WEBSTER.

Mr. Editor.—Dr. George Mercer, the Great What Is It Fantomist and Self-styled Farmer's candidate for the Legislature, held an immense audience of forty-seven farmers spell bound at Walnut Grove church, on Saturday, 23d, of May, for over two hours. I say spell bound, because they were bound to spell every thing he tried to say in order to get any sense, whatever, out of his mumbings. He started off by trying to read a chapter in the bible out of which reading I managed to spell just three words—devil—strife—confusion. After that he jumped upon the "O'd party" with both feet and gave them a good trouncing. He even kicked himself (in pantomime) for ever having associated with either of them. He next held out one hand towards Democratic headquarters at Hardinsburg; put the other into his pocket drew forth a few "Daddy" dollars and pointing about over the house at the Republican members present, intimated that he had been suspected of buying up that class of citizens with the Democratic campaign fund. Now, Dr. George, you are mistaken. That is not the use you were suspected of putting the money to at all. Dr. George next declared that he would never again take another vote for a man that would spend a dollar in a campaign. Dr. George, who is paying your expenses around over the country now?

Dr. George and his cohorts never advocated but one solitary principle while speaking, and that was the sub-Treasury bill. Never advocated the free coinage of silver—the reduction of the tariff or anything else of importance.

Now, Dr. George, what did we as farmers start out to do? Did we not start out to fight class Legislation, Combinations and Trusts? Then let us kill this bill that you are making your fight on dead-end truck, for it is strictly class. If Uncle Sam builds warehouses for us to store our grain in let him also build one for wagon makers for his wagons, the harness maker for his harness, the boot and shoemaker for boots and shoes, the manufacturer for prints, domestics, silks, etc., to a world without end. Then pay each of these people 80 per cent. of the value of his goods, and see where we will end. Again as to the 2 per cent. land loan. Let us look at that. No one can get this money but a land owner. If a mechanic comes to me and wants $1000, I say no I can't let you have it, I just haven't it. He says: "I would pay 10 per cent. for it for a year." I say, "all right John being as it is you, I will go and get it for you." I do go and get it at 2 per cent. and loan it to him at 10 per cent. and make a net profit of $80. without investing a cent. Now, that is good financing I know, but is it right? Can we expect the laborer or mechanic to co-operate with us when we make such demands? Certainly not, for we are just as hard on our own laborers and tenants, as we are on the stone-mason and carpenters. Enough of this Dr. George. Let us make the issue and the fight on something else and I am with you. Here Dr. George let me give you a pointer. I will not vote for a man for President next year unless he is for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, for a tariff for revenue only and the abolition of our national banking system, so I do not suppose I will get to vote in all. But I am wandering. Dr. George in his closing remarks was soundly applauded. And Mr. Editor if you had stepped in and seen him with his hands folded across his breast, his hoary locks erect, chin protruding, eyes rolled back and looking into the very depths of the heavens as he was repeating the benediction and invoking the blessings of Deity on his followers, you would have thought it a model posing for a statue of both benevolence and admiration.

One member said after the speaking, "Well, I was for Dr. George until I heard him speak, but now I can't support him. He may beat 'Mug,' but if he does it will not be the first instance of a thoroughbred being beaten by a Jass-ack." F. M. B. A.

The Crisis Has Come. Four State tickets—Democratic, Republican, Third Party and Prohibition—are now in the field. As Col. MOOLEYVILLE.

Miss Maggie Stiff was in town last week. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burch were in town Sunday.

Mr. Roland O'Bryan, Brandenburg, was circulating among relatives and friends here last week.

The May Ball, at Derby, Ind., was quite a success, attended by a small number from our town.

Rev. J. W. Kendall passed through our town last Sunday, enroute for the Cunningham school house, where he delivered a splendid sermon.

The calico hop last Saturday was just splendid, and the many in attendance are much indebted to Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stiff for the pleasurable occasion, for in every particular it was a splendid success.

Mrs. Lena Vessels has returned to her home in Owensboro. She has been on a protracted visit to her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mitchell. Lena was raised here and has a large circle of friends who regret to lose her from their midst. She has always been one of the most highly esteemed and popular young ladies of our town, deservedly so, because of those excellent graces that make her character so beautiful.

Last Sunday was Children's Day at the Cunningham school house, a large crowd was present, and several splendid addresses were made. An excellent dinner was served on the grounds, and the day was both profitable and pleasantly spent.

The past week was a favorable time for those who are engaged in agricultural pursuits, and the farmers in this section were accordingly very busy, and proud of the recent rains which were needed badly.

Mr. F. G. Parr is in Owensboro this week, ordered there before the board of examiners for an increase in his pension. May success follow him.

Madam Rumor says, there will be a wedding in our town soon. We can already hear the marriage bells and scent the orange blossoms. Have you noticed the broad hands around some of our fairest young ladies fingers (?) that glitter so weightily.

Quite a lot of us went fishing the 20th ult, and were successful in hooking several of the finny tribe. We have more luck when fishing for perch than for sweethearts.

Guaranteed Cure for La Grippe. We authorize our advertised druggist to sell Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with La Grippe and will use this remedy according to directions, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We make this offer, because of the wonderful success of Dr. King's New Discovery during last season's epidemic. Have heard of no case in which it failed. Try it. Trial bottle free at G. W. Short's Drug Store. Large size 50c. and $1.00.

The term "honest farmer" is derived often times by those who contend that the agricultural classes are as prone to evil as other people. A man of national reputation, whose public utterances are always of such importance that they are eagerly reproduced by the great dailies of the country, said a few days ago that the country people were more honest than their brothers in large cities, and attributed it to their surroundings: "The trees never issue 'false stock.' Wheat fields are always honest. Rye and oats never move out in the night, not paying for the place they have occupied. Corn shocks never make false assignments. Mountain brooks are always 'current.' The gold on the grain is never counterfeited. The sunrise never flaunts in false colors. The dew sports only genuine diamonds. Taking farmers as a class, I believe they are truthful and fair in dealing, and kind-hearted."—Logan County Union.

Constipation, blood-poison, fever! Doctors' bills and funeral expenses cost about two hundred dollars; De Witt's Little Early Risers cost a quarter. Take your choice. Sold by G. W. Short.

The Masses Are For Cleveland. Hon. E. W. Stephens, of Columbia, Mo., has recently returned from a tour of the South Atlantic States, and contributes a graphic and interesting account of his experiences and impressions to his paper, the Columbia Herald. He brought back with him two distinct impressions. First, that the crop prospects in the thirteen States which he visited are better than for many years previous; and second, that "the Democracy of the country North and South, with the exception of New York, is overwhelmingly for Cleveland for President." "Silver or no silver," he adds, "the masses are for Cleveland, and nothing short of an almost marvelous revolution can turn the tide."—St. Louis Republic.

It is quite the fashion now to take De Witt's Little Early Risers for liver, stomach and bowel disorders. They are small pills, but mighty good ones. G. W. Short sell them.

Hopkinsville New Era: When a man takes a cigar out of his mouth to tell an editor to stop his paper because he "can't afford it," the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a great deal. And when he orders his paper stopped because he "hasn't time to read it," and then goes down and whittles a dry goods box for two hours, the editor may not say anything, but he thinks a great deal. And when he stops his paper because a two-line item did not suit him and then pesters his neighbor by borrowing the paper, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a great deal.

You are out nothing if you get a bottle of "C. C. C. Certain Chill Cure" from J. W. Owen, and if it does not cure your Chills and Fever. It is guaranteed.

WHAT IS A DOLLAR?

A Silver Coin of the Value of One Hundred Cents.

Q: What is a dollar?

A: A dollar is a silver coin.

Q: Does not the word mean a gold coin, also?

A: No. There is or was a small gold coin called a gold dollar; but the word dollar means a silver coin. It was first made in Germany and called thaler (pronounced tollar). A similar piece was afterwards made in Spain, and it is from this Spanish piece we get our dollar mark—$—which represents the pillars of Hercules twined with the figure 8. The Mexicans had, and still have, a similar piece. All of these were and are silver coins, and our United States dollar is an imitation of them.

Q: Are there not gold dollars in existence?

A: Very few. They were not coined till 1849, and they were never popular, being small and thin, easily lost, and when lost, hard to find. In fact, they were so ill-suited to the people and to business men that in 1889 the Director of the Mint, Edward O. Leach, recommended that the coinage of them be discontinued; and the following year, 1890 Congress passed an act prohibiting the coining of them and directing that those already in existence be withdrawn from circulation.

Q: Did they have any circulation among the people?

A: Very little. But few persons ever saw one and the Directors of the Mint stated that they were used exclusively for ornament.

Q: Then, it seems that dollar means a silver coin only.

A: It does, and, in fact, Webster's Dictionary defines it as a "silver coin of the value of 100 cents."

Q: Do we not have paper dollars, greenbacks, national bank notes, and other kinds, also?

A: These are not paper dollars; they are one-dollar bills, or one-dollar notes. If you examine them you will find that they "promise to pay" one dollar, or five dollars, or ten dollars; but if you look at the face of a silver dollar, you will see that it is stamped "One Dollar." It is not a promise; it is the thing itself.—From Grissom's "People's Dollar."

The First Symptoms of Death.

Tired feeling, dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores, are all positive evidence of poisoned blood. No matter how it became poisoned it must be purified to avoid death. Dr. Acker's English Balm Elixir has never failed to remove scrofulous or syphilitic poison. Sold under a positive guarantee by G. W. Short, Cloverport, Ky., and Witt & Meador, Hardinsburg, Ky.

The Southern Presbyterian Assembly, in session the other day in Birmingham, Ala., revived an interesting subject through the discussion upon the second article of the report submitted by the Committee on the Directory of the Worship of God:

"The standing posture in public prayer is sanctioned by Scripture, is dictated by reason, is a posture of reverence and service is recommended by the practice of the primitive Church and by immemorial usage of Presbyterians."

This was adopted after several amendments had been offered and rejected. Whatever opinions may exist upon the posture of worship, it advocates, it is historically sound. Christians first prayed standing erect with their hands raised more in a spirit of adoration than entreaty. The "devout kneeling," which is prescribed in the Episcopal Church, began to be practised in the third or fourth century of our era.—N. Y. Sun.

Do Not Suffer Any Longer.

Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby guarantee Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct. For Sale by G. W. Short, Cloverport, Ky., and Witt & Meador, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Matters For Farmers to Consider.

The wheat crop of the United States is valued at $334,000,000, to employ round numbers, and the oat crop at $222,000,000, total $556,000,000. One year of Reed cost the country $500,000,000, or within $56,000,000 of the value of these two great grain crops of the greatest grain producing country and the greatest grain producing people on the planet, and it is also conceded that with deficiencies purposely left by Reed for the next Democratic Congress to supply, that $56,000,000 will be wiped out. These are matters for farmers to consider before they vote for Bill O'Bradley's man Wood, or throw their votes away on the People's Party Candidate.—Louisville Times.

THE NEW PROTECTIONISM. Astute Republicans Coming Over to Tariff for Revenue Only.

It is astonishing with what rapidity the clearer-headed advocates of protection are in one form or another approaching the position of the friends of a tariff for revenue only. Mr. Blaine leads off as the champion or "reciprocity," which he explains as a cunning and superior sort of protection. Mr. Wharton Barker has recently written a very interesting open letter to Colonel DuPont, of Wilmington, in which he advocates "true protection" by a repeal of protective duties on all articles of which trusts have been enabled to monopolize the production, and by putting on the free list from time to time such articles as iron ore, carpet wool and lumber. He also favors reciprocity not only with our neighboring countries to the southward, but with countries to the northward also. Other distinguished protectionists, not of the hide-bound McKinley persuasion, are equally outspoken. Our esteemed townsman and contemporary, Mr. Dolan, for example, sees free wool coming, and is not terrified at the prospects. Now these things rejoice the Record greatly. When persons of weight and authority in the inner temple of Republicanism openly demand the enlargement of the free list, and wink at "free trade" by calling "reciprocity" "true protection," there is reason for rejoicing. It will not be long until the whole lump of protectionism shall have been leavened.—Philadelphia Record.

An Admirable Sentiment. The State government and the Marsonic fraternity of Kentucky are to-day doing honor to the memory of a big-hearted and generous man, whose election to the Governor's chair in Kentucky was due to that admirable sentiment which honors courageous philanthropy. There wasn't much practical politics in the choice of Luke P. Blackburn to fill the Governor's chair, but there was a much higher influence in his favor. It is fitting that his character should be honored as it is to-day. It has frequently been said that Gov. Blackburn was elected on sentiment. If so, it was no ignoble sentiment. Would that all our elections were influenced by motives equally creditable to the people.—Louisville Post.
