RICHMOND MEN ATTEND CONFERENCE

Richmond sent a delegation from her Chamber of Commerce to the meeting of commercial club executives at Winchester on Monday. The Sun says of the conference:

Executives from nine cities met at the First Christian church at the regular monthly meeting of the Central Kentucky Association of Commercial Executives.

Should a State Chamber of Commerce be organized for Kentucky? was the principal subject discussed, being led by H. F. Harris, secretary of the Paris Chamber of Commerce.

The need of such a body to sponsor and promote projects for the advancement of the state has been pointed out several times in recent months but it is estimated that at least $15,000 a year would be required to finance the project in amount that it is believed to be too large at the present time.

Another subject discussed was how the Chamber of Commerce can best serve the interests of the community.

The following were in attendance: L. W. Dunlap, secretary, Richmond; R. E. Turley, president, Richmond; H. E. Harris, secretary, Paris; W. C. Reer, Paris; J. W. Nichols, secretary, Frankfort; Price Gaines, secretary, Lexington; J. P. Smith, Richmond; J. W. Morrison, vice president, Lexington; Henry L. Perry, Richmond; E. S. Hensley, E. H. Taylor, E. R. ## TURKEY NOT MUCH HIGHER THAN BEFORE

Is Prediction Of Marketing Experts At College of Agriculture In Lexington.

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22—Despite the fact that it is too early to definitely predict the probable prices of turkeys during the coming holiday seasons, indications at the present time are to the effect that fowls for this year's Thanksgiving dinner will not go much higher than they did last year, marketing specialists at the College of Agriculture say.

There were more turkeys in cold storage houses of the country on Oct. 1 of this year than was the case last year while present prospects point to the shipment of a normal crop from practically all the important turkey growing states, the specialists say. An increase in the poultry crop for this year coupled with the fact that chickens are bringing prices somewhat lower than the case last year is seen as an additional factor that will prevent any considerable increase in the price of Thanksgiving turkeys over present levels.

Prices for live turkeys on the New York market last year at this time ranged from 32 to 3 cents a pound, while recent quotations on the same market have ranged around 40 cents. This fact is seen as a fair indication of what prices will be this year in view of the fact that prices on the New York market largely determine those in other parts of the country.

Reports from eastern markets indicate that turkeys from Texas and other southern states will comprise the great bulk of the supply on those markets this year. These reports further indicate that birds from those states will sell on the wholesale market at 43 to 45 cents a pound when dressed. The reports also indicate that many conservative merchants do not look for the southern birds to sell much over 40 cents a pound.

On Oct. 1 of this year there were close to 200,000 pound more of frozen turkeys in storage in the United States than was the case the preceding year. Cold storage holdings Oct. 1, 1921, totalled 2,439,277 pounds, whereas this year 2,634,717 pounds of frozen turkey were reported in storage on that date. As an average for five years there has been 1,990,000 pounds of frozen turkeys in storage on Oct. 1.

Reports from New York indicate that prices on medium grade dressed turkeys especially are not expected to go up much over last year's price. Many leading New York merchants are of the opinion that the fancier plump Maryland turkeys will bring 55 to 58 cents a pound when dressed, while there are a number of merchants who believe that young toms weighing around 14 and 14 pounds each may bring as much as 60 cents a pound. Virginia turkeys which are expected to sell close up to those from Maryland but the average Virginia turkeys are not expected to exceed from 45 to 48 cents a pound. While some receivers expect to market to reach 50 cents a pound on dressed No. 1 grade turkeys there are others who think mere of the fine turkeys will be sold for 45 cents a pound.

A reduced crop of turkeys is forecast in Kentucky but this may have no material effect in raising the price of fowls on local markets in view of the fact that birds can be shipped in from other points if the price goes too high, the market specialists say. Some shipping points in the state report a crop only 50 per cent of normal while only a few points report that the crop from their part of the state will be larger than last year. Several points in the state report the crop will be about the same as last year. Turkeys sold in some of the first sales held in the northern part of Kentucky this fall are reported to have brought from 36 to 38 cents a pound on the farm.

Despite the fact that Kentucky still ranks fifth among all states in the union in the number of turkeys which she produced, the number of turkeys in the state is steadily decreasing.

GILBERT PROVES A GREAT VOTE GETTER

What a splendid vote getter Congressman Ralph Gilbert is was demonstrated truly in the recent election. Official returns as filed with the secretary of state at Frankfort show that he carried every county in the 8th district with the exception of Madison and Casey and he lost this county by 75 votes and the usual Casey county majority was reduced tremendously. He carried Adair, which usually goes republican 500 or 600. His majority is 5,494, the largest on record. The official count shown by the returns by counties is as follows:

Counties	Gilbert	Kincaid
Adair	1,711	1,673
Anderson	1,554	809
Poyle	2,199	1,397
Casey	1,213	1,529
Garrard	1,572	1,515
Jessamine	1,471	980
Lincoln	2,169	1,413
Madison	3,725	3,800
Mercer	1,075	593
Shelby	3,468	1,650
Spencer	1,199	433

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK IN IRVINE

Irvine, Ky., Nov. 22—Most of the shopcraft workers who went out on strike last July, returned to work Sunday, while others have signed applications to return when needed. A full force of machinists, boiler makers, helpers, laborers and car repairers is on duty at the shops here. The L. & N. at this place has been in good condition as the company had employed a large number of experienced men. With the majority of experienced strikers returning, business has greatly increased and from the coal fields trains are moving rapidly. Construction of the new yards has also brought a large force of laborers and work trains are busy hauling material to the ground. Business has increased among the merchants and every line of business indicates a return to normal. Many of the men who came here July 1 for employment have moved their families to Irvine and Ravenna and returned homes.

Ben Gregory, fireman on the L. & N., injured his right foot while enroute to Lexington. When a lump of coal fell on it. Material is on the ground for two new concrete bridges on the Irvine and Winchester road.

Rufus May, laborer, at the round house, had his foot mashed while working on an engine when a piece of iron fell on it. The Swan Laundry Company, a Hazard organization, has purchased the Estill Laundry Company for $15,000 and will take charge next Monday.

Lloyd Now In Prison

(By Associated Press)
Joliet, Nov. 22—William Bress Lloyd, millionaire Communist-Labor party leader, who surrendered at the state penitentiary here shortly before midnight to serve a sentence of one to five years for violation of the Illinois anti-syndicalist act, is now convicted 8585. He was measured for his prison suit this morning and had his hair cut prison style and his finger prints taken. He will be assigned to work probably tomorrow.

ing, poultrymen at the college say. The 1910 census credited the state with 188,292 turkeys on April 15, 1910, while the last census reported that this number had decreased to 168,326 by Jan. 1, 1920. The decrease undoubtedly would have been more than this had the two reports been made for the same dates in view of the fact that many turkeys are sold between January and April. Disease, chief among which is blackhead, are proving serious in cutting down the number of turkeys raised on Kentucky farms, the poultrymen say. This one disease alone probably would account for a large per cent of the decrease. Careless feeding coupled with the fact that turkeys are much more difficult to raise than chickens also is responsible for the fact that the production of turkeys in the state is on the decline.

WANT FOOT BALL GAME THANKSGIVING

Efforts are being made to book a football game for Richmond on Thanksgiving afternoon. The Madison Hi team plays its last game of the season at Pineville this week and has no further engagements. It has been suggested that some other high school eleven which has finished its regular season might be secured for a post-season game here Thanksgiving. Local merchants and business men probably will all close up in the afternoon, as is usually the custom, and one of them said yesterday that most of them would like to see a football game here. Usually there is an outstanding contest of some sort at Lexington on Thanksgiving day, but there is nothing of importance this year. The crack local kid team, the Dodgers, have a game scheduled here for December 1, the day after Thanksgiving, with the Mt. Sterling second team. An effort is now being made to have this game set forward one day and played here Thanksgiving afternoon. A letter was dispatched to the manager of the Mt. Sterling boys today requesting that the game be played Thanksgiving day when a large crowd would undoubtedly be secured.

NEW GYM ABOUT READY FOR USE

The building is heated with two large hot air furnaces, one at each end of the building.

MERCHANTS WANT MAIL HERE EARLIER

Protest Goes to P. O. Department Against Transfer Mail From Trains Nos. 32 to 35.

Richmond merchants and business men have requested the Chamber of Commerce and other local organizations to take up with the Postoffice Department at Washington a change in mail service here. Since the change in schedules on southbound L. & N. trains, mail for Richmond from northern points now comes on Train 35 due here about 12:25 instead of Train No. 33, which is now due about 10:15 a. m. Previously mail from the north came in on 33, due here then at 11:23. Train 33 is now the fast train from Chicago to Florida and it highballs through Kentucky, stopping at only a few important points like Richmond, but bringing no mail here. Under the new arrangement with Train 35 often late, business men who formerly received their middle of the day mail about noon are now forced often to wait till 2 or 3 o'clock in the afternoon for it.

Postmaster Robert R. Burnham told of the complaints being made at the meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday and a motion carried unanimously that the postoffice department be requested to put mail for Richmond on Train 33, so that it will reach here before noon.

Irvine Barber Buys Ranch at Bybee's Own

The Irvine Tribune says: Recently Mr. Huston Duval, our well known barber, branched out and purchased for himself a nice little farm near Bybee's town which he has christened "Rabbit Eye Ranch." This talk of strawberry and poultry was kindly contagious so Schuler and Parsons, his two associates, bought themselves a farm a piece near the same place. Schuler is buying his farm just to experiment a little. He says he will soon be able to tell how much corn a crow will pull up in a day and "Old Bill" is going to find out how good an appetite the greese have got. We are not going to lose our barbers, though for we are still going to get shaved at the same old place.

Dies In Irvine

Mrs. Mary Bell Baker, age 43 years, wife of Silas U. Baker, died at her home at West Irvine Monday and the body was brought to Richmond Tuesday at noon for interment. Mrs. Baker was the daughter of Mr. R. N. Johnson, of the eastern part of the city, who with her husband and several children are left to mourn her loss. A number of friends from Irvine accompanied the remains here.

Kentucky Turkeys Sell At Highest Prices

The following quotations from the Produce Packer, a national poultry journal, will show that prices being paid for turkeys in Kentucky this year are higher than in any state in the union: Missouri from 22c to 30c; Kansas from 18c to 32c; Oklahoma from 27c to 28c; Texas from 22c to 27c; Illinois from 25c to 30c; Tennessee from 25c to 32c; Indiana from 25c to 30c; Alabama from 22c to 35c; Mississippi from 25c to 35c. It will be noted that the range is rather wide in most of the states. This is due to the distance from central markets largely.

Getting Acquainted

It was a rough neighborhood where the Whitechapel element predominated—swarms of idle cockneys of pugnacious ilk. A battle was a delight and pastime. No day complete without a punch fest. Two of the alley batters slouching against a building saw a stranger coming apace. Said one: "Who's the bloke comin' this way?" "Carn't blame im on me," said the other. "His fyce looks a bit acquainted," said the other. "But, nothin's certain in this life. Toss a brick at 'im enny'ow."

After ten months' consideration

the Supreme Court has decided that a Jap is not a white man. Wonder how long it would take them to decide that a bird dog is not a rabbit.
