

HIKE TO HEICKS
THE CONSERVATION STORE
For Anything You May Need in HARDWARE
HENRY HEICK HARDWARE CO.
322 W. Market St.
Both Phones 432 Louisville, Ky.

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN

KEEP COOL
HARMON'S
ICE CREAM
430 S. Eighth St.
Wholesale and Retail
Home Phone City 7075

VOLUME XLII.—NO. 14.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1918.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

CAMP NEWS

Two Big Shows Staged For Second Training Battalion at Auditorium.

First Sunday That Passes Without Mass Due to Influenza Epidemic.

Staff of Knights of Columbus Secretaries Now Numbers Nineteen.

THE CHAPLAIN SCHOOL OPENS.

The Knights of Columbus auditorium on Poplar Level road furnished the big events the past week when the Second Training Battalion of the officers' training school gave a show and refreshment entertainment Wednesday evening under the direction of Lieut. Gaumer, followed by the El Nono Minstrels on Thursday. The show of the Officers' Training Battalion was made up of songs by a quartette composed of Candidates Johnson, Isenbaum, Mulholland and Storey. The men were all trained singers and their numbers were very classical. Candidate Kelly gave selections on the piano, followed by Frank Dolan from Jersey City, whose monologue was the "hit" of the evening. Dolan told stories that were entirely new to the men and his style was most amusing. The boxing and wrestling numbers were also enjoyed by the men. The boxing and wrestling numbers were also enjoyed by the men. The boxing and wrestling numbers were also enjoyed by the men.

ing, while little Miss Eileen Clines sang her way into the hearts of the F. A. R. D. men and will probably be listed on the K. C. circuit with the other stars during the coming winter. Mrs. Pusaro, contralto singer of marked ability, was called upon to sing three numbers before being excused. The programme was concluded by soldier talent, which is very plentiful at Camp Zachary Taylor. Secretaries Villier and McCormack at No. 4 are doing great work for the men of the Observation Batteries, who have little time to do so many things. At building No. 1, Miss Nona Sullivan, of Lafayette, Ind., gave a song recital on Tuesday evening, accompanied by Miss O'Neill. Miss Sullivan is a most finished artist and will be very welcome again. Another entertainer who made a decided hit with the troops at the Louisville and Nashville station Monday morning when fifty-two of St. Xavier's graduates entrained en route to Cincinnati to enlist in the Students Army Training Corps. It was a joyous and a sad departure, as quite a number of the mothers and sisters were in tears. To the glory of the mothers of St. Xavier's boys several have already seen three of their other sons go off, and Monday's departure made the fourth and last. Another mother had her only boy to go, and the good woman was willing, yet she felt the sacrifice as her husband has been called to his reward. During the week also many more of the student-soldiers left for various colleges, and the Catholic colleges of Notre Dame, St. Xavier's at Cincinnati, Catholic University at Washington, St. Louis University, Loyola College at Chicago, Spring Hill College, Spring Hill, Ala., St. Mary's, Kansas, and De Paul University at Chicago had by far the majority. Two of St. Xavier's graduates working in New London, Conn., ordered by Yale University, frequently during the day, concentrate our thoughts on our beds.

TAKING WAR COURSE.

Over 400 people, including fathers, mothers, sisters and sweethearts, were at the Louisville and Nashville station Monday morning when fifty-two of St. Xavier's graduates entrained en route to Cincinnati to enlist in the Students Army Training Corps. It was a joyous and a sad departure, as quite a number of the mothers and sisters were in tears. To the glory of the mothers of St. Xavier's boys several have already seen three of their other sons go off, and Monday's departure made the fourth and last. Another mother had her only boy to go, and the good woman was willing, yet she felt the sacrifice as her husband has been called to his reward. During the week also many more of the student-soldiers left for various colleges, and the Catholic colleges of Notre Dame, St. Xavier's at Cincinnati, Catholic University at Washington, St. Louis University, Loyola College at Chicago, Spring Hill College, Spring Hill, Ala., St. Mary's, Kansas, and De Paul University at Chicago had by far the majority. Two of St. Xavier's graduates working in New London, Conn., ordered by Yale University, frequently during the day, concentrate our thoughts on our beds.

CATHOLIC ORPHAN SOCIETY.

Tomorrow afternoon the Catholic Orphan Society will hold its quarterly general meeting at St. Thomas' church, thus affording the members and friends of the orphans an excellent opportunity of seeing the many improvements that have been made. The same opportunity will be given at St. Vincent's, where the next meeting will be held at 7 o'clock.

MAN AMONG MEN.

Columns of sympathetic comment upon the life and labors, the religious zeal and patriotic devotion of the late Cardinal Farley filled the New York papers. Practically each of the great metropolitan dailies honored his memory with a special editorial replete with kindly feeling and high appreciation for the many admirable qualities of the illustrious prelate. The following tribute from the New York Evening Sun may be taken as typical of the tone of the entire press: "Cardinal Farley's long and useful life is bound to be an inspiration to youth and a pattern for maturity. Not more as churchman and prelate than as a simple lover of mankind, a man among men, human, lovable, gently tolerant and filled with the peace which abides in the innocent heart, this good man was held in adequate esteem, love and reverence by his friends of every order. Throughout his career, during a great part of which he was a definite influence in New York, his kindly figure, whether as parish priest or Cardinal Archbishop, has always been recognized as a fixed star in the firmament of his church, whose magnitude was accurately reckoned and securely established. He was a sturdy defender of his devout faith, religious and political; never finding occasion for harsh judgment, nor yet relaxing firmness in the essentials of man's duty to God, the State and himself. In the course of so long a life in high ecclesiastical station a thousand incidents might be recalled indicative of the character of the faithful shepherd of souls, of the spirit in which meekness joined with the acceptance of high responsibility. Yet none are needed, for many thousands cherish personal memories of the well beloved friend which are more precious to them than any of the more public incidents. The other day when Bishop Greer read prayers in Trinity for the Cardinal as he lay ill nobody saw anything surprising in the action, however unusual. Beloved by all who knew him, his consummate worth was taken for granted by all commentators.

As the life of the Cardinal was slowly ebbing away, the Jews did not forget him while celebrating their New Year's festivities. "Prayers" wrote the New York Herald, "were offered in many synagogues at Yom Kippur services for the distinguished churchman." So men of all creeds and all factions united in publicly showing their esteem for this "lover of mankind," this "man among men."

ROSARY MONTH.

The month of October is known in the church as the month of the Rosary, and it is well at this time to recite the Rosary by St. Dominic and his followers, and even writers of history who were in no way in sympathy with the church have recorded the great fervor of the Christian people that were aroused in those days by St. Dominic. The great victory of Don John and his Christian army over the Turks on the first Sunday of October, 1571, was regarded by the Christian world as due in a great measure to the recitation of the Rosary by the members of the Rosary Confraternity. According to a writer in the Dublin Irish Rosary there is more constant devotion to the beads the year around among the Irish than among any other people. In the present awful war in which our American boys are so valiantly fighting it has been mentioned several times in dispatches from foreign countries that it has been noticed that the Catholic soldiers among the Americans are well supplied with Rosary beads and used them most devoutly. Here at home we should be at least as devout and during this month of October particularly, frequently during the day, concentrate our thoughts on our beds.

SERVICE FLAG BLESSED.

Last Sunday there took place at St. James' church, of which the Rev. Father Willert is the beloved pastor, a beautiful and impressive ceremony, the blessing and dedication of a really beautiful parish service flag, on the field of which were placed 415 names of our boys in the service. The flag was given by the parish to our country and its cause. In the morning the members of the Men's Social Club united with other members of the congregation in a general communion offering for the welfare of the soldiers and sailors furnished for their ranks. In the afternoon the school to form in procession and marched to the church for the service flag ceremony. During which the congregation united in singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner." The roll call of our boys was read, the patriotic sermon delivered by one of the army chaplains from Camp Zachary Taylor. The services concluded with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

HONORED BY THOUSANDS.

State, municipal, civic and industrial activities in St. Paul and Minneapolis were halted Wednesday when the body of Archbishop John Ireland, of the diocese of St. Paul, was borne to a grave in Calvary cemetery. The ceremony in the archdiocese Cathedral and the funeral procession were solemnly impressive. Hundreds of military men attended the Pontifical high mass. Archbishop Ireland was a chaplain in the civil war, and it has been said that his untiring efforts to assist his country after war was declared on Germany caused the physical exhaustion and remains are held every Tuesday night at Bertrand Hall and already such progress has been made. This society was organized for the development of vocal music, and has for its object sacred concerts and musical entertainments, and throughout it is hoped that singers throughout the city will be interested and will forward the movement that has been started. A cordial invitation is extended to all Catholic choirs to attend the rehearsals on Tuesday evenings, and to become members.

CHORAL SOCIETY.

The St. Louis Bertrand Choral Society feels confident of a most successful year, as great interest is being manifested in its work and new members are being constantly enrolled. Meetings and rehearsals are held every Tuesday night at Bertrand Hall and already such progress has been made. This society was organized for the development of vocal music, and has for its object sacred concerts and musical entertainments, and throughout it is hoped that singers throughout the city will be interested and will forward the movement that has been started. A cordial invitation is extended to all Catholic choirs to attend the rehearsals on Tuesday evenings, and to become members.

NEWMAN—MOORMAN.

The marriage of Miss Bernadetta Newman, of Valley Station, and Walter Moorman, a popular young resident of Louisville, was quietly solemnized on Thursday of last week at St. Joseph's church, Bowling Green, Rev. Father Hayes performing the ceremony.

DEMOCRATS

Laughing at Futile Attempts of the Bruner Senatorial Boosters.

Near Mayor Smith Issues Another Harmless Bulletin in Toreador Style.

Chief Petty Quite an Adept at Stripping Badges Off Soused Keystoners.

LOUISVILLE ATTRACTS CROOKS.

One of the funniest performances we know of is the daily attire of the Louisville Herald trying to bolster up the Bruner candidacy for United States Senator and make claims for the local doctor that are laughable. To begin with Bruner is lamentably weak in the Eleventh district, the Republican stronghold, and this is accounted for by the fact that the mountain Republicans are bitterly sore over the defeat of their own Bethuram. Then again the Morrow faction is sulking because he wasn't prevailed on to take the nomination for Senator and the Morrow and Bethuram factions together can't see why they should tear their shirts for Bruner, the city chap. On top of this glaring weakness the Republican nominee flew off half cocked on the German language question, which acted as a boomersong of the worst kind, and the doctor is still trying to crawl out of his original position. Gov. Stanley and Senator Beckham appealing together from the same stump has been the same as waving a red flag in front of a fire. The doctor is still trying to see that in the event Bruner grows weaker National Committee member Hert will have a hard time persuading the National Republican Campaign Committee to send a big campaign fund here, and the doctor won't get the little bit of the slush fund. No wonder the Herald froths at the mouth in its abuse of Gov. Stanley. There's a reason.

Old near Mayor Smith came out with his weekly rant, and got this time off again on that guff about being Mayor. Someone ought to pinch him and wake him out of that dream that he is Mayor instead of just the near Mayor. How he would have enjoyed taking a peck from the real Mayor, and his two assistants, the Vice Mayors Paul Burlingame and Dave Rose, when they read Smith's daydream that he was Mayor. My! how they must have chuckled at the thought of the city and every now and then they allow the near Mayor to issue one of his grandiose bulletins on some subject like the fall races, boxing, cock-fighting, and the like. These things are so used as to catch anything they are not liable to catch a disease. They are sure safe from the influenza plague. An out-of-town man who was robbed said disgustedly that he could not say a word about Africa for ivory when we have the Keystoners here.

ST. MICHAEL'S.

Last Sunday the feast of St. Michael the Archangel, patron of St. Michael's church on Brook street, was both a solemn and festive day for the people of that parish and was celebrated with joyous and impressive ceremony under the direction of the new pastor, Rev. Father Reinhardt, who has already won to him the entire congregation. The celebration of the children of the parish school around the church, followed by solemn high mass, rendered a special musical programme. The sermon of the day was preached by a priest from the chaplains' training school at Camp Zachary Taylor, who paid eloquent tribute to St. Michael and his patriotic followers of the present day. The day was a home coming for many old members from all over the city and showed that with them the old church yet holds its place.

LIKES THE NAVY.

James J. Gleason, who is in the navy and stationed at the Great Lakes training station was here to participate in the Liberty Loan campaign and visited many friends, who were elated over his fine appearance. While in Louisville he stopped at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Gleason, 1133 Garvin place. Gleason, an enlisted man in the service of his country he was connected with the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company.

PROPER SPIRIT.

H. D. Dickson, former Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Dayton, Ohio, who spent nine months behind the firing line in France and Belgium, at a dinner meeting of the Dayton Fourth Degree Assembly pointed to the splendid spirit of co-operation which has characterized the efforts of the K. of C. and of Y. M. C. A. in their war camp activities in the cantonnements of this country and behind the battle lines of Europe. "When there is some service to be rendered the soldier," he said, "the Knights of Columbus or the Y. M. C. A. go ahead and do it speedily and efficiently. When an emergency arises there is no question raised as to which organization should act. The one common aim is to serve our soldiers, regardless of who gets the credit."

BELOVED PASTOR ILL.

Rev. J. J. Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Leo's church of Highland Park, is ill at St. Vincent's Hospital in New York City, where he had gone on a visit to recuperate. New York being Father Fitzgerald's home town. As pastor of Holy Cross church of this city, Church of the Annunciation, Shelbyville and St. Leo's he has endeared himself to many and possesses a wide acquaintance. Father Fitzgerald has done noble work in this diocese in the upbuilding of struggling congregations, and though not an old man in years has been falling in health the past few years from the long and steady strain of his pastoral work. The best wishes and prayers of his many friends in this section who know and appreciate him are being said for a speedy recovery.

CHURCH OF OUR LADY.

A magnificent demonstration of patriotism will take place at the Church of Our Lady, Thirty-fifth and Ruid, when a beautiful service flag of sixty-nine stars will be blessed and dedicated to its noble purposes preceding the solemn high mass on Sunday morning, October 13. The societies of the church will assemble in the school rooms and form an imposing procession to the church, singing national airs. An augmented choir, under the direction of Prof. Reckenwald, will render the musical programme and Rev. Martin O'Connor, the new pastor, will sing the mass, at which a sermon appropriate to the occasion will be preached. This occasion will make a fine showing for the Church of Our Lady and its sixty-nine brave men gone to the front. Catholics, Protestants and Jews are all asked to assist in this patriotic ride by side for their country and the freedom of oppressed nationalities, and therefore there will be a welcome for all without distinction of creed. Those represented by stars on the flag are: Grover King, William Kuber, George P. Warren, Bernard Huber, Joseph E. Starr, George E. Becker, William E. Murta, Joseph J. Logan, Graham Logan, Thomas Peffer, Peter Peffer, John H. Ray, Matthew J. Gabel, John Mooney, Joseph Mooney, James E. Lally, William Lally, J. Schofield Lally, Walter P. Lally, Charles W. Hennessy, James P. Donaghue, Charles J. Donaghue, Cornelius A. Donaghue, Thomas Malone, Michael Moran, James Moran, Frank G. Luce, John A. Buckley, Charles E. Korman, Reinhard LaPaille, Walter LaPaille, Herman J. Philpott, James Bloat, Charles W. Flannery, John R. Cahill, Joseph Cahill, John B. Tully, Bernard A. Muench, Carl P. Schaefer, Eugene E. Michot, John Rittman, Joseph E. Gilman, Thomas R. Edleman, Harry Blanford, Leo R. Ross, Clifton Howe, Elmer Drant, Philip B. Watson, Richard F. Hollis, William J. Holle, John E. Masters, Leo R. Singhiser, George Singhiser, Roy J. Huff, Joseph E. Bluff, William J. Philpott, John J. Cronin, Laurence French, Henry Legler, H. Stanley Pfanz, Thomas E. Hughes, Wallace Craven, Richard Craven, Thomas Whalen, David Whalen, William O'Brien, Henry Moran.

IRISH FLAX CROP.

The astounding calculation has been made by statisticians that this year's Irish flax crop will be worth $60,000,000 and that of the amount $35,000,000 will go direct to the farmers' pockets as clear profit. The Government has purchased the entire crop for the manufacture of linen for aeroplane work at prices ranging from thirty to forty shillings per stone. In pre-war time flax was usually sold at from six to ten shillings per stone, and at that price was regarded as a good-paying crop. The highest price recorded for flax prior to the outbreak of the American civil war, when it rose to eleven shillings eight pence per stone, was almost exclusively confined to the Ulster counties, as owing to the rigidity of the great linen industries of Belfast it always found a ready market. This year it is to be found all over the west of Ireland and even in the rich lands of the South. As a result of the recommendations of the Department of Agriculture the amount of land under flax this year is about 170,000 acres, or about double what it was in 1916.

WILL GO OVER THE TOP.

The good people of St. Ann's parish have everything in readiness for the monster fall festival to be held in the hall at Seventh and Davison on Friday night of next week. A very energetic committee is working hard to make this one like every other one held for St. Ann's church, and it is expected that the parishioners will go over the top in this drive.

EVENING CLASSES.

Evening classes for young women seeking a business training have been opened at St. Helena's College, Fourth street. Classes are being formed now and special attention given shorthand and typewriting on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while Tuesdays and Thursdays are devoted to English, French and Spanish. Classes begin promptly at 7 and close at 9 o'clock.

K. OF C.

Chairman Mulligan Advises Subscribers to War Work Campaign.

All Organizations Are Organized to Raise Funds For War Relief.

Archbishops and Bishops Approve the Plans Now Under Way.

CONVENTIONS TO BE HELD.

Friends of the Knights of Columbus intending to contribute to its war relief fund during the campaign beginning November 11 should bear in mind not to designate the order when contributing, but specify the "United War Work Campaign," said William J. Mulligan, Chairman of the K. of C. Committee on War Activities. "This drive for funds," he continued, "is a national one and will be participated in by several organizations recognized by the War Department and designated by President Wilson as accepted instrumentalities through which the men in the ranks are to be assisted in many essential matters of recreation and morale. These organizations include the National Catholic Council (Knights of Columbus), Young Men's Christian Association, Young Women's Christian Association, Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army.

"President Wilson requested that these organizations unite in a single campaign to raise funds for war relief work in the ranks of our soldiers in this country and abroad. This will be done. Friends of the Knights of Columbus may feel assured that they will be serving the best interest of the Order if they contribute to the 'United War Work Campaign'—the Knights of Columbus will share proportionately in the general fund, according to its activities. We are all working to sustain the morale, increase the comfort and provide for the recreation of our soldiers and sailors, and the fun collected during the 'United War Work Campaign' will be devoted solely to this purpose. The unified drive means economy and concentration of effort. The men in the United States service will profit more through both these features. There will be less expense in raising funds, and there will be increased effort because there will be seven instead of one organization working."

Mr. Mulligan expressed himself as wholly pleased with the plan for the big drive beginning November 11, and predicted its unqualified success. Mr. Mulligan recently returned from France, where he surveyed the K. of C. overseas activities, traveling 4,000 miles behind the fighting lines in two months' tour. He knows what is needed, and is unreserved when expressing appreciation of the co-operation of war relief organizations in their efforts to support our fighters. Taking advantage of their presence in New York on the occasion of the funeral of the late Cardinal Farley, many of the Archbishops and Bishops of the United States called at the National Catholic War Council's campaign headquarters to confer with Bishop Muldoon, Chairman of the Administrative Committee, concerning the plans now under way to ensure full Catholic participation in the United War Work Drive. Many also visited the headquarters of the Knights of Columbus, where they were delighted by what they learned of the details of the great work that is being done in the fun campaign overseas. His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, after inspecting Knights of Columbus headquarters, paid a visit to the staff at the National Catholic War Council campaign headquarters, where arrangements for the holding of the fourteen conferences, one in each ecclesiastical province, were at the moment under discussion. His Eminence showed great interest in the plans, and in the course of a brief address urged the campaign workers to proceed with vigor and assurance, with every confidence that the Catholic church in America was ready and determined to bear its full part in the United war work campaign.

With this end in view, it has been recommended to the hierarchy that conferences be held in each of the ecclesiastical provinces, and in fact conventions will be held on the following dates: Denver, October 7; Boston and St. Paul, October 8; New York and Dubuque, October 8; Philadelphia, Milwaukee and Portland, October 10; Baltimore, October 11; Cincinnati, San Francisco and New Orleans, October 14; Chicago, October 15; St. Louis, October 16.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

Next Thursday evening the Catholic Federation of Louisville and Jefferson county will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Inter-Southern building. President E. J. Conroy states that while as yet no definite plans have been formulated, there is no question but that the Federation will urge every member of its auxiliary organizations to co-operate in every way they can with the United War Work Drive to be launched the early part of November.