IT MAKES the hearts of all Kentuckians swell with pride over the royal manner in which Louisville entertained the Confederate veterans. They never do things by halves in the Falls City, and if the people of the state would only fall in behind the Louisville band wagon and catch step to the strains of that new (in Kentucky) march, "Progress," we would soon be far ahead of our northern sister states in commercial and manufacturing matters.

At the meeting of the committee at Harrodsburg, Saturday, Hon. G. G. Gilbert was declared the nominee of the democrats in this district to succeed himself in Congress. Mr. Gilbert has done noble work for his constituents and is untiring in looking after their wants and requests. He has won the confidence and respect of both parties, and is certainly entitled to the many words of praise showered upon him.

The question of holding an election for governor this fall has not yet been definitely settled, there being a wide difference of opinion on the matter. The people, as a rule, are not bothering about it, as they are too glad that quiet and order has been restored in the state. Little interest is manifested in the matter, save by the politicians, who put in their entire time dabbling in elections.

The souvenir edition of the Carlisle Mercury is one of the neatest and best we have seen. As The Record was the first hereabouts to issue a paper of this kind, we have taken great interest in watching the work of the other press boys. Bro Green Kellar's effort was a decided success, and we congratulate our good friend upon sending out one of the handsomest papers printed in central Kentucky.

The Danville News, published by the Columbia Printing Co., and edited by Mr. R. O. Cunningham, has made its debut. It is a check full of choice reading matter, has lots of bright, spicy editorials, plenty of big ads and a healthy appearance generally. Mr. Cunningham is a splendid newspaper man, and a clever gentleman. The Record wishes the News all kinds of good luck.

The Courier Journal put the big pot in the little one last week, publishing a special edition every day. It contained many columns of interesting reunion matter, in addition to its usual general news. The Courier Journal has the best equipped office in the south, and all Kentuckians are proud of the paper.

For the 'seventh time its telegraphed to the whole world that Aginaldo has been killed. People have about quit reading so much as the headlines over this old chestnut.

Story of a Slave.
To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Goe D Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed a lone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by R E McRoberts, Druggist. 1m

Prevented A Tragedy.
Timely information given Mrs. G. Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. Question Answered.
Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grand mothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Greens' August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by C C & J E Stormes.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles "Rosche's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try ONE bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Mustard used to be eaten whole and dry instead of in paste made from mustard flour.

More country girls than city girls marry, not because they're better bred, but because they can make better bread.

Give plenty of pure water. Be careful that the hogs have all the water they want at night. They are apt to drink heavily before going to bed.

Hogs should not be fed watered swill and no slop in undue proportion to the grain fed for its distends the stomach and disarranges the digestive apparatus, resulting in waste of feed.

Harrodsburg Democrat:—Messrs. Ruble Bros., of Garrard county, have sold their fat cattle, 128 head, at $4.60 per hundred. These cattle were fed this winter at the distillery of Dowling Bros.

A strange disease has appeared among the horses in Davis county. The horses rarely show any symptoms of illness before they drop in the harness, and they are dead in a few moments. The disease is puzzling the veterinary surgeons.

Shipments of hogs from Kansas City last week were about the largest of the year, or a total of nearly 9,000. Chicago packers have been regular buyers on that market for several months past. Prices in the west have been low for a long time.

The best way to put paris-green on potatoes is to mix it with flour until the flour has a greenish tinge, then put it on the plants by sprinkling it from a tin can with holes in the top like a pepper box. The best time to put it on is early in morning while the dew is on.

With a little care from those having control of the country roads, and a little labor by the people, every road could, in a few years, be changed into a well shaded and beautiful boulevard. If they were thus changed it would be one of the delights of life to take long carriage drives through the country.

It must be remembered that yarded fowls require much more attention than those allowed free range. If persons keeping fowls in small yards gave them no more attention than the average farmer, they would never be free from disease; and it would be impossible to raise chickens with any success.

The wheat section of the northwest reports rain as badly needed and a drought threatened, while the south-western section reports too much rain and Illinois reports damages from Hessian fly. In other states the crop is progressing favorably. The corn growing States in the west report too much rain and Iowa reports great delay in planting, but in general conditions are not considered unfavorable.

The Lawrenceburg News says Simon Well, of Lexington, has bought nearly all the cattle that were fed at the various distilleries in Anderson county this season. Last week Messrs. H. B. Carpenter and W. T. Bond weighed to him 458 head that averaged 1.00 pounds, for which they received $4.00 per hundred. Messrs. R. H. and W. F. Lillard weighed at the same time 170 head, averaging 950 pounds, for which they received $4.40 per hundred.

Many farmers who are located near large cities have abandoned agriculture and taken up stock-grazing or the dairy business. There is no crop failure in the milk farm, and many have found it more profitable than in tilling the soil; others have found it less profitable, and so it goes. Success in this, as most every other venture, depends largely on how it is managed. It isn't every man who is fit for dairying, and for that matter, not every man who tries it is fit for general farming. Generally speaking, if a man goes into stock or dairy farming and understands it, and puts good sense and some hard work into it, he will, in nine cases out of ten, do well. —Ex.

As indicative of what may be regarded as the price of the growing crop of wheat deduced from the probabilities presented to the dealers in that article, the contracts making in some part of the State are given. A Danville firm, Anderson and Spillman have closed a contract for the product of twenty-five hundred acres of growing wheat from Boyle county growers, for which they are to pay sixty cents per bushel. In Mercer county another firm has contracted to pay the same price for growing wheat supposed to have on it when threshed fifteen thousand bushels. Whether these figures have been accurately adjusted to the probabilities or not is a matter for the next few weeks to decide, though the price must be along the line of what the present outlook would suggest, as buyer and seller seem to have settled on that price. It may be well enough to remember that estimates are generally exaggerated in summing up the probable yields of almost all crops.

Hemp has advanced considerably within the past few weeks, and is now selling at 5 cents per pound, or $5.00 per long hundred of 112 pounds. Only a few of our farmers, though, have received the price of their crops, most of them selling at 4 1/2 cents. After the opening of the Philippine ports the price went down on the report of immense cargoes of Manila hemp being afloat and enroute for the United States. This amount was overestimated, but it served the purpose of scaring Kentucky farmers still holding crops and they quickly unloaded. Soon after it was discovered that this Manila shipment was not only less than reported, but that the present crop is also short. This sent up the price again and only a very few got the top price.—Lexington Leader.
