

Endeavor Notes

Christian Endeavor Exchange

The Christian Endeavor of the Christian church will have an exchange Saturday, April 29th, at Haselden's Store. Come and get some good things for your Sunday dinner.

Convention for the 9th District, Kentucky Christian Endeavor Union meets in Lancaster October 14th, and 15th.

There will be delegates from the following counties: Mercer, Jessamine, Boyle, Madison, Rockcastle, Casey, Lincoln, Pulaski, McCreary, and Whitney, all of which are in the Ninth District.

We wish to urge upon all Endeavors to attend the State Convention in Lexington May 12, 13 and 14th. This promises without exception to be the greatest C. E. convention ever held South of the Mason Dixon line.

Christian Church Notes

The second Quarterly Conference of the Christian churches of Garrard county will be held next Saturday afternoon, April 29th, at the Lancaster church. The meeting will begin at 2 and close at 4 o'clock. The county officers and representatives from the different congregations will meet. Some new plans for the summer are being made and a closer co-operation among the different congregations will help in consummating those plans. It is hoped that a good representation from every church will be present. In addition to county officers, ministers and representatives from the churches Neal K. McGowan, the State Sunday School Evangelist, will be present to counsel and help in any way possible.

The workers of the county who have not done so will want to meet Mr. McGowan and those who have met him will be glad to see him again. These conferences prove very interesting and are fraught with large possibilities. Remember the time and place and be present if at all possible.

Baptist Church News

The Sunday School attendance last Sunday was 135—just three more than a week ago, but remember, 200 is our goal. We hope to greet several new scholars next Sunday. Another matter for congratulation—not one teacher missing last Sunday. Splendid. Keep it up.

The Cadillac leaped ahead 85 miles in the auto race, and it will soon be necessary to build an extension to their floor space to accommodate the increasing number of scholars.

Several new faces were noted in the congregation Sunday morning. We extend cordial greetings to new residents in our city or to visitors from other communities and churches. We believe we can truthfully use the motto which occupies a conspicuous place in D. L. Moody's tabernacle in Chicago—"Welcome to this house of God are strangers and the poor." If you are Baptist by conviction we earnestly invite you to make this your church home on confession of faith, by letter or by relation. The first Sunday of the month is our regular reception Sunday for new members, but you may come at any time.

The Rev. I. W. Manley, pastor of the Mt. Hebron church, will preach next Sunday morning and evening, and we bespeak for him a large and appreciative audience. The pastor will be in Berea by invitation to address a class of young people at the College, Sunday morning.

Announcement will be made next week concerning a course in Bible study that will be conducted Wednesday evenings, during the month of May. We hope for a large enrollment. The Women's Monday night prayer meeting has been resumed at the church, with Miss Williams as leader.

Miss Jane Williams, our delegate to the State Convention of the B. Y. P. U. will give her report next Sunday evening. Do not fail to come and hear it.

Birthday Celebration

The recent birthday celebration of Mrs. Mary Dohyns, of Danville, is of unusual interest to friends and relatives in Lancaster. Mrs. Dohyns was born in Garrard county and has many dear friends here who wish for her many more pleasant and happy birthdays.

The Danville Messenger has the following concerning the event: Last year the Missionary Society of the Methodist church celebrated the eightieth birthday of an honored member, Mrs. Mary Dohyns, and this year Mrs. Dohyns entertained the Missionary Society together with a number of her relatives and her neighbors from Broadway. After the missionary program was disposed of the members with the invited guests were asked into the ladies' parlors that had been exquisitely decorated with tulips, narcissus and iris, and a large birthday cake graced the center of the table with eighty-two candles, eighty-one for the number of years and one to grow on.

Besides this cake, which was made in Lancaster by a kinswoman, Mrs. Joe Robinson, there were cakes and lemonade which Mrs. Laura Rue and Miss Lizzie Shears had made to celebrate the day. Mrs. Marrs most tenderly sang lines written by Rev. J. P. Strother for Mrs. Dohyns's eightieth birthday, changing just the word eighty for eighty-one, as follows: Somebody lived so fine and true That heavenly light just filtered thru; Somebody lived so long and well That friendship flowered in every dell.

Somebody took the brush of life And touched her grief with silver light; Somebody loved her church so strong That the path to her door was never too long.

Somebody lived for eighty-one years And won a faith that conquered fears; That somebody meets with us today And she helps us climb the upward way.

After the singing of this beautiful song to the tune of "Somebody Did a Golden Deed," Dr. Fuqua led in prayer of thanksgiving and praise for a life so nobly lived and a faith so strong and true. The decorations for the occasion were all sent in by friends in appreciation of the many flowers and kindnesses that have been strewn in the pathway of those she loves and those who need her ministrations.

Some people are experts of getting into trouble and keeping out of jail.

Superstition of the Sea.

One of the superstitions of the sea is that a load of onions is considered unlucky.

Daily Thought.

Be not careless in deeds, nor confused in words, nor rambling in thought.—Marcus Aurelius.

Postscript of Honor.

I think and think I think rightly, the latest reported for triumphant capitalis their serenity of all other learning, know the poet's triumph.—Sidney.

Ready for the Horrors.

Nothing that is admittedly and unmistakably horrid matters very much, because it frightens people into seeking a remedy. The serious horrors are those which seem entirely respectable and normal, but are actually and normal men.—Bernard Shaw.

Answers.

A young man once said to Wendell Phillips: "If I had lived in your day I should have been heroic, too." "You, sir," said the great man, "are living in time and in God's time and be sure of this, young man, no man could have been heroic then who cannot be so now."

Good "Grain" Results.

Artificial "graining" of wood has been practiced for a long time and some of the results obtained by the modern methods of printing from a master roll of real wood are remarkably realistic, says the American Forestry Magazine. Through this means it is possible to impart a good imitation of mahogany to plain, colorless woods and to metals.

The Light That Didn't Fail.

From out of Maryville comes the story of a light that didn't fail. The Tribune reports that when a large negro was taken before a judge charged with the crime of carrying a half-brick concealed about his person, he got off scot-free when he explained that he merely went to light his matches on when he wanted to smoke.—Missouri Notes, Kansas City Times.

Farmer as "Fighting Man."

The man who would succeed at farming must be a fighter from start to finish. He must fight bugs, and worms, and caterpillars and flies. He must fight loss of time, depreciation of soil, fire, flood, drought and thieves that prey on grain, fruit and vegetables. He must fight greed and graft, wickedness in a thousand forms; and the fiercest battles he ever wages are those against self.—Farm Journal.

Mountain of Sulphur.

By looking on a map of the South seas, one can find the New Hebrides, about 500 miles east of Queensland, Australia, and southeast of the Solomons. At the north end of the group is an island called Vanua Lava. This island is a mountain, a big one, 1,000 feet high and covering an area of 100 square miles. But the remarkable thing about it is that it is composed wholly of sulphur. Nothing like it is to be found anywhere in the world.

How To Control "Wildfire" In Tobacco. This disease is caused by the bacterium, Bacterium tabacum and first appears in the seed beds. If thoroughly controlled in the seed beds by use of COPPER LIME DUST the damage of infection in the field after transplanting is reduced to a minimum, although it may, under proper weather conditions, attack the plant either through the leaf, stem or blossom in any stage of its growth.

The disease, like the late blight of the potato, develops most rapidly in damp, cool weather and like potato blight, may spread through a plantation with the most marvelous rapidity.

In view of the many advantages of dusting, we recommend COPPER LIME DUST, which scientific investigation has proven effective and we have stocked this item, hoping to assist our farmer friends in their troubles. (1f.) McRoberts Drug Store, (4-21-31.)
