PUBLICITY FOR DISTURBERS.

The Catholic Bulletin, of St. Paul, recently published the names of a number of business men of that city who attended an anti-Catholic lecture, as did the Kentucky Irish American when the Guardians of Liberty attempted their advent here. The men whose names were given can not reasonably object to such publicity, though we have little doubt that they would much rather nothing were said about their activity in the anti-Catholic propaganda. Some of their patrons might not like it—some of them might even be Catholics! Horrors! What would they think? And the True Voice also believes that our plan of publishing the names of those who by their presence and support encourage public disturbers should be followed. The community has a right to know who are behind the movement to divide its citizens into two hostile camps. Usually these men work in the dark. They prefer the darkness because they know their work is evil. Criminals work in the dark when they can. They can do little harm in the light of day. And it is so with these anti-Catholic sowers of discord. The most effective way of combating them is simply to turn the light on their abettors. We do not believe in advertising the anti-Catholic lecturer. He is usually a nondescript or a scoundrel who seeks all the notoriety he can attract to himself. There is little use in wasting time or energy upon him. But those in the community who secretly encourage the imported slanderers of Catholics are in a different position. They are sensitive to public opinion in their community; and they should be made to feel its weight when they plot and plan in secret to sow the seeds of discord among their neighbors. Catholics need not think that they stand alone in opposition to these disturbers. The vast majority of non-Catholics are far from being in sympathy with their propaganda of hate. It is only fair to them as well as to Catholics that sowers of discord should be publicly known. The rest may be safely left to their sense of fair play.

JEWISH OBJECTION.

The school board of Shreveport, in Louisiana, has ordered that the Protestant edition of the Bible shall be read in the public schools of that city. Whereupon The Jewish Ledger makes this comment: "It has always been a source of wonderment to us why the strenuous advocates of the introduction of the Bible into the public schools—in almost every instance they are Protestant clergymen—can so far forget their duty to the State and nation as to subordinate it to the advantages they expect to gain for their churches. They oppose in the strongest terms the efforts of the Catholics to have the children of Catholic parents attend parochial schools of that church and desire that the public schools should be utilized by the people irrespective of creed and at the same time they make every effort to take away from the public schools their character of freedom from sectarianism so that they may be utilized by children of every creed without doing violence to their feelings." To this criticism The American Israelite, of Cincinnati, makes this addition: "The Ledger speaks advisedly, but does not touch the crux of the matter. The clergymen and their followers know that the reading of a few verses from the Bible in the public schools can have absolutely no moral or religious effect. Their object in insisting on Bible reading is that they regard it as an acknowledgment of the supremacy in the land, not only of Christianity, but of Protestant Christianity. And then there is, of course, always the satisfaction of annoying the Roman Catholics, Jews and Free-thinkers. It was these gentlemen who made the Catholic parochial school possible in the United States."

BEAR IN MIND.

Many and foolish are the charges brought against the Catholic church, and therefore its members should prepare themselves for their refutation. The Catholic church is not and never has been a political body. Its purpose is spiritual, not material; it teaches religion, not politics, and those who raise the cry that the church is a political body are people who have some ulterior purpose in view. There is nothing in the doctrines and practices of the church that would serve as a foundation for such a charge. The church has never been opposed to real scientific investigation. There is a bogus science made up of supposed facts, unwarranted assertions and false conclusions which the church has always opposed, as every intelligent person must do. The history of the church and of science shows that there has never been a conflict between them. Whenever a conflict seemed to exist it was due to ignorance either of the church's doctrines or of the facts of science.

And those who would drag the church into the woman suffrage movement are reminded that its attitude toward womanhood is that of her Divine Founder himself. She has always been the guardian of woman and her most sacred interests. The church elevated woman to her present plane and made her the companion, and not the slave, of man. She has made woman queen of the world by the all-sacred position of divine motherhood, to which she raised the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Don Bosco's Messenger, published by the Salesian Fathers, and giving promise of being an excellent monthly, is the latest addition to Catholic journalism. We welcome the Messenger and wish it all success. It is issued from 29 Mott street, New York City.

The Legislature has too much work before it to waste time hearing speeches from faddists and non-members. Let them appear before the various committees and not block the work of either house.

Parliament reassembles February 10, and it will not be long thereafter before home rule for Ireland will be an established fact.

"Evil unto him who evil thinks" is still true.

STRICKEN BY APOPLEXY.

Miles P. Mattingly, aged seventy-two years, died at his home in Owensboro Monday morning as the result of a stroke of apoplexy sustained more than a year ago. He was born in Nelson county and came to Daviess county in 1851. In 1862 Mr. Mattingly enlisted in the Confederate army. He was a member of ten Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and at one time was under Gen. Morgan's command. Mr. Mattingly was one of the most prominent distillers in the State, being the owner of the M. F. Mattingly Distilling Company, and for many years had been active in the improvement and advancement of Owensboro.

DEFENDS FINDING.

The rejection by the Segnatura Tribunal of the Roman Curia of the appeal of the Duchess de Talleyrand, formerly Anna Gould, from the verdict of the Rota Tribunal annulling her marriage to Count Boni de Castellane, has been the subject of discussion in many quarters. The Pope, when informed of the decision and of the possible bad impression it might produce in the United States, is reported to have said that, although it was to be regretted that the decision of the Rota Tribunal should produce such an impression, it was a matter which could not be helped, as ecclesiastical tribunals rendered their verdicts on the merits of the case independently of the moral effect it might have, and without respect to persons.

CONSECRATED.

With impressive and brilliant ceremonial the consecration of the Right Rev. Edward Koslowski took place Wednesday morning in the Cathedral at Milwaukee. Archbishop Messmer was the consecrator, and was assisted by Archbishop Weber, Bishop Richter and many church dignitaries. Following the consecration there was an elaborate dinner in the Cathedral Auditorium for the guests. In the evening the reception and installation of the new Bishop at St. Stanislaus church took place, after which there was a great banquet given by the Polish societies in the Polish Armory in his honor. From the Archbishop's residence Bishop Koslowski was escorted to the armory by a parade of the Polish societies.

RESPECTED MINISTER.

Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, Congregational minister for over half a century, has resigned his pulpit at Columbus, Ohio. Dr. Gladden enjoyed a nation-wide reputation as an outspoken champion of truth, as he perceived it. He was a friend of Catholics wherever he went, and during the A. P. A. agitation twenty years ago he fearlessly denounced the intolerance of the bigots. He was an honored guest at the Catholic Federation convention in Columbus in 1911.

The Knights at Horton, Kas., in observance of their tenth anniversary received holy communion in a body and initiated eight candidates.

Rev. Father Francis O'Connor, of this city, was a visitor at the meeting of Indianapolis Council last week. His remarks were brief but appreciated.

All the councils in Providence, R. I., are increasing. Last week sixteen candidates received the first degree and a large number of applications were received.

Master Frank Carroll announces that the necessary number of applications have been received for the fourth degree exemption at Kansas City on February 22.

Dedicating their own home, conferring the three degrees, ending with banquet and dance, New Year's day will stand out prominently in the history of the council at Salina, Kas.

Indiana initiations will be held at Indianapolis on January 26, when the first degree will be conferred, and at Lafayette on January 26, and Connersville on February 15, with third degree exemptions.

RECENT DEATHS.

Friends and acquaintances extend sympathy to Lee and Emma Hoerter, 1823 Lytle street, whose little son, Martin Norman, has been called into the better world. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from St. Patrick's church.

Mrs. Hannah Baldwin, widow of the late Joseph Baldwin, was called into eternal rest Monday night, following a long illness borne with resignation and fortitude. Besides one son, William Baldwin, she leaves two sisters, Misses Mary and Margaret Foley. The remains rested at the residence of Dan W. Cuniff, 127 East Breckinridge street, until Thursday morning, when the funeral was held from St. Mary Magdalen's church.

Death has claimed another of the oldest and most faithful members of St. Anthony's church in the person of Mrs. Dannenhold, 2622 West Jefferson street. She was seventy-two years old and the widow of Adam Dannenhold, and is survived by four sons and three daughters—Joseph F., Andrew, Charles and George Dannenhold and Mrs. Katie Rutter, Mrs. Anna C. Box and Miss Mary Dannenhold. The funeral services were held Thursday morning from St. Anthony's, attended by a large number of old friends and acquaintances.

Thomas Hasselback, fifty-nine years of age, a former policeman and a widely known resident of Portland, died Tuesday morning at his home, 3307 Rude avenue, following an illness of a year of tuberculosis. He was a native of Mississippi, but had spent nearly all his life in Louisville. He was a brother of the late N. Hasselback, and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harry Bruder and Mrs. C. A. Carpenter. The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Church of Our Lady, Rev. Father Conniff officiating at the high mass of requiem.

MACKIN COUNCIL.

Owing to the social activities of Mackin Council the first of the year there was a lull at the meeting Monday night. President George Thornton occupied the chair and presided with a dignity and alertness that presages a satisfactory administration. Quite a number of applications were received, which encourages Mackin to believe that it will lead in the joint initiation to be held in New Albany on February 8. Reports from the Social Club and the Basketball League indicated interest in both with prospects for a most successful season. During the rest of the winter season the meetings will be made interesting by addresses by the younger members, a feature that should increase the attendance.

EUCHE AND LOTTO.

The ladies and gentlemen of St. Louis Bertrand's church will give a euchre and lotto next Friday afternoon and evening in Bertrand Hall, Sixth street, near Oak, the afternoon euchre to begin at 2:30 o'clock and the evening euchre at 8. The proceeds will be donated to the church debt fund, and as the fast decreasing debt of the church has enthused the members of the congregation a large attendance is expected to be present.
