RICHARD OWEN NOMINATED BY DEMOCRATS FOR STATE SENATOR.

Breckenridge County Democrats Give Their Native Son Big Majority Of 392 Votes.

NEWS PREDICTS ABOUT RIGHT.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Jan. 31.—(Special.)—A large vote was polled in the Democratic primary held last Saturday more than 1,600 voters registering their preference in this county. Owen's majority in this county is 392 and in the district about 395. The complete returns from Meade county have been received, but the returns from Hancock county show that one precinct, Lyonia, has not been reported. Owen's majority in the district misses the estimate published in the News on January 18 by only a few votes. In the following table, the vote in Breckenridge county is given by precincts:

PRECINCT.	Owen.	Richardson.
Hardinsburg, No. 1	118	23
Hardinsburg, No. 2	36	34

A CORRECTION.

These lines are not written so much to correct an error as to call the attention of every member of the American Society of Equity to the important meeting to be held in this city by the tobacco growers of Breckenridge and Hancock counties, on next Saturday. The questions to be considered at this meeting have been published in the News. They are of vital interest to every farmer, and every tobacco grower who is interested in the great movement that is being made to secure better prices is urgently requested to attend.

It was stated in the News last week that the meeting was to be held by the tobacco growers of Meade and Breckenridge counties, when it should have been Hancock and Breckenridge counties.

Agonizing Burns

are instantly relieved, and perfectly healed, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. Rivenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee dreadfully; that it blistered all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain, and healed it without a scar." Also heals all wounds and aches. 25c at Short & Haynes druggists.

NEW DIRECTORY.

A new directory for the Cloverport exchange, and the branch exchanges at Hardinsburg and Stephensport, has been issued by the Cumberland Telephone company. The directory also contains a directory of all the local and the long distance toll lines in Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla enjoys the distinction of being the greatest curative and preventive medicine the world has ever known. It is an all-round medicine, producing its unequalled effects by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood on which the health and strength of every organ, bone and tissue depend. Accept no substitute for Hood's, but insist on having Hood's AND ONLY HOOD'S.

MRS. A. JONES DEAD.

The following is from the Monett (Mo.) Daily Star:

"Mary Dimple Hayes was born near Hardinsburg, Ky., March 22, 1874, and there on September 6, 1899, she became the wife of Dr. Alva Jones. Dr. Jones had about one year previous to this date commenced the practice of his chosen profession in Monett and immediately after the wedding, Dr. and Mrs. Jones came to Monett. Their beautiful home on Third street is the one they together planned and in which they have spent so many happy hours together. But the sweetness and tenderness of a pure woman's love, and the courage and manliness of a noble man's love could not seal the door against the last enemy, death, and early in the morning January 21, 1905, she was not here, for Jesus had taken her.

"Sister Jones was converted when only a child of eleven years, and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. When she left her old home and came west she did not leave her church membership behind but at once sought her church and united with the Christian forces of Monett to do the Master's work. She has been a consistent and earnest worker for Christ all her life. In her death her church loses one of its most valuable and faithful members. Not only her church but every church in Monett will miss her for her labor and love inspired others to love and labor. She sang God's praises and taught others to sing them. The world is better because of her life in it.

"Sister Jones leaves a husband, a mother, five brothers, with friends, numberless friends, to mourn her early death. Words are too weak to describe her worth. Like pure gold her sweetness and purity of character cannot be added to. We mourn her departure, but leave her asleep in the arms of Jesus.

The funeral service was held at the residence Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The flowers were profuse and superb. Among the special ones were a harp of white flowers from Mrs. Jones' music class and a large cross of white rose buds from her husband. Also anchors and other designs, one from the M. E. Sunday-school, besides a profusion of bouquets, from friends, all desiring to add some tribute to her most estimable life.

HARDINSBURG ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Hardinsburg, Ky., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. Margaret May received news Monday of the death of her sister, Mrs. Bettie Rhodes, of Shambaugh, Iowa, on January 29. She was fifty-six years of age, and leaves a husband, who is a son of John Rhodes, deceased, of Kirk; a brother, Sam Beard; and three sisters, Mrs. A. Goodman, Mrs. Martin Weatherford and Mrs. May. She lived out of the State a number of years, but was well known here.

W. S. Ball organized a local union of the American Society of Equity at Kirk, Saturday evening. Twenty-five farmers joined, and W. A. Downs was elected president, Gid Miller, vice president, and Frank McGary, Secre-

HAS ONE OF THEM.

An article in Saturday's Louisville Times gives the "Natural Curiosities and Historic Ruins of Kentucky." Hancock county has one of the curiosities mentioned and many people in both Hancock and Breckenridge counties know of this place. It says the following: "In Hancock county, about three-fourths of a mile from the Ohio river and about four miles from Hawesville, is a natural fortification. This is a circular table of land, surrounded on all sides by a cliff from fifty to one hundred and twenty-five feet high, which is impossible of ascent except in one place.

"Near this fort is a burial place, or mound, while the ground, some years ago, was covered with bones of human beings. About one hundred yards from this place a spring issues from a large rock, which discharges a bituminous matter which smells like common tar."

Poisons in Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. NO WEED USELESS.

New York, Jan. 28.—It has been announced that the sum of $100,000 allotted by the trustees of the Carnegie institute to Luther Burbank, the California agriculturist, will be paid to him in annual installments of $10,000. This sum will enable Burbank to devote his entire attention for that period to experiments with new grasses and vegetables, and it is expected that he will relinquish temporarily his business interests.

Many important discoveries have been made by the Californian at his home in Santa Rosa during the past twenty-five years. He has worked along the line of seeking imperfect products in fruits, flowers, etc., in order to make them of full value. He claims there is "no weed which will not, sooner or later, respond liberally to good cultivation and persistent selection."

BARELY ALIVE.

A recent letter received here by relatives states that Guy Wool, formerly of this city, is barely alive at his home at Lake Charles, La., and no hope is entertained for his recovery. Mr. Wood is ill of consumption, as stated in last week's News.

VERY INTERESTING.

Garfield, Ky., Jan. 31.—(Special.)—The meeting here last Friday and Saturday of the ministers of the Breckenridge association of Baptists was very interesting and, considering the inclement weather, very well represented by visiting ministers.

Meade Loyal To Richardson and Hancock Democrats Stand By Owen In Primary.

TWO CIPHERS FOR THE RED FOX.

Meade county was loyal to her native son and Hancock county to her adopted son, in the Democratic primary for State Senator, last Saturday. In view of the fact that many more votes were cast in Meade than in Hancock, it is very evident that Senator Richardson's following was not as strong in the former county, as was Mr. Owen's in the latter. Out of a total of 859 votes polled in Meade county, Richardson received 696 votes and Owen 163, the former's majority being 533. Eight precincts out of nine in Hancock county gave Owen 471 votes and Richardson 45 votes. Lyonia, the only precinct that has not been reported, will give Owen a majority of from twenty to twenty-five, it is estimated, making his majority about 446 in the county. It was acknowledged by both sides that the result of the primary depended on Hancock's vote.

The vote of Hancock and Meade counties is given by precincts in the tables below.
