SOLEMNITY

Marked the Obsequies of the Rev. J. B. Kelly, Rector of Holy Trinity.

One Bishop and Seventy-Two Priests Assist at the Requiem Mass.

The Largest Funeral Ever Witnessed in the History of New Albany.

MOURNING FOR A SAINTLY MAN

With one Bishop and seventy-two priests in attendance, great solemnity marked the obsequies of the Rev. John B. Kelly, late rector of Holy Trinity church, New Albany, last Tuesday. The sacred edifice in which the beloved pastor had labored for twenty-four years was filled to overflowing long before the hour fixed for the services to begin. The streets and sidewalks surrounding the church were thronged with people unable to gain admission. After the services the remains of the beloved pastor were followed to Holy Trinity cemetery, on the Green Valley road, over two miles from the church, by over 1,000 persons on foot and by 127 carriages and conveyances. The funeral procession was the largest ever seen in New Albany, not excepting that of Michael C. Kerr, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, who died in 1877, and whose funeral was the largest ever held in New Albany up to the present time.

The solemn services were begun at 9:30 o'clock by the recitation of the office for the dead by the clergy in attendance. Promptly at 10 o'clock the solemn requiem mass was begun and the services were not ended until nearly noon. In the sanctuary were the Right Rev. D. O'Donoghue, Bishop of Indianapolis, and nearly fifty priests of the diocese. About twenty of the Louisville clergymen were in attendance, including Franciscans, Dominicans and Passionist priests and the Very Rev. Father Cronin, Vicar General, representing Bishop McCollosky, who on account of illness was unable to attend.

The celebrant of the solemn requiem mass was the Rev. John W. Doyle, of St. Simon's church, Washington, Ind., who was a life-long friend of Father Kelly. Rev. John F. Byrne, of Indianapolis, sub-deacon; Rev. Joseph Chartrand, of the Cathedral, Indianapolis, master of ceremonies; and Rev. Frank Ryves, of Liberty, assistant. On the right of the Bishop's throne sat Dean Fallor, of St. Mary's, New Albany, and on the left Dean Eugene McBarrow, of Evansville. At the conclusion of the mass Bishop O'Donoghue advanced to the altar railing and delivered a beautiful and feeling discourse, paying a high tribute to the dead priest. They had attended the same seminary in Montreal together and had been close friends for nearly forty years. The Bishop referred to the great work which Father Kelly had accomplished during his career as priest, to his work in the cause of total abstinence and in the cause of education and good citizenship. His life was an inspiration and a benediction to all men. This was why the community loved him. The Bishop exhorted the priests present to take courage from his example and to make their lives so pure, temperate and upright that all men may look to them for good example and good counsel. The Bishop expressed sympathy for the congregation in its great loss, for Father Kelly had done much for the whole body and for many individual members of the church in New Albany.

The trustees of Holy Trinity acted as pall-bearers. The church was draped in mourning from the door to the sanctuary. At the funeral were a number of Protestant clergymen and hundreds of non-Catholics. The city officials were also in attendance, for Father Kelly was regarded as one ever ready to aid in the upbuilding of the city. It was particularly noticeable that all the people in New Albany who take an active part in temperance work attended the funeral. In the matter of temperance the dead priest accomplished more than any man who ever lived in the city. Frequently non-Catholic young men came to him to take the pledge and he used to say that he was proud that these young men generally kept it at least for a year.

Father Kelly was a firm believer in Catholic societies. The Hibernians, the Holy Trinity Total Abstinence Society and the Y. M. I. societies attended the funeral in large numbers. The Women's Sodality and the Altar Society were also represented and so were the Total Abstinence Cadets.

The funeral was arranged by the Rev. Father Kenney, the assistant rector, who dearly loved his superior, Father Kelly, like Father Kelly, is very near to the hearts of the people of Holy Trinity and they would like to see him in the beloved rector's place, for he has all the qualities of Father Kelly.

AFTER THE MAYOR.

The Democratic City Council in New Albany has filed articles of impeachment against the Democratic Mayor of that city. The Mayor and the council are at loggerheads over the building of sewers and the appointment of certain new city officers. The Mayor does not want sewers, and vetoed an ordinance for their construction. The council does not want as many city officers as the Mayor is authorized to appoint, and there is war to the knife. If the council had its way it would build a big sewer and throw the Mayor in, and if the Mayor had his way he would have other men in the council.

FEEL HIS LOSS.

Resolutions On Death of the Late Patrick M. Collins.

Branch 25 of the Catholic Knights of America met Monday night in St. John's school hall and transacted much business. Important communications were read and acted upon and the transfer card of William T. Meehan was accepted. Messrs. E. J. Mann, A. F. Martin and Theo. Kirn reported the following resolutions on the death of Patrick M. Collins, which were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His all-wise judgment to call unto Himself our brother and friend, Patrick M. Collins; and

Whereas, We bow our heads in submission to His holy will, knowing He does all for the best; and

Whereas, We have lost a good and faithful member and officer of our branch, we deeply sympathize with his bereaved family and offer our humble condolence; therefore be it

Resolved, That we drape our charter for thirty days out of respect to his memory, and have these resolutions entered upon our minutes and printed in the Kentucky Irish American and a copy of same sent the bereaved family.

The return of Will Meehan was the cause for rejoicing among the members present, who were entertained with his short talk about conditions in Missouri. Secretary Martin spoke about the coming national convention and the recommendations submitted to Supreme Delegate Shine.

GREGORIAN MUSIC.

St. Louis Bertrand's Choir Successful in Carrying Out Pope's Wishes.

The choir of St. Louis Bertrand's church is the first in the diocese of Louisville and among the very first in the United States to adopt the Gregorian chant. Pope Pius X., it will be remembered, urged upon the church authorities the adoption of Gregorian music in all churches where it was possible to do so. Father Volz, the rector of St. Louis Bertrand's and prior of the Dominican convent at Sixth and St. Catherine streets, is a great admirer of Gregorian music, and he immediately put the order into effect as soon as he had read the Pope's order on the subject. Some were apprehensive that the choir would not be able to get along without female voices, but such has not been the case. The choir is doing splendidly and is improving every day. It is said to be very pleasing to Pope Pius to learn of congregations adopting this form of sacred music and the members of the Dominican choir were recently photographed in a group. The picture will be sent to the Vatican at an early date, with a letter explaining how successful St. Louis Bertrand's has been in carrying out the Pope's desires in this matter.

THOMAS WALSH

Will Deliver Address Tomorrow Afternoon in St. Francis' Hall.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the various conferences of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will hold their quarterly meeting in St. Francis' Hall and President James Campbell looks for an unusually large attendance. Some interesting reports are expected from the larger conferences, and the new one just organized at St. William's church may be enrolled.

Thomas Walsh, the well known lawyer, has accepted an invitation to deliver the quarterly address, and as he is an able and pleasing speaker those present will hear much to interest them. There will also be other addresses by members of the clergy and laity, besides some business of more than ordinary importance. Every conference should be represented by a large delegation.

FRANCISCAN SISTERS

Will Assemble in Germany to Elect a New Mother Superior.

The Order of Sisters of St. Francis will elect a Mother Superior in place of Mother Mary Theresa, deceased, some time this month. This order conducts St. Anthony's Hospital in this city and St. Edward's Hospital in New Albany. The mother house of the order in the United States is at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, in Lafayette, Ind., and Sisters Rose and Josephine will go from there to Alpe, Germany, to participate in the election. The Sisters sail from New York today. The Franciscan Sisters have hospitals in the leading cities of the West and have been very successful since they established houses in the United States.

FINAL AWARD

Made Martin Sheehan at Large Meeting Held Monday Night.

Receives Handsome Gold Watch With Costly Charm and Chain.

Divisions May Unite and Conduct Annual Hibernian Celebration.

DONKEY PARTY FOR THE LADIES

The knowledge that the County Board would present the gold watch won by Martin Sheehan brought out a splendid attendance of Hibernians to the meeting of Division 3 last Monday night, with visitors representing the National, State and County Boards. President Patrick Welsh occupied the chair and received the application of Martin Shaughnessy. The Finance Committee reported the books of the officers well kept and the division in splendid condition financially, and was commended for the excellence of their report. John Karmen was taken from the sick list and James Bench was reported improving. Ex-State Secretary James Coleman made a strong plea for the establishment of a gymnasium, library and reading room for the younger members, and an interesting discussion ensued, the speakers being Michael Sheehan, Lawrence Mackey, John Lannan and others.

Judge Patrick Sullivan notified the members and visitors that in the near future the Literary Committee would arrange for an entertainment in celebration of the victory won in the St. Patrick's day contest that would outdo all previous efforts.

Under the head of good and welfare County President Thomas Quinn was introduced, and in an appropriate and feeling manner presented Martin Sheehan with the beautiful gold watch won by him in the great membership contest. Lawrence Mackey and Thomas Kennedy then escorted the winner to President Welsh, who said the success of the St. Patrick's day celebration was due largely to Mr. Sheehan's efforts, and Division 3, in appreciation of his loyalty and services, presented him with a costly gold chain and exquisite watch charm of the order. Sheehan was too much overcome to speak and took his seat amid hearty applause.

After the acceptance of an invitation tendered by William M. Higgins and Thomas Duddy to be the guests of Mackin Council at their dance Monday night, Patrick Sullivan made a stirring appeal to all present to continue the quest for members till Division 3 could muster 1,000 good men under its banner. It is more than probable that Divisions 2 and 4 will unite and give a celebration in the near future, a move that will be approved by the Irish-American population. Last night a committee from Division 4, headed by John Barry, visited Division 2 for the purpose of taking preliminary steps in the matter. If these two bodies unite they will certainly provide a day's amusement that will attract the largest Hibernian gathering seen for many years.

Wednesday night the Ladies' Auxiliary met in large numbers and were pleased with the communications and congratulations received from National Secretary Carroll. After Miss Belle O'Connell had been obligated and encouraging reports had been received from the Green and Gold teams, which represent forty-two members on each side, there was a short social session, with vocal and instrumental solos by Misses Julia Kelly and Mamie Keenan. The approaching marriage of two popular members was announced, and before adjourning Miss Mary Sheridan, the energetic President, notified the members that a donkey party was arranged for their entertainment at the next meeting with several handsome prizes.

The ladies of the contesting teams are becoming interested, and the outlook is that all sections of the city will soon be involved in the effort to secure new members. It is predicted that the number will exceed that of the four divisions on March 17.

CONFER WITH POPE.

Emperor William Said to Have Important Subjects to Discuss.

A press dispatch from Rome says Emperor William will soon seek a conference with Pope Pius to discuss important questions, among them the secularization of cemeteries, raised by the Right Rev. Willibrod Benzler, Archbishop of Metz, who has refused to permit the burial of Catholics in Catholic cemeteries in which Protestants have been buried. This is understood to annoy the Emperor greatly, and he would like to have the Archbishop removed, but the Vatican resists his demand. Archbishop Benzler has been appointed on Emperor William's recommendation.

Another serious question is that the Catholic Poles are supported by the Pope in their struggle against the Prussian Government, which is trying to destroy their nationality. Besides these questions, Emperor William, it is said, wishes to receive part of the inheritance of France, so far as concerns the protection of Catholics in the Orient, after the separation of church and State in France actually takes place. His Majesty also insists on the establishment of a Papal delegation to Berlin, while Secretary of State Merry del Val is determined to have a nunciature there or nothing.

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

Witnessed Last Sunday Morning at the Sacred Heart Academy.

Very beautiful and instructive was the ceremony witnessed last Sunday morning at the Sacred Heart Academy at St. Matthews, when the beloved chaplain, Rev. Father McShane, administered the sacrament of first holy communion to Misses Irene Schlosser, Mary Holland, Mary Agnes Breckel, Mary Sanford, Antonetta Rapp, Rufine Rago, Bernetta Bennett, Antoinette Pilet, Irene Folz, Maria Pfeiffer and Ida Wessel. The mass was sung by the convent choir and was rendered in a most excellent manner.

Immediately after the mass luncheon was served to the children and their friends, and at 12 o'clock the pretty dining room to the communion class, their parents and guardians. The tables were laden with all the delicacies of the season, to which justice was done. At the extreme end of the room was a single table banked with ferns and flowers, in the midst of which was a large cake lighted with eleven candles, to represent the new lights added to Christianity. The Sisters vied with each other in making all present enjoy the feast, and the class was impressed with a remembrance of the occasion that will never be forgotten.

RECENT DEATHS.

Heartfelt sympathy is felt for Charles and Lucy Hettich, whose promising son Charles, aged seventeen years, died Wednesday at midnight. The funeral takes place this morning from St. Mary's church on Eighth street.

The friends of Mrs. Nellie Sauer were shocked Tuesday when they learned of the death of her little son Philip, and large numbers called at her home, 316 Letterie avenue, to express their sympathy. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon from St. Joseph's church.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Hagan took place Monday morning from Holy Cross church, of which she was a devout and worthy member. Her death was due to tuberculosis. Besides her husband, Charles R. Hagan, the well known carpenter, three children are left to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Mary Gramnick, an aged and respected member of the Dominican parish, passed to her eternal reward Tuesday evening, leaving a wide circle of friends to mourn her death. The funeral took place Thursday from St. Louis Bertrand's, the interment being in St. Michael's cemetery.

One of the saddest deaths of the past week was that of Eva Duane, the bright and attractive eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Duane, 1423 Seventh street. Before the funeral, which took place from the Dominican church, there was a constant stream of little friends calling at the home to take a farewell look at their playmate, who was a favorite with both young and old.

Few deaths have caused more profound sorrow than that of Mrs. Catherine Foley, who had been ill only a short time. She was well known and respected in Catholic circles, and many there are who will miss her advice and good counsel. One son, Patrolman Edward Foley, and two daughters, Mrs. Katie Ethridge and Miss Mamie Foley, survive her. The funeral took place Monday morning from St. Charles' church, and the esteem in which she was held was attested by the feeling words of Father Raffo to the large gathering of mourning friends.

It was with feelings of profound regret that the many Louisville friends of Miss Mary Murray, of Covington, learned of the sudden and unexpected death of her esteemed father, which came as a great shock to his friends in Covington, where he had been active and prominent for many years. That the deceased was widely known and highly thought of was fully attested by the profusion of floral offerings and the large concourse of friends who attended the funeral obsequies at St. Mary's Cathedral. Miss Murray has the sympathy of all who met her during her visit here.

Announcement of the death of Patrick Mulken, which occurred Sunday at his home, 1621 West Madison street, caused feelings of deep sorrow among his wide circle of friends and acquaintances. He was a native of Ireland, coming to this country when but a youth, and for many years he had been an industrious and respected resident of this city. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from the Sacred Heart church, when Rev. Father Walsh delivered a touching sermon over the remains. Three children, Miss Margaret Mulken, Mrs. William Otto and Patrick Mulken, survive and mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate father.

Today is the anniversary of the Phoenix Park tragedy in 1882.

PROGRAMME

For Fifteenth Biennial Convention of Catholic Knights of America.

Members Will Watch With Interest Work of Their Delegates.

Central Committee Will Hold Meeting to Receive Reports.

LOCAL ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

The fifteenth biennial convention of the Catholic Knights of America, the most important in the history of America's greatest Catholic fraternal insurance society, will convene next week in St. Louis, and the attention of the entire membership is centered upon the work before the supreme body. Having successfully passed through the vexatious and troublesome rerating ordeal, the problem needing immediate and careful consideration is the extension of the order. The Supreme Trustees and Law Committee have been meeting daily since Wednesday considering proposed changes and plans for the future, and their work will greatly facilitate the work of the convention, which will be in session four days.

Tuesday morning the delegates will attend solemn high mass at St. Francis Xavier's church, when the Supreme Spiritual Director, Most Rev. John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, will preach the sermon. The convention sessions will be held in the Sodality Hall of the St. Louis University, only a short distance from St. Xavier's church. The first session will be held immediately after the solemn high mass, when the delegates and visitors will be welcomed by the Hon. Rolla Wells, Mayor of St. Louis, and Cornelius Bauer, Esq., President of the Missouri State Council, Wednesday morning a solemn requiem mass for deceased members will be celebrated in St. Francis Xavier's church and the convention will hold two sessions. Thursday morning the convention will meet at an early hour, and if progress is made the election of officers may take place in the afternoon, otherwise the convention will be unable to adjourn before Friday evening. For Thursday evening the Knights of St. Louis and vicinity have arranged a grand banquet for the supreme officers and delegates.

From present indications there will be no changes in the officers, the feeling being almost unanimous that they should be continued to carry out the legislation they have enacted with such satisfactory results. The State Councils as a rule have endorsed the action of their representatives at the recent extra session by returning them to this convention, and it appears to us they would best show their appreciation of the confidence reposed in them by pursuing the same course and re-electing the present board of supreme officers, and thus assure the success and prosperity of their order. This will doubtless be the course of Judge Shine and John J. Score, Kentucky's representatives, who have had years of experience and have no superiors in the convention. Kentucky has but one member of the Supreme Board, Trustee McGinn, who has fought a noble battle for the past nine months, and in recognition of his services he should receive the unanimous vote of the convention for re-election as Supreme Trustee.

Another matter that will receive the attention of this convention will be the union rank, so ably advocated by Major Gen. Kadeski, who has devoted much time and money to this feature of the order.

Kentucky will be well represented at the convention, members from various parts of the State having signified their intention of attending, among the number being ex-State President Michael Reichert, who has done much good work for the order; William M. Higgins, of the Kentucky Irish American; State Secretary Martin, and Henry Hunold, of this city.

The anniversary celebration by the Louisville Knights will take place tomorrow afternoon at St. Mary's church, when the members of the seventeen Falls Cities branches will assemble and attend solemn vespers at 3 o'clock. This has been the custom for years, and the fact that Rev. Father Westermann will preach the sermon should of itself bring out a large attendance of members.

The Central Committee is arranging for a big general meeting for Tuesday night, May 16, when there will be a reunion of members and friends of the order, at which reports will be made by the Kentucky delegates and perhaps several supreme officers who will be invited to be present. Addresses will also be made setting forth the benefits derived from membership in the Catholic Knights of America, and an effort inaugurated that will bring large numbers into the order and put Kentucky at the head of the list.

GOING TO ROME.

The eloquent and distinguished Archbishop Patrick J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, will sail for Rome on May 11, accompanied by Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American College. It is seventeen years since Archbishop Ryan's last visit to the Eternal City, upon which occasion he was the orator at the laying of the cornerstone of the Irish church, St. Patrick's. He was consecrated Bishop on April 14, 1872, and on June 3, 1884, he became the head of the Philadelphia archdiocese. The venerable prelate will also visit Ireland and take a farewell look at the scenes of his childhood.

VINCENTIANS

Organize a Promising Conference in St. William's Parish.

Nowhere are the members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society more active than in Louisville, and it affords us no little pleasure to announce the organization of a conference of that greatest of all Catholic charitable societies at St. William's church last Sunday night with twenty-six members. The meeting was called by the energetic and popular pastor, Rev. Denis F. Murphy, and the result most certainly have been gratifying to him. Following the selection of Joseph Lynch as Chairman and Thomas Filburn as Secretary the Rev. Father Rock, of the Cathedral, was introduced and spoke on the spiritual works of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. President James Campbell, of the Particular Council, followed with a timely address, and Edward J. O'Brien aroused much enthusiasm by his remarks. After interesting talks by Patrick Liston, John Doyle, Thomas Hines, John McQuese and several others an adjournment was taken, with the understanding that permanent officers would be elected at a meeting to be held for that purpose.

GOOD FOR THEM.

Mackin Council Boys to Put Memorial Window in St. Cecilia's.

Catholics of the city, and especially those of the West End, will feel rejoiced when they learn that Mackin Council has decided to place a handsome stained glass memorial window in the new St. Cecilia's church to be erected by Rev. Father Brady, to whom the young men of that section are greatly attached. This is one of the practical acts of this splendid society of Catholic young men and does them much credit. The window will be an offering in memory of the deceased members, who are never forgotten.

One new member was obligated Tuesday night and two more applications were received. The committee arranging for the picnic reported their plans progressing satisfactorily. After the usual routine business there were short talks, and the meeting was unusually interesting.

JEFFERSONVILLE

Friends of County President Kinney Give Him Surprise.

Quite an agreeable surprise was given John Kinney, County President of the Hibernians of Clark county, Ind., at his home in Jeffersonville last Sunday, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of his birth. His daughter, Miss Mary, had arranged a dinner in his honor, and when he returned from the high mass at St. Augustine's he found his home thronged with friends and well wishers, among whom were Misses Sallie and Annie Kinney, Mary Connor, Sallie Byron, Annie Kinney, Mary Davis, Ella and Mary O'Connell; Messrs. John and James Connors, Tim Kinney, Charles Brock, John and Joe Brown; Messrs. and Mesdames David O'Connell and Louis Constantine, and T. J. Brook, L. A. Connors, W. Speaks and Peter Rapp, of Eminence. Before leaving the table there was a number of congratulatory toasts, and all united in wishing President Kinney many happy returns of the day.

GREAT DERBY

For Annual Spring Meeting of Louisville Jockey Club.

With next week will open the thirty-first annual spring meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club, and it is no exaggeration to say the racing will surpass any ever seen at the historic Churchill Downs. The classic Derby, the turf prize event of the year, will be run Wednesday, the opening day, and the field is a splendid one, with nine starters certain. There are more entries in all the events this year than ever before, among them the kings and queens of the American turf.

President Grainger, Manager Winn and Secretary Davis deserve much praise for what they have done for Louisville and Kentucky, and with Judge Charles Price in the stand the splendid reputation of the Louisville Jockey Club will be sustained. The Clark handicap, the event next in importance to the Derby, will be run Saturday, but the Debutante stakes for two-year-old fillies will attract much interest Thursday. There are now over 1,000 horses stabled at the track and others are constantly arriving. Only fair weather is necessary to give Louisville the banner race meeting of the year.

DUNRAVEN

Says That Ireland Has Reached the Crisis of Her History.

Ruin in Sight Unless Effort Is Made to Save the Island.

The Present System of Government Is a Gross Anachronism.

SELF-GOVERNMENT MUST BE GRANTED

The Earl of Dunraven has written a remarkable pamphlet entitled "The Crisis in Ireland: An Account of the Present Condition with Suggestions for Reform," in which he exhaustively reviews the existing situation. The Earl says:

"Ireland is at a crisis in her history. Year by year the country has been sinking deeper and deeper into misfortune and has now reached a point at which must be decided whether the dominant tendencies shall continue to the inevitable melancholy end or whether a supreme effort shall be made to lift the country out of the national bankruptcy in man power, intelligence and material prosperity which so immediately threatens it."

Lord Dunraven says the land act made a good beginning, but that it is not sufficient to save the country. "As a matter of fact," he adds, "in the period of watching and internecine political strife in England the world overlooked the causes of the distressful condition and has seen merely the quarrels of political parties." He discusses at length the existing situation and insists that the British Government, if it desires to maintain the union, must provide money for the education of the people and give the country a measure of self-government which will afford the people an opportunity to appreciate their own good qualities. He appeals to the moderates in Ireland to lay aside their differences and do something for the salvation of the country. He says that Ireland's best are continually drifting out, while its worst are drifting "toward lunatic asylums, and the remainder will remain in Ireland only by necessity."

Lord Dunraven says the land question is now in course of settlement and that the time is probably coming when Nationalists and Unionists will work together.

Bitterness the present system of government in Ireland as a gross anachronism which satisfies no one. He contends that the Irish are not lazy or devoid of intelligence and points out that they do good work and become leaders of men in every quarter of the globe. Their need at home, he says, is that teaching which the responsibility of their own affairs alone can give.

Lord Dunraven says Ireland can not be Anglicized; that she understands her own affairs best and should manage her own affairs. The pamphlet concludes: "If the union is to be maintained an active, living, Democratic, progressive policy must be applied to the cause of decay."

MEMORIAL MASS.

Thursday morning there was a solemn requiem memorial mass at the Sacred Heart church for the late Sister Mary Allison, who lost her life in the railway collision at Fourteenth and Broadway. The church was thronged with the friends of the school and children taught by the dead Sister. Rev. Patrick Walsh, the pastor, was celebrant of the mass, and was assisted by Rev. A. J. Brady as deacon, Rev. D. O'Sullivan as sub-deacon, and Rev. M. Melody as master of ceremonies. In the sanctuary were Rev. John O'Connor, Rev. John Sheridan, Rev. Thomas W. White and Rev. Francis Felten.

NATIONAL BOARD MEETING.

The National Board of Directors of the Ancient Order of Hibernians are now voting for the next meeting place. Director George Butler, of this city, favors the selection of New York City, which would assure the presence of the National Chaplain, Most Rev. John M. Farley, Archbishop of New York. This will be an important meeting, and we are glad to say that Kentucky will have a splendid report to submit.

HEALTH IS BETTER.

After an illness of over four months Lieut. Edward Burke is able to be out again, though it may be several weeks before he can return to his post. Lieut. Burke has been connected with the police department for many years and is recognized as one of the most capable officers on the force. The public at large will be pleased to know of his improved condition.

MEETING TONIGHT.

The Joint Committee of the three local councils of the Young Men's Institute will meet tonight at Satoll's club rooms. Business pertaining to the new ritual and other matters make necessary the presence of all the members.
