FLADGE CARTER

SUMMONED.

Prominent Citizen And Farmer Dies After Weeks of Suffering--Leaves Large Family.

DEATH CAME THURSDAY.

After an illness of long duration Fladge Carter died of cancer Thursday night at his home on the Hardinsburg and Cloverport pike. Mr. Carter, for years, has been a well-known farmer and citizen of Breckenridge county.

He was born at Custer and was sixty-four years of age. In 1856 he married Miss Kate Greenwood, who with the following children survive: Misses Margaret and Clara Carter, Floyd, Bernard, Frank, Worland and Thos Carter.

Services were held Friday morning in the St. Rose Catholic church by Father Brey and concluded by Father Hollowin in the Irvington cemetery. A large number of friends paid tribute to his memory by attending the services.

LARGE CROWD AT COUNTY SEAT ATTENDING COURT

Judge Chelf Able to Preside--Scene Around Capital Like a Horse Show Day, So Many Kentucky Thoroughbreds on Exhibition.

John Beavin Must Part With Sixty Hard Plunks

There was a fine crowd of people in Hardinsburg Monday at the opening of May circuit court. Judge Chelf, although quite weak, was on hand with Commonwealth's Attorney, J. R. Layman, to open court. Court was opened promptly at 9 o'clock, the grand jury impaneled, reports from officers heard, a few cases called and adjournment taken until Tuesday when the petit jury will be made up and the business of grinding out the regular docket will proceed.

In the afternoon the court room was thrown open to the farmers, who held a very successful meeting regarding the pooling and selling of their next crop of tobacco.

On the courthouse square a great crowd of well-to-do, fine looking, prosperous farmers were assembled to witness the great display of thoroughbreds on exhibition in the street. It looked like a horse show day in the Blue Grass. To see the handsome steeds prancing up and down the street, as pretty and and fine as they could be, was truly a sight pleasant to behold.

Beard Bros.' string of fine stallions captured the crowd. Their Sporting Boy, Chester Crest Montgomery Chief and Highland Glouworth were as fine steppers as grace the turf and are among the best of their class. The Beard Bros. are to be congratulated on their enterprise and efforts to build up a fine class of horses in this county.

Lon Jarboe, of Kirk, had on exhibition his fine black, young stallion, Claude Mercer, 2 years old a fine sad-

DEATH COMES TO

W. A. PENICK.

Splendid And Well-Known Young Man Dies At Custer--Had Been Ill Several Months.

SUCCESSFUL IN BUSINESS.

Willie A. Penick, one of the county's best-known and best young men, died at Custer Sunday morning after an illness of several months. He was twenty-five years of age.

Mr. Penick had sought the counsel of various physicians and only a few weeks ago returned from Martinsville, Indiana, where he had gone in quest of his health.

Mr. Penick was an example of the model young man. He was a consistent member of the Methodist church, a young man of finest social and business qualities.

For a few years he taught in the public schools, later he became a bookkeeper for the firm of B. F. Beard & Co., Hardinsburg. After acceptably filling that position, he resigned and went upon the road as traveling salesman. After successfully traveling he left the road to become a member of Penick Bros. dry goods establishment at Custer.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Penick, of near Custer, and a brother of R. O. Penick, David T. Penick, Morton Penick and Mrs. Romine, of Custer, and Clarence Penick, of Irvington.

His remains were laid to rest Monday afternoon at the Good Hope burying ground near Custer, the Masons officiating, he being an honored member of that fraternity.

SILVER CUP

Presented By Louisville Music Lovers And Commercial Club To Riccardo Martin At Musical Festival.

A singer has honor save in his own country was contradicted in Louisville at the Music Festival last week when Riccardo Martin, Kentucky's own son, made his appearance for the first time before home folks. His singing was a sufficient guarantee that Kentucky had produced something very fine in the way of a tenor.

Friday at the Seelbach a reception was given him by hundreds of Louisvillians, as well as a delegation of friends of Mr. Martin's from Hopkinsville and Cadiz, Ky. A handsome silver loving cup was presented to the singer by Gov. Willson on behalf of the Commercial Club and Music Lovers of Louisville.

SPLENDID SHOW

Emerson's Floating Palace Presented a Good Play to a Big House Friday Night.

"Brother Against Brother" presented by Emerson's company at this port Friday night was splendid. In fact, everyone said it is the best play ever seen on any of the floating palaces. A pleasing feature of the show was the number of pretty and refined girls. Nioma's natural beauty attracted much attention. Lazarus, the funny man, also made a hit.

Mr. Emerson's show delighted the Cloverport people and they appreciated this one more than any he has ever given.

FARMERS AND TOBACCO GROWERS HAVE BIG MEETING

John E. Monarch Elected Secretary and in Plain Words Tells Tobacco Men to Join Hands With Green River Tobacco Association Quickly--Mat Shrewsbury Elected Chairman.

Organization The Keynote of The Big Gathering

The Farmers and Tobacco Growers of Breckenridge County met in a mass convention at Hardinsburg Monday and organized a County Union for the purpose of pooling and selling their tobacco.

John E. Monarch was elected temporary chairman with John D. Babbage secretary.

Mr. Monarch stated that the object of the meeting which was for the purpose of getting together and selling their tobacco. He said the arrangement they had last year was not satisfactory either to the seller or the buyer and that some other arrangements had to be made, if the growers wanted a fair price for their tobacco. His advice was that a county union be organized with a view of joining the Green River Tobacco Association of Owensboro. This is what the farmers should have done last year but they declined to do it, thinking they could sell their product just as well as an Independent Association. Mr.

CAPT. ROWLAND

District Manager For Columbia Life Insurance Company Of Seven Counties.

Capt. J. H. Rowland has been appointed District Manager for the Columbia Life Insurance Company and will open his office on Main street over Julian Brown's store, at an early date.
