Items of Local Interest

Got a cook?
Tin can the lafer.
Clean up the streets.
County court Monday.
Clean up your front yard.
A little whitewash will help.
Chickens are scarce and high.
Go to the Stanford fair today.
Send us names of your visitors.
Squirrels were never so plentiful.
No skin games at the fair next week.
Everybody's going to the Stanford fair.
Fish liars have been busy in last few days.
Who dares say it will rain next week?
The Record wants names of your visitors.
A big crown went to Cincinnati on the excursion Sunday.
We trust the police will continue the war on worthless dogs.
The Record will be printed next Tuesday night. Remember.
Mrs Zimmer will have a fine dinner on the fair grounds next week.
The "flying dutchman" will be kept out of hearing of the band this year.
During the storms of last week, Minor's mill was struck by lightning and a portion of the roof torn away.
The Cotillion Club will give a big ball Tuesday evening. A dance will likely be given each night of the fair.
The new laundry will cause many colored washerwomen to lose their jobs. This means more cooks. Good.
Business in the Police Court is exceedingly dull. Judge Armstrong does his duty, consequently there are few who dare disregard the law.

The colored fair will be held Aug 8, 9, and 10. They will have the best ever held, as all hands are working like Trojans for it.
When the new laundry is opened it will put a number of washerwomen out of business, so the cook proposition seems to grow brighter.
The City Council could well afford to hire and run a sprinkling cart during the three days of the fair. What a-bout it, gen'l'men?
To the fair directors: Please abolish the screaming toy balloons and flying dutchman organ this year. (Signed) A suffering public.
We understand the Crab Orchard fair people will lose money on the venture. The farmers were too busy to give up teams to attend anything last week, and the result is not surprising.
Officers Beazley and Herron gathered in and killed twelve dogs in last few days. This is indeed, good work, and if many more worthless canines would be dispatched the people would be thankful.
Ridiculous.
Last week, when Mayor Woods, of Richmond, went into a suspicious looking grip, supposing it contained whisky for illegal sale, he was arrested on complaint of the owner. Instead of placing the big hearted Mayor astride a rock pile, the trial judge should and doubtless will present him with a large, gilt-framed chromo.
Joy in The Record Office.
All hands, from editor to devil, in The Record office are rejoicing over the fact that Miss Carrie Hatcher has returned from Atlanta and resumed her position in the office. She was al most raised in this office, coming here when a little girl, and her return means that we will be enabled to get the paper back to its former standard in point of excellence in amount of reading matter and otherwise. Miss Hatcher will resume her duties Saturday.

When Drouth Sets In.
Stanford Journal:—W H Traylor's license to sell whisky by the quart will expire Aug 12, after which date five gallons is the least he can sell. The license of the Bule Wing saloon at Rowland expires Aug 18.
Exchange Saturday.
The ladies of the Baptist church will have an exchange in the Stormes room, on Danville street, Saturday afternoon. They will serve ice cream and cakes, and also have for sale a number of cakes, eggs, butter, chickens, etc. Here is a good place to lay in provisions for fair week, and you had better call early.
A Good Dinner Assured.
One of the wisest moves made by the directors of the Lancaster fair was that of securing R Zimmer to serve the dinner on the grounds. This means that every person who enters the dining room will be given a strictly first class dinner and be waited on in the best manner possible. So well do our people know this that they will not go lugging a great basket of provisions to the grounds, but will buy tickets and eat a dinner, in a comfortable place on the fair grounds. The people are grateful to the officers for securing Zimmer, and not forcing them up against the railroad sandwich and gasoline-tinted coffee.
Be Patient.
If your telephone doesn't work well, or you are delayed in the service, please remember that the Bastin Telephone Co. is now undergoing the terrible ordeal of moving its offices. The whole establishment is being moved from the Stormes block to the handsome quarters over the new Garrard Bank & Trust Co. Everything is being re-placed with the newest and most up to date apparatus, and, in a few days, Lancaster and Garrard county will have the best telephone service in Kentucky. There are almost five hundred wires to change and run, but most of this has been done, and, as stated above, Lancaster will be given the very best money can procure. The public does not realize the work required to move the offices, or the people would feel more like pulling off coat and helping instead of kicking.
For you fair lunch: pickle, olives, cheese cakes, uncut biscuits, fruits etc. Gill, Walker & Simpson.

Important Notice.
The Fiscal Court of Garrard county at its April term decided to pay no claims for work done on county roads by teams of the various hands allotted to roads unless the accounts were filed and verified by the road overseer in charge and that the claimant performed the work for which the account is presented. The form for these accounts can be obtained by the road overseers of the county from the county judge or the county attorney.
Killed By Lightning.
During the storm of last Thursday afternoon, lightning struck and instantly killed Jack Partin, at his home near town. Mr Partin was sitting on the back porch talking to his father when the storm came up. He remarked that he was afraid of lightning and the two arose to go into the house, when a bolt struck him on the head, passing through his body, following the floor into a room and setting fire to the house. A hole was torn in Mr Partin's head and his whole body showed signs of the terrible current. He was about thirty five years old and leaves a widow and three small children. He was a farmer and well-known and liked by a large number of our people. Funeral services were conducted at the home Saturday, the burial taking place at the Lancaster Cemetery.
Protracted Meeting.
A series of meetings began at the Presbyterian church Sunday conducted by Rev Henry Faulconer, which are attracting large numbers of people and will result in great good for the community. Mr Faulconer, well known to and beloved by all our people, is delivering sermons which are of great good to his hearers. He has been in the East for several years and his work has attracted wide attention. He is now doing evangelical work in the East. The remarkable success and distinction won by Mr Faulconer brings great joy to his legion of friends. We never knew a more earnest, conscientious Christian, nor one whose sincerity is more greatly appreciated by the people. He preaches every evening at 7:45 and a most cordial invitation is extended all to attend the meetings. The meetings will continue through next week.

"Bob" Harding Here.
Hon Robt Harding, of Danville, was here this week on some legal business. "Bob" has's many friends in Lancaster and Garrard county that it is al most home with him over here. And too, he deserves every friend he has, and every one of the many kind words spoken of him. A brilliant lawyer, a thorough gentleman and the price of good fellows, he has won a warm spot in the hearts of the people, not only here, but all over the state. He is engaged in nearly every important case in the courts of Central Kentucky, and it is seldom a session of circuit court is held in any of the neighboring counties without the presence of this big-hearted gentleman.
Lancaster Laundry About Ready.
The Lancaster Steam Laundry is about completed, and will be ready for work about first of next week. The machinery is from the American Laundry Co, Cincinnati, and was installed by Mr G M Settle, an expert machinist and a most agreeable and pleasant gentleman. The new establishment has cost the owner, Herndon & Herndon, a large amount of money, and we believe our people will show their appreciation of the enterprise by giving it all their work. The laundry is thoroughly equipped for handling collars, cuffs, shirts, in fact anything to be washed, and will attend to the work at very reasonable prices. A feature which will be hailed with delight by our people is that of family washing. All kinds of goods can be laundered, and in a far better way than the old time manner in which Aunt Diana did it. A wagon will call for your work and deliver it the same day, if you want it so. If you desire, your clothes, such as shirt waists, etc, can be rough dried, and you can receive them in this way, doing the ironing at your own home to suit yourself. Better investigate this, as it is a money saver and of investible help. Mr Ben F Pollard, of Mt Sterling, who has had wide experience, will superintend the work. Go down and look at the plant, and show your town pride by apronizing home industries.
Notice.
A meeting of the stockholders of the Blue Gars Creamery Co, is called for July 20th, at 2:20 o'clock, at the court house.
B. F. Hudson, Pres.
G. B. Swinebroad, Secy

Just A Word, Please.
Next week, Lancaster will be filled to overflowing with visitors. Every one will notice the condition of things, whether the property is neat and well-kept, or if the yards and streets are allowed to remain full of dirt, fences scattered pellmell over the city. Why not, while there is time, take an hour or so off and put your premises in decent shape? A quarter's worth of whitewash, an hour's time with hoe and rake will make a wondrous difference. Now why not get busy and clean up? Be decent, if for only one day. Take a look at your premises and see if we are hitting at YOU.
Notice to Advertisers.
Bring the fair, next week, all the stores and business houses will close at twelve o'clock, thus permitting all hands to attend the fair. The Record proposes to share in this holiday business so we will print next week's paper on Tuesday night, placing the edition in Wednesday morning's mail. If you want your ad changed, we must have it Monday morning. Next issue will be distributed on the fair grounds Wednesday morning. By doing this, our hands will be enabled to attend the fair every afternoon. The editor, as usual will be found at the office at all times during the twenty four hours of the day.
Dripping Springs.
This famous Summer resort is now open to the public, having been thoroughly repaired and newly furnished. Best cooks and servants. Plenty to eat and service equal to any resort. First class livery and board stable. Reasonable rates. Long distance telephone and daily mail. Each week spent there may prolong your life five years. S D Rothwell, Prop'r.
Notice.
To the patrons of the Lancaster post office: The Department requires me to weigh all classes of mail separately the next six months. To get mail in pouches for the different trains, it must be in the office as follows:
