

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1893.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Spoons suitable for brides—Sulzer's. The cold snap has shut off the street work.

Woolen over-shirts at ten per cent. discount—Babbage.

Mr. J. J. Dyer went to Jolly Station last week on business.

Miss Brook Stephens, of Holt, visited Miss Sallie Murray last week.

Dr. Frank, of Mt. Pisgah, was in the city a couple of days last week.

Bargains in all kinds of gents furnishing goods at Babbage's. Come early.

Mrs. James Hudson, of Victoria, died Monday night, Jan. 23, in child-birth.

For additional local news see supplement sent out with this issue.

If faithfully used, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will remove scrofula in whatever form it exists.

Elton Beavin, son of Benedict Beavin, who has been seriously ill, is convalescent.

Skates almost gone—only few pairs left. Come before the last pair is sold—Sulzer's.

The shops opened up again last week, after the holidays, and are now running as usual.

Remember Fleischman's compressed yeast can be had fresh every Friday at Sulzer's.

Sleighting is good, but there does not seem to be as much good sleighing done as usual.

It will be noticed in this issue of the News that we have some poetic railroads around here.

Will Farber, who has been visiting friends in Derby since Christmas, returned home Sunday.

Lost your rubbers at the dance. Never mind, Sulzer's have more of the same popular kind.

Ice creepers—prevent slipping—lots of ice—beware of falling. Buy a pair Sulzer's have them.

Shirts suitable for both winter and summer wear. Take advantage of Babbage's ten per cent. cut.

There is a good deal of sickness reported in the Pellville neighborhood. Pneumonia is the prevailing disease.

An enterprising merchant will increase his business through the dull season by wise and judicious advertising.

Miss Alta Crosson returned home Sunday after a pleasant visit to her aunt, Miss Eunice Crosson, at Cloverport.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills stimulate the appetite and regulate the bowels. Try them. Have you seen Ayer's Almanac?

Patton's lake seems to be the favorite resort for the skaters, notwithstanding the fact that the river is a solid sheet of ice.

The usual new year reform is not so disastrous in Cloverport as formerly. Business is moving along with but slight diminution.

If you happen to slip up and fall down on the icy pavements and tear your speaking of clothing—Sulzer's have a big stock, under and over.

There was only a single vowel of difference between gold and Gould. "U" made that difference and you can save gold by trading with Sulzer's.

Quarterly meeting services at the Asbury M. E. church, this city, Jan. 14 and 15. Dr. L. M. Hagood, presiding elder, assisted by Rev. J. G. Jones.

Don't you wear any under-clothes at all? If you do, why not buy of Babbage now at ten per cent. discount, while you have a nice lot to select from?

Rev. D. S. Bowlds, of Pellville, passed through the city Saturday enroute to Clifton Mills, where he will hold a protracted meeting with the United Brethren.

The river closed here last Friday night and Saturday morning early the skaters were skimming over its treacherous, smooth surface from one side to the other.

There are thousands of miles of good skating in this Ohio Valley now, and the people of Cloverport are utilizing their portion of the territory to the greatest extent.

Wm. Vessels, the Tammany chief of Hardinsburg, was in the city last Friday night. It is rumored that he and Burl Beard will start a saloon at this place in the near future.

To overcome the marks of age, all who have gray beards should use Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers, the best and cleanest dye made for coloring brown or black.

John Newman, a blacksmith at Pellville, died Jan. 5th of pneumonia, after a sickness of only a few days. He was a good mechanic and a fine citizen and will be greatly missed in the community.

The Cloverport Mechanics' Band gave a delightful musical concert at the residence of Thos. Bohler, the home of Oscar Holder, the efficient trombonist, last Thursday evening. Refreshments were served, and everybody enjoyed himself hugely.

Three young men started to Hawesville last Saturday morning on skates, just after the river had closed the evening before. When about three miles below the city Henry Yeager broke through the ice and was precipitated into the river. He saved himself by crawling onto solid ice and the whole party returned home.

Ed. Gregory has accepted a position with Sulzer's as an special advertiser. Mr. Gregory has great talent in this direction. He is original and unique in his subjects, and his designs are always artistically executed. Manager Nolte can congratulate himself on procuring such efficient help. But it is not at all surprising, Mr. Nolte usually knows a good thing when he sees it.

J. T. F. Owen passed up on the train Monday.

Miss Katie Boyd has been quite sick for several days.

Mr. Lou Roberts is building two nice cottages in Stephensport.

The brick plants are all shut down on account of the cold weather.

You will find a copy of the "Moneyless Man" at Babbage's Book-store. Only one left.

This greatest medicine known is sold at 25 and 50 cents per package at Short & Haynes.

R. B. Legrand, merchant at Guston, is closing out his stock of goods at auction this week.

Lee Rhodes and Sam Dix shipped a nice bunch of cattle and hogs from Stephensport Saturday.

Till Grove says the ice on the river is from four to twelve inches thick now. He walked across yesterday.

Dr. Wilson, of Buras, and Foster Lyons, of Custer, were passengers on the train Monday for Louisville.

Jerro L. Gannane, the clever engineer of the work train, now stationed at Rock Haven, was in the city Saturday.

Miss Nannie Donahoe returned to Louisville to-day after spending a week visiting her sister Mrs. J. T. Galligan.

Mrs. Lou Blunk, of Missouri, accompanied by her daughter, Pearl, is the guest of her brother, Mr. C. S. Perrigo.

Thos. J. Jolly, Hon. Chas. Blanford, of Bewleyville, and F. P. Hagood, of Irvington, attended the Royal Arch Chapter here Friday.

Mrs. C. B. Skillman, who has been visiting her mother at Morganfield, returned home last Saturday much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Rigdon, of Louisville, who had been to Patesville to visit Mrs. Rigdon's father, G. W. Jarboe, returned home Monday.

Dr. J. B. Cottrell has been invited by the Presbyterian church to deliver one of his popular lectures in this city. The date will be announced soon.

D. W. Henry, the wide awake merchant, of Irvington, says his business for the past year is the best he ever had. Dave generally gets there.

Mr. John T. Patterson has been confined to his home for the past three weeks with rheumatism. He is now much better and able to be on the streets.

Piles of People have piles, but De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them. Short & Haynes, Cloverport, and Beard & Beeler, Hardinsburg, Ky.

Col. Ike Kelly, High Priest, Royal Arch Chapter, and Wm. E. Ryan, Grand Commander, both of Louisville, were in this city last week visiting their brother Masons.

Mr. Charles Mook, representing the Carter Dry Goods Co., of Louisville, was in the city yesterday talking spring goods. Charlie is a Cloverport boy and is a hustler.

The steamer New Mary Houston was cut down by ice at Cincinnati Monday and will be a total wreck. The losses of the coal dealers of that city is estimated at a half a million dollars.

Sweet breath, sweet stomach, sweet temper, all result from the use of De Witt's Little Early Riser, the famous little pills. Short & Haynes, Cloverport, and Beard & Beeler, Hardinsburg.

Mr. C. C. Martin had a cow to break through the ice on the river Sunday morning. She was saved from drowning by being pulled out with ropes which were thrown over her horns.

Col. Laf. Green, of the Falls of Rough, was a passenger on the east bound train Monday. He had been to St. Louis to purchase machinery for a large saw mill that he is erecting over at the Falls.

Now is the time to get one of the best Woolen Jersey over-shirts known—Switz Conde make. Usual retail price $2.25, now going at $1.38. Only a few left.

Babbage's.

A Congregational Meeting will be held next Sabbath morning after regular service at the Presbyterian church. All members of the congregation are earnestly requested to be present. Important business to be transacted.

We have several good pieces of poetry on hand that will be published in their turn. The authors need not be uneasy, for no worthy piece finds the waste basket in this office. We have only limited space, however, and as poetry is "copy" that will not spoil by age, it has to bide its time.

A new departure in the tobacco trade is inaugurated at Louisville. The Standard Warehouse, a new house, offers a premium of $1,500 to the person who guesses the nearest to the number of hogheads sold in the year 1893. Every person who ships them a hoghead of tobacco has a guess. Watch the Breckenridge News for further particulars.

The Brownies, the quaintest and most curious little people imaginable. Said to be descendants of Fairies and Hob-goblins, and just as full of fun as they can be, are now being illustrated in colors on a bulletin board at Sulzer's. Watch for them every morning and see what devilment they have been into during the night.

Don't fail to look into Sulzer's show-window and see the seven famous pictures by seven famous artists—U-S-B-Y-U, by Paul Anderson; Horse Fair, by Rosa Bonheur; The Last of Poor Fido, by M. Le Courte; He Will Return, by Jas. Maccus; Never too Late to Mend, by Annetto; Something to Adore, by Ridway; Light of Other Days, by Arnold.

Maj. Henry T. Stanton, the only Kentucky poet laureate, author of the "Moneyless Man," will give one of his amusing and instructive entertainments, in the Presbyterian church to-night. This is a rare chance for the citizens of Cloverport to receive a literary and poetical treat, such as only occasionally comes this way. A crowded house should greet Mr. Stanton.

REV. W. K. PENROD.

He Writes a Letter That Will Interest all His Cloverport Friends

HIS MINISTERING IN PINE BLUFF IS A CROWNING SUCCESS.

But "I Had Rather Live In Cloverport than Here" is the Cry of His Family

PINE BLUFF, ARK., Dec. 27, 1892.—MR. EDITOR—DEAR SIR AND BROTHER—I have been thinking for some time I would write you. We receive regularly and read the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS so we are kept well informed as to the things which transpire in and around Cloverport. How fondly memory clings to the dear people among whom we found a home for two years. How dear to our hearts are those people. God alone knows how much we love them. Often is the remark made sometimes by one sometimes by another member of the family, "I had rather live in Cloverport than here." I have been here a little over a year and during that time we have received 63 members into the fellowship of the First Baptist church. We have a benevolent people, a thriving city and bright prospects for the future. We have raised and expended for all purposes $2,788.00. Last spring good old mother Nunn made me a present of a handsome taylor made suit, the brethren with a ticket to Atlanta, Ga., and $12.00 expense money. So I hid myself away to the Southern Baptist Convention. Last July the Young People's Union paid my expenses to the Baptist Young People's Union which met at Detroit, Michigan. I met at Detroit ten Kentucky brethren.

We are expecting to begin the erection of a new church building this year. We propose to expend $12,000 on building and $4,000 on a lot, making a total of $16,000. Christmas with its good cheer has come again, the poor preacher was kindly remembered by his flock. The Pmas offering consisted in flour, sugar, X-mas, coffee, turkeys, drygoods and table-ware. A very appreciative present in shape of money to purchase a milch cow came from those not members of my church. One who would not be contented among such dear good people would be hard to please indeed. One could not wish for a better hearing as we turn away people very often for want of space to seat them. Since I came we have bought chairs and filled up the aisles and yet we have lack of space. Our new building is a necessity. We are to have a public installation of Masonic officers on St. John's day, Dec. 27. We are to have quite an elaborate programme. The best musical talent of the city, and Pine Bluff is no mean city, have been engaged to warble for us. But Alas! what shall I say of the orator of the occasion? This is the second time that the fraternity of this city have had the poor judgement, no reflection on this ancient and charitable organization is intended, to elect the writer to address them on St. John's day. I cannot account for the second invitation upon any other hypothesis than as the democrats carried all except Vermont and that other place, though used in orthodox pulpits, too hot to name here, they can stand drawbacks and submit quietly to be bored. The patience of some people is wonderful being perfected in suffering. Can't you come over and take your part of the boring? I would love very much to be in old Cloverport now and grasp the hands of friends. As I am not permitted to do so I will do the next best thing, that is, read the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS, and as I read it I will silently breathe a prayer for my dear friends of yore and especially for editors, for to them is given the hardest task that earth gives to her denizens amusing and entertaining other people with a paucity of thanks and large sufficiency of fault finding. Well, some pay one way, some another and we must take our medicine whether we like it or not. My life is made up largely of retrospect, but I do not retrospect somethings—I do not like the blues.

Yours Fraternally,
W. K. PENROD.

N. E. N. B. etc.—Baby girl—Oct., 11 1892. Too sweet for anything.

Following is a comment, which we clip from the Pine Bluff Daily Commercial, in regard to a series of lectures that the Rev. Penrod is delivering on the interesting subject, "Agnosticism."

Rev. W. K. Penrod, last night at the Sixth Avenue Baptist church, presented to his large audience his second lecture on agnosticism. His field of course is very extended, but for the limited time he discoursed he gave fine similes and striking illustrations of the faith of christianity and of the truth of the existence of a God, and utterly demolished the ingersoll theorists and free thinkers, and sent them shivering in this playful spray where there was neither port nor bay.

Death of Mrs. Jennie Dean Reid.
Mr. Allen Dean has received the sad news of the death of his sister, Mrs. Jennie Dean Reid, at Denver, Col. She was well known in Owensboro, having often visited the family of her brother here and was a great favorite. About two years ago she was married to Rev. Chas. Reid, a promising young minister. Soon afterward they removed to La Junta, Col., where their home was when she died. She was about 28 years old. Consumption was the disease that carried her off.—Owensboro Messenger.

Herbert Reidel Comes Near Losing His Life While Skating.

What came near being a sad accident, and making this skating season here one of grief and sorrow, occurred about five o'clock last Saturday evening. Herbert Reidel, a little boy about thirteen years of age was among the skaters on the river and in attempting to find a new route across the stream, when about mid way the treacherous ice gave way under him and he was foundering in the cold water. His cries for help drew the attention of others, and they immediately started to the rescue. No one could get to within less than fifty feet of the little boy without breaking through himself. A pole was thrown to him but it broke through of its own weight and stopped before it reached him. A rope was then procured and an end with a loop in it thrown to him which he soon slipped over his shoulders and adjusted under his arms. Two quick jerks with strong arms brought him to solid ice and he was saved, while a shout of joy arose from the throats of the many people who were watching the proceedings from the shore.

The little fellow was not the least excited during the three-quarters of an hour that he was in his perilous position. The first thing he did was to remove his skates from his feet, and he patiently and quietly hung on to the frail ice, knowing that if he moved he would go under. He was almost frozen and had to be helped home and revived by rubbing and the liberal use of stimulants.

The Verdict Unanimous.

It pleases the lawyer and his client, too, to have the verdict of the jury unanimous. A great jury composed of the American public has rendered a unanimous verdict on Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure as a medicine, agreeing that its promises of a speedy cure for coughs, colds and bronchial troubles are always carried out to the letter. This pleasant verdict has not been obtained without great pains taken to make it the best cure on the market. Try a bottle when you have a cough or cold and you will belong to the "unanimous" ever after. For sale by Short & Haynes.

Russ Morgan Acquitted.

W. H. Morgan, city Marshal of Stephensport, who shot Jabe Bruner, on the night of December 24th, had an examining trial in 'Squire J. W. Jarrett's court Monday and was acquitted. It will be remembered that Bruner was trying to release his brother, whom the Marshal had under arrest, at the time the Marshal shot him. Bruner will get well.
