VINCENTIAN

Pay Special Homage to Great Founder of Their Grand Society.

Thronged St. John's Church at Annual Festival Sunday Morning.

General Meeting Addressed by Rev. Fathers Deppen and Donahue.

MEMBER FOR FIFTY LONG YEARS

Last Sunday the Vincentians of Louisville paid marked honor to the founder of their society, the great St. Vincent de Paul, recognized the world over as the savior of the poor. Early in the morning men from all parts of the city thronged St. John's church at Clay and Walnut, where they attended the anniversary high mass, celebrated by the Rev. Father Schumann, D. D., who also preached a short but forceful sermon, in which he welcomed the Vincentians to his church and commended them for their noble work, which was among the poor and without regard to race, creed or color. The choir rendered a special musical programme that was much appreciated, and between 400 and 500 men received holy communion. Upon all sides were heard expressions of appreciation of the arrangements and reception accorded the large number present by the officers and members of St. John's conference.

The annual meeting was held in the Knights of Columbus auditorium at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when another large gathering was assembled. President John A. Doyle occupied the chair and Rev. Father Donahue, of the Cathedral, offered the opening prayer. Secretary Bohan recorded the conference reports, which showed that during the quarter ending June 30, one hundred families had been visited and assistance rendered nearly 500 persons. This did not include all the works of the society, and it was somewhat disappointing that several Secretaries had not their reports present. The total distributed in charity aggregated over $1,200, that was only a part of the relief work performed.

Chairman Maphor reported the work being done at the School of Reform, where the boys are being made better and will want co-operation when they go out into the world. Representative Maphor was called upon and told of the good results achieved from St. Elizabeth's library. Thomas Hynes said the jail was visited regularly and the inmates counseled and encouraged to lead better lives. At the City Hospital, the Alms House, the Work House and the sanitariums regular visits were made, religious books and articles and magazines and clothing being distributed among the unfortunates.

When called upon Vice President Edward J. O'Brien spoke of the two new conferences just aggregated. The society, he said, has done and is doing great work, which with increased membership will grow. He expressed the opinion that a debt of gratitude was owed Father Schumann and St. John's Conference for the cordial reception of the morning.

When President Doyle introduced Father Deppen as a Vincentian they all knew he was given an ovation. The reverend speaker began an eloquent and feeling address by stating that he felt very much at home with the Vincentians, and to be with them was like enjoying a rest and vacation. Father Deppen was edified with the attendance and the spirit exhibited. He also said that the Vincentians were steadily becoming stronger. Saying that he was nearing his golden jubilee as a member, he spoke at some length on Rome, Paris and St. Vincent de Paul and his visit to his tomb in Paris. St. Vincent de Paul was the apostle of the seventeenth century, and his charity and example have conferred a wondrous grace upon the entire world. In concluding Father Deppen declared that when the sun of life is setting the Vincentian will realize that for him is the hundred-fold reward at the hour of death.

The happy incident of the meeting was the announcement by Father Donahue that in their midst was a true and genuine follower of St. Vincent de Paul, who just fifty years ago became a member of the society. Father Donahue paid a high tribute to the life and works of Thomas F. Hill, with the expressed hope that he be long spared to meet with them. Mr. Hill is the oldest Vincentian in Kentucky, and when the members present had recovered from their pleasant surprise they surrounded him to extend congratulations. With a few further words of advice and encouragement from Father Donahue the great meeting was closed with prayer.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

Beloved by thousands, without regard to creed or all, and highly respected by thousands more who recognize his sterling honesty and generous sympathies, His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons on Thursday celebrated his eightieth birthday, receiving congratulatory cablegrams, telegrams and letters from all over the world. Cardinal Gibbons is an American of Americans, a rare combination of gentleness and strength, one who has kept himself well informed upon national and international issues, and has given his opinion frankly and fearlessly where he believed that advice would be of value. Our hope and prayer is that his age may rest lightly and that God may grant him many more birthdays on earth.

CLIFF HAVEN.

These closing days of the month of July find the Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven fairly quivering with buoyant activity. Everybody is busy at enjoying himself and in making the time pass pleasantly for others. Not an idle moment intervenes between the dawn before sunrise and the somber stillness that precedes the winking hour. The days are spent in outdoor recreation of various kinds, while the nights are given over to socials and cottage receptions. The number of outdoor devotees here is legion. By far the vast majority of the guests take part in athletic contests of one kind or another, and those few who are not able to participate in the more strenuous pursuits always turn out to witness the contests on the diamond, the tennis courts and the golf links, to lend their encouragement to their more active neighbors. On Sunday the Summer School entered upon the fourth week of its present session. The attendance on that day was normal, comparing favorably with the attendance of the past two years. The usual Sunday programme was observed in its entirety. Over thirty masses were celebrated at the nine altars in the little Chapel of Our Lady of the Lake between the hours of 8:30 and 10:30. The mass at 10:30 was a high mass, sung by the Rev. A. N. Dougherty, of Boston, Mass. At it a strong and powerful sermon against Socialism and Socialistic tendencies was preached by the Rev. Herman J. Maackel, S. J., the morning lecturer of the past week.

LEAVING FOR IRELAND.

Dr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Thompson leave Monday for New York, from where they will sail for a two months' visit to Ireland, as the guests of Dr. Thompson's brother, John G. Thompson, of Londonderry. Dr. and Mrs. Thompson will tour the Emerald Isle, and expect to return the first of October.

FOR ST. ANN'S DAY.

Tomorrow being her feast day, the Rev. Father John T. Hill and the people of his parish will give special honor to St. Ann, the mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary and the patron of their church. The first mass at St. Ann's church, Seventh and Davis, will be at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the second, a high mass, at 8:30. At the evening devotion at 7:30 o'clock the Rev. Father Raffo, pastor of St. Charles church, will deliver the sermon. The blessing with the relic of St. Ann will be given immediately after the high mass and also after the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the evening. All those who are devoted to the good St. Ann, the holy mother of the Blessed Virgin, are invited to these exercises. The Sixth street cars run to the church.

TEDDY TO SPEAK.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has been invited to be the principal speaker at the Chicago Irish Counties Social Union demonstration to be held on Sunday, August 9. Other orators invited to address the gathering are Gov. Dunne, Senator Lewis, County Judge John E. Owens, Barret E. Keane, of New York, who will speak on "The Irish in America," John O'Malley Corhlan on "The Ulster Situation," County Judge John E. Owens on "The Truth," and Roger C. Sullivan, on "What Unity Means."

PICNIC A SUCCESS.

The annual reunion and picnic given under the auspices of the County Board, A. O. H., at Phoenix Hill Park last Tuesday was a splendid success in every way, an unusually large crowd being present. Characteristic with the usual run of Hibernian affairs, it was one big family gathering, everyone knowing everyone else and all having a good time.

K. OF C. PICNIC.

The annual picnic of the local council Knights of Columbus will be given at Fern Grove on Thursday, August 20, two boats going up in the morning at 9 o'clock and 10 o'clock. The attendance at this picnic is confined to members and their families.

HOME RULE

Small Hope For Agreement and Conference May Come to Naught.

Redmond Declines to Go Beyond the Concessions Asquith Made.

Interest in Crisis Overshadows Everything Else in British Isle.

CONFLICTING RUMORS HEARD

Thursday's London dispatches say that at the close of a Cabinet council late Wednesday night it became known that there is only the smallest prospect of the home rule conference arriving at an agreement, and its termination after it reassembles tomorrow is regarded as certain. Sir Edward Carson, it is understood, stands out for the complete exclusion of six counties in Ulster from the operation of the home rule bill, including Fermanagh and Tyrone, while John Redmond declines as firmly to go beyond the concessions Premier Asquith already has made in permitting county referendums, and unless some way out of the difficulty is discovered at the eleventh hour it is believed Premier Asquith will be obliged to announce the failure of the conference.

All kinds of rumors are current, one that Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, representing the minority in the Cabinet favoring the clean-cut exclusion of Ulster, had threatened to resign; another that the King will make another dramatic move at the conference, and that the general election has become inevitable.

Premier Asquith's assurance to Parliament, in which he assumed full responsibility for the King's speech, and declared no constitutional precedent had been contravened, allayed much of the angry feeling among the Liberals, or at least transferred it from the King to the Premier himself. Premier Asquith, on being questioned as to the calling of the conference, said with emphasis that all attending the conference did so unconditionally. He declined to discuss why was being held in Buckingham Palace instead of the House of Commons. When asked whether there would be an opportunity for discussion of the subject in the House Premier Asquith retorted, "Time will show."

Active negotiations are proceeding outside Buckingham Palace between the party leaders. Premier Asquith had an interview with Lord Lansdowne and Andrew Bonar Law, the opposition leaders, between two separate sittings of the Cabinet, which it is presumed is engaged in preparing proposals for submission to the adjourned meeting of the conference.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, received tonight resolutions adopted at a conference at Omagh of Nationalist delegates from the counties of Derry, Tyrone and Fermanagh, affirming unabated confidence in the Irish leader, and declaring that at the risk of their lives Ulster Nationalists would never consent to be separated from the Irish nation.

Public interest in the crisis over the Irish home rule question overshadowed everything else in the British Isles. When the representatives of the Liberals, Conservatives, Irish Nationalists and Ulster Unionists arrived at Buckingham Palace to continue their conference with a view to a pacific settlement of the Ulster problem, they found an enormous crowd assembled in the great open space before the gates of the palace. The various statesmen as they passed in were respectfully greeted by their sympathizers. Having disposed of the preliminaries of the conference at Tuesday's formal meeting, when King George addressed the assembled statesmen, the conferees arrived Wednesday prepared to tackle the crux of the problem—the area of Ulster to be excluded from the operation of the Irish home rule bill and the means of carrying out this exclusion. Some clearing of the ground had also been effected during the informal conferences. Openly of course the two sides declare that they can not withdraw from their present positions, but it is understood that Premier Asquith is likely to submit to the conference a proposal to allow the Protestant counties of Ulster to vote together on the question of exclusion from the Home Rule Parliament, and that he may also go so far as to change the time limit of six years embodied in the attending bill.

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, will make a fight to have the County of Tyrone included in this agreement, and this proposition will it is thought provoke a conflict which will decide the fate of the conference. The conferees were again in session for an hour and a half Wednesday and then adjourned until Thursday. At Wednesday's meeting the claims of the two opposing Irish parties, led by John E. Redmond and Sir Edward Carson, on the crucial question of the area of Ulster to be excluded from the home rule bill, were presented to the conferees. As neither the Nationalist nor the Ulster Unionist leader possesses plenipotentiary powers, however,

COMING EVENTS.

Thursday, August 27—Annual reunion and picnic of St. Leo's congregation, on grounds adjoining church, Highland Park.

These claims must be submitted to the consideration of their respective party caucuses at each stage, so that the progress of the conference necessarily must be deliberate. John Redmond and John Dillon, as they left Buckingham Palace, passed along the sidewalk in front of Wellington barracks, received a great reception from the men of the battalion of Irish guards stationed there. The soldiers crowded to the windows of the barracks rooms, cheering wildly and waving their caps. The Liberal newspapers in the provinces continue to criticize King George's speech, which most of them will not believe the Cabinet was responsible for. They appear to be particularly irritated at the phrase, "the cry of civil war is on the lips of the most responsible and sober minded of my people," which they say might have been taken from the speeches of the Ulster leaders.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

One of the happiest social events of the past week was the birthday surprise and reception Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Clines, 1037 South Sixth street, in honor of Mrs. Nellie Noonan, the wife of James Noonan, 1319 Bellwood avenue. The house was thronged with friends and well wishers of "Aunt Nellie," who showered her with congratulations and then led the way to the bountifully laden tables where a delightful birthday dinner was enjoyed. TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

Manager Emmet Hanrahan and his Shamrock team pulled off the surprise of the season in the Catholic Baseball League last Sunday when they easily defeated the Champions in a 2 to 1 game. Ray Harrigan, of the Shamrocks, striking out fourteen of the leaders, while his teammates knocked out Bohn, of the Champions, and also batted Brownfield freely, the latter having been called in on an S. O. S. sign. The Olympics again led the Champions for first place by walloping Dan O'Connell's Trinity aggregation, while the improved Bruins beat the fast coming Imperials, knocking E. Harrigan out of the box, while Sullivan, for the winners, twirled a beautiful game. Mackin Council's team secured revenge for their past couple of defeats by hammering the ball all over the park against the K. of C. team, Manager George Thornton coaching from the bench for the winners. The schedule for tomorrow is as follows: Bruins vs. Olympics, Trinity vs. Shamrocks, Champions vs. K. of C. and Mackin vs. Imperials. POLITICAL

Pot Will Be Kept Boiling All During Whole of Next Week.

Cincinnati Enquirer Poll Shows the Weakness of Beckham Hopes.

Louisville Democracy Can Not Be Coerced or Coaxed For Beckham.

FRANK M'GRATH AIDS M'CREARY

With the primary only one week off, the political pot is beginning to boil and some warm times from a Democratic standpoint are expected before next Saturday, the Senatorial race being the chief topic of conversation on all sides, and from what was expected to be a quiet, uninteresting primary at first, has grown into a pretty three-cornered fight, this past week witnessing some real campaigning, while the race for the Senatorial short term between Senator Camden and Gen. Bennett Young has also become real interesting.

A new light was thrown on the race for the long term by the figures compiled by the Cincinnati Enquirer's Kentucky correspondent, who gathered estimates on the race from disinterested sources, and to do so has shown that in 100 counties the race was pretty close between Beckham and Stanley, but that the Beckham managers were holding their country followers in line by the statement that the big vote Beckham would receive in Louisville and Jefferson county would swing the balance in his favor.

Judging from the above, and if the Beckham hopes are founded on no more substantial support than the foregoing, the ex-Governor's cause is in bad shape, as there is and can not be the slightest doubt in the mind of any student of the political situation that Beckham will not receive 4,000 votes in the whole of Jefferson county, this statement being made in these columns from the outset and with due respect to the political leaders and men (some not being leaders) selected to represent the Beckham-Haly duo here. There has been no change in the situation, the rank and file of Democracy stating emphatically that they are against Beckham no matter who his local backers may be, and the hint thrown out that the administration would support the ex-Governor is disproven by the fact that in the police and fire departments 90 per cent. of the Captains announce themselves against his candidacy. There is also quite a little feeling against some of the announced Beckham promoters here, and some of the present office-holders will have a little trouble later on in explaining why they espoused the cause of Beckham and Haly, who have never made any attempt to conceal their contempt for the Louisville Democracy. There were several contributions to the Beckham campaign fund published this week by those who have nothing in common with Louisville Democrats, among them being Col. Callahan, who has contributed $500, and whom it was rumored contributed both to Axton's election and proposed contest funds.

The latest attempt of some of the Beckham supporters to muddy the waters by claiming that the Stanley supporters and liquor interests will attempt to steal the election is simply a cry of stop thief, their assertion not being borne out by facts, but on the other hand some of the Beckham crowd should bear in mind that the Federal laws govern the primary as well as the election and any attempt to defeat the will of the voter will be watched, and there will be no holding back of the returns from the mountain counties, as was done several years ago in the Beckham-McCreary race.

An added impetus to Gov. McCreary's chances in Louisville was given Wednesday evening by the meeting of some of the Governor's supporters at the Seelbach hotel, the meeting being presided over by Frank McGrath, Chairman of the local committee, and among those present were ex-Mayor Charles P. Weaver, Representative William Kuh, Senator Sam Robertson, Representative Mayrck O'Brien, Magistrate P. T. Sullivan, James McGrath, Councilmen E. J. Parker and M. J. McDermott, Representative John Drecher, Col. Charles B. Norton, Col. William Thalheimer, Thomas Tarry and W. P. McDonogh. There is no doubt but that the personality of Frank McGrath aid greatly in strengthening the Governor's race here, no other one man or set of men having as large a number of followers, who are loyal to his every interest and who will follow his lead unswervingly in any political contest, and coming from all walks of life they are a power to be reckoned with.

The local managers of Gen. Bennett Young's candidacy for the short Senatorial term report that they are more than pleased with the General's campaign out in the State and predict big majorities from Muhlenberg, Breckinridge, Graves, Calloway, McCracken, Hickman, Henderson, Daviess, Webster, Marshall, Shelby, Anderson, Mercer, Madison, Henry, Trimble, Carroll, Oldham, Gallatin, Estill, Lee, Lincoln, Grayson, Bullitt and Nelson counties. Logan Rock, James Scanlon and "Billy"

Semonin are handling Jefferson county in Gen. Young's interest.

The campaign managers of Senator Johnson Camden announce that they are satisfied with the result of their campaign thus far and say the fact that the Senator has remained at his post of duty in Washington has been one of their biggest campaign assets in the race for the short term. James O'Connor, the local Court Receiver, is one of the chief promoters of Senator Camden's Jefferson county campaign and he claims a big majority for his man in this district.

HOLY NAME RALLY.

The annual rally of the Holy Name Societies of the diocese of Covington will be held on September 27 at St. Anthony's church in Bellevue. It is expected that over 15,000 men will be in the line of march. Former Mayor Joe Cassidy is Chairman of the local committee, and is making arrangements for the programme. Judge Ed J. Kennedy, of West Covington, President of the Holy Name Society, will deliver an address. The speaker of the day will be Rev. Ignatius M. Ahmann, rector of St. Aloysius' church, Covington. RELATED TO PRIEST.

It is not generally known by the average Catholic follower of baseball that Joe Cantillon, owner and manager of the Minneapolis team, is a relation of the late Rev. Father De Cantillon, the Dominican missionary, who was stationed at St. Louis Bertrand's church for many years.

The Ladies' Sewing Society of St. Anthony's Hospital will give their annual garden party and lawn festival on the beautiful lawn of Mr. and Mrs. M. ST. HELEN'S PICNIC DAY.

Next Wednesday is the day selected for the annual picnic by St. Helen's congregation, on the Eighteenth street road at Shively. These affairs grow more enjoyable each year, as a really excellent supper is served. The lawn around the school house, where the outing is held, is always well lighted with electricity, and this year in addition the Rev. John B. Peffer, the pastor, has made arrangements to have electric fans in the dining room. No admission to the grounds will be charged, and the Orell cars pass the door.
