

PETERIN' OUT.

The Coxy Armies Are Dwindling and Enthusiasm Seems To Be Waning.

They Will Not Work, and Their Enthusiastic Sympathisers Send No More Bread.

DYING A NATURAL DEATH.

The Coxy movement is apparently petering out.

Interest in the commonweal, now that the personality of the most of the men is known to be on the tramp order has waned and the fact that the Coxyites who went in Washington have been kicked out has made the public wonder why it thought there was anything in the movement anyhow.

Washington became tired of the commonweal and last week the army moved to Hyattsville, on order of the authorities. Hyattsville also arose in wrath and the men were forced to make another move. Now they are in Bladensburg, Md., where Coxy says they will stay until Congress does something. They will find it rather uncomfortable living out doors next winter.

There is no question that the people of the District have reason to be soured upon the Coxyites. They came with great clamor. They wanted work, but apparently with the Irishman's proviso, "dom little of it." They were offered employment, one man alone being able to use 500 men in clearing a piece of timber land on his farm. He would give them respectable wages but the commonwealers were not solely for the purpose of posing as frunks and didn't care to engage in anything likely to start perspiration. And there they are in Bladensburg. The people kick and wonder when in heaven's name they'll move.

Randall's Chicago band is plugging along in Indiana, having as a usual thing, a rather rocky time. "Gen." Sullivan still keeps his rebellious companies and marches right along in the wake of "Gen." Randall. Another general was created Monday, when at Goshen, George Coleman led 16 dissatisfied commonwealers out of the ranks and set up the standard of another "army." If this sort of thing keeps up the Randall army when it strikes Washington July 4 will have 400 generals and not a dodged private.

William Hogan, leader of the Montana Coxyites will keep off the capitol ground for some time to come. He has been sent to jail from Helena for six months for the slight matter of stealing a Northern Pacific train. Several of his companions will agitate for good roads behind the bars for 60 days. The rank and file was told not to do it again.

Kelly's flat boats have been going smoothly down the Des Moines river, their occupants getting something to eat once in a while but not so often as to cause illness through overloaded stomachs. The towns they strike usually make the Kellyites promise to land some where else before provisions are given them. The army was exhibited at Ottumwa for 10 cents an exhibit.

Galvan's army is starving in Pennsylvania. Galvan gave warning to Greensburg authorities Monday that if food were not forthcoming he would turn his men loose to get it as best they could.

Two hundred Coxyites captured a train from United States marshals at Montpelier, Wyo., Monday and started merrily eastward over the Oregon Short Line. Another gang, accompanied by fifty women, confiscated a train at Washington, Iowa.

Gen. Frye has been getting along fairly well in Indiana. It is said his men are above the average struck by members of the other armies.

At a commonweal meeting at Columbus, Ohio, Sunday night, one E. T. Adams made an anarchistic speech in which he said:

"Every unemployed man should go to Washington and demand justice at the hands of congress. Go peacefully if it is possible to do so, but if you cannot go peacefully, then go, nevertheless. The working people are hungry, and we cannot tell where this movement will end. It may end in peace, and it may end in strife. It should be carried forward, however, let it end where it may. We must have work at proper wages, and we must have bread, and we will have both if they can be secured. If this form of government cannot give them to us, then we must effect a change."—Chicago Blade.

The Rough River Packet.

Capt. Ed Daneley has arranged to put in a boat on Rough river from Livermore to Hartford, connecting with the Green river boats at the former place. The boat will leave Hartford on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, arriving at Livermore on the evening of the same day; leaving Livermore Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays arriving in Hartford the evening of the same days. The agreement entered into binds the parties for one year and it is expected will save to the merchants of Hartford and neighboring towns from 30 to 60 per cent on freights. The Hartford people are elated over the enterprise.—Owensboro Messenger.

YELLOW LAKE.

Dave Rhodes has the mumps. Mr. Bobbie Spencer is right sick at this writing.

Miss Mittie Fraize visited at Mr. Frank Rhodes' last Sunday.

Born May 13th to the wife of W. E. Rhodes, a bouncing boy.

Miss Lena Mattingly, who has been visiting at Irvington, returned home last week.

Remember Brown's excursion to Louisville, Saturday, May 26. Only $1.00 for the round trip.

Messrs. Fred Fraize, F. K. Rhodes and J. W. Storms attended court at Hardinsburg last Monday.

Miss Sue Willie Rhodes was down at her grand-mothers last week putting her carpet in the loom.

Miss Cretie Cannon, who has been an invalid for years, is more complaining this spring than usual.

Mr. Tom Rhodes, of Grayson county, paid his parents and brothers a flying visit last Saturday and Sunday.

John Rhodes will make another trip to Evansville soon. Guess we will have something to write about again.

Sirocco will stay until all the cold bread is eat. We can't help but admire the brave. I wish I could see "that hat."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fraize also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Compton visited our old friends, Mr. John Compton and wife, last Sunday.

Miss Georgianna Lewis, who is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. F. K. Rhodes, spent Saturday and Sunday at home near Kirk.

Mrs. Charlie Pearl after a lingering illness of several months, has sufficiently recovered as to resume some of her household duties.

Mitsey, shall we ever forget our delightful ride last Sunday afternoon? The cloud rolled by, didn't it? The sunset was a smile.

Farmers in this neighborhood will have to plant some of their corn over, it being so washed up by the heavy rain which fell the first Sunday.

Aunt Maria, as much a benevolent old darkey as "Aunt Chloe" was in the days of Uncle Tom's cabin, is spending several weeks at "massa" Billie Rhodes'.

Mr. Bob Rhodes, all smiling, started over in the Mattingly neighborhood Saturday evening, but returned Sunday looking pale and worn, saying he had been "gone back on" as usual.

Robert, Robert, very you so forgetful as to be allured from the path of duty by the sunny smiles of the fair one when you went for the doctor when your little baby brother was so sick? Remember child, it is duty before pleasure always.

It seems around here has become a rather suspicious place. Mr. Cliff Mattingly found his faithful watch dog poisoned and Dudley Green had some meat stolen. I think the people had better keep their meat houses securely locked and shot guns well-loaded.

Listen for (not the chime of wedding bells, although they may soon peal forth their melody up at the P. O.) but the sweet flow of music and merry steps of light feet tripping the oft repeated quadrille that some of our good people say we are to have in the very near future.

A merry little party composed of Dora McDaniel, Jimmie Mattingly, Mary Mattingly, Frank Rhodes, Sadie, Minnie, Julia, Lulu, Robert and Maggie Rhodes spent the holiday afternoon in the beautiful shade along the shore of Yellow Lake. I hope such pleasant little meetings may often be repeated this summer.

Knowing that silence is an ornament of the ignorant I had thought I would retire behind the "Shining light" of Meade and Brenkenridge, but friendship true is always appreciated, so I could not leave without thanking my little friend, Miss Lissie McDaniel for her kind wishes for my future happiness although I believe the "Storms" in name, but not in nature, is perfectly harmless. For your tender wishes my sincere thanks are yours.

Split His Scalp.

Last Thursday the ten-year-old son of Rev. Orendorf (col.) was working in the garden with his brother. The little fellow was bending over when his brother accidentally struck him in the head with a steel garden rake. One of the teeth of the rake split the boy's scalp to the bone for several inches on the top of his head, when it then entered and went under the skin scraping the skull and coming out about the center of the forehead.

Dr. Simons was called in and dressed the wound. Had it been a center lick instead of a glancing one the teeth of the rake would have penetrated the brain and caused death.

The Reflections of a Married Woman—are not pleasant if she is delicate, run-down, or over-worked. She feels "played out." Her smile and her good spirits have taken flight. It worries her husband as well as herself.

This is the time to build up her strength and cure those weak nerves or ailments which are the great of her trouble.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength. It's a safe remedial agent, a tonic and nerve restorer to cure those disorders and derangements incident to womanhood, or the money paid for it is returned.

It would not pay to sell a poor medicine on these terms.

There wouldn't be any cases of Chronic Catarrh if everyone used Dr. Sage's Remedy. Thank $500 reward for an incurable case.

HOW MUCH SLEEP

The Theory of Mr. Eddison, That Two Hours Is Enough, Is Largely Discussed.

He Holds That Much Sleeping Is a Relic of Barbarism, When People Had Only Sunlight.

SOME PEOPLE SLEEP LITTLE.

The discussion aroused by Edison's theory that two hours' sleep is enough for any rational and healthy human being continues vigorously. Opinion is not all with the inventor, for the majority of people insist that eight or nine hours' sleep is necessary to perfect health. A few instances are recalled by persons who have gone into the subject deeply, of men who have succeeded in getting along very well with four hours' sleep out of the twenty-four, and isolated cases of extraordinary periods of wakefulness in cases of danger and great excitement are quoted. The walking matches which were held at one time in New York gradually resolved themselves into a question of how long a man could get along without sleep, and in one instance a walker went five days with an average of less than three and one-half hours' sleep out of each twenty-four hours. Mr. Edison's theory is that the practice of sleeping eight or nine hours is a relic of barbarism, which became part of our nature when there was no artificial light, and that when darkness came on there was nothing else to do but sleep. Night editors, night watchmen, night telegraph operators, and other members of the numerous army of laborers who turn night into day, sleep fewer hours a day than other people. There are many thousands of men in this city who go to bed at 7 o'clock in the morning, after completing their night's work, and who are awake and stirring at 12 o'clock. They find five hours' sleep enough so do the men who have to go to market early, such as the purchasing agents of the big cafes, restaurants, clubs and grocery firms. These men rise at 3:30 or 4 o'clock in the morning, although they seldom go to bed before 11:30. Occasionally they take a nap in the afternoon for an hour, but that does not upset Mr. Edison's theory in any way. Perhaps a more notable instance is the life followed by some of the owners, trainers, stablemen and jockeys in the big racing stables. While the horses are in training during the season they are nearly always taken out for a trial in the early hours of the morning. The names of scores of men could be given who rise at 4:30 o'clock every morning of the racing season, repair to the stables, and who never get to bed until near four of the clock. Sailors sleep four hours, then have an eight hours' watch, and so do the officers on the ocean steamers. The second four hours rest at the expiration of the first eight hours on deck is often spent by the officers and men in reading, smoking and lounging about. Sometimes they snatch an hour's sleep or so, but seamen assert that five hours' sleep is enough for any able-bodied man.—New York Sun.

A few words as to my methods of buying and selling, and those Old Moss-back Credit Houses. Suppose two buyers were to walk into a house. One says, I want to buy 50 cases of goods on four month's credit. What's your price? The proprietor squirms and kicks around and figures up as follows: Loss of interest one per cent; extra risk of failure five per cent; risk of delay one per cent. I will sell at 100 net. Our man says our trade demands 250 cases, for which I will pay spot cash. What is your price? 92 cents. Let us follow up these goods still further, and remember we are not speaking of regular staple goods, not auction sundries, in which I can frequently give you 50 per cent. advantage. The "Credit Moss-back Jobber" gets in his goods at a dollar. He pursues the self-same argument the manufacturer did, only on a bigger scale. He argues loss of interest 3 per cent, risk of delay, 2 per cent, dead risk, and to make the losses, which are sure to occur by bad debts, add 8 per cent. This you see is estimating low. Now add up these extra taxes, and say the manufacturer adds 8 per cent. The "Moss-back Jobber" 13 per cent, total 21 per cent, which must be paid and the goods must be sold at above their intrinsic value. The goods I pay 92 cents for are offered to any and all who have the cash at 95 cents. Now, there is a practical explanation of the difference between my system and the old regulars, who purchase of the thirty, sixty and ninety day credit concerns. I'll leave to anyone who possesses a single grain of "White Horse Sense" that anyone who buys on eternal time and sells on same basis, it can't be long before he reaches the end of his rope. There's no middle course. Why can't the margin of profits at the end be bought at and selling end be cut to the minimum? It does me lots of good to cut the life out of profits. People recognize values and are ready to grab bargains. For instance best pencils, ordinarily retailing at 2 for 5 cents, I sell at 1 cent each or 8 cents a dozen, 50 envelopes 5 cents. Good commercial note paper 30 sheets for 5 cents. A good adamantite pin at 1 cent per paper, other houses 5 cents. Best brass pins only 5 cents, can't be duplicated in no other house under 8 cents for same article. Best buckskin 3-hook purses 5 cents, and dozens of other articles to numerous to name on account of space. Nothing affords me more pleasure to be able to by securing a bargain to mark it at a price that will astonish all.
