MINE DISASTER IN ALABAMA

Seventy Lives Lost, Sixty Injured When 480 Workers Are Trapped In Mine

(By Associated Press)
Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23—Eighty four lives were lost and sixty persons injured in the explosion at the coal mine of the Woodward Iron Company yesterday, according to a statement issued at noon today.

Number Lost May Reach 100

(By Associated Press)
Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23—Officials of the Woodward Iron Company, owners of the coal mine where the dust explosion trapped 475 miners yesterday, announced today that 83 bodies have been taken out and it is feared the total dead might reach 100. Approximately sixty men were reported injured. It was a pathetic scene about the mine mouth as relatives and friends gathered, waiting expectantly for news of loved ones. It will probably be late tonight before an official count of the dead and injured will be available.

An Earlier Story

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23—Seventy miners were killed and 60 injured, some of them seriously, in a dust explosion in Dolomite Mine No. 3 of the Woodward Iron Company, 9 miles from this city, Wednesday afternoon when the blast trapped 480 workers beneath the surface, according to an official statement issued here by D. E. Wilson, treasurer of the company.

State militia gradually is assuming charge of policing the district surrounding the mouth of the pit, and last night it was stated that martial law might be declared to avoid congestion about the mine owing to the influx of the curious.

According to Treasurer Wilson, many of the injured have been taken home after receiving first aid treatment at the mouth of the mine, their hurts only being of a minor nature.

Mr. Wilson stated that the more seriously injured miners had been removed to a hospital at Bessemer, near the scene of the accident.

According to one of the first miners to be taken out alive, the explosion came with little warning. This miner stated the concussion he had was the concussion of the big blast. He started to make his way toward the mouth of the mine and was joined by other miners.

After they had proceeded a short distance, shouts of other miners were heard ahead of them, and holding their breath as best they could, muffling their faces in coats and clothing, they struggled onward, finally winning their way to the fresh air and the entry way.

These men were among the first to reach the outside with actual news of the terrible situation inside the mine. They told of passing over bodies in the main entry and of seeing other miners, badly injured and moaning for help or collapsing as the final afterdamp snuffed out their lives.

Shades Of James Brothers

(By Associated Press)
St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 23—The days of hard riding, quick shooting James boys, who raided Gallatin, Mo., half a century ago were recalled today when six bandits robbed the First National Bank of $4,000 in gold and currency.

This time the speeding ponies which would sprint instantly after their masters had finished the job and jumped into the saddles, were missing, but watchers held the crowd of citizens at bay while "inside men" grabbed the loot.

The bandits today came by motor cars. They overlooked $10,000 in their hurry to depart and they used sawed-off shot-guns to intimidate the crowd, instead of revolvers. No trace of the bandits has been found.

WANT STATE CLUBS TO FEDERATE

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 23—A movement to make the various Parent-Teacher organizations of the state federate with the Kentucky Parent-Teacher Association and join the national body also, has been started by Mrs. Betty S. Harris, state organizer. Mrs. Harris has visited the parent-teacher clubs in all parts of the state in the interest of the organization.

The aim of the organization is to present the names of 30,000 persons for membership when the national and state convention meets in Louisville April 23, 1923. Mrs. Harris has sent out a call for all local organizations to get in touch with state headquarters and apply for membership in the state and national associations.

GEORGETOWN FROSH PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Unless a Thanksgiving football game can be arranged for Richmond the last chance to witness football here this season will be had Friday when the Georgetown College Freshmen will be here to meet Eastern. The game will be played on the campus gridiron where some inside football is expected to be pulled. The Tiger Cubs come here with a strong eleven which will be sure to give the Normalites a run for their money. Although having been downed by the State Freshies twice this season by big scores the Georgetown first termers have a fast combination. Little is known by the Eastern team of the Georgetown tactics which means that they will have to be on the lookout for anything as the Friday visitors are well coached and likely to spring a puzzling attack at any time.

The Eastern squad has been working out daily on its field, getting some snappy work every time. Coach Hembree is stepping on the gas and expects to get more fight into his charge by the Georgetown game.

Marshall Hurst, local backfield man on the Eastern eleven, who has been out of the game for a week, was back in uniform Wednesday. He showed his usual good form. Hurst's return will strengthen the team greatly.

Holt, who is out with an injured ankle, will be missed. Moberly, who has been suffering with an injured hand, is expected to start Friday. This means that the Eastern backfield will be composed of Captain St. Hurst and Moberly at half-back. This looks none too good for the Freshies. Word and Co. ington will likely be the end selected, Carr the center and Lewis and Jayne tackles and Spencer and Hampton guards.

The men have signified that they expect to do everything in their power to end the home season with a victory, their final game being with Union College at Barbourville Turkey Day.

EXCHANGE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The regular meeting of the Exchange Club was held in the Glynndon Hotel Wednesday noon with President Telford presiding.

It was proposed by President Telford to make the week in which the Exchange Club presents their Historical Pageant a Home-Coming Week for Madison county. Committees were appointed to work this feature up and to help advertise it to every Madisonian who is away from his or her dear old home county and get them interested and enthused to the point that they will all be here for one big week, besides giving them the Pageant as an added attraction.

The matter was taken up about the mail service Richmond is now getting. The noon mail that used to come in on the fast train at 11:30 now comes on the local at 12:30 and that is often very late. Thereby, the business houses don't get their mail until late in the afternoon or the next day. It was agreed to write a letter of protest to Postmaster Burnam and to assist him in every way possible to get the mail put on the fast train now due at 10:16 in the morning. The Postmaster is just as anxious for the change as is every business man in town.

Exchangeite Deatherage had as his guest Mr. Boyd Wagers, who told of some of his funny experiences in his charming manner, much to the delight of the club.

Exchangeite H. L. Donovan was welcomed back after several weeks of illness.

A letter was read by Pres. Telford from the Kentonva Highway Association and after discussion of this proposed road it was moved the club give all assistance possible to the Chamber of Commerce, who have this matter under consideration and who will send delegates to Irvine December 1st to the meeting.

Master Commissioner R. B. Terrill had another splendid sale Thursday morning when he sold for William Harvey Wylie's heirs, 114 1-2 acres at $156.50. The land is located on the Lost Fork pike, between Red House and White Hall. The sale was most satisfactory and a large crowd was in attendance.

Prize Story Basis Of Great Photoplay

"Footfalls," the William Fox superspecial production which is shown at local theatres Thursday, is based on a magazine story written by Wilbur Daniel Steele under the same title. This fact may puzzle those who have read the story, which centers upon the sound of foot-falls, heard and interpreted in an amazing fashion by a blind cobbler. The O. Henry Committee of the Society of Arts and Sciences awarded the first prize for 1920 to Steele, declaring "Footfalls" the greatest short story of the year. This naturally made the work attractive to motion picture producers as a possible basis for a photoplay. The drama is said to be one of the most gripping and most amazing in theme and treatment ever shown in pictures on the screen.

80 PER CENT OF WEED SOLD CO-OPERATIVELY

Barker Gives Figures Showing Results of First Year's Work By Burley Pool.

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23—More than 80 per cent of the burley tobacco grown in the 7 burley producing states was marketed co-operatively during the 1921-22 season, according to figures compiled by Ralph M. Barker, director of warehouses for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Marketing Association, from sworn statements to the state of Kentucky.

In the first year of the organization, the loose leaf auction sales decreased from 297,493,340 pounds to 57,600,273. The average price the year before the association began operation was $13.27 a hundred. The price of the free sales in competition with the cooperative sales increased the former to $22.41. No figures of the price paid to the cooperative association are available, its prices being set according to grades. Some 16,000 growers, however, have joined the association since last season.

Chief interest in the report is found in the records for 1919-20 when 309,339,021 pounds of burley sold for an average of $32.90 a hundred, the highest price ever paid at auction sales. The 1921 average was the lowest in years.

Mr. Barker's figures cover not only the five states included in the association, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Tennessee, but also Missouri and Virginia. Missouri sold nearly four million pounds of burley tobacco last season and Virginia half a million.

In 1920 Kentucky sold 250,791,666 pounds over the loose leaf floors; Tennessee 10,244,409; West Virginia 10,106,595; Indiana 8,698,820; Ohio 7,356,900; Missouri 2,965,600 and Virginia 1,325,430. Last season in the loose leaf houses only 30,927,610 was sold in Kentucky; West Virginia 5,481,010; Tennessee 5,056,168; Missouri 3,700,000; Indiana 3,283,755; Ohio 2,633,415 and Virginia 518,315.

MADISON CLOSSES SEASON FRIDAY

Under present arrangements Madison Hi plays her last football game Friday with the Pineville Hi eleven on the latter's field. It is only barely possible that Madison will be matched for a Thanksgiving game. The Purple leaves Thursday noon for the Bell county seat with several loyal rooters with them. This game which is the climax of Madison's season, will give the locals a real test. The Pineville aggregation is probably the best in eastern Kentucky. They also have some of the scalps of some of the leading blue grass teams dangling from their belts. Madison is quite aware of their strength but believe they can match it. It has been learned from some of the teams having played Pineville that the Bell county boys direct their attack thru their opposition's line. This is where the locals have been strongest all season.

Lassiter's purple clad warriors are all set for the Pineville contest. They showed up well in the scrimmage with Eastern on Tuesday, but the following day limited their practice to light work. The locals have shown good form in their last two games by defeating Middlesboro and Clark County. The town and the school are hoping that the good work will be continued long enough to down the fighting Pineville lads. If all the fans who have signified intentions to go carry out their plans, the Madison squad will have a good band of rooters at the game.
