

THE GUINEA IN DISGUISE.
When on a trip to grandpa's farm
You're always sure to meet
The guinea with his hawk alarm—
"Buckwheat! Buckwheat! Buckwheat!"

If you should unto New York go
You almost die of fright
When that same guinea whistles low:
"Bob White! Bob White! Bob White!"

But down at Philadelphia, too,
He sounds the pheasant's drum;
Most scares the daylight out of you
With his "Trum! Tr-r-rum! Trum!"

Now, at Atlantic by the sea
He's honten canvasback.
Just fills your gizzard up with glee
To hear him "Quack! Quack! Quack!"

O guinea, guinea, sakes alive,
You used to cost but nix!
But now you cost from two to five
By changing your outfit.

At home you dressed in polka dots,
But now, full dressed in town,
You're frilled in parsley and pink knots
And sport a fine sheath gown.

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS
Q. I am raising Belgians and ask for the following information: When should young ones open their eyes, and when is it time to wean and why does the mother eat her young?
A. From a week to twelve days. Six weeks. Because you do not give her water at time litter is born.
Q. Please tell me how old squabs are when parent birds lay and hatch again and if the old birds desert them at that time.
A. Pigeons lay and set again from ten to fourteen days after squabs are hatched and generally feed them up to time of new hatch, but after that are apt to be ugly to them.
Q. What style bone cutter do you recommend me to buy?
A. Self feeding, open hopper style, with partition in center of hopper and no exposed cogs. Buy one with legs. The bench bolted bone cutter is a nuisance.
Q. We are thinking of raising a few peacocks and can find no literature about them. We come to you with our questions: What color is the egg? How many in a clutch? How old to breed? Are they hard to raise and good eating?
A. The pea hen lays from five to eight whitish eggs a season. Breeding age, two to three years. Fed like turkeys and kept on dry, rich soil, with shade, are easily raised. Males hard to chew, hens better, young a delicacy.
Q. A dealer has advised me to use ferrets to catch the rats at my plant. Will they catch chickens?
A. Yes. They are of the weasel tribe and will do anything a weasel does. If you get them, watch the baby, for they will kill it. Better put in concrete floors and use the old methods of extermination.
Q. Kindly let me know if tallow may be used in ration for chickens and what for.
A. When chickens are fed in fattening crates the last ten days of the twenty-four tallow is part of the ration. It is melted and mixed with meal. A little is used at first till at the end of the period the proportion is one pound to fifty fowls twice a day.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.
Pigeons that are continually flying are tough and taste no more like a real squab than your wife's first cooking tasted like your mother's.
Our friends of the fancy are now working overtime building their birds for the show. They all expect a fair deal from the judge. May they not do otherwise to the other fellow who competes with them?
The country fair associations are very anxious for a fine, large display of poultry. The reason some of them don't get it is because the fair association must share no expense and the poultryman must spare no expense.
It is a mistake to think that poultry buyers are after large dressed stock. The call is for a medium sized bird with a plump, shapely body. Big birds have gone the way of the big "Merry Widow."
Your birds leave the nest, the squabs starve and the eggs chill. Turn up the

Pain Weakens
Headache, rheumatism, neuralgia, or pains of any nature weaken the system—they are a strain upon the nerves. Almost instant relief can be obtained by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and without any bad after-effects. Take one on first indication of an attack—it will ward it off. They are a pleasant little tablet, sold by druggists everywhere, 25 doses 25 cents; never sold in bulk.
"I was subject to constant headaches for a period of four years. At times I was almost unable to do the work in which I am engaged, that of station agent. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the result has been that I have entirely eradicated my system of those continuous headaches that follow a continual mental strain. They have done for me all that is claimed for them."

which give you such exquisite suffering, every month, are caused, as you know, by female trouble. Relief seldom or never comes of itself. It is necessary to cure the cause, in order to stop the pains, and this can only be done if you will take a specific, female remedy, that acts directly on the womanly organs.

WOMAN'S RELIEF
"Cardui did wonders for me," writes Mrs. H. C. Larson, of Olds, Ia. "I had female trouble for 8 years. I had displacement, which increased my suffering, the doctor could only relieve me at times. Now, I am so much better, I hardly know when my time begins or when it ends."

nests and see them run. How can a pigeon sit comfortably with a dozen mice wiggling under her any more than can you sleep in church with your wife jabbing you with a hatpin?
In stealing ten fine chickens at Buckhorn, Pa., the thief left his set of false teeth behind. If they were tough hens, what could the poor man do? Will those of our readers who wear "store teeth" please advise the poor man?
Squabs twelve hours old are called "peepers," twenty-four hours old "squakers" and a month old "squallers." Men may be divided into workers, jerkers, shirkers and kickers; also fakirs, fossils and fools. You are one of the good fellows.
The eyes of racing homers protrude on return from a long race. This is caused by their efforts to sight home at long distance. Their sight is as remarkable as their flight.
Canadian firms have been selling eggs for hatching on credit if the customer gives his note to the Standard Bank of Canada. But if the eggs are rotten how can they egg a man on to pay?
"We would rather be right than be president." But we would rather be president than a poultryman—for a little while. Then we would "de-light" in sending a "strenuous" message to congress on the great American hen, and we would send notice to some of these state legislatures that appropriate nothing for poultry culture that if street cars are no longer run by mules some legislatures have a surplus of jacks.

HUMBLED THE PRINCESS.
Fall of a Dusky Beauty From the South Sea Islands.
One night John Sharp Williams, while a student at Heidelberg, Germany, was in attendance upon a swell function at which the guest of honor was a dark skinned princess alleged to hail from one of the south sea islands. This princess was magnificently bedecked and bejeweled, and her warm olive complexion, set off by a mass of black, kinky hair, full red lips, snow white teeth and black, sparkling eyes, made her the center of the function. The masculine-like Germans swarmed about her like bees around a honeysuckle vine, and even Dutch femininity could not discount the charm of her manner or the beauty of her person.
John Sharp was introduced, of course, and immediately upon obtaining a near view of the princess (?) his southern instincts rose to the surface and his southern blood began to boil. Watching his opportunity, he managed to get to the beauty's elbow. Then, reducing his voice to a low, but perfectly audible key, he sent into her startled ears this alarming query:
"Look here, nigger, where did you come from?"
Panle stricken and with all her self possession scattered, the alleged princess turned upon her interrogator as she heard the familiar intonation of the southerner and looked into his unrelenting face. Then she stammered:
"Fum South Carolina, boss, but for de Lawd's sake don't tell it."
Whether John Sharp respected the pitiful plea of a southern nigger in a faraway land and permitted her to continue her bold imposition upon the credulous Germans the story does not tell. But the fact remains that the "princess" realized that she was in the presence of one who, from intimate knowledge of her race, had divined her African origin, and she could only throw herself on his mercy.—Biloxi Herald.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS.
The Way He Came to Write His "Uncle Remus" Stories.
Many great works of genius, as is well known, have been produced by accident, and an author is seldom the best judge of his own work. When Joel Chandler Harris wrote the first of his "Uncle Remus" stories and presented it for publication he did so with a hundred misgivings. He was not sure that his venture in negro folklore would prove successful. He could not know that they would bring him worldwide fame.
At the time described Mr. Harris was a young man of twenty-eight, employed on the Atlanta Constitution. Sam W. Small, afterward a revivalist, who had been writing for the same paper a popular column of negro story and dialect, had just resigned from the staff. The managing editor of the Constitution, wishing to continue the feature, said to Harris one day: "Joel, it seems to me you could do that sort of thing to a tee. See if you can't turn in something tonight."
The young writer's memory flitted back to his early days on a plantation. All the quaint settings of negro life—the little cabins, the fiddling dardies, the wrinkled story teller, the black "mammies," the noisy corn shuckings, the bobtailed rabbits disappearing along the road—came hurrying from the past. Late that afternoon he turned in his copy. The next day his reputation was made.—Current Literature.

TIPPING IN BOHEMIA.
Even the Street Car Conductor Expects His Gratuity.
In the city of Prague a tip to the tramway conductor is considered de rigueur. The orthodox tip consists of but 2 heller, or two-tenths of a penny, yet as "strap hanging" is allowed for in considering the carrying capacity of the car the conductors should have got a goodly pocketful of the minimum coin by each day's end.
Tipping, it was ascertained in another of Bohemia's larger towns, is so fully recognized that the head waiter at a cafe pays a rent for his post, supplies all the journals for the coffee room and looks after the other waiters and then makes an income larger than that of a university professor, all out of his tips.
After supper at one of the delightful open air cafes of the capital it was found that approximately one should give a half krone (fivepence) to the head waiter who took payment, twopence to the underwaiter who brought the viands and a half penny to the boy who brought—and even brought again as one glass was finished—the beer.—London Chronicle.

Don't Say Cologne.
She sprinkled eau de cologne liberally in the bath of pink marble. "It is this perfume," she said learnedly, "which makes us think that the town of Cologne must be scented. Johann Maria Farina invented 200 years ago in Cologne a perfume made of the oils of neroli, citron, bergamot, orange and rosemary. He called the perfume after his city, eau de Cologne—water of Cologne. By the same token, had she been a Londoner, he'd have called it eau de London. In that case the illiterate would now think London a scented city, and instead of saying correctly, 'Put a few drops of perfume on my handkerchief,' they would say, 'Put a few drops of London on it.' In fact, it is a very vulgar and silly error to call all perfumes cologne. You might as well call them Chicago or Denver."
—New York Press.

No Satisfaction.
The Editor—Eh, what's wrong?
The Correspondent—In that letter of mine that you printed this morning several gross errors were permitted to appear. Look at this. I wrote "Nobody has any desire to impeach the rugged quality of Mr. Skimmerhorn's honesty," and you turned "honesty" into "hoisery." Look at it!
"I see it. And, what's more, I see nothing wrong about it. Anything else?"
"Yes, here's another. This is what I wrote: 'Mr. Skimmerhorn's ripe experience and his respect for honor must not be forgotten.' And you speak here of his 'tripe experience' and his 'respect for Homer.'"
"Yes, that's so. And they're both highly commendable virtues. Good morning, sir."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Hurry Fad.
"Mr. Cleveland," said a Princeton lecturer, "had little sympathy with the rush and hurry that the American business man so complacently affects—no sympathy with train and boat dotation, with the lunch table telephone, the letter phonograph and the other bluffs."
"Don't rush so," Mr. Cleveland once said to me. "Lightning might do a great deal more for it wasn't always in such an awful hurry."—Washington Star.

A CURE FOR HOG CHOLERA.
Hog Cholera or Swine Plague as it is sometimes called is a highly contagious disorder.
When a hog shows any symptoms of this disease, he should be isolated at once and the pen fumigated in order to save the other hogs if possible.
Mix one part Sloan's Liniment with two parts milk in a bottle and give every sick hog a tablespoonful of this mixture night and morning for three days. Sloan's Liniment is a powerful antiseptic, kills the disease germs, soothes all inflammation and acts as a tonic to the animal.
A. J. McCarthy, of Idaville, Ind., says:—"My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got Sloan's Liniment, which was recommended to me by a neighbor who was using it with success. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the Liniment, but I have not lost any since."
Mr. G. W. Balsbaugh, of Peru, Ind., writes:—"I had four pigs that were coughing and were not doing well. I gave them some of Sloan's Liniment and they got better at once."
Sloan's book on Horses, Cows, Hogs and Poultry sent free. Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

Mysteries of Civilization.
"You have persuaded the Indian to give up his picturesque headdress and blankets and wear hats and trousers," said the sardonic person.
"Yes; in the interests of civilization."
"And I suppose it is also in the interest of civilization that we pay high prices for these castoff garments of the Indian and use them for wall decorations."—Washington Star.

A Night of Agony.
The most peculiar accident that ever came to my notice happened to a commercial traveler in Massachusetts. He had been out late and in returning to his hotel wandered beyond the town limits and before he realized it was plowing through stubby fields in inky darkness. Of a sudden he plunged over a bank and just managed to throw his body around sufficiently to clutch the edge of the earth with his fingers. For hours it seemed he hung there. At last he could endure it no longer and let go. He dashed down—down about six inches and then stopped. He had been hanging all the time with his feet almost touching the ground. In the morning they pulled him out of an unfinished well. He was crying like a baby, and his hair, that had been raven black the night before, was white as snow.—Baltimore American.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.
There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. Kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.
Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.
It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.
Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.
Don't make any mistake; remember the name Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.

His Record.
"The late Admiral Balch," said a Raleigh man, "used often to complain of the increasing cost of national armaments. The armaments, he would say, continually cried out for money, money, nothing but money. They were like the shopkeeper's son."
"When did James last write to us?" the shopkeeper asked his wife one day.
"Look in the cash book," the wife replied.
