NATIONS TO HAIL CENTURY'S PEACE

World to Celebrate With America, Britain and Canada.

IS GHENT TREATY CENTENNIAL

Andrew Carnegie Heads Committee to Arrange Demonstration in 1914 and Erection of Memorial Bridge Across Niagara River—Taft and Sherman Interested in Plans.

Preparations for a celebration in 1914 of the centennial of the treaty of Ghent, marking 100 years of peace between this country and Great Britain, will be begun at once. It is proposed to commemorate the event by a joint celebration in which all the nations will be invited to participate.

The plan first was discussed during the administration of President Roosevelt, and at the Harvard commencement a year ago the Hon. W. L. King, minister of labor of Canada, urged that a memorial be erected upon the frontier at Niagara.

Carnegie Heads Committee. As a result the matter was discussed at the Mohonk peace conference, and at a meeting in June a temporary committee on organization, which later was made permanent, chose Andrew Carnegie chairman, William H. Short secretary and John A. Stewart chairman of the executive committee of one hundred.

The committee will be composed of 250 or more men and women from every state, territory and dependency of the Union. The executive committee will be composed of 100, with a sub-executive committee of twenty-five. State governors are being asked to join the committee as vice presidents, and an advisory committee of twenty-five important citizens will be chosen.

Taft is Interested. President Taft has evinced interest in the work, and a delegation has arranged to visit Beverly to confer with him and to offer him the position of honorary president of the national committee. Vice President Sherman will be asked to serve as honorary vice president.

The first meeting of the general committee will take place late in the fall, and in the meantime a special committee will go abroad to discuss the plan in England and in Canada.

No plan of celebration has been decided upon, but it has been suggested that the program include the erection of a monument, preferably a bridge, over the Niagara river, carrying out the idea of Minister King.

PRINCETONIANS GOOD TUTORS

This is an organization of undergraduates. Tutors get from $1 to $2 an hour, and some of them have made $16 a day and cleared $1,000 a year.

Electric Wink Corrects Time.

The switching off of the current at the central power station at Cape Town for a moment, causing a twinkling of the electric lights in every home, gives the residents the exact time every night.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

MANY KINDS OF FLEAS.

About 400 Different Species Are Known to Naturalists.

One of the first naturalists who devoted himself to watching fleas, with such microscopes as were then available, was Leeuwenhoek, a Dutchman, who lived at the end of the seventeenth century. Leeuwenhoek discovered that a small mite fed on the flea, and it was this discovery which inspired Swift's familiar lines:

So, naturalists observe, a flea Hath smaller fleas that on him prey, And these have smaller still to bite 'em, And so proceed ad infinitum.

The flea's parasite, however, to be accurate, is not another flea or even another insect, but is a mite classed among the sarcoptidae. Linnaeus, writing in 1758, described only two species of flea. The first, which was the human flea, he rightly named Pulex irritans. The second was the chigoe of hot countries. To this, on account of its burrowing habit, he gave the name of Pulex penetrans. At the present day about 400 different species of fleas have been described and named by the small band of scientific men who have devoted themselves to their study. Most of these have been discovered within quite recent years, so it is probable that many new forms and varieties will be collected and observed.—Harold Russell in London National Review.

WEALTH OF KANSAS LEARNING

Courses at University Number 859; Necessary Years 113.

A student of the University of Kansas who is fond of figuring has been studying the new annual catalogue, now being mailed, and finds that there will be 859 courses offered in the university next year. A young man or woman with the ambition of completing all these courses would need to prepare to go to school 113 years. If he lived twelve blocks from the university, says this authority, he would traverse in walking to and from his classes a distance of 119,000 miles, or more than four and a half times the distance around the world.

OLD TIME HAT STAMPS.

Death Used to Be the Penalty in England For Forging Them.

Hats have in England been subject to very severe protective enactments. The blocked beaver hat, for instance, imported by Sir Walter Raleigh from the Low Countries, won its way so rapidly that in 1571 Queen Elizabeth passed an act to protect the making of "thrummed" caps, made from wool, for the advantage of the landed proprietors, whose sheep furnished the material. The statute provided that every male person "shall on Sundays and holidays wear on his head a cap of velvet wool made in England, penalty, 3s. 6d. per day.

About a century later the law, for which there is nothing too high or too low, having taxed men's shoes, turned its attention once more to their hats and soon put a check on all improvements in the trade by requiring every vendor of hats to take out a license under a heavy penalty. Subsequently a stamp duty was imposed on all hats, which were officially marked inside where the maker's name now appears. The penalty for selling a hat without a stamp was £10, and the penalty for forging a hat stamp was death, whence, no doubt, the modern custom of the man who goes to church, sits down, looks into his hat—to read his maker's name!—London Chronicle.

Swiss Invent New Cure.

People of Switzerland, so a Paris paper reports, invent all kinds of cures to attract visitors to their country. Just now it is the asparagus cure in Valais. There is an abundance of asparagus in the Rhone valley, and tons are exported to various countries of Europe. The cures begin about the end of May, and the patients make asparagus their principal diet.

An English Sanctuary.

Beverley minister, 180 miles north of London, is the shrine of St. John of Beverley, who died in the year 721. In 938 Athelstan, king of England, gave several privileges to the monastery, one being the privilege of sanctuary. This was not merely for man slaying; it was open to all wrongdoers except those who had been guilty of treason. For ordinary offenses, such as horse stealing, cattle stealing, being backward in accounts or being in receipt of suspected goods, a man came into sanctuary about a mile from the monastery or church. There used to be four crosses on the main roads leading to Beverley marking the limit of the area. In cases of manslaughter and murder it was not sufficient to be within one of these crosses. Before the fugitive could claim sanctuary he must enter the church and seat himself in a stone chair known as the "frid stool" or "freed chair." To this place many fled for refuge from all parts of the country.
