An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Anderson, near Paint Lick, died Sunday.

Judge W. C. Bell held a special one day term of court Monday, to dispose of some unfinished equity business.

Memorial services were held Wednesday evening at the Christian church in respect to Mr. J. C. Robinson, who has been an Elder in the church for many years.

Read notice of T. B. Robinson's sale in this issue. He is a good farmer, and, as he will move to town, we will show him the sights. "He-Who" is the pass word.

We understand that Paint Lick is to have a Graded School beyond a doubt, as we hear that E. C. McWhorter has promised a lot at Mansie for the erection of the building, and most people favor the school.

Declines.

Eld. F. M. Tindler expresses his appreciation of the calls to run for representative, but declines to offer for the place, as such a position is not in line with his profession and his duties as a minister.

Police Court.

Chief Herron rounded up a number of colored people before Judge Harris Monday. Five of them were fined $5.00 each for breach of the peace. One was fined $100. and 30 days for contempt, and another was held over on a charge of selling cocaine.

A Compliment

Mr. W. H. Wherritt has received a handsome silver medal, as a reward for his excellent service for the past twenty-five years, from the Home Fire Insurance Company.

The inscription on the medal is "In Recognition of the Splendid Services, of W. H. Wherritt, in the Interest of the Home."

Lost or Misled.

Policy No. 70111 issued by The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, on the life of Sallie A. Leavell. The finder will please return to the undersigned. Application has been made for the issuing of a duplicate.

Sallie A. Leavell, now (Sallie Maret) 4-2-6t Brantonsville, Ky.

Successful.

The millinery openings, that of Joseph Mercantile Company and the Pure Food Demonstration at Gill & Simpson's brought nearly as large a crowd to town as court day does, and more women. As the merchants report an enormous sale on that day, having advertised in the Record these notable events, it certainly proves that advertising pays well.

The Ladies of the Methodist church will have an exchange at the post office on Saturday before Easter.

Dr D. L. Procter, of Mount Sterling, has opened a dental office at Paint Lick, where he will be found Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of each week.

Flower Sale.

The flower sale, at C. D. Powell's, conducted by the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church, will begin Saturday April 17th and continue two weeks.

Exchange

My division of the G. W. B. M. will have an exchange at the Post Office, on Saturday, April 24th. You can prepare for a Sunday dinner at little cost and help the best known cause.

CARTERSVILLE.

Born, to the wife of George Robinson, twin boys, on the 22nd.

Rev. F. P. Bryant filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. Aldridge, who has been confined to her room for some time is improving slowly. Her son, Bradley, a student of the Louisville medical school, has returned home and is confined to his room with throat trouble.

The sad news was received Sunday morning of Mr. W. B. Tatem's death, near Silver Creek. He was found dead, in his bed, Sunday morning. He leaves to mourn his loss, one sister, one brother and five children, whose mother died several years ago. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Mr. J. D. Carter, our bustling merchant, has been in Louisville the last few days buying his spring goods, also a nice lot of millinery for his wife.

We are glad to state that Mrs. J. B. Carter is out again.

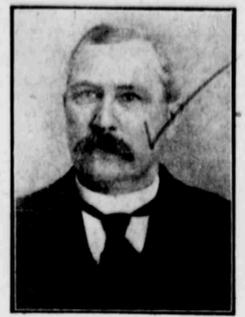

The Hanging Rock encampment No. 2 was instituted at this place, Friday night, by Bro. Juetz and the Richmond team. They took fifteen members through, making a Lodge of 20 members, five of whom had been through at Richmond.

Mr. R. H. Turner, age 81 years, died at his home near Silver Creek, March 19th. His remains were laid to rest in the Richmond cemetery. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, age 83, and five children, Mrs. C. S. Roop, Mrs. E. M. Roop, Mrs. J. T. Danson and two sons, James and William Turner. He was a confederate soldier and was with John Morgan when he made his raid through Ohio, at which time he was captured and taken to Camp Chase, where he remained a prisoner until the close of the war. He was a faithful husband and a good father.

Sure Worm Exterminator.
J. C. Fell, Lakenan, Mo., Breeder of Registered Duroc-Jersey Hogs, says: "We have been having Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy to our hogs and find it to be a sure worm exterminator." For sale by J. E. Mount & Co.

WALK IN HIS WAYS.

"The best man in the county is dead," was frequent y said on Sunday morning, as news of the death of passed from one to another. He had been ill for some weeks and death was the result of heart trouble. Funeral services were conducted, by Eld. F. M. Tindler, at the Christian church, on Tuesday forenoon, at ten o'clock, interment taking place in Lancaster Cemetery. A vast throng of mourning relatives and a profuse floral offering served as a slight token of the devotion of his family and the very high regard and confidence of his friends.

He leaves a widow, a daughter, Mrs. R. E. Henry, and two brothers, A. C. J. E. Henry, and T. J., of Hustonville, whose love and affection, for him, was deep and beautiful. His father was Jacob Robinson, who was one of the organizers of the congregation of the Christian church, in this city, seven sons and two daughters being born to him, all of whom possessed the Christian virtues in a high degree.

Deceased was in his seventieth year, always adhered to the rules of law, duty honor and religion in a manner to lift his life beyond the ordinary, and impress his fellow-mortals with the beauties of righteous conduct. It is asserted by those who knew him best that they never saw him angry, nor heard him speak unkindly of any one, and it is equally true that not even the tattler ventured to question his deeds or his motives, he often suffering a wrong rather than take part in contention. Being absolutely free from guile, deceit or deception, in social or commercial life, his noble traits of character are offered as an ideal, a standard to lead this generation to emulate his examples and thereby purify and elevate our citizenship.

Verily, we write of a man of God, one whose soul gravitated to Heaven to mingle with kindred spirits, and this fact should dry all tears, heal the bleeding hearts of the bereaved family, and cause them to exclaim, with one accord, "Blessed be the name of the Lord." He was a pillar in the Christian church, having served as Elder for many years, and his words of counsel will be missed there, as in every place where he came in contact with his fellow man.

It has been said that, "True Goodness is alone True Greatness," and, granting the truth of the expression—the chiseled marble should be raised to commemorate the deeds of this remarkable man. Of him it may be truly said:

The marble shafts which stand, During time's untiring roll, Are but guide-posts on the land, To show the course of the soul."

Thanks.

I express my sincere thanks to the fire company and all who volunteered their services in attempting to save my property from destruction by fire, during my absence. I will ever be grateful to both white and colored people for their efforts.

William Johnson.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECAST FOR APRIL.

W. T. Foster, the noted Washington weather forecaster, makes the following crop weather calculations for April:

In the great Central Valleys April temperatures will average above normal from March 30 to April 14 and excellent crop weather will continue during those sixteen days. April 15 to 24 will be unusually cold, making ten days of bad crop weather temperatures going uncomfortably close to frost line in northern sections as the cool waves pass. Rising temperatures and better crop weather, April 25 to May 2 with very little rainfall. Most severe storms will occur during the five days of which April 13 and 19 will be central days. Heavy rains in Texas 9th to 18th. Drought in central sections.

Swept Over Niagara.

This terrible calamity often happens because a careless boatman ignores the river's warnings—growing ripples and faster current. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape fatal maladies—Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see Backache fly and all your best feelings return. "After long suffering from weak kidneys and lame back, one $1.00 bottle wholly cured me," writes J. R. Worth Reading.

One of the first questions asked by those who contemplate moving into a town is "What character of schools does the town have?" Recently two men came to Lancaster prospecting with a view to making an investment of several thousand dollars, and, I am told, they asked particularly after the schools. This is a question considered by every man who is at all progressive. Just this class of people we wish to attract and bring into our town.

We think we have a school very much above the average, one which has already done much for the town. But the times call for increased efficiency. We must go forward. Additional buildings must come before a great while. It is merely a question whether we shall be in the fore front or shall we bring up the rear in the educational procession. By building now, and maintaining a school better than our neighboring towns, we can bring to us a large number of people who are seeking the best educational advantages, and who may be lost to us by a delay of a few years. There is no more attractive place in the state in which to live. Let it be known far and wide that Lancaster offers unequalled advantages in her schools and our population will increase fifty per cent in ten years.

A citizen of London, Kentucky told me a few days ago, that the schools of that town had been instrumental in increasing both the population and value of real estate as much as one hundred per cent within the past twelve years. The time is favorable for the people of Lancaster to take action. I confidently expect them to be alive to the best interests of the town, and within eighteen months we shall see on our beautiful campus a handsome modern school building which will prove the pride of every citizen of Lancaster and Garrard county.

A dispatch to a London paper from Horta, Azores, says that when the steamer Hamburg arrived at Horta it was learned an attempt had been made aboard to assault former President Roosevelt but that it was frustrated, and his would-be assailant was placed in irons.

In the heat of the tariff debate a personal encounter between Representatives Byrd, of Mississippi, and Fordney, of Michigan, was narrowly averted. Mutual explanations and apologies were made later. Mr. Fordney, in his speech, argued for a retention of the Dingley duties on lumber.

One of the most significant industrial discoveries of the age is claimed by George B. Frankforter, dean of the College of Chemistry of the University of Minnesota. It means, he declares, that the United States will produce a hundred times as much wood pulp paper as was deemed possible.

All troops have been removed from the tobacco districts in the State in which night riders have been active for the first time since Gov. Willson ordered the soldiers to take the field shortly after he became Governor. Adjt. Gen. Johnston recalled the last squad from Eddyville and says that from all reports he anticipates no more trouble.

L. R. Blanton, one of the most prominent merchants of Richmond, expired suddenly, Monday, from heart failure in his forty-fifth year. Mr. Blanton was the oldest son of Dr. L. H. Blanton, formerly president of Central University, and is prominently known throughout the State.

A parairie fire which swept Crosby county, Texas, fifty miles south of Plainview, Monday, caused a loss estimated at $100,000. The fire destroyed a number of residences and stores at Emma, the county seat. Citizens have left the town to fight the blaze, which is being fanned by a sixty-mile gale.

Frank L. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank, of New York, broke all American railroad records with a special train he chartered to go to the bedside of his dying mother in Chicago. Mr. Vanderlip was unfortunate in reaching Chicago twenty-eight minutes after his mother had passed away. The time made from New York to Chicago was fifteen hours and fourteen minutes.

Five companies of Oklahoma militia are hot in pursuit of Crazy Snake, the Creek Indian chief, who, with 100 well armed followers, is defying the officers of the law, and a bloody battle is expected if the Indians do not surrender.
