

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXXI.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1907.

8 Pages

NO. 28

SINCE '84

River Has Not Been Known to Have Reached Such a High Stage.

Residences and Business Houses Inundated By the High Waters.

RIVER IS NOW ON A STAND-FARMS DAMAGED

THE 1884 stage was not reached. The flood has spent its force. At the time of going to press the river is said to be on a stand. A report from Louisville is to the effect that the waters are receding. To-day in Cloverport the river is flooding several residences on the banks and the occupants were forced, in most instances, to vacate their premises either Sunday or Monday. Many of the business houses have been suffering from the high waters, and several places of business have been suspended until the high waters recede.

Several feet of water cover the iron bridge across Clover creek, in the heart of town, and the city council has provided for a ferry to transport free of charge the citizens from their residences to the business portion of the town.

It is claimed that the river lacked about two feet of reaching the 1884 stage. Untold damage has been done to crops and stock. However, the worst of the flood is now believed to be over.

No boats are running.
'84 still holds the record.
Help the distressed.
Cloverport is not quite water bound.
It's Cloverport and Greater Cloverport now.
Brandenburg is getting her full share of the rise.
Our sister towns along the Ohio: are still on top and not a-swimming.
"Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Don't get angry if you fall into the river.
The 1884 stage? Not quite.
"Butch" Sawyer has gone into the ferrying business until the water recedes from his business house sufficient for him to take possession again.
One thing sure. No unmarried woman in Cloverport remembers the '84 flood.
Kirk Weatherholt's store is standing in several feet of water.
If you are high and dry, remember your neighbor.
The tracks of the Henderson Route near West Point are under water.
The wharf boat at the upper landing was washed into Clover creek and torn up considerably by the waves and drift-wood.
At Skillman the farmers are suffering considerable damage. Stacks of hay and corn in the shock have been washed away, and the inundation has done untold injury to the growing wheat.
Jarboe & Skillman are heavy losers from the high waters. Hay and corn amounting to considerable were carried down stream from their farm at Skillman.
After all, Noah's Ark isn't so out of date, if it is old.
The "oldest inhabitant" is as full of recollections as a dog is of fleas.
The ferry line is the most popular thing in Cloverport just now.
Bulletin: The Ohio river has been on a boom for several days.
The town of Tobinsport, just across the river, is getting its full share of the high waters. Many houses are under and the majority of families have been forced to abandon their homes.
Just across on the Indiana side the farmers are experiencing heavy losses. In some instances whole fields of corn have been washed away.
Sympathy and kindness for those in trouble are being shown on all sides.
The "old-timer" is "making good" on the '84 flood just now.

The basements to all the storerooms on the lower side of main street are flooded to a depth of several feet. The cellars of J. C. Nolte & Bro., F. Fraize and A. R. Fisher are full up.
A pig crunching an ear of corn and riding dritwood down the stream at a terrific speed, was one of the novel sights Tuesday.
Mike Popham's saloon has been forced to close down. The river is up over the floor several inches.
At Hawesville many of the residents close to the river banks have been forced to abandon their homes. All of river street and the bigger portion of Main street are inundated.
A straw stack on fire passed down the river yesterday.
Business has been on the quiet during the high waters.
The small boy and the coon have more business than a Rockefeller on the opposite side of the stream from them. The free ferry is kept on the go.

The families in Cloverport who have been forced to vacate their homes on account of the high waters are the following: Jno. Roberts, Henry Morton, Nathaniel Tucker, Mrs. Annie Raitt, Mrs. A. S. English, John Burke, Ed Gregory, Forrest Gilliland, Dan Williams, Forrest Ahl, Mrs. Julia Hambleton.

Water has put the blacksmith firm of Dent & Dyer out of business temporarily. The building is standing in several feet of water.

The man with a skiff is very popular these days.

C. G. Schwartz, the upholsterer, is surrounded with water at his place of business.

Get your note book out. You'll be an "old resident" some day.

The business property of Mrs. Isabelle Weatherholt is submerged.

The residents along Slick creek have abandoned their homes for tall timber.

There is not much danger of the hill people having to move out.

Mrs. Mary Raitt and daughters, Misses Annie and Josie Raitt are staying with Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stader with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Tucker and family with Mrs. Viola Jackson.

Mrs. Adel Hambleton with Mr. James Fisher at the Fisher homestead.

Forrest Gilliland with his brother-in-law, Mr. Dugan.

David Murray, Jr., is with his sister, Mrs. Fred Ferry.

Ed. Gregory and family, Douglas Williams and family, John Burks and family have moved to Eastland.

NEWSY NOTES

From Bewleyville--Post-Office Discontinued--Courtland Kasey Killed.

Bewleyville, Ky., Jan. 21.—(Special.)—While enroute home from Big Spring last Monday evening, Courtland Kasey was struck by a falling tree and both himself and his horse were instantly killed. Mr. Kasey was about forty-eight years of age and was formerly engaged in tobacco buying and was also a progressive farmer. He leaves a wife eight children and a host of other relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

The postoffice at this place has been discontinued and a rural route now exists throughout the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Stith were in Irvington Monday shopping and visiting friends.

E. P. Hardaway went to Louisville Monday to sell tobacco, but not finding the prices satisfactory, he returned without selling it.

We regret very much to hear of the death of Alex E. Hardaway in Louisville. Mr. Hardaway was a former resident of this county and has many friends here who regret to hear of his death.

Z. T. Stith lost a fine calf last Sunday morning. The animal fell into the ice house, which contained about seven feet of water, and was drowned.

Miss Beulah Payne was at home from her school Saturday and Sunday.

J. F. Simmons, of Louisville, was here last week buying cedar timber.

G. E. Morris, George Drury and Dr. Walker were in Louisville last week selling tobacco.

Hon. Chas. Blanford and H. I. Snyder have had severe attacks of grip are much improved at this writing.

Miss Wilda Robinson has returned to her home at Sample after a visit to Miss Annie Compton.

Miss Eula Claycomb, Basin Springs, spent several days of last week with Miss Ina McCoy.

Miss Lillie McGlothlan, Irvington, spent last week with Mrs. D. C. Heron.

D. C. Heron, who has a traveling position with a lumber firm at Louisville, was at home a few days last week.

Twenty Three Club Organized and Entertained.

Mr. Sterrett Jarboe entertained "The Twenty-Three Club," Friday night at his home. Those present were: Misses Marcia King, Pauline Moorman, Edith Burn, Reba Lewis, Virginia McGavock and Messrs. William White, Harold Murray, Virgil Babbage, Sterret and John Jarboe. The club was organized at the home of Mr. William White, Friday evening, January 4. The meetings will be held every other week and will be of a social nature entirely.

Flowers In Bloom.

In the yard of Mr. and Mr. V. G. Babbage, a bush which some call "a tree honey suckle" has a full leaf and blossom which came out during the recent warm days. The occurrence is a most unusual one as this flower does not bloom until spring. Mr. Chas. May, who makes flowers quite a study, thinks it is a species of Japonica, but it is not natural for it to bloom this time of year only in the southern climate.

Welcome Visitors.

A number of young society men of Hardinsburg were here Sunday. Some came to visit friends, some to see the disastrous effect of the high water at this place and others came for recreation. Among those here were: Messrs. Sherman Ball, Franklin Kincheloe, Dr. Day, Tom Moore, Arthur Beard and Mr. Roy Moorman, managing editor of The Breckenridge Democrat.

Toy Animal Patterns.

I will send to anyone who sends postage and address patterns of elephant, dog, horse and of all kinds of animals.

Yours truly,
Mrs. F. A. Warner,
1700 Frankfort, Ave.,
Louisville, Ky.

The News received some of these patterns from Mrs. Warner and we think they are wonderful little creations.

Thrown From Horse.

Miss Annie Lamb, who is teaching school at Dukes, was thrown from her horse yesterday morning while on her way to school. Her head and shoulder struck the ground and she received rather serious injuries about the head,

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD

In England and France the Sale of Alum Baking Powder is prohibited by law because of the injurious effects that follow its use.

The law in the District of Columbia also prohibits Alum in food.

You may live where as yet you have no protection against Alum. The only sure protection against Alum in your Baking Powder is to Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL is made from Absolutely pure Cream of Tartar,—a pure Grape product. Aids digestion—adds to the healthfulness of food.

IRVINGTON.

Bunched News In Pert Paragraphs.

Irvington, Ky., Jan. 21.—Mr. James King is home from a trip to Oklahoma, where he was much pleased with the country and his trip in general, but declines to sell his farm here and move to the West, saying old Kentucky was good enough for him.

The produce firm of Jean & Co. who have been doing business here for the past year or more, have sold out to R. S. Bandy & Co., and the new firm will continue the business at the old stand under the management of Mr. J. B. Biggs. The farmers and merchants will do well to send their produce to the new firm, they paying the highest marketable price in cash.

Mr. Richard Hardaway was called to Louisville last week to attend the funeral of his brother, Alex, who died of pneumonia. Mr. Hardaway's friends sympathize with him in the loss of a brother and sister.

Mr. King, representing the Continental Insurance Co., was here last week to adjust the loss on the fire of Payne & Bros' store. Everything was settled satisfactorily.

Jonas Lyons purchased of Sash Simmons 140 acres of land near town, paying $4,200 for it. Mr. Simmons contemplates moving his family to town.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady moved into the cottage formerly occupied by Lon Bishoff, on Church avenue.

Mrs. D. C. Heron continues to wear the ribbons when it comes to poultry raising. She has 100 fine blooded Rhode Island red hens and the finest bred cockerels in this part of the country. Prize birds. Mrs. Heron always has fresh eggs, and is shipping her settings and chickens to all parts of the State. Mrs. Heron finds poultry-raising pleasant and profitable.

Mrs. Annie W. Herndon has purchased the cottage on Maple street formerly owned by Mr. Pomp McCoy.

Mr. Ben Clarkson, of Big Spring, was here last week to see his sister, Mrs. H. H. Kemper.

The Knights of Pythias gave a supper Thursday evening at their lodge rooms. They also initiated several parties for membership.

Dr. Moremen has fitted up an office over the brick store and is now ready to serve his former patrons. We are much pleased to have Dr. Moremen settle among us again.

Miss Ellen Mumford has returned from Louisville.

Mrs. Forrest VanMeter is with us again while her husband is on a business trip to Florida.

Miss Claire Jolly left Saturday for Belmont College.

The Milling Co. and Baptist church sustained quite a loss caused by the high winds Saturday night. Part of the roof of the mill was injured and the spire of the church was blown off.

Judge William Boskett, of Brandenburg, was here Saturday and purchased several splendid combined horses and a number of good mules.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilford and Miss Tilford, of Fordsville spent Sunday here. Miss Iva Mudd left Tuesday for Louisville where she fills a very important position. We are very loath to see her go, as she fills a very important place in the church and community.

Mrs. J. R. Wimp wishes to extend her appreciation and heart-felt thanks to the donors of the lovely present she received so recently.

Quite a large and appreciative audience listened to the Rev. John Wesley Hughes, president of Kingswood College at the Methodist church Sunday. Rev. Hughes is without a doubt a live wire, and we hope he will come and preach for us again.

LOUISVILLE PRESBYTERY

Will Convene With Lucile Memorial Church in April.

In the latter part of April the annual meeting of the Louisville Presbytery will be held in the Lucile Memorial church. The Presbytery will be given a hearty welcome as it was thoroughly enjoyed when held in this city five years ago. Twenty or thirty members will be in attendance.

The Rev. Edwin Graves, of Irvington, was here Sunday to fill his regular appointment in the Presbyterian church, and he preached two excellent sermons.

The Presbyterian members are to be congratulated on putting a furnace in their church. The auditorium and Sunday school room were thrown together Sunday and were most comfortably heated.

The Missionary and Aid societies which have been holding their meetings on Tuesday after the first Sunday in each month, have changed date and instead will meet on Monday after the first Sunday. The February meeting will be held with Mrs. Hamman, Feb. 3.

Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and Prayer Meeting every Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

River Over Banks at Brandenburg.

News was received here yesterday over the telephone that the river had reached within four feet from Mr. William Ditto's drug store at Brandenburg. Mr. Ditto's house is situated in the central part of the main street of Brandenburg. From this information we judge that the houses, post-office, Messenger printing office and other business buildings which are on the side of the drug store next to the river, are inundated.

NO FREIGHTS RUNNING.

Only One Passenger Northbound Each Day--No Trains West-bound.

Only one passenger train a day is in service on the Henderson route at present. No trains are running west on account of the water flooding the tracks at Hawesville. One train leaves Cloverport for West Point at 9:40 a. m. and returning arrives at 7:40 p. m. The tracks of the road are submerged at West Point, cutting the trains off from Louisville. Passengers are carried into the city from West Point over the Illinois Central.

No trains are running either way.

New Aspirants for Trotting Honors.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 16.—The youngest firm of breeders and racers of trotting horses was formed here to-day when Eeward and Joseph Madden, the sons of J. E. Madden, proprietor of Hans-Place, bought of P. P. Parish, Midway, Ky., through John Splan eleven head of trotting broodmares and fillies, which will form their breeding stud with the four-year-old stallion Siliko, winner of the Kentucky Futurity last season, and a three-year-old full brother of Siliko. Some of the fillies purchased to-day will be campaigned next season, as will Siliko and his brother after a short season in the stud.

Stephensport Cut Off.

No communication by telephone could be made with Stephensport yesterday as all the lines were out of fix.

The Rhodes Scholarship examination was held at Lexington last week. Among the applicants was W. S. Hambleton, representing State College. Hambleton is from Brandenburg, Ky., and has made marked progress in his college work.

Following is the special cable dispatch to The New York Sun:

It is stated that the Rhodes trustees are considering a reduction in the number of foreign scholarships at Oxford University established by the fund. The maintenance of these scholarships has proved more expensive than was originally contemplated.

It is believed that financial depression has caused the revenue from the Rhodes estate to decrease.

Shake off the grip of your old enemy, Nasal Catarrh, by using Ely's Cream Balm. Then will all the swelling and soreness be driven out of the tender, inflamed membranes. The fits of sneezing will cease and the discharge, as offensive to others as to yourself, will be cured when the causes that produce it are removed. Cleanliness, comfort and health renewed by the use of Cream Balm. Sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.