KILLED IN WRECK

On Henderson Route Sunday Night Near Hawesville--Several Passengers Badly Cut And Bruised

LAND SLIDE AT HAWESVILLE

Hawesville, Ky., July 18--West bound passenger train No. 145 on the Henderson Route struck a landslide one and one half miles east of here at 12.30 o'clock Sunday night and the engine went over a fifty foot embankment followed by the baggage car and smoker, all of which were overturned. The day coach and two sleepers were derailed, but remained in an upright position.

John Reynolds of Louisville, fireman of the ill-fated train, was crushed to death under the baggage car after he had jumped from the engine. His body was recovered and taken to Louisville to-day.

Wyatt Bush, of Louisville, the engineer, escaped unhurt.

Five colored passengers from this place and Lewisport were badly cut and bruised about the bodies, and quiet a number of other passengers were shaken up by the impact.

The landslide was encountered on a sharp curve while the train which was late, was running at high speed. Tons of earth, loosened up by the frequent rains, had fallen from a bluff overlooking the track.

The track was torn up for a distance of 400 feet and traffic will be delayed until late this afternoon.

Working extra to accommodate a friend cost John Mason Reynolds, thirty years of age, a fireman for the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railroad Company, his life. He was killed in the wreck Sunday night two miles east of Hawesville. Had he not agreed to make the run for a brother-fireman, he would have been safe at home with his family, at 1108 West Broadway in Louisville as it was not his regular run.

Ill-luck seemed to haunt the railroad career of the young fireman. Four years ago he was severely scalded and narrowly escaped death in a wreck on the Illinois Central railroad.

Reynolds was a native of Louisville and had been railroading for nine years. Four years ago he was married to Miss Mary Sippel of Cloverport. They have one child, Edith, two years of age. Besides his widow and baby he is survived by two brothers, George L. Reynolds, of Trinidad, Col., and Robert A. Reynolds of Louisville, and a sister, Mrs. Laura Butler. He was a member of the brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Knights of Pythias and the West Broadway Methodist church.

In Memory of Mrs. Taul.

Another home was made desolate and other hearts made sad when on last Tuesday morning, July 12th., at 1 a. m., Mrs. Sarah Taul was called to her final reward. Her illness was of long duration and the end was expected for several days.

She was 57 years, 3 months and 11 days old. She was born and reared in this county and united with the Baptist church when about 15 years old and lived a devoted christian life ever since. She was united in marriage with W. B. Taul February 11th 1872.

She is survived by her husband, W. B. Taul and seven children, all of whom were at her bedside when the end came but one, James. They are Mrs. Herbert Tinius, Will and George Taul of this county; Lonnie and Odie, of Evansville, Ind.; Jessie Taul, of Decatur, Ill., and James Taul, of Oakland Cal. Mrs. Taul left an abundant wealth of love and affection to her family and as these children go down the way life the ever loving thoughts of mother will bring visions for their happiness and highest good, nor can they in any other way give better expression to their love for her than by following her example of a Christian life.

Her funeral was preached by Bro. George Jones at Taul's grave yard, where the remains were laid to rest.

How To Interest The Virginia Voters

From the Appomattox Times-Virginian. We are never again to have an old time political barbecue in Virginia? The whole ox roasted, sheep and shote barbecued, the squirrels made into stew, watermelons galore, peaches in baskets, lemonade spiked (with lemons of course), and the mass seasoned with oratory, would make an ideal day! And then the voters might begin to take more interest in matters public.

Charming Boat Party

Mr. and Mrs. Will Pate gave a delightful trip to Stephensport Thursday night on the launch "Mary Jane" The guests were: Misses Stella and Cleona Weatherbit, Edith and Eva Plank, Jennie Mabel Harris, Claudie and Carrie Pate, Res and Martha Willis, Ray Heysler, Dr. Boone, Mr. Erabandt, Lafa Behen, Chas. Fallon.

Tobacco Exhibits at County Fair

Our Fair management is placing greater emphasis this year on agricultural exhibits than heretofore and our farmers ought to assist in this. Particularly, ought we to bring up a nice creditable show of tobacco. Year before last this county took first and second premiums at the State Fair for both types of Red Tobacco, Pryor and One Sucker.

The Bank of Hardinsburg & Trust Company is this year offering at our county fair an additional special premium of $10. each for Pryor and Burley of the 1910 crop. The Fair is a little early this year to get the tobacco thoroughly cured, but the curing can be very materially assisted by deadening the plant a short time before it is cut. This county, this year, ought to make an exhibit that will not only be a credit to it, but beat any county in the state, and be of very material value from a money consideration. We are a tobacco county and ought to show the outside world what we can do.

Struck By Lightning

The home of Robert Dukes, at Dukes was struck by lightning Saturday morning about 5.30 o'clock. A hole was torn in the roof about the size of an ordinary barrel top and the stove-pipe was twisted like a rope. His son was standing almost against the stove and as a result suffered a severe shaking up, but otherwise was not injured.

Visiting in Leitchfield

Miss Louise Moorman, of Gleedean, is a sweet, pleasant, cordial young lady. I knew her mother, Miss Della Hardaway, a perfectly lovely girl of Breckenridge county, and when Dave Moorman and Della Hardaway made "one", it was a first-class alliance.—Mrs. Grinnell—Leitchfield Gazette.

Will Spend The Summer

Mrs. Mary Keenan and children Miss Lucile, Messrs. Walter, and Willard, of Columbus, Ohio, are the guests of Mrs. Owen Seaton.

Nice Improvement

The home of Mr. L. B. Perkins has been beautifully improved by the addition of a front porch.

if you pass the plate for as much chicken as you did to-day for dinner to —" but he talked to an indignant pink gingham back and a blue-coated, white trousered thing.

Some people will never learn when and where to talk, and vice versa.

The other legend I shall never, never try to verify. It is said there is a snake hundreds of years old, whose longevity is due to his drinking the strong sulphur water. Each night when graveyards yawn, his snake ship crawls down and drinks his fill. Irvine is a dry town you know, but it is a perfectly good snake story.

Base-Ball Dope

The ball game played by Tobinsport and Hardinsburg last Friday afternoon was the most interesting of the season and resulted in 7 to 1 in favor of Hardinsburg. This was the last entertaining feature of the Breckenridge county Teachers Institute which closed at noon.

Tobinsport beat Hardinsburg Thursday in a pretty game that created fiery excitement.

Likes Home Best.

Claude Grant and family arrived last week from California for a visit to relatives and friends. Mr. Grant is making good in the land of sunshine and flowers, but the longing to be with dear ones among the old Kentucky hills predominates the love of money getting and they visit their old home every three years.

Cuts His Face

W. N. Head, "tie man," of the Henderson Route, in crossing the track at Sample fell against a bunch of ties and cut his face severely. He came to Cloverport to have the wound dressed.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to express through the column of your paper our sincere and heart felt thanks for many acts of kindness and devotion extended to us by our neighbors and friends during the illness and death of dear wife and mother.

W. B. Taul and children.

Card of Thanks

We thank all our friends for the kindness shown us in the illness and death of our sister, Mrs. Jennie Brooks at Stephensport.—Mrs. Sallie Bennett and son, Richard Bennett.

HAPPY RESULTS

Have Made Many Cloverport Readers Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Cloverport citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anybody happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Cloverport by Doan's Kidney Pills.

George F. Megerle, River St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "For three months I was unable to do any work on account of my kidneys being disordered. The passages of the kidney secretions were painful and my feet became so badly swollen that I was unable to wear my shoes. There was a dull ache in the small of my back, which extended into my head and although I tried a number of remedies, I was unable to find relief. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention and I procured a supply. I used them according to directions and in six weeks I was entirely free from kidney trouble. I attribute my robust health today solely to the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills.

A Cherry Picker In Beartown

From the Philadelphia Record Mrs. Mary Fassnacht of Lititz, age 73 years and a grandmother, did a remarkable thing while visiting a daughter at Beartown last week. With a basket in hand, grandmother Fassnacht climbed a cherry tree without the aid of a ladder, picking the fruit from the topmost branches. When the bucket was filled she lowered it to the ground with a rope to be emptied, and she continued picking until the tree was almost cleaned of cherries. Mrs. Fassnacht did it with ease, and enjoyed doing it too.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

HAS GREAT MEETING

At Hardinsburg Last Week--Send Telegram To Prof. Joel H. Pile, Who has Done Much Work For Breckenridge County People.

DR. CORSON, OF OHIO, AGAIN PRESENT

The Teacher's Institute met at Hardinsburg last week and had one of the most instructive meetings in its history. Dr. C. T. Corson, of Columbus, Ohio, who was the chief instructor at last year's Institute, again occupied a similar position, and Dr. Mather and Prof. Wm. H. Martin, the President of the New College which is to open up in September at Irvington, lent able assistance.

The proceedings were varied at intervals by fine selections of music from Mrs. T. H. Withers, several of the pupils of her Conservatory, Mrs. B. Read, Misses Hannah Beard, Nancye and Della Kincheloe and others, and altogether, a very interesting programme was gone through, for which County Superintendent Andrew Driskell is to be heartily congratulated.

On Wednesday night a special session of the Institute was held in the Southern Methodist church, when Dr. Mather preached the "Institute" sermon to a very large congregation. The Doctor, who was at his best, took (by special request) as his subject "Conduct as the proper test of Creed", and for an hour and ten minutes held his auditors spell-bound.

At the conclusion of the sermon Dr. Corson announced to the audience that he has been commissioned by those in authority to "prefer certain charges" against Dr. Mather; and turning to that gentleman said, "And you, sir, cannot deny them". Dr. Corson then went on to say that it had come to the knowledge of some of them that Dr. and Mrs. Mather would on the morrow celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, and added "and you can't deny it". Dr. Mather replied "I am sure that I can. It is not our twenty-fifth, it is our nineteenth anniversary". Dr. Corson then proceeded to charge Dr. Mather with being a man of boundless industry, outspoken truthfulness and unmistakable unselfishness, and backed up his charges by saying that there were a great number of persons present who were ready to testify to the accuracy of the charges. He then proceeded to state that he had been requested to voice the sentiments of the Teachers of the Institute, and many other friends of Education in Breckenridge county, in expression of their appreciation of Dr. Mather's efforts in behalf of the educational interests of the people, saying that no minister had done more to advance these interests, and none had succeeded in day afternoon and cut his nose. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beard and Mr. B. F. Beard have gone to lake Winonna for two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Beard and family leave for Union Star for a visit this week. Mrs. Paul Compton and children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Macey of Garfield. Mrs. Joel Pile left Monday for a visit to Rev. D. W. Scott and wife of Elizabethtown. Miss Maud Smith began her school at Oakland Monday. Mrs. Morris Beard and children and Miss Louise Aud are visiting in Cloverport. Miss Hannah and Judith Beard are visiting at Livermore this week. Mrs. J. W. Moss of St. Louis is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Mather. Mrs. Arthur Walker organized a little sewing circle for the little girls of the town, Friday afternoon at her beautiful home on 4th street. There were seventeen little girls present and the name agreed upon for the little club was "The Jennie Wren Club to meet every two weeks with some member. Mrs. Walker was assisted in receiving these little tots by Mrs. G. D. Shellman, Misses Clara Eskridge, Ruth Kincheloe and Mrs. Joel Pile. Delightful refreshments were served and many happy games indulged in. Mrs. G. D. Shellman will entertain the club Friday week.

A party of young ladies and gentlemen of the Baptist church took supper down to the lake Friday night. Those who went were: Misses Hallie Brown, Isabel Hendrick, Carrie Walls, Maud Smith and Eliza Squires.

getting such a hold upon the best citizenship of the county. In concluding a most felicitous speech, Dr. Corson asked Dr. Mather's acceptance of a magnificent gold watch as a token of the appreciation of the people and a reminder that he was held in the highest esteem by them.

The watch, which is a beautiful specimen of the jewelers art, contains the following inscription: "Presented to the Rev. Arthur Mather, D. D., by the Teachers' Institute, and other friends of Education in Breckenridge County Kentucky, July 14, 1910"

Dr. Mather replied in suitable terms, but evidently under much emotion, and thanked those who had seen fit to prepare such a surprise for him. He told his audience that his work was not done in the expectancy of material reward, but that he felt it a high duty ever to do all in his power to advance the common interests of his fellowmen. He assured them of his appreciation of their kindness, and hoped that it might be in his power to still render help in any cause that would redound to the public welfare of any body of citizens in whose midst he might be fortunate enough to labor.

On Thursday night at the Court House, Dr. Corson gave a brilliant lecture on "Peoples and Schools in other Lands", based upon his experiences in an eight months tour through Europe. The choir of the Methodist Episcopal church, assisted by their male quartette rendered excellent musical accompaniment, and an enjoyable evening was spent by a large audience.

The enrollment of Teachers reached over the hundred mark and the attendance throughout was excellent in spite of the very hot weather.

Last Wednesday the teachers of the Institute sent Prof. Joel H. Pile, who is now in New York University doing special work, the following telegram: "Joel H. Pile, New York University, N. Y. Heights wedding ceremonies performed and rumors of weddings fill the air, and ladies are eating wedding cake and dreaming of future events. In midst of all excitement you are sadly missed and affectionately remembered. We send our best wishes. Breckenridge County Institute." This was done in recognition of Prof. Pile's former services as county Superintendent, who has done more for the schools of the county than any other man who has filled the place.

An Awful Record.

Every year thousands of men and women die of kidney disease who might have been cured if its presence had been discovered in time and a prompt treatment with Kidnets adopted. If you have backache, kidney trouble or other symptoms of kidney disease, begin using Kidnets immediately. Druggists and dealers sell it for 50 cents.

Summer in the Mountains

BY

Ella Hutchison Ellwanger

Estill Springs, Ky., July 18. (Special)—"Do you know" drawled a Malariaridden and tired Floridian, "I think this spot should be re-named 'Peaceful Valley' A full chorus of affirmatives, in all the gamuts of which the human voice is capable ascended on the cool night air.

In the ball-room the sweet strains of a waltz floated out to the porch inhabitants and the stars seemed nearer earth than elsewhere, the air throbbing with the hum—distant and low, with the frogs in a distant pond, the fragrance of the honey-suckle, that grows in riotous profusion over the porches, mingled with the "woody" smell, beat in on the consciousness and made one drunk with the miracle of its beauty. There is a neat poet here—there always is a poet at these watering places and we all smiled, for we knew it was coming:

"A valley all alive with happy sound; The song of birds; swift brooks delicious flow— And brightening every way, The voices of little children at their play; And shining banks of flowers that words refuse to paint."

For the past week, while old disgruntled Jupiter Pluvius tried to wipe this Grand Old Commonwealth off the map, it was reserved for Estillies alone to sit calmly back on the twenty-foot wide porches and watch the deluge undisurbed. We feel, since at last the skies are cleared and we may enjoy the beautiful grounds, that we have "sighted lauri" after a week's peaceful voyage on some mammoth ship, pretending the verandas were the decks.

The most enthusiastic guests here are these same Floridians, who, by the way, are the same millionaire celery growers, of Sandford, Florida, who had the big write-up in week before last's Saturday Evening Post.

They are: Mr. and Mrs. Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. Dickins and Mr. Ned Lane. The exceeding glory of the emerald hills, the picturesque surroundings are a never-failing source of happiness to these people whose own country lies flat as far as the eye can reach. We are, in fact, in a miniature Swiss hamlet, with the mountain streams swollen and rushing past the very edge of the grounds in a mad torrent.

Like all old, famous places there are a number of legends attached to Estill Springs. One is, that at the grave of an Indian if one will repeat a certain complement (this Indian is said to be buried alive) and asks this question the answer will be given:

"Indian, Indian, buried alive, Tell me, will I fail or thrive?"

Last Sunday a "certain" man and his "company" sneaked out and after a few preliminary passes, not according at all to the legend, repeated the lines holding hands.

"You'll thrive alright, old man," came a rancous and totally unsympathetic voice from behind a giant oak,
