THOUGHTS.

"I wish to see in the average American citizen the development of the two sets of qualities, which we can roughly indicate as sweetness and strength—the qualities on the one hand, which will make the man able to hold his own. And those which, on the other hand, make him jealous of the rights of others just as much as for his own rights."—Theodore Roosevelt.

If you want to feel twenty years younger and get in touch with youth just give a house party.

NEXT Tuesday is the Fourth of July. But it is needless for us to remind you of that fact. Nobe Pate has already done that. His barbecue at Hardinsburg on that day will be the greatest on earth. Nobe believes in advertising and we see where he is right.

DR. J. W. GARDINER, of Madisonville, is visiting his mother, at Hardinsburg, this week. Dr. Gardiner says the people of his town and community are very enthusiastic over the prospect for a railroad from their town to Cloverport. He says they think it is a sure-go and that work will begin very soon. A Pennsylvania syndicate, he says, is back of it.

It is understood that the Republican committee, at their meeting Monday, indorsed or recommended the following men for the various county offices: For representative, Hon. John P. Haswell, Jr.; for county judge, Morris Eskridge; for county court clerk, Hon. R. M. Jolly; for sheriff, Sherman Ball; for county attorney, Allen R. Kinchloe; for jailor, W. J. Hall; for superintendent public schools, Andrew Driskell. In this list there is only one regularly announced candidate, Mr. Hall, of Rockvale. If the convention ratifies the action of the committee, then it is up to the men as to whether they will accept. The gentlemen named will have a month, so will the voters. If the voters among the rank and file of the Republican party in the county have any good reasons why this ticket, suggested by the committee, should not be named, let them speak out now or forever hold their peace. If there are any other men in the county more competent, better qualified or in any way better suited for any of the offices it is your duty as a good citizen and a Republican to speak out. The Democrats have named their ticket. You know the men, you know what character of men they are and you know whether, as Republicans, you can vote for them. The Republican party in this county holds the balance of power. It is with them as to who will serve us the next four years. If men are nominated satisfactory to the whole party they can be elected. Any Republican who has a suggestion to make on the action of the committee should speak out now. We don't suppose any of the men named by the committee are running after the nomination. They know there is a hard fight ahead. They know what kind of a fight they have to make and they are not breaking their necks to get into it. They would like to know, we presume, before they go in whether they will have the united support of their party, and it is due them that they should. Our columns are open for any suggestions.

THE HOME AND THE SCHOOL.

THE SCHOOL should be an extension of the home. The same spirit should control both. Both should be conducted with an eye single to the permanent well-being of the children committed to their care; and that is, of course, almost solely a matter of character, in its broadest sense. Character comprehends, very broadly, body, mind and spirit. The old narrow, convention view of the subject no longer prevails. It need hardly be said that the problem is essentially the same, too, whether the school be public, private or parochial, and remains the same through primary and secondary education; the student succeeding to the parent in the latter stages of training, with himself as his charge.

The national Daily Review is strongly of the opinion that the home should earnestly and constantly uphold the school. The parents should loyally support the school authorities, directors, superintendents, principals and teachers. The child at home should hear nothing but praise of the teacher. His administration should not be criticised, but should be praised for whatever good points it may possess. The excellence of the school and the value of its opportunities cannot be spoken of too often. The home in which the school and the teacher are always "popular" is very fortunate indeed. Enthusiasm for and about the school helps both the school and the home.

Not less than once each term, the parents, one or better both, should visit the school and get in touch with its work. The visit should be made quietly and unobtrusively, so as to be a help and not a hindrance to the teacher's work and the pupil's progress. The teacher should be given a word of appreciation and encouragement. Out of school hours, there should be frank and friendly conferences between parent and teacher. This brings the home and the school into vital and friendly relations.

You cannot do too much to advance the permanent interests of your children; and in no direction can you accomplish more for them or with less effect than by co-operating with their teachers.—Daily Review, Chicago.

"FOUND"

Odd Notice in Prominent Southern Paper of Interest to Cloverport Residents.

One of the best known newspapers in the South is the "Guide" of Dunn, N. C. Its publisher, J. P. Pitman, sends us the clipping with request to publish:

"Found,—by the editor of the Guide, a bottle of Hyomei, the wonderful treatment that cures catarrh without stomach dosing. We can speak in highest praise of its remarkable power to cure and relieve catarrh of the head and throat. This mention is made not as an advertisement, but in the interest of those who suffer the torture of that terrible disease, catarrh."

In sending the clipping, Mr. Pitman wrote the following letter:

"I enclose a little piece from my paper, issued to-day. You will see from this that I desire to push the selling of Hyomei as far as possible. I am using it in my own family, and find that it gives the desired relief, so that I take pleasure in spreading far and near the knowledge of this sure relief for catarrh."

Short & Haynes, in preparation for the catarrhal troubles of this season of the year, have ordered a large stock of Hyomei, and sell it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. The complete outfit costs but $1, and extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents. Ask them to show you the strong guarantee under which they sell it. This remarkable remedy medicates the air you breathe, soothing and healing the mucous membrane of the air passages, and making a complete cure of the worst case of catarrh.
