Walker, the eight year old son of Mr. Geo. D. Robinson was kicked by his pony Monday receiving injuries which will force him to go on crutches for some little time, however, we are glad to say no bones were broken and the injuries while painful are not dangerous.

"A local optionist" now is one who would have the territorial unit for voting on the liquor question so small that some part of every county would vote wet and have the licensed saloon. The advocates of the whiskey interest or all local optionists and would like to have the precinct the unit instead of the county.

Noted People Here.

Mr and Mrs William Yancey Erwin of Lexington are guests at the home of Mr. J. D. Gulley, where they will remain for a couple of weeks. Mr Erwin is a poet of considerable renown, being the author of "Wanetka," "Sparks from the Anvil" and many other poems. The gifted couple have just returned from an extensive tour of the south, and were under the impression that the Teachers Institute was in session in Lancaster, which occasioned their visit here. Mrs Erwin was a pleasant visitor to the RECORD office.

Colored Fair.

The Lancaster Colored Fair is being held today (Friday) and Saturday and is attracting quite a crowd from this and adjoining counties. The show of stock is quite good, and the music, which is being furnished by the Lexington Concert Band is unusually good. George Moran is president of the association and "James" Williams secretary, two of Lancaster's best colored citizens. They have prepared no bill in their undertaking and they propose to give the best colored fair in the state outside of Lexington. They will receive a liberal white patronage.

Sale Of City Property.

Hughes & Swinebroad sold for G. B. Swinebroad a lot on Richmond Street to L. G. Davidson and also a lot adjoining to Theo Currey. Messrs Currey and Davidson will each build a handsome residence and the lots being located on one of the very best streets will be quite an improvement in that section of the city.

W. "Oc." Goodloe Injured.

Mr. W. O. Goodloe sustained a very painful injury Sunday morning. While attempting to tighten the saddle-girth on a young horse in front of his premises on Lexington avenue, the animal reared up striking Mr. Goodloe and knocking him to the ground, the animal then either pawed or kicked him several times, in the head and body. He was carried into his home, and a physician summoned. Mr. Goodloe remained unconscious from his injuries for several hours. He is considerably improved and his many friends hope to see him out and back to his duties in a short time.

Mr. John Lackey Dead.

Mr. John Lackey died at 1 o'clock Thursday morning at the home of his son William Lackey near McCreary. Mr. Lackey has been in feeble health for several years and on more than one occasion his life had been despaired of, but he would rally again be able to get out of the house.

Mr. Lackey was 81 years of age and was one of Garrard's most highly respected citizens, he has lived in this county almost his entire life and has built up a reputation for honesty, integrity and fair dealing that it falls to the lot of but few men to leave behind them, but he is one of the few men of whom naught but good can be said. He leaves one son, Willie Lackey, and four daughters, Mrs. Frank Broadus, Mrs. Perry Naylor, Mrs. David Anderson of the county and Mrs. J. D. Gulley, who lives in town. Mr. Lackey was preceded to the grave by his good wife some four years since, and his remains will be placed by her side in the Lancaster cemetery, this (Friday) afternoon, after appropriate funeral ceremonies, the details of which we were unable to secure at the hour of going to press.

Pellagra In Lexington Asylum.

Pellagra, a disease only recognized by medical authorities in the last ten or twelve years, has broken out in the Lexington Asylum for the Insane, and several of the patients are afflicted with the disease. Pellagra is a skin disease peculiar to the south. One theory of its origin is that it is caused from eating products of corn that was infected with "smut" this theory is not however countenanced by many of the eminent medical men. It does not yield to medical treatment, and is supposed to be incurable after reaching a certain stage. The only treatment which seems to effect it beneficially is plenty of fresh air, rest and good food.

A great scare was precipitated throughout the state by one of the patients at the asylum, who hoped thereby to gain her own freedom from the institution, writing a letter to the Lexington Herald and signing the name of one of the nurses, stating that the disease was contagious and that it was spreading rapidly in the institution. The letter was traced to its source the physician in charge of the asylum issued a letter denying the gravity of the situation and the scare subsided.

New Principal Lancaster Schools.

Professor Joseph Leslie Riley, who succeeds Prof. Bridges as principal of the Lancaster Graded School, has arrived and with his wife has taken up his abode at the school building.

Professor Riley has held positions in several states and at the head of several splendid schools, and if credentials and experience count for everything, he will surely make a splendid successor to Prof. Bridges and a strong head for Lancaster's splendid schools.

Professor Riley is a Kentuckian, born at Port Riley in Henry county in 1879, he moved to Owen county when quite young; he graduated at Lynnland Male and Female Institute of Hardin county and also from Georgetown College.

It will be good news to the boys to know that while at Georgetown Prof. Riley was a member of the football team for five years, this fact would indicate that the new Professor will be heartily in favor of athletics in the local school.

Professor Riley was principal of the school at Glencoe, Ky., for two years and of the schools at Luverne Ala. for two years; he was professor of French and German and manager of athletics in Ouchita College Ark. for two years, principal of the Jonesboro Ark. High School two years, vice president Edgar's Boys Schools Montgomery, Ala. two years, vice president Bunn-Bell Institute, Waycross, Ga., two years, professor of mathematics Georgia Military Academy of Atlanta Ga., two years, from which place he comes to us.

That Professor Riley is eminently qualified to fill the position here is evidenced by the fact that he has held state certificates in four states Alabama, Indiana, Arkansas and this state. Professor Riley married Miss Katherine McDaniel of Warsaw Ky., and he and his wife will be warmly welcomed to Lancaster.

All Democrats come to the Court House Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m., and vote for the extension of the County Unit Bill.

Don't Waste The Water.

The lake is getting low, not dangerously so, but it is low enough to render it advisable to be economical in the use of it. Sup't Herron requests that all patrons of the water works be cautious as to the use of the water, do not waste it, and above all things do not allow hydrants to run all night. Unless these precautionary measures are strictly adhered to it may become necessary to cut off the water supply altogether, thus insuring a supply in case of fire.

Texas Party.

The party who left on August 1st. for Crystal City, Texas are returning. Mr. Jas. House and Mr. Lewis Brown called at our office and stated that the country was all that was represented to be by Mr. Wallace Steele General Agent, Texas Land and Development Co. Gus Dunn has also returned and all three parties have an option on some land near this city and think that they will close the deal in a few days. Mr. Aldridge and Mr. Hughes have not returned.

Sanford-Ashley.

Miss Georgia Sanford the pretty young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Sanford was on Saturday evening united in marriage to Maurice Ashley. The wedding occurred at the bride's home, Rev. O. P. Bush officiating. The happy young couple left Sunday morning for Cincinnati where the groom holds a position. The bride is an unusually pretty attractive young girl and quite a talented musician. The groom is a son of the late Mr. Silas Ashley a deserving and courteous young man and also a gifted musician. Sincere congratulations are extended them.

Welcome Showers.

With the exception of a few small areas in the northern part of the county, intermittent showers fell all over the county last week, and on Sunday afternoon the Bryantsville section was visited by a regular soaker, sufficient to cause the streams to rise and to furnish an abundance of stock water. Corn and tobacco as a consequence are looking much better. Considerable of the corn in this county is already "made" and the late corn will be if we can have a few more rains. Tobacco is growing nicely, a little backward as a rule, but with anything like reasonable weather during the next month, the crop will be a good one.

Young Lady Burned To Death.

On last Friday night Miss Katie Hicks the 22 year old daughter of Mr. Coleman Hicks, who lives below Marks-bury on the Lexington pike was burned to death, supposedly by the overturning of a lamp. Miss Hicks had retired with a lighted lamp on a chair beside her bed, and during the night her parents were aroused by her cries; they found her in the yard with her night clothes a mass of flames, and before they could render her assistance she was fatally burned. Her father was seriously burned about the hands and arms in attempting to extinguish the flames. She is supposed to have knocked over the lamp in her sleep and set fire to her night clothes and in her fright rushed into the yard. Her remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Penman Electrocutted.

At 4:45 o'clock last Saturday afternoon in the branch penitentiary at Eddyville, Ky., Shay Penman was electrocuted. Thirty seconds after the current was turned on Penman was pronounced dead, only one convulsive shudder and life was extinct.

The crime for which Penman gave his life as forfeit was committed at the home of Mr. Lee Rankin in Lincoln county Ky. near Hubble on the 5th day of September 1910. He had long been a trusted servant of Mr. Rankin and on this day he coaxed little Nancy Lee Rankin the 10 year old daughter of the household to accompany him to springhouse near the home, where he assaulted her.

The father of the child was away from home at the time, but one of her uncles was summoned by telephone and he took the negro to Stanford where he was lodged in jail. Fearing mob violence, Judge Walker ordered the prisoner taken to Louisville for safe keeping. When his trial was had in the circuit court in Lincoln county, soldiers accompanied him to prevent violence.

His trial was a speedy one and a verdict of guilty was soon brought in and his sentence fixed at death. The court of appeals affirmed his sentence, the chief executive refused to extend clemency, and he would have died long since but for the fact that the chair was not ready for service and a delay was rendered necessary.

Penman asserted his innocence to the last. His body was sent to his home in Lincoln county and was buried near Hubble on Sunday. Mr. A. L. Rankin father of the child and Dr. Rankin an uncle witnessed the electrocution. Dr. Rankin feeling the negro's pulse and pronouncing him dead.
