors were: Tom Gorman $30 fine; James Higgin $10; Clay Jordan $100; Warren Brower $100 and automobile forfeited; Charles Perry $50; Otis Stephens $100; Major Gadd $100; James Alverson $50; Silas Powell $100; Andy Todd $10; Tom Hopper $50; Jeff Harris $50; George Hulett $25; Wade Sanders $50; Floyd Riggins $10; James Peyton $80; Charles Rutledge $100; Jack Goode $50; Ed Stigall $50; John Foster $50; Wm. Day $10; Sidney Payrish $25; Tony Osterman $50; W. C. Cummins $100; Melvin Garrett $100; J. Hocker $25; W. Fields $50; Frank Chaney $50; Wm. Noe $50; Chas. Estes $25; Fred Ashcraft $25; Enoch Puckett $100; Herbert Huffman $50; Dave Dunn $50; Jess Baker $50; Garrett Tudor $50; Eugene Davenport $50; Van Huffman Jim Huffman, Lynn Burdett, Paul Lynn, Will Bartel, $50 each; Bowen Rose $25; Fred O. Beam and John Reid $100 each; Jess Ashbrook $100; O. O. O'Neil $200; E. French, G. Casteel and L. Farmer $25 each; Bob Grey $25; Willie Williams $50.

A jury found Hill Jennings, of Danville, not guilty on a possession charge.

Judge Cochran continued the case against the aged Mrs. Marsee, of Lincoln county, who was accused of having liquor and who said that parts of a still on Fred Goetz' farm belonged to her. She said she is 76 years of age. The jury was directed to acquit S. B. Harrison and Cash Hurst upon the statement from District Attorney Smith that while there had been some pipe around a stump, he did not believe a conviction could be secured. A jury also acquitted Will Coffey, of Lincoln county, of a charge of having a still on his place. Judge Cochran gave peremptory instructions for the acquittal of Mrs. Ettie Alford, of Winchester, who was accused of having had him sell liquor for her. Carlo Lunsford, who admitted having some mash in a jar, but said he merely desired to see if he could make a beer to drink, was acquitted on peremptory instructions. He said an analysis of what he made showed it contained only 2 per cent alcohol. A jury also found Emanuel Parker not guilty of making liquor. The bond of Dewey Parker was declared forfeited as it was stated to the court that he had disappeared. Frank Hubbard was reported as having escaped from the jail at Irvine.

When Dave Powell and his two sons, June and Green Powell, were before the court for sentence the father made a strong plea to the judge which rang true. He said he had been assured by a former Sheriff of Jackson county that he (the sheriff) was the law, and that he could make some whisky if he wanted to. Powell said, however, that he had warned his sons not to do so. However, his aged father needed some to use in bitters, so he furnished a bushel of corn to Walter Powell and got some whisky from it. However, he asserted that he made none himself. The court gave him a fine of $250, but sent the boys to jail as they are over age and have their own establishments.

TO HEAR HUM COLLINS CASE ON DEC. 7TH

Hum A. Collins, of Louisville, alleged to have been the head of the conspiracy to rob the D. L. Moore distillery in Mercer county, will know on December 7th whether he must go on to Atlanta with his colored man Richard McCutchen and J. R. and S. L. Brasher, alleged accomplices to begin serving their two-year terms imposed in federal court here last May. Judge Cochran gave Attorneys Clem Huggins and R. C. Oldham till that date to bring him some evidence at Maysville showing that any necessary steps had been taken. It is the contention of District Attorney Sawyer A. Smith that no bill of exceptions having been filed, the case is now out of court, and the defendants must go to prison, as it is too late under the statute for appeal papers to be prepared now.

Attorney Oldham contended that he had mailed the bill of exceptions to the federal court clerk at Lexington, but no records, or letters could be found showing receipt of such, or anything bearing on such a contention. So Judge Cochran told the two Louisville attorneys that he would hear anything further they have to say in the matter on December 7th at Maysville.

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF MINISTER'S WIFE

Solon Springs, Wis., Nov. 17—Relatives of Mrs. Clara Crawley, wife of Rev. Griffith Crawley, today are awaiting report of an investigation into her death instituted by relatives who feared possible foul play through poison. The body was exhumed at Gary, Indiana, yesterday and the vital organs sent to Chicago for examination. She died in August, ostensibly of pneumonia. The minister says jealousy of her relatives over division of her $75,000 estate is responsible for the present investigation.

MINERS WANT RETURN OF OLD WAGE PLAN

Chicago, Nov. 17—National and district plans for wage agreements in the coal industry were voted down by a joint meeting of representatives of the bituminous operators and organized miners of the country here today. A motion for return to the old central competitive field wage base method was before the meeting when adjournment was taken to permit operators to discuss the proposal. The proposal for return to the central competitive field was made by G. W. Savage, president of District No. 6 in the Ohio field. Savage said he might not preclude the addition of Kentucky and West Virginia.

TAYLOR FARMER KILLED BY SON

Bloomfield, Ky., Nov. 17—Cal Goodwin, 40, a farmer on Ashe Creek, just over the Spencer county line, 10 miles from here, was shot and killed by his 19 year old son, Otis Goodwin, last night. The boy surrendered at Taylorsville today. Witnesses say the father and son quarreled in the course of which the father beat his son with a shovel. The latter seized a shot gun and fired twice.

Self Defense Affirmed

Taylorsville, Ky., Nov. 17—A coroner's jury today investigating the killing of Cal Goodwin found he came to his death from gunshot wounds inflicted by his son, but "from the evidence believe beyond a reasonable doubt it was in self defense."

Gen. Wright Very Low

Memphis, Nov. 17—The condition of General Luke Wright, former Secretary of War, ill at his home here, is reported today as extremely critical.

LUNCHEON CLUBS SHOW FINE SPIRIT

Rotarians and Exchangeites Hold First Joint Meeting Which Proves Very Enjoyable.

The initial joint meeting of the Exchange and Rotary clubs of Richmond was held in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church last night with President R. L. Telford, of the Exchange club as toastmaster.

Practically a full membership from both clubs with their wives, mothers and friends, enjoyed a beautiful dinner served by ladies of the Presbyterian church.

A toast was given to the Exchange club by Rotarian John Howard Payne that was a classic. This speaker plainly showed he is an orator by his easy flow of beautiful words that boosted the Exchange club to the skies, for he said that the initial steps the Exchange club had taken, showed they were alive and ready to master any task that came before them, that he liked to think of this club by the deed or their distinguished members they had just lost Col. Harvey Chennault, a Sir Galahad in every respect, one who did not go abroad to seek the Holy Grail but found it here at home by his beautiful personality, his kind and loving heart, and his open purse, ever ready to lift the fallen and downtrodden; that the purpose of the Exchange was lived in the daily life of this splendid man, whose place can never be filled in his club or in the community.

Exchangeite Benett Farris responded to this beautiful toast, thanking Mr. Payne, and saying that he hoped this first joint meeting would be followed by many more. Exchangeite C. C. Wallace toasted the Rotary club, saying that he respected the Rotary club to the fullest, that they were the first luncheon club to organize here, thereby making possible the Exchange club by showing that a luncheon club could be organized in Richmond; that the Rotarians had assisted in the organization of the Exchange club.

To this toast Rotarian "Jack" T. J. Coates responded, saying that the beautiful feature of these clubs was they could work together in their good deeds for civic improvement without being competitors. Rotarian Homer Carpenter gave a toast to the city of Richmond, pointing out the improvements in the five years he has known it, saying that if it had done nothing more than to organize two luncheon clubs, it had made a big step forward but on top of that it had many blocks of paved streets, a handsome new public school building, a normal school growth that had almost filled the horse shoe campus, many new fronts in the stores on Main street, and lately the organization of a Women's club. Mayor O'Neil responded on behalf of the city, saying that at all times the council wanted to meet with any committee from either club in discussion of public improvements, and that there was no end of good the clubs could do, and he wanted to pledge the hearty co-operation of the council with them at all times.

Exchangeite W. L. Arnold gave a beautiful toast to the ladies, thanking them for the fine dinner so beautifully served and the ladies who had so kindly come with their husbands as guests, that men such as composed the personnel of these two clubs always felt the high honor of having their wives and loved ones with them. Mrs. George Simmons beautifully responded to this toast, pledging the cooperation of the ladies with the men in all their undertakings.

The Exchange club had as its special and honored guest, Judge A. J. M. Cochran, of the U. S. federal court.

Other guests of honor of the Rotary club were I. W. Menzies, president of the Rotary club of Covington, and Assistant District Attorney Frank Maguire. Each had a few words of praise for the clubs and for the city.

Exchangeite B. Y. Willis, of Nicholasville, was also a guest of the Exchange club.

After the singing of "My Old Kentucky Home," by the entire group, Rev. Green pronounced the benediction.

The special guest of honor at the dinner was Indre A. M. I. Cochran of the federal court, who had accepted the invitation under the promise that he would not be called upon to speak. However, when the entire body arose to drink a toast to Judge Cochran, he said he could not resist rising to his feet in response and when once on his feet, he made one of the most notable utterances ever heard in the city upon the subject of education and the present needs of the community. Judge Cochran said that secular education at the present time had primarily to do not with the building of character but the fitting of men to get on in the world. He said that his great hobby was that secular education should be supplemented, under trained teachers, by instruction in the principles of Christianity, believing as he did that the religion of Christ is the only hope of civilization. He said this task of religious education belongs to the church and is imperative to the church's program. Judge Cochran said that in his life he had two great objects of interest in his reading and study, one was jurisprudence and the other, Jesus. In a most impressive way he then made a plea for re-study of the life and teachings of Christ as the only solvent for our present world disorder.

CHAMPAGNE PLANT FOUND BY OFFICERS

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 17—The first champagne manufacturing outfit discovered by federal prohibition officers in Kentucky was seized with a 500 gallon still, a large quantity of still beer, champagne and brandy when a squad of six officers swooped down on a log cabin 6 miles south of here early today. E. B. Obermiller, alleged owner of the place, and John W. Hicks, said to be his employe, were arrested. Mrs. Janie Yates, who said she was in Obermiller's employ, was also cited to appear.

U. D. C. TO FINISH DAVIS MONUMENT

(By Associated Press)

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 17—The Jefferson Davis monument committee today reported to the United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention here today a recommendation that the Daughters complete the monument to Davis near Fairview, Fleming county, Ky. The committee recommended that pledges be taken from the convention floor for $30,000, the remainder of the fund necessary to complete the shaft. Contributions last year, the report said, were discouragingly small. In the face of the small contributions reported and a failure to secure appropriations from the state of Kentucky for $15,000, the committee expressed the belief this convention would subscribe the funds.

BAPTISTS AGAINST DARWINIAN THEORY

State Association Meeting At Middlesboro Goes On Record In Strong Resolution.

Middlesboro, Ky., Nov. 17—Reports at the closing session here today of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists on the Baptist Hospital to be built at Louisville, stated that the money now on hand is $220,000, that the plans for the hospital have been approved and adopted and the architects have been instructed to advertise for bids. If the bids are satisfactory the building will be started within the next thirty days.

After this report was read a resolution introduced by Rev. M. P. Hunt, of Louisville, was adopted pledging moral financial support of the association to the newly formed Race Track Gambling Commission.

Nearly 200 Baptist laymen, from all over Kentucky assembled at a banquet meeting last night in what was declared to have been the most enthusiastic laymen's meeting ever held at the state.

W. S. Farmer, of Frankfort, chairman of the State Laymen organization, presided. Other speakers were Lyman P. Haley, secretary of B. Y. P. U. work in the state; the Rev. W. A. Gardner, T. R. Hill, of Middlesboro, State Sunday school secretary; Judge J. M. Stevenson, of Winchester; Dr. L. J. Hill, of Nashville; W. W. Peavyhouse, of Frankfort; Dr. C. M. Thompson, of Louisville.

The following resolutions on evolution were presented by Dr. J. W. Porter and were adopted: Whereas, the theory of Darwinian evolution is being taught in many institutions of learning, and

Whereas, this theory contradicts the divine account of creation as given in the Book of Genesis, exalts brute, degrades man and dishonors God, therefore, be it resolved by the General Association of the Baptists of Kentucky in session assembled at Middlesboro, Ky.:

First—That we, as the representatives of 275,000 Kentucky Baptists, are unalterably opposed to the teaching of Darwinian in any of our denominational schools, or any other schools for whose support we are taxed.

Second—That we as Kentucky Baptists, withhold all financial support from any of our denominational schools in which is taught the Darwinian, or any other theory of evolution that contradicts any part of the Holy Writ.

The 142 delegates climbedinnacle Mount for a sunrise prayer meeting, leaving Middlesboro at 5 o'clock. Eight women were along. The mountain is steep and rocky and towers 1000 feet above Middlesboro. The Middlesboro Baraca Sunday school class, the largest Men's Bible class in Kentucky, was in charge of the excursion and conducted the meeting which included singing, prayers and talks. Speakers were T. C. Crume, Latonia; J. M. Black, Harlan, and Arthur Fox, Maysfield.

Each member of the Kiwanis Club had as a guest at its regular club luncheon one of the Baptist delegates.

The convention voted to shorten the time of the $75,000-000 campaign in Kentucky from December 1924, to May 1, 1923. C. M. Thompson, of Louisville, corresponding secretary of the State Board of Missions, reporting on the campaign, said that Kentucky had raised $3,788,693 so far and $1,033,600 last year. He said the quota is $6,500,000.

A Correction

In announcing the sale of Mrs. Belue's store to Mrs. Carson & Co. in Tuesday's Daily Register, it stated that possession would be given the latter part of September when it should have been December the first. Mrs. Belue will start her store in the Soper block on Main street about the first of December. This correction is gladly made, that their friends may know exactly as to the time when both parties take charge of these enterprises.
