PROHIBITION

Leaders Are Conducting Campaign Unsatisfactory to Kentucky Democrats.

Read the Gerry Resolution Which Beckham Voted Against in Senate.

Democrats Were Duped Into Supporting the Unpopular Beckham in 1914.

ENDANGERS PARTY SUCCESS.

With the political campaign going into the last week Democrats from all parts of Kentucky are asking why doesn't the State Campaign Committee put forth efforts for Gov. Cox and the Democratic Congressional nominees, and why none but Beckham men are conducting the State campaign efforts? And why, if it is being asked, none but staunch prohibitionists are in charge of the headquarters under the leadership of Gen. Percy Haly, Beckham's right hand bower and radical prohibitionist. That the Democrats of Kentucky are as a party bitterly opposed to prohibition was shown in the gubernatorial primary of 1915, when H. V. McChesney, the Haly-Beckham candidate, on a strictly prohibition platform was buried under an avalanche of Democratic votes. That was a real test as to how the Democratic party stood on prohibition and the voters settled it decisively. Yet today we have the spectacle of this same prohibitionist combine endeavoring to have the Democratic party stomach Beckham and his prohibitionist views.

In 1914 the Democratic voters of Kentucky were honorably secured on Beckham and his prohibition views, and many were then ready to bolt his nomination, which he had secured by majorities from Republican districts. Wholesale liquor dealers, men who had their heads up in liquor, and the army of voters opposed to prohibition were on the verge of rebellion against his candidacy. Then came the plea from many leaders saying that the party ought to see Beckham to the Senate and get rid of his prohibition activities in the party councils. This plea won the day and Democrats put aside their personal feelings and supported the nominee with the least that was in them. This was especially applicable to the situation in Louisville and Jefferson county. In the primary Beckham only received 4,000 votes, but in the November election he received a majority of 12,400 over ex-Gov. Wilson, a native of Louisville and highly respected citizen.

On election night Senator Beckham in his headquarters at the Seelbach, then he had a party and the presence that was present, the writer among the number: "I'll never forget Louisville and Jefferson county for what the party did for me today. That statement was accepted as above and Haly would not obtrude their prohibition views on the party any more and that would be the end of factional fights in the Democratic party. Hardly had Beckham taken his Senatorial seat a few months later when Haly and Haly brought the obnoxious prohibition issue to the front again and brought out ex-Secretary of State H. N. McChesney as their prohibition candidate for Governor with the same success as above. McChesney being badly beaten. Six years' time has rolled on, but the Democratic voters who were duped then into sending Beckham to the Senate to get rid of him have not forgotten and this time they will try the other method of sending him back to Bardonia.

Aside from prohibition the workmen and women will not entouse over Beckham's return to the Senate, the recent conviction of the Kentucky State Federation of Labor going on record as opposing his candidacy and classing him as a foe to labor and its followers. That conviction cited the numerous bills introduced in the Senate to aid the toiler with the report of the officials of the American Federation of Labor that Senator Beckham had consistently opposed their passage. In the face of all this we have the spectacle of the Haly-Beckham campaign controllers asking the working people of Kentucky to again send Beckham to the Senate.

Our readers and every one with a drop of Irish blood, his or her veins, and those who favor freedom for struggling Ireland, are familiar with Beckham's attitude on the Irish question, and only recently he reaffirmed his position that he would not vote to recognize Erin, where the people are fighting and dying for their rights. On March 18, 1920, Senator Gerry, Democratic Senator from Rhode Island, introduced the following resolution to the peace treaty and the Senate to aid the toiler with the report of the officials of the American Federation of Labor that Senator Beckham had consistently opposed their passage. In the face of all this we have the spectacle of the Haly-Beckham campaign controllers asking the working people of Kentucky to again send Beckham to the Senate.

"In consenting to the ratification of the treaty with Germany, the United States adheres to the principles of self-determination and to the resolution of sympathy with the aspiration of the Irish people for a government of their own choice." Senator Beckham voted NO against this resolution. When Senator Beckham was questioned by Friends of Irish Freedom he answered with a lot of clap trap about war with England, but does not explain why he voted against the Gerry resolution which was passed and did not bring a declaration of war with England. Let every one of Irish birth or descent or lover of liberty read and digest that Gerry resolution thoroughly and see if Beckham and his friends can consistently explain why he voted against it.

Yet in the face of this bitter opposition to Beckham's candidacy from the anti-prohibitionists, the workmen and the Friends of Irish Freedom we find Haly and his aides of the Democratic State Campaign Committee endeavoring to force him on the voters at the risk of injuring Gov. Cox, the Democratic Congressional nominees, and every Democratic candidate in Kentucky.

FRANKFORT.

The marriage of Miss Fanola Collins and Harold Brislan, both prominent in Frankfort society and business circles, will take place Tuesday, October 26, in the rectory of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Father J. P. O'Dwyer officiating. The announcement was made during the week by the bride's father, Ernest Collins. Only the immediate families of the young people will be present. Miss Collins is a member of the younger set. Mr. Brislan is associated with his father in business.

Miss Elizabeth Tobin was the guest in whose honor her aunt, Miss Anne Tobin, entertained with a bridge party in her home on West Main street, it being her birthday anniversary. Miss Tobin's guests were Misses Elizabeth Tobin, Anita Thomas, Anne Walcott, Hannah Graham, Elizabeth Gaines, Josephine Briggs, Louise Gray, Louisville; Virginia Thomas, Katherine Gray and Agnes Hendrick, and Madames Scott Thompson, Walter Featherstone, Silas Noel, Jane Addams Clay, Rose Williams Stoll, Lindsay Fuqua, Ben Williams, Jr., and Maude Tinley Marcum.

MOBILE.

The annual celebration of Columbus day at Mobile, Ala., was featured with the formal opening of the fully equipped and imposing new home of the Knights of Columbus on Government street, which began with the raising of a large American flag over the new building. Hundreds of Mobile's leading men and their wives attended the evening entertainment, which consisted of dancing, vaudeville and refreshments. The home and lawn were decorated profusely with American flags, hunting and red, white and blue electric lights. Edward J. Grove presided as toastmaster at the banquet, at which a number of addresses were made, including one by Right Rev. Bishop Edward P. Allen on "Columbus Day and Its Meaning," and a short talk by James H. Glennon on the same subject.

PRaise FOR BISHOP.

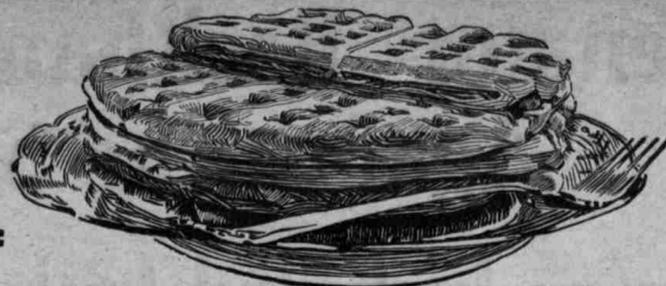

The Right Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, Bishop of Detroit, was praised for his "100 per cent. Americanism" by a jury which sat in a proceeding to condemn land for use by the Detroit Board of Education, several days ago. The jurors were impressed by Bishop Gallagher's offer to sell diocesan land to the city at the same price at which it was purchased, declining thereby to obtain a profit of several thousand dollars. Some of the land desired by the Board of Education was included in a tract which Bishop Gallagher some time ago bought as the site for the new Sacred Heart Seminary. This property has appreciated considerably since its purchase for the seminary, but Bishop Gallagher waived his right to this increase in value.

EXPOSURE EXPECTED.

Evidence will soon be taken by the committee of five from the one hundred prominent men in America chosen by the Nation to investigate atrocities committed in Ireland. President De Valera says he doubts whether Ireland's side can be fully presented before the committee. We have no doubt that every method of repression will be resorted to by England to prevent the truth from being known. Still we expect that enough will be brought out to show the hypocrisy of British propaganda in this country. It is important that this be brought out, and that British-Americanism in this country be properly rebuked.

MISSALS DELAYED.

We are informed that publication of the new Missal, with the latest changes made by the Congregation of Rites, will be delayed for several months. The Vatican edition is waiting on the proofreader. It will be some time next year before the edition reaches this country.

LExINGTON.

The marriage of Miss Lucille Marie Miner and Louis Sheehy was solemnized early Tuesday morning at St. Paul's church, Lexington, Father de Waegenaere officiating. Miss Josephine Traynor was the maid of honor and Fred Boatwright the best man. The bride wore a traveling suit of tailored blue cloth with blue hat and corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. The maid of honor was also gowned in blue with a blue hat and corsage bouquet of the same flowers. After the ceremony the couple with their attendants and members of the two families were entertained at breakfast by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Miner, at their home on Jefferson street. The bride and bridegroom left for a trip and will be at home on their return on West Second street.

CATHEDRAL JUBILEE.

With all arrangements for the celebration of the diamond jubilee of the foundation of St. Peter Cathedral practically completed, tomorrow promises to be a red-letter day in the history of Catholic Cincinnati. The pontifical high mass will be celebrated by Most Rev. Archbishop Moeller, assisted by Msgr. William D. Hickey, arch-priest; Rev. Robert G. Connor and Rev. Timothy C. Bailey, deacons of honor; Rev. Martin Varley, deacon, and Rev. George Gorry, subdeacon of the mass. The jubilee sermon will be delivered by Rev. Lawrence F. Kearney, O. P. S. T. M., of Zanesville, Ohio.

STARTS MAIL SERVICE.

The United States Mails Steamship Company has declared its intention of immediately starting a new line of communication to link New York with Cove-Cork, Boulogne, and London. Early next year the company is to add a service from Boston as well. It is a significant coincidence that the British Government has just made an order prohibiting the landing of passengers in Ireland direct from America. It remains for American commercial interests to insist that the right of direct trade with Ireland shall not be denied them.
