The L & N is giving low rates to the Lexington fair this week.

Doves are scarce and wild. Very few hunters have sought them yet.

The grand jury will go to work Monday, but there's little for them to do.

Houses for rent were never so scarce. Any old hull brings a fabulous price these days.

A large delegation of Garrard county people are attending the Lexington fair this week.

The union services will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday evening, at the usual hour.

The Union Depot, in New York City is being painted with barytes taken from Garrard county farms.

The bath rooms at the Lancaster laundry are a very great convenience and are being liberally patronized.

Richmond has placed a license on every class of business in the city, to make up the deficit caused by closing saloons.

W H Traylor's license to sell liquor by the quart expired Monday night. He can now sell in no less than five gallon lots.

James Hatcher, proprietor of the Danville stage line, has had a telephone installed in his residence, for convenience of patrons. All orders promptly answered.

Mr Wm H Collier has sold his property, at forks of roads on Danville pike, to Silas Moss. The place contains an nice residence and twenty-four acres of land. Price paid, $4,250.

The Clinch Valley Barytes Co., continues to receive great quantities of barytes, several car loads being shipped every day. Farmers with teams are making a good thing hauling it to town.

The K C night train was taken to Parks Hill Sunday, and, owing to a wreck, did not get back until Monday about dinner time. Passengers for the 5 a m train were delayed until ten o'clock.

The telegraph operators, about 75,000 in number, are on strike in the United States and Canada. No class of labor receives poorer pay, and, as an old operator, we wish the boys success in every demand.

Lancaster was as dead as a door nail Sunday. Everybody who could get conveyance either went to Dripping Springs or Crab Orchard. Only a corporal's guard attended church, the weather being too warm.

The Top Price.

A load of corn fed steers, weighing 1,500 lbs, was sold in the Omaha market last week at $7.30. This is the first time that price has been reached since 1902.

Remember, Young Man.

During the ice cream-soda season the young man who quotes to his lady love, "Drink, pretty creature, drink," stands a better chance of buying a marriage license than the one who says, "Drink to me only with thine eyes."

A New Plan.

A schoolman has introduced a new feature. When one of the girls misses a word the boy who spells it gets permission to kiss her, and as a rule the girls are very poor spellers and the boys are improving wonderfully.

Republicans Make Nomination.

At a meeting of the Republican County Committee, held Thursday, Hon W C Wynn was nominated as candidate for representative. Mr Wynn is a very popular and prominent gentleman, and enjoys the confidence and esteem of all who know him.

Plenty of Beer.

The Danville Advocate says that from one to three car loads of beer are shipped to that local option town each week. It is shipped from Cincinnati and there is no way to stop it, as the Court of Appeals has decided that it is interstate commerce and not affected by local laws.

What Alfalfa Did.

The Farmers Guide says that a Colorado farmer who grows alfalfa last Spring turned 122 ten-week old pigs in an eight-acre pasture. The area was divided into two fields, and the pigs changed back and forth as they ate the alfalfa down. No grain was fed. The pigs were sold in the fall for $1.100. They were worth $250 when turned on the alfalfa, giving $850 returns from the eight acres. It is needless to say what this farmer thinks of alfalfa for pig pasture.

The Kind That Helps.

The Record office has just turned out an immense order of job printing for the hustling Peoples Bank, at Paint Lick. This institution knows that the only way to "make good" is by doing good, that is by patronizing home industries and spending their money with the people who patronize them. Cashier Kemper does not believe in spending money with foreigners, on the foolish belief that about a sixteenth of a cent is saved on each job.

A Success.

The Lancaster Colored Fair Association has every reason to feel proud of the success met with this year. While the crowd was not large on the first day, yet the second and third drew a tremendous number of colored people to the grounds. The music by Prof Wilson's band was exceptionally fine, while the show of stock was far above the average. The order was good and all seemed to enjoy themselves and have a big time. We congratulate our energetic colored people on their good management.

It's Different.

The Harrodsburg Democrat hits the nail on the head in the following:—"A lawyer charges a man $10 for ten minutes conversation, and the man insists on paying it. A doctor charges $1 for a prescription and the patient says, 'Oh, pshaw, is that enough?' An undertaker conducts a funeral and charges $100, and he is just perfectly lovely with every one inside and outside the family; a man buys a gold brick and apologizes for not having bitten before. An editor walks a mile in the hot sun to get facts of a death, wedding or social function, spends three hours in writing it up and tells lies and praises people up till he hates himself. Then if he makes an insignificant error, charges five cent straight for three extra papers, he is a stingy, good-for-nothing cuss who never gets anything right; he is most any old thing, and ought to be run out of town. Talk about the ice man; how would you like to run a newspaper?"

Splendid Service.

Lancaster people should be, and we believe they all are, very proud and very thankful for the perfect telephone service they are now getting from the Bastin Telephone Co. The company, knowing that the exchange was to be moved, did little in improving the wires, for a few months before the change, as that would have been a dead loss, but, since the handsome new offices have been fitted up, the wires are all new, and we are satisfied that no town is given a more satisfactory service. Did you know that the rates for telephone service is lower in Lancaster and Garrard county than anywhere in the state? Well, we've had occasion to investigate and know this to be a fact. In several neighboring towns, the people are now up in arms over unreasonable rates. Take Danville, for instance. The county judge has even taken steps to prove that the company there has no franchise, in an effort to get reasonable rates. The people of Lancaster have a good thing in the present system, and they should be very thankful.

The Laundry in Operation.

The Lancaster Steam Laundry, Herndon Brothers, proprietors, began business Monday morning, after several annoying delays in getting the machinery here. A thorough test was given the machinery Saturday, and everything proved perfectly satisfactory. The work done is of the very highest order and the patrons are more than delighted. As stated in previous issues of The Record, this enterprise is of inestimable value to the people, as washerwomen have become very scarce and the question of washing is almost as serious as that of cooks. Now, all this work is called for and delivered into the homes of our people, the work is of the very highest grade, and, best of all, it is done at a much smaller cost than under the old manner. This is an enterprise which certainly merits the patronage of our people, and we believe they will encourage the promoters by giving the new institution all the work to be done. If you have not inspected the plant, drop in any time, and Messrs Herndon will take great pleasure in explaining the workings of the plant.

Fight Won.

In a published interview President Lebus, of the Burley Tobacco Branch of the A. S. of E says: "The American Society of Equity has won the fight against the American Tobacco Company, and every day that passes now is a winning day for us: We have $10,000,000 worth of the 1907 burley crop and at least $16,000,000 of the 1906 crop. The trust people cannot get a pound of this tobacco until they come to us and give us our price." Mr Lebus was asked what would happen if the company undertook to cultivate tobacco themselves. "It takes time and money to raise tobacco," he replied, "and the Kentucky tobacco is the product wanted." He added that there was no law to force a man to raise tobacco, and that the Kentucky growers did not have to plant unless they wanted to. Mr Lebus is enthusiastic over the organization, and says that while Kentucky growers are making a fight against a combination of capitalists, composed of the American Tobacco Company, friendly corporations and Wall Street, they cannot lose for the reason that they have the tobacco,

Judge Saufley Refuses.

Gov. Beckham, last week, asked Judge M C Saufley, of Stanford, to try the case against Caleb Powers, which is to be tried for the third time at Georgetown, but after considering the matter, Judge Saufley declined. There has been so much talk about this case, and intimations that Powers has never been given a square deal, that the public regrets that Judge Saufley declined to try it, for all who are acquainted with the able Lincoln lawyer know that Powers would have been given a square deal, in every sense of the term, if tried before Judge Saufley. The people want this case settled one way or the other, and, should Powers be tried before a judge like the Stanford man, the result would be accepted by all with perfect satisfaction. He's a rock-ribbed Democrat, but when taking his seat upon the bench, politics is laid aside.

He Must Know.

The country editor must and does depend upon his friends to help make his paper interesting. Show some interest in your local paper, give all the information you can to the publisher. Marriages, births, death, or any little item may interest someone. Such items are often absent simply because you don't let the editor know of them. Did you ever think what a steady letter a newspaper is. Week after week it goes on telling of the little things that happen in your neighborhood. If you undertook to write half as much as the paper tells you, you would give up in despair. The letters would grow shorter and further apart and finally cease. People should recognize this and take pleasure in giving the editor items he would otherwise miss.

A Card.

To The People of Lancaster: I appreciate, deeply, the requests made of me to again be a candidate for member of the City Council. However, as I have made arrangements to be away from home for some little time, and the press of other business matters will make it impossible for me to make the race or serve on the board. I regret this, but it is absolutely impossible for me to accept. Thanking you very much, I am Yours very truly, C D Powell.

STATE FAIR CATALOGUE READY!

Handsome Illustrated Book Tells of Premiums, Amusements, Enterprises, Music, etc.

The regular edition of the Kentucky State Fair catalogue, printed in three colors and handsomely illustrated, came from the press this week and thousands of copies are being mailed daily from the headquarters of the Fair at Louisville. The preliminary list for the State Fair was issued a month ago. It covered eighty odd pages. The regular catalogue has 152 pages. The classifications in all departments are complete, together with the speed program and an announcement of the big amusement enterprises of the Fair. There are also eight fine half tone views of the new grounds and buildings recently purchased by the State Board of Agriculture as a permanent location for the State Fair. One page is devoted to a description of the balloon race during the Fair, with three views of the balloons in the air. The captive balloon is shown in a large half tone. There is a page cut of Captain Knabenshue in the passenger carrying airship which is to make daily flights and exhibitions at the State Fair, Sept 16-21. This is to be Captain Knabenshue's only appearance in Kentucky or Southern Indiana. His passenger-carrying airship will only make six appearances in America this year. Sectional views of the airship are printed for the first time, in the State Fair catalogue. The pages are given to points of interest in and around Louisville, while there is some valuable information on the railroad and ticket offices, together with the steamboat lines. One of the most attractive views in the book is an attractive zinc etching of the eruption of Vesuvius, which is to be shown nightly during the State Fair week, together with Pain's famous fire works. Natiello and his all star band from the "Land of Music," which is to give three concerts daily during the State Fair occupies two pages in half tone. An entry blank accompanies each catalogue, also a souvenir post card in seven colors, which the recipient is asked to mail to some friend. Anyone desiring a catalogue will be sent one by applying to the Secretary, R E Hughes, at Louisville.
