LOUISVILLE, KY SATURDAY, JUNE 4, 1904

AS TO INDIANA ELOPEMENTS.

The freedom with which marriage license is granted in Indiana is a fruitful source of divorce, and when not divorce scandal is often created by these hasty marriages.

It is to be deplored that ministers of the gospel, magistrates and others unite in marriage men and women who are in a stupid or oftentimes drunken condition. Suits for divorce often follow in the local courts.

Only a few days ago the son of a leading banker obtained a license to marry in Jeffersonville, and it is now alleged that a friend of the groom committed perjury in swearing that the bride had resided in Jeffersonville for thirty days.

The suggestion of our Syracuse contemporary is altogether proper. There ought to be some bureau or individual to attempt to correct the false stories sent out from time to time, and the suggestion of the Syracuse Sun is a good one.

The distinguished Irish poet, orator and dramatist, William Butler Yeats, will visit the United States this fall and will lecture in New York City under the auspices of the Irish Literary Society of that city.

Marriage is a sacred relation, and it is to be regretted that so many regard it lightly. There ought to be a very stringent law against the granting of marriage licenses in Jeffersonville to persons who have no respect for the marriage relations.

Certainly no Catholic couple will be guilty of eloping to Jeffersonville and creating scandal.

A CLEAN MAN.

Without presuming to take sides in the contest for supremacy now going on in the Democratic party in Kentucky between Gov. Beckham on the one side, and Senators Blackburn and McCreary on the other, we rise to remark that Congressman Kehoe is the peer of any of the statesmen who now aspire to be at the head of party affairs.

It has come to the hearing of the Kentucky Irish American that objection is raised to Mr. Kehoe because he is an Irish-American and a Catholic. We do not consider that Mr. Kehoe's religious belief or ancestry should entitle him to any preference in the matter of securing the Chairmanship of the State Committee or any other office, but still we insist that the fact of his being a Catholic should not be urged against him.

The Democratic party in Kentucky can not afford to select a Chairman on narrow lines. Whether Congressman Kehoe is selected or not, we believe he is worthy of the honor.

CHURCH MUSIC.

In some of the dioceses throughout the country the Bishops have taken steps to introduce the Gregorian chant. Right Rev. Bishop Kieley, of the diocese of Savannah, has mailed to each church in his jurisdiction a letter directing that under the recent order of the Pope the use of female voices in Catholic church choirs should cease.

The change must be effective by January 1, 1905. Bishop Kieley said that the Catholics can not blind themselves to the fact that the Pope's words were intended for them and that there is no need for a great change in church music. Everything profane in matter and form in church music, he says should be excluded. The highest degree of perfection in church music, the Bishop says, is the

THE FAIR SEX

Subject of Favorable Discussion at Satoll Council Meeting.

Satoll Council had a lively and interesting meeting Monday evening. The attendance was better than the ordinary, and the discussion showed that among the members of Satoll there are quite a number of gentlemen well versed in parliamentary law, and that much time and attention is being given to the study of the U. M. I. constitution and by-laws.

William P. McDonogh was elected Second Vice President, vice Carl Breckel, resigned. The report of the joint committee meeting was listened to with interest, and resolutions of respect on the death of Miss Hattie O'Bryan (aunt of Messrs. Carl and Herman O'Brecht) were drawn up. Will O'Connor proposed the name of a prominent young attorney, which was received with applause.

Quite an animated discussion took place over the formation of a ladies' auxiliary, which showed the members of Satoll are not lacking in their admiration of the fair sex. The matter was referred to a committee and will be taken up later. After the meeting the Satoll Glee Club held their regular session and all bids submitted on the advertising programme were rejected, the members deciding they would attend to the programme themselves. Quite a number of tickets were taken by the members, many of which were spoken for in advance, showing the general interest displayed in all of the affairs given by the Glee Club.

Expected at A. O. H. Auxiliary Euchre and Dance Thursday Evening.

The euchre and dance to be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. at the Weisinger-Gaubert building next Thursday evening promises to bring forth the elite of Irish-American society. The ladies have been doing noble work in advertising the affair, in which they have been greatly assisted by the members of the Hibernians, who are greatly interested in the success of the euchre and dance, and hope by their attendance and assistance to repay in a measure the noble work done by the ladies in the Hibernian entertainments since the organization of the auxiliary. Many prizes have been donated for the euchre, among them being several pieces of fancy work and embroidery done by the lady members, which are well worth striving for. Misses Mamie Foley, Ella O'Connell, Mary Cavanaugh, Maggie Coughlin, Julia McEvoy and Mrs. M. J. Hickey are the committee of arrangements, and can be depended on to give a good account of themselves as entertainers. The auxiliary has requested the Kentucky Irish American to invite through its columns the members of every Catholic society in Louisville to be their guests next Thursday evening.

The funeral of Michael Glenn, one of Louisville's oldest and respected residents, took place from Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, with a requiem mass and short sermon delivered by Rev. Father Walsh. The deceased leaves a wife and one son, James P. Glenn. The interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Murphy, the aged wife of Thomas Murphy, died Monday morning at the family residence, 1934 High street. Mrs. Murphy was well known and highly esteemed in the West End and the news of her death occasioned profound sorrow among her many friends.

By the death of Mrs. Gertrude Heukamp, beloved wife of the late Anthony Heukamp, St. Aloysius' parish loses one of its most devoted members, and the community one who was a real friend to all who had the privilege of knowing her. She had long been ill, but her suffering was alleviated by the kind attentions of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Veene-man, Baxter avenue, with whom she had resided since the death of her husband. Her funeral took place Tuesday morning, Rev. Father O'Grady being the celebrant of the solemn requiem mass. Father O'Grady paid a loving tribute to the memory of the deceased, dwelling on the patience with which she bore her long illness, her charity, her sympathy for all in need or distress, her nobility and domesticity of character, as wife and mother. IRISH EXHIBITS.

Those at World's Fair the Greatest Ever Brought Together.

Peoples of Every Nation Are Both Interested and Instructed.

Will Doubtless Prove a Great Educational Feature For Americans.

THE AMUSEMENTS ARE FIRST CLASS

The Irish Exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair is attracting more attention than any other one feature. It is mentioned in all the newspapers, and seems to be one of the most popular sections for everybody, without regard to race or condition. Every one goes to see it. There are reasons why the Irish section should be studied and looked over, for never before has there been such an exhibit of Irish art and industry in this or any other country. The exhibit at the Chicago Fair does not compare with it. The opening of the Irish Industrial Exhibition on June 2 was the occasion of one of the greatest and most representative gatherings of Irish-Americans ever assembled on a similar occasion. The exhibit includes general industries, home, cottage and art industries, educational, minerals, agricultural, fisheries, statistics and intelligence, historic art, historic engravings, etc.

Under the head of general industries there are included many things to remind American manufacturers that Ireland has made great progress during the past few years and that possibly there may be profitable investment there for American capital. By reason of this exhibit Irish manufactures may be greatly increased during the next few years. Attention will be called to the many advantages now existing in the Irish towns. It is needless to speak of the various shows and entertainments on the Pike, including representations of the Rock of Cashel, Blarney Castle, the Four Courts and other places of historic interest. The Irish theater is said to be one of the most entertaining places on the grounds. The Irish singers, dancers and other comedians who have been brought over to amuse their fellow-countrymen and the general public are the best that could be procured in the opinion of those who have witnessed their performances. There is nothing offensive in the Irish theater and those who go there will come away well pleased.

The Fair will be at its best now in a few weeks, about the time of the close of the popularity contest of the Kentucky Irish American. To be sure, no one having the price can afford to miss this Exposition, which will be the greatest in the history of the world.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS

Are Enthused Over Proposed Trip to the World's Fair.

Tuesday night Chairman Michael Reichert and the members of the Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America met to hear the report of Messrs. E. J. Mann and Secretary Albert F. Martin, who had visited St. Louis to arrange for an excursion to the World's Fair for Catholic Knights of America day, which has been set for Tuesday, September 13. They stated that they had secured reasonable rates at one of the newest and largest hotels adjacent to the fair grounds, with accommodations for 1,000 persons. The railroads had also been consulted, and the expense of the entire trip, which included full railroad fare and three days' board and lodging, would amount to only $15. This information aroused considerable enthusiasm among those present, who instructed Messrs. Mann and Martin to correspond and close the contracts at once. The committee will meet again tonight at the office of Newton Rogers, when further details will be perfected and work commenced for a great excursion from Kentucky.
